NOTE.—Figures are rounded to nearest tenth of a million and will not necessarily add to totals.

A large share of the increase of $947,900,000 in receipts during the year was accounted for by an increase of $444,300,000 in current corporation and individual income taxes. Receipts from these sources rose not only because of the high levels of incomes in 1936 and 1937 but also because of the effect of the legislative changes incorporated in the Revenue Acts of 1936 and 1937. The provisions of the Revenue Act of 1936 included the undistributed profits tax, the subjection of dividends to normal taxes, and an increase in surtax rates on individual incomes; and the Revenue Act of 1937 contained provisions which concerned mainly the prevention of tax avoidance. The increase of $476,900,000 in taxes which first became effective during the fiscal year 1937, viz, social security taxes and taxes upon carriers and their employees, imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, accounted for more than half of the total increase in receipts. A detailed classification of receipts from social security taxes appears in table 19 on page 446. Other significant changes in receipts were the increases of $100,600,000 in the collections from estate taxes and $15,900,000 from tobacco taxes. The $30,600,000 collections from taxes imposed by the Sugar Act of 1937 and the $3,200,000 collections from taxes imposed by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 constituted new sources of revenue during the fiscal year 1938.

The largest decrease occurred in customs receipts as a result of a substantial contraction of imports during the last 6 months of the fiscal year 1938 compared with the corresponding period during the previous year. Other sizable decreases occurred in the collections from excise taxes on automobiles, etc., stamp taxes, and taxes on distilled spirits and wines.

Sources.—As is regularly the case, the bulk of ordinary receipts in 1938 was derived from relatively few sources. As shown by data in the table on page 2, 86 percent of ordinary receipts came from customs and the following eleven tax sources, arranged in order of magnitude: Current individual income; current corporation income; social security; tobacco; estate; distilled spirits and wines; fermented malt liquors; gasoline; carriers and their employees; capital stock; and automobiles, trucks, tires, tubes, and parts or accessories. Among primary sources of revenue, the individual and corporation income taxes, both on current and back account, and the estate and capital stock taxes yielded approximately $3,107,700,000 or almost one-half the total receipts.

The proportion of receipts derived from income and related taxes on individuals and corporations has increased greatly since 1934, while the proportion derived from commodity levies in the aggregate, including the customs, has decreased. The commodity levies were, of course, increased by collections from the processing taxes in 1934 and 1935 but have declined in relative importance even since 1936. These shifts resulted partly from changes in the general business situation, which affect income tax receipts more sharply than receipts from relatively stable consumption sources; and partly from revenue law changes involving, among other things, heavier direct taxation on individual incomes and estates.

Individual and corporate income taxes, which constituted from one-half to three-fifths of total receipts in 1932 and prior years, constituted 41 percent of total receipts in 1938. Social security taxes, which were first collected during the fiscal year 1937, constituted almost 10 percent of total receipts in 1938. The estate tax, which constituted 6 percent of total receipts in 1938, contributed a larger absolute amount than in any prior year. Miscellaneous receipts, not in the main of tax origin, which had large significance in the decade or more when the Government was realizing upon its war investments and loans, have been comparatively small in the past few years.

Expenditures

Total expenditures of the Federal Government under general and special accounts amounted to $7,691,000,000 in the fiscal year 1938, a decrease of $855,000,000 from the previous year.

The table that follows shows in summary form the major changes in expenditures between the fiscal years 1937 and 1938. The trend in total expenditures and in the principal classes of expenditures for recent years is shown in the chart on page 6, and in greater detail in table 8, page 418. Classifications are on a functional basis and are directly comparable from year to year.

Table 3, page 379, presents a comparison of expenditures on the basis of the daily Treasury statement as reclassified on July 1, 1938. Recovery and relief expenditures are classified as to provisions for repayment in table 9, page 419.

The decrease of $17,000,000 in the ordinary expenditures of the Government included a net decrease of $556,000,000 in the expenditures for veterans' pensions and benefits, which was due principally to the completion in 1937 of the transfers to the adjusted service certificate fund for the veterans' adjusted compensation payment. Expenditures for national defense increased by $85,000,000, including expenditures for the construction of naval vessels, aircraft, and subsidiary works to meet provisions of the naval treaties of 1922 and 1930. The increase in expenditures for refunds of receipts was accounted for largely by the return, authorized by the act approved August 24, 1937, of $41,000,000 of taxes collected under title IX of the Social Security Act to the thirteen States which enacted in 1937 an approved unemployment compensation law.

The increase in social security expenditures of $230,000,000 included an increase of $122,000,000 in transfers to the old-age reserve account. Expenditures for railroad retirement, which increased $139,000,000, consisted mainly of transfers to the railroad retirement account, which were begun in July 1937 and made monthly thereafter. The table on page 446 shows the expenditures and also the receipts under the Social Security and Railroad Retirement Acts for the fiscal years 1936 to 1938 and monthly during 1938.

"Other" ordinary expenditures increased $97,000,000 over the previous year. This increase was due mainly to the appropriation of $94,000,000 to the Commodity Credit Corporation in the Deficiency Act of June 25, 1938, to restore capital which had become impaired as a result of its operations, as provided by the act approved March 8, 1938.

The decrease of $222,000,000 in public works expenditures was accounted for by decreased expenditures for public highways, for improvement of rivers and harbors, and for grants to public bodies. Expenditures for unemployment relief declined by $531,000,000, mainly as a result of a decrease in expenditures of the Works Progress Administration of $424,000,000.

Loans and subscriptions to stock, etc. (net), decreased $46,000,000 over the previous year. Details with respect to revolving fund payments and collections are shown in the table on page 464.

Public debt retirements amounted to $65,000,000 in the fiscal year 1938. A detailed discussion of public debt operations and expenditures is presented below.

Deficit

The deficit for the fiscal year 1938, in general and special accounts, amounted to $1,449,600,000. If public debt retirements are deducted, the net deficit for the year amounted to $1,384,200,000. This compares with a net deficit of $3,148,600,000 for the previous year.

THE PUBLIC DEBT

The gross public debt outstanding at the close of the fiscal year 1938 amounted to $37,164,700,000, an increase of $740,100,000 since June 30, 1937. This is the smallest annual increase in the gross debt since the fiscal year 1931, and is accounted for as follows:

Excess of expenditures.....		$1,524,713,050.28
Less:
Public debt retirements included in expenditures.....	$65,464,950.00
Excess of receipts over expenditures in trust and other special accounts, excluding retirements of national bank notes.....	381,565,532.81
Reduction in General Fund balance.....	337,555,984.31
		784,586,467.12
Increase in gross public debt.....		740,126,583.16

Although the gross public debt increased during the year, the amount of interest-bearing public issues decreased $341,800,000. Special issues to Government agencies and trust funds increased $1,117,700,000 during the year.

The net changes during the year in the various classes of securities which constitute the outstanding debt are shown in the two tables which follow, classified as to public and special issues. The first table presents a comparison of the amounts outstanding at the beginning and at the end of the year, and the second shows, in summary form, the issues and maturities or redemptions of the interest-bearing debt. The various classes of securities which made up the outstanding debt during the years 1932 to 1938 are shown in the table on page 491 of this report.

NOTE.—United States savings bonds and adjusted service bonds included with Treasury bonds. Securities issued to Government agencies and trust funds include all such special obligations, whether in the form of bonds, notes, or certificates of indebtedness.

The computed annual interest charge, on the basis (unrevised) of the interest-bearing debt outstanding at the beginning and at the end of the year, increased from $924,275,241 to $947,084,058, and the computed average rate of interest increased from 2.582 to 2.589 percent. Actual expenditures for interest during 1938 amounted to $926,280,714.

The course of the interest-bearing debt outstanding and of the computed rate of interest thereon is shown from January 1921 through June 1938 in chart 6 on page 13, and from June 1916 through June 1938 in table 43 on page 519.

The open market operations during the year included: (1) The offering of three series of Treasury bonds and four series of Treasury notes, (2) weekly offerings and redemptions of Treasury bills, and (3) the sale of United States savings bonds.

Treasury bonds and Treasury notes

The major public debt operations involving Treasury bonds and Treasury notes were carried out on the four regular tax-payment dates. All offerings were for refunding purposes except the December offerings of bonds and notes which were for both cash and exchange. Four series of Treasury notes maturing during the year and the series maturing on September 15, 1938, were refunded. These operations are summarized in the following table:

All official circulars and statements relating to these transactions are included in the exhibits beginning on page 241.

Treasury bills

Offerings of Treasury bills were made each week during the year, some to replace maturing issues and some in anticipation of income tax receipts due on the regular quarterly tax-payment dates.

At the beginning of the year 46 series of Treasury bills aggregating $2,303,094,000 were outstanding. During the year 66 series aggregating $3,757,949,000 were issued, and 96 series aggregating $4,906,879,000 matured. At the end of the year 16 series aggregating $1,154,164,000 were outstanding. Except for those Treasury bills issued to mature during quarterly tax-payment date periods, Treasury bills issued during the early part of the year were for a term of 273 days, and those issued after October 20, 1937, were for a term of 91 days. The highest average rate, computed on a bank discount basis, for 273-day bills was 0.711 percent for those dated September 8, 1937, the lowest average rate for 273-day bills was 0.362 percent for those dated October 20, 1937. The highest average rate for 91-day bills was 0.146 percent for those dated April 13, 1938, the lowest average rate was 0.011 percent for those dated June 29, 1938. The average rate on all bills issued during the year was 0.201 percent, and the average rate on all matured bills was 0.327 percent.

Further information concerning Treasury bills will be found in exhibits 9 to 11, beginning on page 250, and in table 36 on page 510.

United States savings bonds

The sale of United States savings bonds continued during the year without any change in terms or conditions of issue. These bonds, primarily intended for the service of small investors, are sold on a discount basis, with a 10-year maturity, but are redeemable before maturity, at the option of owners, at fixed redemption values. They are sold over-the-counter at post offices, and by mail on application to the Treasurer of the United States or to any Federal Reserve bank. They are issued in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, maturity value, at an issue price at the rate of $75 for each $100 maturity value.

During the fiscal year 1938, savings bonds with a maturity value of $650,700,000 were sold, for which cash receipts aggregating $488,000,000 were received by the Treasury. Bonds with a maturity value of $87,700,000 were redeemed, at the request of owners, at their current redemption value of $66,900,000.

INTEREST-BEARING DEBT OUTSTANDING<sup>1</sup> AND COMPUTED RATE OF INTEREST THEREON, BY MONTHS, JANUARY 1921 TO JUNE 1938

CHART 6.

Between March 1, 1935, when the issue was inaugurated, and June 30, 1938, bonds aggregating $1,773,100,000 maturity value were sold, for which cash aggregating $1,329,900,000 was received by the Treasury. Increase in the redemption value of the outstanding bonds over their issue price aggregated $25,600,000 to June 30, 1938. During the same period bonds with a maturity value of $151,500,000 were redeemed at their current redemption value of $115,000,000, and there remained outstanding on June 30, 1938, bonds with a maturity value of $1,621,700,000 and a current redemption value of $1,240,400,000.

The following statement, on the basis of daily Treasury statements, revised, summarizes the issues and redemptions of savings bonds by fiscal years from March 1, 1935, when the sale was inaugurated, to June 30, 1938:

The preceding table is compiled on the basis of the Treasury audit of original registration stubs representing sales by the Postal Service, the Federal Reserve banks, and the Treasury Department during the fiscal year 1938. These figures are not in agreement with those presented elsewhere in this report, as certain proceeds of sales of bonds with issue dates in one fiscal year are not cleared until after the close of that fiscal year.

For other data concerning savings bonds, reference is made to the administrative report of the Division of Savings Bonds, on page 231, and to that of the Division of Loans and Currency, on page 206.

Special issues

Special issues of interest-bearing securities, made for the investment of trust or other funds deposited in the Treasury or pursuant to appropriations for specific purposes, increased $1,117,700,000 during the year. Total issues aggregated $2,158,500,000 and redemptions amounted to $1,040,800,000. The increase in the amount of these issues is due for the most part to investments for the old-age reserve account and the unemployment trust fund, established by the Social Security Act.

The transactions in the special issues during the year are summarized in the following table:

The amount of each class of special issues outstanding on June 30, 1938, is shown in the statement on the public debt, appearing on page 472.

Adjusted service bonds

Adjusted service bonds amounting to $12,800,000 were issued during the year, making a total of $1,822,100,000 of such bonds issued since June 15, 1936. Redemptions of $82,600,000 of these bonds during the year brought the total redemptions since June 15, 1936, to $1,503,400,000, leaving $318,700,000 outstanding on June 30, 1938.

Cumulative sinking fund

Credits accruing to the cumulative sinking fund during the fiscal year 1938 amounted to $577,609,381, which with the unexpended balance of $618,916,809 brought forward from the previous year made $1,196,526,190 available for the year. Only $65,232,400 of this amount was applied to the redemption of the public debt—$83,000 for the retirement of Treasury bonds at par and $65,149,400 for the redemption of Treasury notes maturing during the year and presented for cash redemption. To have exhausted all available credits would have required a corresponding increase in cash offerings without any net change in the public debt. The unexpended balance of $1,131,293,790 was carried forward to the fiscal year 1939.

Tables presenting the transactions on account of the fund for 1938 and since its inception on July 1, 1920, will be found on pages 516 and 517 of this report.

Amendment to the Second Liberty Bond Act

The public debt operations are carried on under the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended. Under that act the total amount of bonds that could be outstanding at any one time was limited to $25,000,000,000 and the amount of Treasury notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills was limited to $20,000,000,000, an aggregate of $45,000,000,000 for all obligations. The act approved May 26, 1938 (see exhibit 13, p. 254), combined under one limitation of $45,000,000,000 the amount of bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills which may be outstanding at any one time, and at the same time provided that the amount of bonds outstanding should not exceed $30,000,000,000.

GENERAL FUND

The General Fund includes all moneys of the Government deposited with and held by the Treasurer of the United States including the moneys covered into the Treasury which can be withdrawn only in pursuance of an appropriation by Congress. Every receipt of the Treasury, from whatever source, and every expenditure, of whatever nature, affect either the assets or liabilities, or both, of the General Fund shown in the daily statement of the Treasury. The total amount of the assets over and above the total amount of the liabilities represents the balance in the General Fund available to meet Government expenditures.

The assets in the General Fund consist of gold, silver, currency, coin, unclassified collection items, etc., and deposits to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States and other Government officers, in Federal Reserve banks, special depositaries account of sales of Government securities, national and other bank depositaries, foreign depositaries, and the treasury of the Philippine Islands.

The liabilities of the General Fund consist of outstanding Treasurer's checks, deposits of certain Government officers composed of balances to the credit of the Post Office Department, the Board of Trustees, Postal Savings System, and postmasters, clerks of courts, disbursing officers, etc., and uncollected items, exchanges, etc.

The balance in the General Fund is classified according to increment on gold, seigniorage, and working balance.

SECURITIES OWNED BY THE UNITED STATES AND PROPRIETARY INTEREST IN GOVERNMENTAL CORPORATIONS AND CREDIT AGENCIES

Securities owned

The United States owns various securities representing foreign obligations, capital stock, bonds, etc., of governmental corporations and agencies, and indebtedness to the Government by railroads, farmers, ship owners, and others. As of June 30, 1938, the face value of these securities amounted to $15,566,304,543.85, a net decrease of $2,039,718,151.72 from June 30, 1937.

This decrease was chiefly the result of adjustments in the amount of notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation held by the Treasury, made in accordance with the provisions of the act of February 24, 1938, which authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel obligations of that Corporation incurred in supplying funds for relief at the authorization or direction of Congress, and for other purposes. A copy of this act appears as exhibit 61 on page 331 of this report. Up to June 30, 1938, notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation held by the Treasury were canceled in the amount of $2,691,307,833.72, representing expenditures previously made by the Corporation for the following purposes:

Secretary of the Treasury:	Amount
For capital of home loan banks (sec. 2 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act)...	$124,741,000.00

Net interest paid on above.....	33,177,419.82
Total.....	2,691,307,833.72

The evidences of indebtedness and capital stock of various agencies acquired by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in connection with the above disbursements were transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury as required by section 1 (b) of the act of February 24, 1938.

A statement of "Securities owned by the United States Government" is published in conjunction with the monthly Statement of the Public Debt of the United States. A summary statement of these securities as of June 30, 1937 and 1938, will be found on page 71, and a detailed statement as of June 30, 1938, on page 527 of this report.

Proprietary interest in governmental corporations and credit agencies

The statement of securities owned by the United States is based upon the face or par amount of the securities held by the United States. In some instances, however, the funds represented by these securities have been spent by the respective agencies pursuant to congressional authorization, and in other cases the funds received from the Treasury have been augmented by earnings from operations or interest on investments, etc.

In order to reflect the amount of the Government's interest in governmental corporations and credit agencies, the Treasury compiles a "Combined statement of assets and liabilities of governmental corporations and credit agencies of the United States," which is published in the daily Treasury statement at the end of each month. This statement shows the amount and classification of the assets and liabilities of the various agencies, the privately owned proprietary interest in such agencies, and the proprietary interest of the United States. The statement as of June 30, 1938, appears on page 530, and a summary table of the Government's proprietary interest in such agencies as of June 30, 1929 to 1938, inclusive, is contained on page 536.

SECURITIES GUARANTEED BY THE UNITED STATES

Certain governmental corporations and agencies are authorized to issue bonds and other obligations which are guaranteed as to the payment of principal and interest by the United States. These bonds and obligations are classified as contingent liabilities of the United States. They are primarily the obligations of the issuing agencies, and the assets of such agencies are to be used for their payment.

During the year additional legislation was enacted authorizing the United States Housing Authority (September 1, 1937), the housing insurance fund through the Federal Housing Administrator (February 3, 1938), the Commodity Credit Corporation (March 8, 1938), and the Federal ship mortgage insurance fund through the chairman of the United States Maritime Commission (June 23, 1938) to issue obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, and amending the authorization for the issuance of guaranteed obligations of the mutual mortgage insurance fund by the Federal Housing Administrator (February 3, 1938). The pertinent provisions of such legislation will be found as exhibits 19 to 22, on pages 257 to 261 of this report.

The Treasury has made available to the governmental corporations and credit agencies, authorized to issue obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, all of its facilities for the issuance, redemption, etc., of public debt obligations of the United States, so that such corporations and agencies desiring to do so can arrange to have their obligations issued, redeemed, etc., through Treasury facilities. As a result of this policy, the Secretary of the Treasury, on April 25, 1938, on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation invited subscriptions for \$200,000,000, or thereabouts, of  $\frac{3}{4}$  percent notes of series C of the Corporation. Copies of the offering circular and the announcement of subscriptions and allotments are attached as exhibits 23 and 24 on pages 261 and 263.

The Government's contingent liability on this class of obligations increased from $4,694,588,883.48 on June 30, 1937, to $4,878,133,006.88 on June 30, 1938. A summary statement of these obligations and certain other contingent liabilities of the United States as of June 30, 1937 and 1938, appears on page 72, and a detailed statement of the contingent liabilities as of June 30, 1938, will be found on page 520.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

On July 9, 1937, a joint statement was made to the press by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of China announcing further progress in monetary cooperation between the two countries. It was stated in part that arrangements had been made through which the Government of China would purchase from the United States Treasury a substantial amount of gold; that to aid the Chinese Government to augment its gold reserves, and in accordance with the terms of the United States Silver Purchase Act of 1934, the United States Treasury would purchase an additional amount of silver from the Chinese Government; and that the United States Treasury would also broaden the scope of the arrangements under which the Central Bank of China had been enabled, under conditions safeguarding the interests of both countries, to obtain dollar exchange for currency stabilization purposes.

The Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of Brazil announced on July 16, 1937, an arrangement whereby (1) the United States undertook to sell gold to Brazil at such times and in such amounts as the Brazilian Government might request, up to a total of $60,000,000; and (2) the United States would make dollar exchange available to Brazil under conditions safeguarding the interests of both countries, for the purpose of promoting exchange equilibrium.

In pursuance of the policy announced by the Secretary in a statement on December 22, 1936, of taking appropriate action with respect to net additional acquisitions or releases of gold by the Treasury Department whenever it is deemed advisable and in the public interest to do so, the Secretary of the Treasury in September 1937 released $300,000,000 of gold from the Treasury's inactive account, and established gold certificate credits in like amount in favor of the Federal Reserve banks, thereby increasing the Treasury's cash deposits in Federal Reserve banks. The procedure which had been followed since December 22, 1936, was for the Treasury Department to hold new acquisitions of gold in an inactive gold account, and not to issue gold certificates or gold certificate credits against the gold, which had been the procedure prior to December 22, 1936. On February 14, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury announced that gold acquired by the mints and assay offices after January 1, 1938, would be included in the inactive gold account only to the extent that such acquisitions in any one quarter exceeded $100,000,000. On April 19, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury announced that the inactive gold account had been discontinued.

The Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of Mexico announced on December 31, 1937, that they had reached a mutually satisfactory understanding on common problems before the two treasuries; that arrangements had been made looking to the continued stability of the peso-dollar exchange and that arrangements had been made with regard to Mexican silver. On March 27, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury stated that in view of the decision of the Government of the United States to reexamine certain of its financial and commercial relationships with Mexico, the Treasury would defer continuation of the monthly silver purchase arrangements with Mexico until further notice.

On December 30, 1937, the President issued a proclamation modifying the proclamation of December 21, 1933, as modified. This action extended the period for receipt of newly mined domestic silver and fixed the deduction for seigniorage and services performed by the Government on silver mined during the calendar year 1938 at 50 percent, thus permitting the return to the depositor of approximately 64.64 cents per troy ounce.

On April 28, 1938, the President issued a proclamation revoking, except as provided therein, the proclamation of August 9, 1934, relating to silver. On the same date the President revoked the Executive orders of August 9, 1934, and November 2, 1934, relating to silver. The Secretary of the Treasury announced on the same day that the orders of the Secretary of the Treasury of June 28, 1934, and May 20, 1935, and the Silver Regulations of August 17, 1934, as amended, were revoked. The revoked proclamation and Executive orders required the delivery to, and directed the receipt by, the United States mints of silver situated in the United States on August 9, 1934. The revocation of the orders of the Secretary of the Treasury eliminated the restrictions imposed by such orders upon the importation and exportation of silver. The revoked regulations were issued under, and implemented, the revoked proclamation and orders and prescribed the required reports and records relative to silver holdings and transactions.

The statements, proclamations, Executive order, etc., referred to, appear as exhibits 25 to 36 on pages 263 to 268.

EMERGENCY LEGISLATION

During the fiscal year 1938, further appropriations and allocations of funds were made for the purpose of continuing the Federal program to furnish relief and to aid recovery.

The United States Housing Authority was created in the Department of the Interior by an act approved September 1, 1937, with a capital stock of $1,000,000 to be paid in by the Secretary of the Treasury. The act and its subsequent amendments provided for the issue of $800,000,000 of obligations of the Authority guaranteed by the United States and permitted the Authority to make loans to public housing agencies to assist in the development of low-rent housing and slum-clearance projects, to aid such agencies by annual contributions not exceeding $28,000,000 annually, or as an alternative to such contributions to make capital grants not exceeding $10,000,000 prior to July 1, 1938, with limitations as to succeeding years.

The Disaster Loan Corporation Act was amended by the act approved March 3, 1938, to permit the Corporation to make loans on account of floods or other catastrophes occurring in the years 1936 and 1938, as well as those occurring in 1937.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, with an authorized capital stock of $100,000,000 to be subscribed by the United States, was created by title V of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, approved February 16, 1938. None of the capital stock authorized was to be made available during the fiscal year 1938.

By the act approved April 13, 1938, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was authorized to make loans to public bodies to aid in financing projects authorized by law, the loans to be made through the purchase of securities or otherwise. The authority so granted terminates on June 30, 1939, or on an earlier date if the President so determines.

The act of February 24, 1938, directed the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in a principal amount equal to the outstanding funds of the Corporation then or thereafter disbursed under certain conditions (grants under relief acts and for other purposes for which no provision had been made for repayment to the Corporation), together with certain expenses incurred by the Corporation and certain interest payments. The act further provided for a corresponding reduction in the amount of obligations the Corporation was authorized to have outstanding at any one time. During the year the Secretary of the Treasury, under the authority of this act, canceled approximately $2,691,000,000 of the obligations purchased from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, details of which will be found on page 19. On June 30, 1938, the amount of capital stock and obligations that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was authorized to have outstanding at any one time was $3,358,700,000, exclusive of certain indefinite authorizations for which there is no statutory limitation. As of that date, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had notes outstanding aggregating $1,162,565,000, of which $863,692,000 were held by the Treasury. This figure does not include the original $500,000,000 of the Corporation's capital stock purchased by the Treasury.

Under an act of Congress approved March 8, 1938, provision was made to maintain unimpaired the capital of the Commodity Credit Corporation at $100,000,000, by providing that the Secretary of the Treasury shall make appraisals of the assets and liabilities of the Corporation as of March 31 in each year, the value of the assets to be determined in so far as possible on the basis of market prices at the time of appraisal. The act also authorized annual appropriations for contributions to the Corporation to restore any capital impairment. In the event an appraisal establishes the net worth of the Corporation to be in excess of $100,000,000, such excess is to be deposited in the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt and used to retire an equivalent amount of the public debt. A copy of the act of March 8, 1938, appears as exhibit 22 on page 260.

The capital impairment of the Commodity Credit Corporation, as determined by an appraisal as of March 31, 1938, was $94,285,404.73. An appropriation in an equivalent amount was contained in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938, approved June 25, 1938, and was paid to the Corporation on June 30, 1938. The act of March 8, 1938, also provided that the Corporation could issue and have outstanding $500,000,000 of its obligations guaranteed by the United States.

Under the joint resolution approved March 2, 1938, there was appropriated $250,000,000 which was to be added to, and proportionally increase the specified amounts of the limitations prescribed under, the appropriation made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937 for relief and work relief.

The Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 (title I of the Work Relief and Public Works Appropriation Act of 1938, approved June 21, 1938) provided direct appropriations for relief and for work relief on useful public projects for the fiscal year 1939. An appropriation of $1,425,000,000 was made to the Works Progress Administration, together with balances of allocations to the Works Progress Administration under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937 and the joint resolution of March 2, 1938, which remained unobligated on June 30, 1938. These funds were available for the following types of projects in the amounts indicated:

Highways, roads, and streets.....	$484,500,000
Public buildings, parks and other recreational facilities, public utilities, rural electric transmission and distribution systems, transportation facilities, flood control, conservation, etc.....	655,500,000
Educational, professional, clerical, recreational, and miscellaneous noneconstruction projects.....	285,000,000
Total.....	1,425,000,000

The amount specified for any of the foregoing classes may be increased by not to exceed 15 percent by transfer of amounts from other classes. The Works Progress Administrator was authorized to use in the discretion of the President an amount not in excess of $25,000,000 for the purpose of providing direct relief for needy persons.

Title I also provided the following direct appropriations, together with certain unexpended balances:

Works Progress Administration for the National Youth Administration.....	$75,000,000
Secretary of Agriculture.....	175,000,000
Department of Interior, Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration.....	6,000,000
United States Employees' Compensation Commission.....	3,500,000
Other agencies for administrative expenses.....	28,405,000
Total.....	287,905,000

The Public Works Administration Appropriation Act of 1938 (title II of the act approved June 21, 1938) continued the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works until June 30, 1941, and provided an appropriation of $965,000,000 to be made available to such Administration for projects, the completion of which can be substantially accomplished prior to June 30, 1940.

The table on page 462 summarizes all funds appropriated and allocated for recovery and relief, expenditures therefrom, and unexpended balances on June 30, 1938. As shown in the table, only $15,038,000 of the $8,656,000,000 appropriated or made available under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1935, 1936, and 1937 remained unallocated on June 30, 1938. A subsidiary table shows the details of revolving funds from previous loans and payments for current loans made by Federal lending agencies.

REVENUE LEGISLATION

Revenue legislation enacted during the fiscal year 1938 included the Revenue Acts of 1937 and 1938; the imposition of a floor stock tax on distilled spirits, except brandy, to compensate for the increased tax on such distilled spirits under section 710 of the Revenue Act of 1938; the Sugar Act of 1937; the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act; an amendment to the stamp provisions of the Bottling in Bond Act; the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937; the exemption of persons traveling between Puerto Rico and the continental United States from payment of a stamp tax on steamship tickets; an amendment to section 3336 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, pertaining to brewers' bonds; the removal of certain restrictions relative to the production of wines, brandy, and fruit spirits; an amendment to the Bankruptcy Act of 1898 providing for the exemption of the issuance and transfer of certain securities from stamp tax and also for the nonrecognition of income arising from the cancelation of indebtedness; and an amendment to the National Firearms Act.

The more important tax rate changes made by the Revenue Acts of 1937 and 1938 and the rates which they supersede, together with legal citations and effective dates, are shown in exhibit 44, page 280.

Revenue Act of 1937

The Revenue Act of 1937, approved August 26, 1937, provides for the following major changes in income taxation:

Domestic and foreign personal holding companies.—With respect to domestic personal holding companies, the rates imposed are 65 percent on the first $2,000 of undistributed adjusted net income plus 75 percent on the amount thereof in excess of $2,000. These rates supersede the rates under the Revenue Act of 1936 which were graduated from 8 percent on the first $2,000 of undistributed adjusted net income to 48 percent on the amount thereof in excess of $1,000,000.

Important changes are also effected in the definition of personal holding companies and personal holding company income. Under the Revenue Act of 1937 the definition of a personal holding company is broadened (a) by providing that if in any taxable year 80 percent or more of the total gross income is personal holding company income the minimum percentage for each subsequent taxable year shall be 70 percent instead of 80 percent until (1) a taxable year during the whole of the last half of which the corporation does not meet the stock ownership requirement (namely, that more than 50 percent in the value of its outstanding stock is owned directly or indirectly by or for not more than five individuals), or (2) for each of three consecutive taxable years less than 70 percent of the gross income is personal holding company income; and (b) by providing that the concept of constructive ownership is to include (1) in the case of an individual, stock owned by or for his partner, and (2) stock on which a person has an option or an option to acquire such an option.

In addition to the items included in the definition under the 1936 act, the definition of personal holding company income is changed to include (a) gains from futures transactions in commodities on or subject to the rules of boards of trade and exchanges (except gains on bona fide hedging transactions), (b) income from estates or trusts, (c) certain amounts received under contracts for personal service, (d) certain amounts received for the use of corporation property, (e) rents constituting less than 50 percent of the gross income; and to exclude certain mineral, oil, and gas royalties.

In the determination of undistributed adjusted net income of personal holding companies, certain deductions formerly allowed are disallowed in whole or in part under the Revenue Act of 1937. The deductions so disallowed are: (a) Unlimited deduction for losses from sale or exchanges of capital assets, (b) 20 percent of the excess of the adjusted net income over the amount of dividends received from other personal holding companies, (c) unlimited deduction for charitable contributions, (d) surtaxes paid within the taxable year under section 102 relating to corporations improperly accumulating surplus, and

(e) expenses and depreciation allocable to the operation and maintenance of property owned or operated by the corporation in excess of the rent or other compensation received for the use or right to use the property, unless (1) the rent or other compensation is the highest obtainable, (2) the property is used in business, and (3) there is reasonable expectation that the use of the property would result in a profit.

No distinction for tax purposes was made under the 1936 act between foreign and domestic personal holding companies. The 1937 act, however, distinguishes foreign from domestic personal holding companies. A foreign personal holding company is defined as a foreign corporation receiving at least 60 percent of its gross income for the taxable year (and at least 50 percent for each subsequent taxable year) from the sources specified for the domestic personal holding company, if more than 50 percent in value of its outstanding stock is owned at any time during the taxable year, directly or indirectly, by or for not more than five individuals who are citizens or residents of the United States, and until a taxable year during the whole of which the above stock ownership requirement is not met or until the expiration of three consecutive taxable years in each of which less than 50 percent of the gross income is foreign personal holding company income.

Under the Revenue Act of 1937 each United States shareholder is required to include in his gross income for the taxable year in which the taxable year of the company ends, as a dividend, his pro rata share in the undistributed net income (as defined in Supplement P of the act) of a foreign personal holding company.

Nonresident aliens.—Section 211 of the Revenue Act of 1936 imposed a 10 percent flat withholding rate upon the amount received, by non-resident alien individuals not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein, from sources within the United States as interest (except interest on deposits with persons carrying on the banking business), dividends, rents, salaries, and other annual or periodical sources of income. The Revenue Act of 1937 amended this section so that if the aggregate amount received from such sources exceeds $21,600 the regular normal and surtax rates apply to the net income derived from such sources, but in no case is the tax to be less than 10 percent of the gross income from such sources. This change does not apply in the case of a resident of a contiguous country so long as there is in effect a treaty with such country (ratified prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1937) which provides a lower rate than the 10 percent rate of tax provided under the Revenue Act of 1936.

Trusts.—The $1,000 personal exemption for trusts is disallowed if the trust instrument requires or permits the accumulation of any portion of the income of the trust and there is not distributed an amount equal to the net income less that portion of the income which, under the law of the jurisdiction under which the trust is administered, cannot be considered as income and is not distributable. Every such fiduciary is required to file a taxable return.

The changes made by the Revenue Act of 1937 are effective for the taxable years beginning after December 31, 1936, except with respect to the provisions relating to the foreign personal holding companies which became effective for taxable years ending after August 26, 1937. In view, however, of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938, the changes made by the Revenue Act of 1937 are not applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1937, except where such changes have been reenacted in the Revenue Act of 1938.

Revenue Act of 1938

The Revenue Act of 1938, which became law on May 28, 1938, without the President's approval, makes important changes in the corporation income tax and in the treatment of capital gains and losses. Also it increases the tax on distilled spirits; repeals certain excise taxes; imposes an excise tax on certain types of tractors; reduces the tax on imports of certain seeds; provides for a new inventory method in the case of certain industries; provides for a new declaration of the value of capital stock every three years; extends the time from January 1 to July 1, 1938, for liquidation of foreign personal holding companies without penalty, and facilitates the liquidation of certain domestic companies; reduces the annual gift tax exemption; amends the provision relating to personal exemptions of trusts; broadens the exemption from Federal taxes allowable to certain insolvent banks; reduces the tax on admissions to any spoken play sold at theaters at reduced rates; removes the limitation on the Commissioner's power to enter into closing agreements; and mitigates the effect of the statute of limitations.

Corporation income tax.—Under the Revenue Act of 1936 corporations (excepting specified classes) were subject to a normal tax graduated from 8 percent to 15 percent and a surtax on undistributed profits graduated from 7 percent to 27 percent. The provisions of the Revenue Act of 1938 relating to taxes on corporations are applicable only for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1937, and before January 1, 1940. The act retains the principle of the undistributed profits tax for corporations with net incomes of more than $25,000. A tentative tax of 19 percent on the adjusted net income is imposed on such corporations. This tentative tax is reduced by the sum of (a) 16½ percent of the credit for dividends received and (b) 2½ percent of the dividends paid credit, but not to exceed 2½ percent of the adjusted net income. Corporations with net incomes of $25,000 or less are taxed at rates graduated from 12½ percent of the "special class net income" (adjusted net income minus credit for dividends received) not in excess of $5,000 to 16 percent of the amount thereof in excess of $20,000. To bring about a proper transition between the tax on corporations with net incomes of $25,000 and less and those with net incomes of more than $25,000 an alternative tax is provided in section 13 (d), applicable to corporations with net incomes of slightly more than $25,000.

The dividends paid credit, allowable to corporations with net incomes of more than $25,000, includes: (1) the basic surtax credit comprising (a) the dividends paid out during the taxable year increased by the consent dividends credit (for amounts undistributed by the corporation to its shareholders but which the shareholders have consented to include in their income) and reduced by interest received on certain obligations of the United States and (b) a carry-forward (for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938) of net operating loss of the preceding taxable year, but not in excess of the adjusted net income for the taxable year; (2) a 2-year dividend carry-over limited to the excess of the basic surtax credit over the adjusted net income; (3) amounts used or irrevocably set aside to retire certain indebtedness, provided such indebtedness existed at the close of business on December 31, 1937; and (4) the excess of any deficit in the accumulated earnings and profits as of the close of the preceding taxable year over the credit for net operating losses.

The 1938 act increases the flat rate of tax from 15 percent to 16½ percent applicable to the following corporations: Banks, insurance companies, China Trade Act corporations, and domestic corporations deriving a large portion of their gross income from sources within a possession of the United States (sec. 251); decreases the rate on resident foreign corporations; imposes a flat 16½ percent rate on mutual investment companies in lieu of the graduated normal tax and graduated surtax on undistributed profits (the 16½ percent rate applies to "Supplement Q net income" defined as adjusted net income minus, with certain exceptions, the basic surtax credit; in this respect it is similar to the normal tax under the 1936 act which applied to net income after deducting dividends paid); and in the case of corporations improperly accumulating surplus, imposes rates of 25 percent of the undistributed net income not in excess of $100,000 plus 35 percent on the amount thereof in excess of $100,000.

Capital gains and losses.—Under the Revenue Act of 1936 only certain percentages of the recognized capital gains and losses of individuals, varying according to the period for which assets were held, were taken into account for tax purposes. (See exhibit 44, p. 280.) Net gains thus taken into account were included in net income and taxed at the regular normal tax and surtax rates. The capital loss deduction was limited to $2,000 plus capital gains. The Revenue Act of 1938 divides capital gains and losses into short-term capital gains and losses and long-term capital gains and losses. Short-term capital gains and losses are those realized from the sale or exchange of capital assets held 18 months or less. Long-term capital gains and losses are those realized from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for over 18 months. The percentages of gain or loss taken into account in computing net income are: 100 percent if the capital assets were held 18 months or less; 66⅔ percent if held for over 18 months, but not over 24 months; and 50 percent if held for over 24 months.

After the computation of the amount of gain or loss to be taken into account according to the above percentages, such gain or loss from sale or exchange of capital assets is treated as follows: (1) If assets are held 18 months or less, gains not offset by allowed losses are included with other income subject to full normal tax and surtax rates. Losses are allowed only to the extent of gains on such transactions, but losses disallowed in 1 year (to an amount not exceeding net income) may be carried forward and applied against gains from such transactions in the succeeding taxable year; and (2) if assets are held more than 18 months, net gains are included with other income subject to normal tax and surtax rates or are segregated and taxed at 30 percent, whichever method results in lesser total tax. Net losses are deducted from other net income or 30 percent of such losses is credited against the tax computed on net income before deducting the net loss, whichever method gives the greater tax.

The Revenue Act of 1938 makes a significant change in the definition of "capital assets" by excluding therefrom depreciable property used in a trade or business. Further, losses from securities that become worthless during the taxable year are generally treated in the same way as other losses from sale or exchange of capital assets instead of being fully deductible as was the situation under previous law.

The capital gain and loss provisions of the Revenue Act of 1938 are effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1937.

Other changes.—Other changes made by the Revenue Act of 1938 include: (1) An increase in the tax on distilled spirits, except brandy. In order to compensate for this increased tax there is imposed by Public Resolution No. 114, approved June 16, 1938, an equivalent floor tax of 25 cents on each proof gallon and a proportionate tax on all fractional parts of such proof gallon upon all distilled spirits, except brandy, upon which the internal revenue taxes have been paid and which on July 1, 1938, were held by a retail dealer in liquors in a quantity in excess of 250 wine gallons or by any other person, corporation, partnership, or association, in any quantity and which were intended for sale for beverage purposes or for use in the production of any article intended for sale for beverage purposes. (A copy of Public Resolution No. 114 is shown as exhibit 40, on p. 272.) (2) The repeal of the excise taxes on certain toilet preparations, furs, phonograph records, sporting goods, cameras, chewing gum, the production and refining of crude petroleum, brewer's wort, malt sirup, sales of produce for future delivery, and matches except fancy wooden matches; the imposition of a tax on certain tractors used in combination with a trailer or semitrailer; and the reduction of the tax on imports of hempseed, perilla seed, and sesame seed. (3) Provision for a new inventory method for income tax purposes in the case of certain industries with respect to certain raw materials. A taxpayer whose principal business is producing or processing certain nonferrous metals, or tanning hides or skins may elect in taking his inventory as of the close of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, to account such raw materials on the basis of the last-in-first-out method instead of the first-in-first-out method as hitherto prescribed. (4) Provision in connection with the capital stock tax for a new declaration of the value of capital stock for the year ended June 30, 1938, and each third year thereafter. (5) Under the Revenue Act of 1937, irrespective of the length of time the assets were held, 100 percent of the capital gain recognized from distributions in liquidation of a foreign personal holding company was taken into account in computing net income, unless such liquidation was completed before January 1, 1938. The Revenue Act of 1938 extends the benefit of treatment as to long-term capital gains to such liquidations if completed before July 1, 1938. Further, provision is made for the nonrecognition of gain or loss in the case of the disposition of property upon certain exchanges and the receipt of property upon certain distributions ordered by the Securities and Exchange Commission in furtherance of the policies of section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. (6) The reduction of the annual gift tax exemption of $5,000 to $4,000 and the exclusion from such exemption of gifts in trust. (7) In the case of trusts, provision for a credit of $100 against net income in lieu of the personal exemption of $1,000. (8) The amendment of section 22 of the act of March 1, 1879 (20 Stat. 351; U. S. C., title 12, sec. 570), broadening the exemption from Federal taxes allowable in the case of certain insolvent banks. (9) In the case of admissions to any spoken play sold at the ticket office of theaters at reduced rates, the tax is based upon the price for which the admission is sold in lieu of upon the regular selling price of such admission. (10) Removal of the limitation on the power of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to enter into closing agreements. Formerly the Commissioner could enter into such agreements only if the taxable period to which the agreement related had already terminated. (11) The mitigation of the effect of the statute of limitations in certain cases, such as those in which a determination under the income tax laws requires the inclusion in gross income or allows the deduction from gross income in one taxable year of an item which was erroneously included or deducted in another taxable year.

Sugar Act of 1937

The Sugar Act of 1937, approved September 1, 1937, imposes upon manufactured sugar manufactured in the United States after passage of the act an excise tax, effective September 1, 1937, to be paid by the manufacturer at the following rates: (1) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and for each additional sugar degree shown by such test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion; (2) on all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein. The act also imposes, in addition to any other tax or duty imposed by law, under such regulations as the Commissioner of Customs shall prescribe, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, an import compensating tax as follows: (a) On all manufactured sugar a tax equivalent to the excise tax on domestic manufactured sugar; (b) on all articles composed in chief value of manufactured sugar, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein. Such tax is to be levied, assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as a duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930.

A copy of pertinent portions of the Sugar Act of 1937 (Public No. 414) is shown as exhibit 42, on page 273.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act

The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, approved June 25, 1938, provides that effective July 1, 1939, railroad carriers and certain related and controlled companies shall not be subject to the employer's tax under title IX of the Social Security Act. In lieu of these taxes it provides that every employer, with respect to having employees in his service, shall pay a contribution equal to 3 percent of so much of the compensation as is not in excess of $300 for any calendar month, payable by him to any employee with respect to employment after June 30, 1939. Each employee representative is also required to pay, with respect to his income, a contribution equal to 3 percent of the compensation not in excess of $300 per month. The act provides that the enforcement and collection of the contributions shall be administered by the Railroad Retirement Board and not by the Bureau of Internal Revenue or any other branch of the Treasury Department.

Other revenue legislation

The Marihuana Tax Act of 1937, approved August 2, 1937, imposes certain occupational and transfer taxes with respect to marihuana. The rates of tax are contained in Public No. 238, shown as exhibit 43, on page 275.

Public No. 651, approved June 16, 1938, amends the National Firearms Act. The tax provisions are contained in Public No. 651, shown as exhibit 41, on page 273.

Public No. 400, approved August 28, 1937, exempts persons traveling between Puerto Rico and the continental United States from the payment of a stamp tax on steamship tickets.

Public No. 620, approved June 15, 1938, amends section 3336 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, with respect to brewers' bonds. A copy of Public No. 620, is shown as exhibit 38, on page 269.

Public No. 635, approved June 15, 1938, amends certain provisions of law relative to the production of wines, brandy, and fruit spirits so as to remove therefrom certain unnecessary restrictions; to facilitate the collection of internal revenue taxes thereon; and to provide abatement of certain taxes upon wines, brandy, and fruit spirits where lost or evaporated while in the custody and under the control of the Government without any fault of the owner. A copy of Public No. 635, is shown as exhibit 39, on page 270.

Public No. 198, approved July 9, 1937, amending the stamp provisions of the Bottling in Bond Act, is shown as exhibit 37, on page 269.

Public No. 696, approved June 22, 1938, amends the Bankruptcy Act of 1898 to provide for the exemption of the issuance and transfer of certain securities from Federal and State stamp taxes, and also to provide for the nonrecognition of income arising from the cancellation of indebtedness and for the reduction of the basis of the debtor's property where there has been a cancellation of indebtedness.

ESTIMATES OF RECEIPTS

The Secretary of the Treasury is required each year to prepare and submit in his annual report to Congress estimates of the public revenue for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal year next ensuing (Public No. 129, February 26, 1907). These estimates are now made in December of each year.

Inasmuch as the tax revenue from practically every major source is directly dependent, although in varying degree, upon business conditions during the period in respect of which the taxes are levied, it is necessary to forecast the general business situation for a period ending approximately 18 months later. This forecast is based upon the analysis of a wide variety of financial and other economic data and includes a forecast of the direction and the magnitude of the movements of industrial production, profits, security and commodity prices, employment, payrolls, and other indicators of business activity. In view of the well-recognized uncertainty involved in forecasting the various phases of business activity, such forecasts, and the concomitant estimates of future revenues, may be revised from time to time to take account of changed economic conditions.

Upon these business forecasts depend the estimates of the aggregate amounts of corporation and individual incomes as well as the distribution of such incomes among various income classes, and the volume of consumption and importation of commodities upon which taxes are levied. Consideration has to be given to the fact that changes in the various indicators of business activity are not reflected immediately or in direct proportion in the various sources of revenue. Thus in periods of rising business activity profits and taxable incomes rise more than proportionately to the increase in the volume of business because of the relative inflexibility of certain costs. In addition, consideration is given to the fact that the increase in the amount of income tax collections which will result from a given increase in individual incomes is accentuated under a progressive rate schedule not only because the individual taxpayer's income is more but also because the taxpayer pays a larger percentage of the higher income as income tax.

Changes in business conditions, in the amounts of income, and in the volume of consumption and importation of commodities are reflected more immediately in the receipts from some taxes than from others because of the variation in the method of collection of the taxes. For example, many of the miscellaneous internal revenue taxes are collected each month on the tax liabilities of the previous month. However, collections from taxes such as the estate and gift taxes and the tax under title IX of the Social Security Act are made upon liabilities of a much earlier period and therefore do not rapidly respond to changes in general business conditions.

The lag between the time income is received by taxpayers and the time of receipt of income taxes based upon such incomes is particularly important in its effect upon total tax receipts. Thus, in general, the changes in incomes in the calendar year 1938 will not be reflected in income tax receipts until the income tax returns are filed on or before March 15, 1939. Because of the privilege of making quarterly installment payments of these tax liabilities the collections will be received throughout the calendar year 1939, thus falling into the receipts of fiscal years 1939 and 1940. Hence the estimated current income tax receipts, both corporation and individual, for the fiscal year 1939 are made up partly from payments on calendar year 1937 incomes and partly from payments on calendar year 1938 incomes. Similarly, fiscal year 1940 estimates of income tax receipts include some payments based upon the incomes of each of the calendar years 1938 and 1939.

An explanation of the estimates of receipts from each of the major sources of revenue is presented below. Estimated receipts for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 and actual receipts for the fiscal year 1938 are presented in summary form in the table on page 36. Detailed receipts and estimates are shown in table 22 on pages 456 to 461.

Legislative enactments affecting revenue estimates

A number of statutory changes affecting the revenues were enacted during the fiscal year 1938. Since these new laws have been summarized in a preceding section of this report, only their effect upon the revenue estimates will be indicated at this point.

Income tax receipts in the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 will be affected by the changes in law enacted by the Revenue Acts of 1937 and 1938. The former act, effective generally beginning with calendar year 1937 incomes, contained a number of important income tax provisions designed to prevent tax evasion and avoidance, which changes exert an upward effect upon the revenues by preventing revenue losses which might otherwise occur. These changes were only partially reflected in the fiscal year 1938 income tax receipts but, so far as reenacted by the Revenue Act of 1938, will be fully reflected in the receipts of the fiscal years 1939 and 1940.

The Revenue Act of 1938, beginning with calendar year 1938 incomes, imposed major changes with respect to corporation tax rates, including the treatment of undistributed profits, and capital gains and losses of individuals. The effect of these statutory changes on income tax liabilities for relatively low income years such as calendar years 1938 and 1939 is decidedly less important in determining the income tax receipts than are the changes in the business situation.

NOTE.—Figures are rounded to nearest tenth of a million and will not necessarily add to totals. For complete details, see table 22 on pp. 456 to 461.

Miscellaneous internal revenue receipts in the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 will be affected by a number of legislative enactments of the past year. The revenues will be reduced as a result of the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1938 effecting the outright or partial termination, with respect to sales after June 30, 1938, of the excise taxes on sporting goods, cameras, furs, chewing gum, phonograph records, brew-er's wort and malt, crude petroleum, sales of produce for future delivery, matches, and toilet preparations, and by the provision allowing a redeclaration of corporation capital stock values. On the other hand, the revenues will be increased by the higher tax rate on distilled spirits other than brandy and the accompanying floor tax, changes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1938 and by Public Resolution No. 114. A new source of revenue was provided by the Sugar Act of 1937, imposing a tax on the manufacture of sugar, effective September 1, 1937.

The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, effective July 1, 1939, will have a negligible influence on the revenues, since the effect of the act is to remove carriers from the coverage of title IX of the Social Security Act and to require them to pay contributions under the comparable provisions of the new act. Other changes made by the Revenue Act of 1938, such as the according of certain additional exemptions from the stamp taxes and from the taxes on electrical energy, communication facilities, and admissions, and the lowering of the annual gift tax exclusion from $5,000 to $4,000, as well as changes effected by the amendments to the Bankruptcy Act and the National Firearms Act, will have a relatively small effect on the revenues.

Fiscal year 1939

Total receipts to general and special accounts in the fiscal year 1939 are estimated at $5,520 millions, a decrease of $722 millions, or 11.6 percent, from receipts of $6,242 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Practically every major source of revenue contributes to this decrease. The decrease in income taxes of $549 millions represents 76 percent of the total decrease while miscellaneous internal revenue shows a decrease of $106 millions, or 15 percent of the total decrease. Smaller decreases appear in the pay-roll taxes, customs receipts, and miscellaneous revenues and receipts. The widespread character of the decline reflects mainly the reduced incomes and the lower levels of business activity during the periods in respect of which the taxes are levied.

Income taxes.—The combined yield of the individual and corporation income taxes, including the excess-profits tax and back taxes, is estimated at $2,086 millions, as compared with the fiscal year 1938 figure of $2,635 millions. It is anticipated that this reduction of $549 millions in income tax receipts will be divided nearly equally between the corporate and the individual sources.

The decrease in income tax receipts is principally a reflection of a decline in taxable incomes. While the fiscal year 1938 receipts were based upon incomes received during the calendar years 1936 and 1937, the fiscal year 1939 receipts will be based upon incomes received during the calendar years 1937 and 1938, and will show a reduction primarily because taxable incomes in the calendar year 1938 are estimated at a lower level than taxable incomes in the calendar year 1936.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Receipts from the capital stock tax are estimated at $127 millions as compared with receipts of $139 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Since receipts from this tax, which is generally payable on July 31, are concentrated largely in the first quarter of the fiscal year, the fiscal year 1939 estimate involves a smaller element of prediction than do most of the other estimates. The Revenue Act of 1938 allowed a new capital stock value declaration as of June 30, 1938. As receipts from the capital stock tax of the past two fiscal years have been dependent on the valuation declared as of June 30, 1936, the indicated decrease of $12 millions is consistent with the decline of corporate income from the calendar year 1936 to the calendar year 1938.

Estate tax receipts in the fiscal year 1939 are expected to decline to $321 millions, a figure between the record total of $382 millions received in the fiscal year 1938 and the previous high of $282 millions received in the fiscal year 1937. The expected lower property valuations of estates whose tax returns will be filed during the fiscal year 1939 as compared with those filed in the fiscal year 1938, the lower tax rates applicable thereto as a result of the graduated rate scale, and a probable drop in back tax collections from last year's exceptionally high figure account for the indicated substantial shrinkage in the estate tax total.

The estimate of receipts from the gift tax in the fiscal year 1939 is $27 millions as compared with $35 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. Practically the entire payment of this tax is received in March on the gifts of the preceding calendar year. The lower business and income levels in the calendar year 1938 appear to have been less favorable to the making of taxable gifts than were those of the calendar year 1937.

Receipts from taxes upon liquor in the fiscal year 1939 are estimated at $563 millions, or somewhat less than the receipts of $568 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Two counter influences, a decrease in consumption incidental to the decline in business activity and an increase in certain of the tax rates, cause contrary movements in anticipated receipts from the individual items in this group. Thus because of restricted consumption with a constant tax rate, the excise tax on beer is expected to yield $9 millions less in the fiscal year 1939 than it yielded in the fiscal year 1938. Domestic distilled spirits, however, despite a probable falling off in tax-paid quantity, are expected to provide larger receipts than in the fiscal year 1938 as a result of the advance in the tax rate, effective July 1, 1938, on distilled spirits other than brandy, from $2.00 to $2.25 per proof gallon. This increased rate, though equally applicable to imported distilled spirits, will probably not suffice to offset the estimated reduction of imports.

After six years of uninterrupted advance in receipts from tobacco taxes, to the record high of $568 millions in the fiscal year 1938, a small decrease to $566 millions in the fiscal year 1939 is forecast. Receipts from the tax on small cigarettes, the largest source of revenue in this group, are expected to decline slightly to $492 millions.

As a group, stamp tax receipts in the fiscal year 1939 appear likely to form an exception to the prevailing downward tendency. It is estimated that they will aggregate $52 millions as against $46 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. An anticipated decline of $3 millions due to the repeal of the tax on sales of produce for future delivery is expected to be more than offset by a larger volume of receipts from the tax on stock transfers.

Changes in the law as well as economic factors account for the anticipated decline in receipts from the manufacturers' excise taxes, which in the aggregate are estimated to yield $379 millions in the fiscal year 1939, as against $417 millions in the fiscal year 1938, a decrease of $38 millions. Approximately one-half of the decrease may be ascribed to the termination of certain manufacturers' excise taxes with respect to sales after June 30, 1938, as provided for in the Revenue Act of 1938. The balance of the decrease reflects anticipated lower levels of business activity.

Receipts from miscellaneous taxes are estimated at $138 millions, an increase of $20 millions over the fiscal year 1938 receipts. Expected decreases from most of the taxes in this group are more than offset by the large increase in estimated receipts from the sugar tax. The sugar tax shows an increase of $31 millions over receipts in the fiscal year 1938, since receipts in that year were for less than a 12-month period, the tax not becoming effective until September 1, 1937, and not applying to stocks of direct consumption sugar then on hand. Apart from a small gain in receipts from the bituminous coal tax, all of the other taxes in this group are expected to produce less revenue in fiscal year 1939 than in fiscal year 1938. Though traceable partly to statutory changes, such as termination of the regulatory taxes on petroleum and the liberalization of certain exemptions for communication facilities, admissions, and palm oil, the decreases mainly reflect the influence of a lower level of business activity.

Pay-roll taxes.—As the net result of a large decline in receipts from the carriers tax and only a small rise in receipts from the taxes under the Social Security Act, pay-roll tax receipts in the aggregate are expected to decrease by some $35 millions. Collection arrangements and rate changes continue to affect the year-to-year comparisons of receipts from these taxes. Thus an important cause of the large decrease in receipts from the carriers tax is that whereas there was paid in the fiscal year 1938 (under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, approved June 29, 1937) the tax liabilities of the five quarters extending from January 1937 through March 1938, there will become due and payable in the fiscal year 1939 only the liabilities of the four quarters ending March 1939.

Conversely, contributing to the estimated increase in receipts under title VIII of the Social Security Act, from $514 millions in the fiscal year 1938 to $520 millions in the fiscal year 1939, is the fact that receipts in the latter year will represent a full year's liability while receipts in the former year represented less than a full year's liability, since the shift from a monthly to a quarterly basis of payment, effective beginning January 1938, postponed to the fiscal year 1939 the receipts of April and May 1938 liabilities, part of which would otherwise have been received in the fiscal year 1938.

Receipts under title IX of the Social Security Act, estimated at $91 millions in the fiscal year 1939, as compared with actual receipts of $90 millions in the fiscal year 1938, reflect two offsetting influences. The title IX tax rate on pay rolls advanced successively from 1 percent for the calendar year 1936 to 2 percent for the calendar year 1937 and to 3 percent for the calendar year 1938, with a tax credit not exceeding 90 percent for employers who have paid their State unemployment taxes prior to January 31 of the year following the accrual of the Federal tax liability, in States certified to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Social Security Board on preceding December 31 as having operated during the year in accordance with approved standards. Hence, the fiscal year 1939 receipts, being based in part on the 2 percent rate and in part on the 3 percent rate, are expected to exceed the fiscal year 1938 receipts, based in part on the 1 percent rate and in part on the 2 percent rate. But although the higher tax rate tends to increase receipts, this tendency is nearly offset by an expected decrease in the estimated liabilities of employers who do not qualify for the 90 percent tax credit.

Customs.—Customs receipts, including any import tax "levied, assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as a duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930 and . . . treated as a duty," are expected to decline in the fiscal year 1939 to $335 millions from the total of $359 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. It is estimated that changes in receipts by individual tariff schedules will be for the most part relatively small. Duties and import taxes from sugar are expected to be above the fiscal year 1938 level because of relatively heavy imports in the first half of the current fiscal year. Imports of wool and woollen products are also expected to increase. Receipts from agricultural imports, however, are expected to drop because of the large supplies of agricultural products. A decrease is anticipated likewise in duties received from spirits.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Receipts from the many diverse sources of this group are estimated to yield $200 millions in the fiscal year 1939, a decrease of $8 millions from the total of $208 millions received in the fiscal year 1938.

Fiscal year 1940

Total receipts to general and special accounts for the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $5,669 millions, assuming that the temporary taxes expiring June 30 and July 31, 1939, are extended in their present form. This amount represents an increase of $149 millions, or 2.7 percent, over estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1939. The increase is ascribed to an expected rise in receipts from all major sources of revenue except income taxes. If the temporary taxes are not extended, estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1940 are reduced by $490 millions, to $5,179 millions.

Income taxes.—Receipts from income taxes in the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $1,903 millions as compared with an estimate of $2,086 millions for the fiscal year 1939. The fiscal year 1940 income tax receipts represent a portion of the tax liabilities of each of the two relatively low income years, calendar years 1938 and 1939. Although higher incomes are expected in the calendar year 1939 than in the calendar year 1938, it is anticipated that they will not reach the calendar year 1937 level. The result is that income tax receipts in the last half of the fiscal year 1940, based upon calendar year 1939 incomes, will be somewhat higher than those of the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year, but that receipts in the first half of the fiscal year 1940, based upon calendar year 1938 incomes, will be much lower than those of the first half of the preceding fiscal year. A similar situation accounts for the expected decline in the excess-profits tax in the fiscal year 1940. Unlike other items in the income tax group, back tax collections are expected to increase.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Capital stock tax receipts in the fiscal year 1940 will depend on the valuation declared as of June 30, 1938, as adjusted on June 30, 1939. The net effect of the various adjustments in the original declared valuation due to the calendar year 1938 business activity is expected to decrease the fiscal year 1940 receipts to $123 millions from the $127 millions estimated for the fiscal year 1939.

Estate tax receipts are estimated at $329 millions in the fiscal year 1940. This represents only a slight increase over the estimate for the fiscal year 1939 as the length of time intervening between the valuation of estates and the payment of the tax prevents estate tax receipts from being immediately responsive to improving business conditions. Receipts from the gift tax are estimated at $33 millions, an increase of $6 millions over estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1939.

The estimated revenues from liquor taxes of $607 millions compare with an estimated aggregate of $563 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Receipts from the taxes on domestic distilled spirits and fermented malt liquors, the leading sources of revenue in this group, are expected to increase substantially, the former by $25 millions and the latter by $19 millions. The floor tax, enacted in June 1938 in connection with an increase in the tax rate on distilled spirits, will be unimportant as a source of revenue in the fiscal year 1940. Receipts from all other taxes in this group are expected to show moderate increases.

Tobacco taxes are expected to yield aggregate revenues of $610 millions in the fiscal year 1940 as compared with an estimated total of $566 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Increased revenues from the tax on cigarettes account for practically all of this gain as receipts from all other taxes in this group are expected to show only minor changes.

Stamp tax receipts are expected to total $59 millions in the fiscal year 1940, assuming a continuation of present taxes and rates. This compares with estimated revenues of $52 millions in the fiscal year 1939.

Under the present law, the manufacturers' excise taxes expire with respect to sales made after June 30 or in some cases after July 31, 1939. Assuming that these taxes, which form an important part of the present tax structure, will be extended by new legislation, aggregate receipts from the group are estimated at $427 millions in the fiscal year 1940. This amount compares with an estimated total of $379 millions in the fiscal year 1939. The tax on gasoline, the leading source of revenue in this group, is expected to yield $211 millions, representing an increase of $19 millions over the previous fiscal year.

Certain of the taxes in the miscellaneous group will expire or will be automatically modified at the beginning of the fiscal year 1940. Assuming a continuation of these taxes through new legislation, aggregate revenues from the group in the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $145 millions, as compared with estimated revenues of $138 millions in the fiscal year 1939.

Pay-roll taxes.—Receipts under title VIII of the Social Security Act are expected to increase to $598 millions in the fiscal year 1940 from $520 millions in the fiscal year 1939. This gain is due in large part to the 50 percent increase in the tax rates effective during the calendar year 1940.

Revenues under title IX of the Social Security Act are expected to decline slightly to $89 millions from $91 millions anticipated for the fiscal year 1939. Two offsetting factors materially affect receipts from this tax in the fiscal year 1940. On one hand, this will be the first year when all current tax liabilities are collected under the 3 percent tax rate. On the other hand, receipts will be lowered because of the passage of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act which removes carriers from the coverage of title IX effective July 1, 1939. The full effect of this change in the law however is not reflected in the fiscal year 1940 receipts since the tax liabilities of the period January to June 1939 will enter title IX receipts in calendar year 1940.

Revenues under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 are expected to rise to $124 millions from the $109 millions anticipated in the fiscal year 1939. This increase may be ascribed in part to the increase in the aggregate of tax rates from 5½ percent to 6 percent beginning with calendar year 1940.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—Beginning July 1, 1939, carriers will be required to pay contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (approved June 25, 1938) rather than to pay taxes under title IX of the Social Security Act, and 10 percent of the contributions received will be deposited to the credit of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund. It has been assumed that contributions will be paid on a quarterly basis in the month following the close of the quarter in which the liabilities accrue. Thus the fiscal year 1940 receipts, which will include contributions covering only three quarters, are estimated at $5 millions.

Customs.—Receipts from customs duties and import taxes are expected to increase to $404 millions from the $335 millions anticipated for the fiscal year 1939. It is expected that increases will be general in the several tariff schedules, although a decline is expected in imports of sugar from the unusually high level of the fiscal year 1939.

<sup>3</sup> The figures for the fiscal year 1938 represent payments and repayments of $8,780,085.63 and $7,928,662.85, respectively, on account of adjustments of grants for prior years. The net adjustment is $851,422.78. The figures for the fiscal year 1937 represent repayment of funds by Post Office Department on account of grants for fiscal years 1925 to 1933.

<sup>6</sup> Expenditures under this caption for the fiscal year 1937 include only Boulder Canyon project, other reclamation projects being included in "Public works—All other—Department of the Interior."

<sup>7</sup> This item of seigniorage represents the difference between the cost value and the monetary value of silver bullion revalued and held to secure the silver certificates issued on account of silver acquired under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 and under the President's proclamation dated Aug. 9, 1934.

<sup>8</sup> Beginning Dec. 31, 1937, transfers from the General Fund have been treated as receipts instead of offsets against expenditures. The figures for July 1937 and for the fiscal year 1937, therefore, include adjustments on this account and in that respect disagree with the figures published prior to Dec. 31, 1937.

<sup>9</sup> Disagrees with the figures published in the daily Treasury statement due to a revision in classifications referred to in the announcement accompanying the daily Treasury statement for July 1, 1938 (see p. 347).

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

During the fiscal year 1938 total collections of internal revenue in the amount of $5,658,800,000 <sup>1</sup> exceeded collections in the preceding fiscal year by $1,005,600,000. The total amount collected included back income taxes of $251,600,000, which is $6,700,000, or approximately 2.6 percent, less than the total collections of back income taxes during 1937.

Income tax

To expedite the examination and closing of income tax returns, several changes in procedure were effected during the latter months of the fiscal year 1938. Among the more important changes were (1) the establishing of office audit sections in field divisions of the Income Tax Unit, where such sections had not previously been operated, and the expansion of office audit work in those divisions already conducting office audits; (2) the granting of authority to all internal revenue agents in charge to issue statutory notices in cases where the deficiencies determined after protest were $300 or less and in cases, regardless of the amount of deficiencies involved, in which taxpayers failed to cooperate with the agents in charge; and (3) the more prompt routing of the larger and more important currently filed returns to the field offices for examination.

The field forces conducted 429,601 examinations and recommended changes in tax liability in 258,998 or 60 percent of the cases. Agreements were secured in 229,729 or 89 percent of the returns in which changes in tax liability were recommended. The deficiency taxes to which agreements were secured by the field totaled $93,800,000, the second largest amount in agreed taxes ever secured by the field force in any fiscal year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue

Estate tax collections for the fiscal year 1938 exceeded such collections for the preceding year by $100,500,000; tobacco tax collections increased $15,900,000; gift tax collections increased $10,800,000; and capital stock tax collections increased $1,800,000. The collections of manufacturers' excise taxes decreased $33,100,000; the collections of liquor taxes decreased $26,300,000; and the collections of documentary stamp taxes decreased $23,700,000. An increase of $33,400,000 in collections from the so-called miscellaneous taxes is accounted for by collections of $33,800,000 under the taxes imposed by the Sugar Act of 1937 ($30,600,000) and the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 ($3,200,000), no collections having been made under either of these acts prior to the fiscal year 1938.

Collections of taxes under title VIII of the Social Security Act amounted to $502,900,000 during the year, an increase of $295,600,000 over the preceding year. The tax imposed by title IX of the act yielded $90,300,000, exceeding the yield from that source during the preceding year by $32,100,000. The first collections of taxes imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 were made during the year, amounting to $149,500,000.

During the first 9 months of the year these taxes were administered by the Social Security Tax Unit. That unit was consolidated with the Accounts and Collections Unit on April 1, 1938, and from that date the social security taxes have been administered by the Accounts and Collections Unit.

Extensive studies were conducted during the year to effect a simplification of collecting the taxes and securing reports of the amounts of taxable wages paid to each employee under title VIII of the Social Security Act. For the calendar year 1937 each employer was required to make 12 monthly tax returns and two 6-month information returns, an aggregate of 14 returns. Effective January 1, 1938, a quarterly return method was adopted, combining the tax and information features of the old plan. Substantial savings in the costs of compliance and administration have resulted from the change.

The program for the enforcement of raw materials control was continued with more than 6,000 distributors submitting returns showing sales, and over 1,700 distributors of denatured alcohol making similar reports of their sales. The constitutionality of the raw materials law (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 26, sec. 1162a) was definitely established by court decisions during the year. The preventive effect of this program has been reflected in the reduction of quantities of materials purchased by illicit distillers. There were more than 300 distillery seizures during the year as a direct result of information furnished by dealers in raw materials.

Extensive research was conducted in the laboratory of the Alcohol Tax Unit on various species of marihuana grown on the Arlington Experimental Farm of the Department of Agriculture. Hundreds of samples were examined for the purpose of identifying the active principle, and for determining at what stage during the growth of the plant the active principle developed. The methods for identifying marihuana were improved.

Technical Staff decentralization

A definite program looking to the decentralization of the appellate procedure for the administrative settlement of disputed income, excess-profits, and estate tax cases was inaugurated on March 1, 1938, by the establishment at Los Angeles of a special branch of the Commissioner's office, known as the Los Angeles Division of the Technical Staff. The head of the Division, with the advice or concurrence of counsel (a representative of the Chief Counsel for the Bureau), was given authority (subject to the general supervision of the Commissioner) to settle not only cases docketed before the United States Board of Tax Appeals and placed on a circuit calendar for hearing in that area, but also cases referred to the Division from the office of the internal revenue agent in charge at Los Angeles prior to the issuance of the statutory notice of deficiency.

The results accomplished by the Los Angeles Division of the Technical Staff during the first few months of its operation demonstrated the practicability of the plan of handling and disposing of cases pending before the Board; and although the results were at that time inconclusive as regards the application of an appellate settlement procedure to cases prior to the issuance of the deficiency notice, they were such as to warrant an extended and broader trial of the plan. Plans were perfected for the establishment on July 1, 1938, of the Pacific Division of the Technical Staff with coordinate local offices at Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Seattle, and branch offices at such points as the Commissioner may determine. The Pacific Division will comprise the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, and Arizona, and the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska. The original Los Angeles Division of the Technical Staff was abolished on June 30, 1938, and became on July 1, 1938, the Los Angeles office of the Pacific Division. The jurisdiction of the Pacific Division was enlarged to include within the pre-90-day classification those cases involving the ad valorem fraud penalty (but not criminal prosecution) and also estate and gift taxes. With these changes, the jurisdiction of the Pacific Division, both before and after the issuance of a deficiency notice, covers substantially the broad class of cases which are capable of appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals.

Orders were issued in May and June 1938 directing the establishment of similar divisions at New York on August 1, 1938, and at Chicago on September 1, 1938. The New York Division will cover the State of New York and the Chicago Division will include the States of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota. Until January 1, 1939, the New York and Chicago Divisions will be concerned primarily with cases which have been appealed to the United States Board of Tax Appeals; after that date, they will also have authority, upon request of the taxpayer, to review the determinations of tax made by local agents in charge, prior to the issuance of a deficiency notice.

The settlement procedure developed by the Technical Staff since its establishment in 1933 has been found both effective and competent and a similar procedure is being followed in the Staff field divisions.

The new plan is demonstrating definite advantages. It will appreciably reduce the repetitious steps and long delays which the Bureau has been unable to avoid under the centralized procedure. It will undoubtedly result in greater convenience and economy to taxpayers, and it should bring about a more expeditious disposition of tax cases.

A detailed description of the work of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will be found on pages 154 to 181 of this report.

CUSTOMS

Total customs receipts, on the basis of the daily Treasury statement, unrevised, amounted to approximately $359,200,000 in the fiscal year 1938, a decrease of $127,200,000 during the year. This decline reflects the substantial contraction in imports during the last 6 months of the fiscal year as compared with corresponding imports for the similar period of 1937, when imports were running at an unusually high level.

Every tariff schedule participated in the decline in receipts, but two-thirds of the decrease for the year was in those commodities which were the most important sources of revenue during 1937, and which in that year showed the largest increases over 1936. The largest decreases occurred in the receipts from duties on agricultural products, which were $50,100,000 less than in 1937, and those on wool and wool manufactures, which were $32,800,000 less, representing decreases of 43 percent and 57 percent, respectively. Every tariff schedule but one, the tobacco schedule, also declined in the value of dutiable imports.

The value of dutiable imports entered for consumption during the year was $908,800,000, a decrease of 27 percent from the preceding year. The value of imports entered free of duty constituted 61 percent of the total value of all imports entered for consumption in 1938, and 57 percent in 1937. Exports in 1938 were $563,000,000 greater than in 1937, and the excess of exports over imports in 1938 was $1,144,000,000 larger than in 1937.

Foreign trade results and customs receipts are summarized by fiscal years in the following table:

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITIES

Public building operations during the fiscal year 1938, including construction work performed for other departments, resulted in the completion of 486 major projects, with a total limit of cost of $84,170,333. At the end of the year 193 projects, to cost approximately $63,613,131, were under contract; 84 projects, with a limit of cost of $16,983,600, were either on the market for construction bids or were practically ready to be placed on the market; and 366 projects, to cost approximately $69,880,500, were in preliminary stages.

Program under the Public Works Administration

The number of projects under the allotments made for public buildings by the Public Works Administration was increased during the year from 437 to 438, and the total amount of such allotments was reduced from $76,039,949 to $75,673,885. All projects under this program were completed by the end of the year, with the exception of one with a limit of cost of $6,500, which was under contract.

Program under the emergency appropriation acts

The acts of Congress approved June 19, 1934, August 12, 1935, June 22, 1936, and August 25, 1937, authorized expenditures totaling $255,000,000 for the emergency construction of public buildings throughout the country, the projects to be selected by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General. Under this legislation 1,534 projects, with a limit of cost of $252,640,227, were selected to June 30, 1938. Of these, 897, with a limit of cost of $115,123,768, were completed; 188, with a limit of cost of $55,352,359, were under contract; and 449, with a limit of cost of $82,164,100, were in the preliminary stages.

The act approved August 25, 1937, provided for the expenditure of $70,000,000 for public buildings over a period of 3 years. The Federal Public Buildings Appropriation Act, approved June 21, 1938, provided an additional $60,000,000 for this purpose, making a total of $130,000,000 for the 3-year program. The selection of projects under the augmented authorization was in progress at the end of the fiscal year.

Program for other departments

Funds to the amount of $35,358,668 were made available to the Procurement Division as of June 30, 1938, by other departments and by certain specific authorizations by Congress for the construction of new buildings and the rehabilitation, remodeling, extension, and repair of old buildings, 45 projects being involved. By June 30, 1938, 40 of these projects costing $22,404,396 were completed; 4 projects to cost $8,254,272 were under contract; and one project to cost approximately $4,700,000 was being held in abeyance pending definite location of the site.

Buildings in the District of Columbia

Included under the Public Works Administration program and the program for other departments are various building projects in the District of Columbia. During the year the Federal Trade Commission (Apex) Building, the annex to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and Warehouse No. 4 for the Government Printing Office were completed. As of June 30, 1938, the addition to the Archives Building was about 85 percent complete and a contract had been awarded for the construction of Annex No. 3 to the Government Printing Office.

Detailed information concerning all building programs and other activities of the Procurement Division will be found on pages 194 to 205 of this report.

TREASURY ACTIVITIES UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

The Social Security Act, approved August 14, 1935, provided for grants to the States for old-age assistance, for unemployment compensation administration, for aid to dependent children, for maternal and child welfare, for public health work, and for aid to the dependent blind. The Secretary of the Treasury makes payments to the States, from sums appropriated for the various purposes, of amounts certified by the Social Security Board or other governmental agency responsible for their determination under the provisions of the act.

Unemployment trust fund

Under section 904 (a) of the act, which established in the Treasury an unemployment trust fund, the receipts of State unemployment funds are paid over to the Secretary of the Treasury for credit to the unemployment trust fund. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to pay out of the fund to any State agency such amount as it may requisition, not exceeding the amount standing to the account of such State agency at the time of such payment. The status of the fund as of June 30, 1938, is shown on page 100 of this report, and as of June 30, 1936 to 1938, and at the end of each month during 1938 in the table on page 451 of this report. The receipts and expenditures in connection with the fund for the fiscal years 1936 to 1938 and monthly during 1938 are also shown in this table.

Collection of taxes

The income tax upon the wages of employees and excise taxes on employers, imposed under titles VIII and IX of the act, are collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The amounts of taxes collected are shown on pages 170 and 171. The procedure involved in connection with the returns submitted by the taxpayers is explained on pages 170 to 173.

Public health work

Under title VI of the Social Security Act, appropriations were authorized for assisting the States, counties, and other political subdivisions in maintaining adequate public health services, and for expenditure by the Public Health Service for investigation of disease and problems of sanitation. A report of the activities of the Public Health Service under this title will be found on page 216.

Old-age reserve account

Title II of the Social Security Act established a system of Federal old-age benefits. Section 201 (a) of the act established an account in the Treasury to be known as the "Old-age reserve account." The Secretary of the Treasury is required to submit annually to the Bureau of the Budget estimates of the appropriations required to be made to this account. A statement concerning the financial status of the old-age reserve account is shown on page 99 of this report.

Section 201 (f) of the act requires that "The Secretary of the Treasury shall include in his annual report the actuarial status of the account." The term "actuarial status" is interpreted to mean a comparison of future benefit payments with funds on hand plus future income of the account. For valuation purposes, future income of the

The valuation balance sheet is predicated upon the following assumptions:

1. Estimated membership as of June 30, 1938.—The membership of the insured group as of June 30, 1938, is estimated at approximately 34,000,000 lives. This figure is based upon the aggregate amount of taxable wages during the fiscal year 1938, and a sample tabulation of wage records prepared by the Social Security Board. Of the 34,000,000 insured lives, 24,000,000 are arbitrarily assumed to be regularly employed in covered industries. The remaining group of 10,000,000 lives is assumed to be primarily employed in noninsured industries and will therefore become eligible for a relatively low average benefit.

2. Distribution of present membership by age and by sex.—On the basis of the sample tabulations prepared by the Social Security Board, the 34,000,000 insured lives are classified, for valuation purposes, as follows:

A. Classification of 24,000,000 lives assumed to be regularly employed in insured industries, by age and by sex

3. Average amount of annuity benefits.—The average amount of the annuity to be paid in respect to each classification of the 34,000,000 lives insured on June 30, 1938, is estimated on the basis of sample tabulations by intervals of annual taxable wages prepared by the Social Security Board. The computations in respect to those regularly employed in insured industries are based on the sample distributions of men receiving in taxable wages $500 or more annually and of women receiving $400 or more annually. It is further assumed that average taxable wages will remain constant after age 26 in the case of women and after age 31 in the case of men. At ages below 27 and 32, respectively, rates of wage increase are assumed. In the case of the 10,000,000 lives assumed to be intermittently employed in insured industries, the average annuities are based upon the sample distributions of men receiving in taxable wages less than $500 annually and of women receiving less than $400 annually. (In the computation of the average annuities in respect to women, rates of withdrawal from industry are taken into account—see paragraph 6 below.)

The average annual taxable wage of the entire insured membership (34,000,000 lives) is approximately $867.

4. Growth in membership and average age of new entrants.—On the basis of studies on future population growth, it is assumed that the regular membership (exclusive of those in receipt of annuities) will increase gradually to an ultimate level of about 38,000,000 lives. Of this number, it is assumed that about 30,000,000 will be currently employed in an insured industry and that the remaining 8,000,000 members below the age of 65 will have retired from gainful employment.

The average age of new entrants into regular covered employment is assumed to be equivalent, for valuation purposes, to a uniform entry age of 22 for women and 27 for men. The actual average age at which individuals first become regularly employed is probably less than 18. Thus allowance is made for the fact that many will first become employed in noninsured industries and later enter regular insured employment at a relatively high age. Others permanently withdraw from covered employment and enter agricultural or other uncovered employment prior to reaching age 65. The use of withdrawal rates in the case of women makes additional allowance for the fact that many women withdraw from gainful employment long before reaching age 65.

The membership in respect to those intermittently employed in covered industries is assumed to increase to about 25,000,000 lives during the next 5 years and thereafter to increase gradually to an ultimate maximum of about 40,000,000 insured individuals.

Of this number, it is assumed that about 30,000,000 will be currently employed in covered industries and that the remaining 10,000,000 members will have permanently retired from covered employment. The age distribution of new entrants into this group is assumed to be proportional to the age distribution of those intermittently employed in insured industries as shown in table B under paragraph 2 above.

The total membership, therefore, exclusive of those receiving annuity benefits, is assumed to reach an ultimate maximum of about 78,000,000, or approximately 82 percent of the expected ultimate population between ages 20 and 65.

5. Mortality.—The calculations are based upon the United States Life Tables for White Males, and for White Females, 1930. No allowance is made directly for future improvement in mortality. However, since the tables used reflect lower mortality than the rates for the entire population, some allowance for future improvement in the mortality is made indirectly. It should be noted in this connection that most of the improvement in mortality during the last 20 years has been at ages below 20.

6. Rate of withdrawal from gainful employment.—By means of a comparison of the number of gainfully employed women at each age with the total number of women in the corresponding age group according to census figures, it was possible to make rough estimates of the percentage of insured women in each age group who may be expected to withdraw each year from insured employment. A service table was constructed reflecting mortality according to the United States Life Tables for White Females and the probable annual rate of withdrawal from insured employment. This table was used in the valuation of benefits and taxes in respect to insured women.

7. Average age of retirement.—All women having wage credits of $2,000 or more are assumed to become eligible for annuity benefits at age 65. Men having $2,000 or more of wage credits are assumed to become eligible for annuity benefits at an average age of about 67 years. The effect of these assumptions is a combined average age of retirement for men and women of about 66 years.

8. Allowance for administrative expense.—An allowance of $1 per year per member, including retired members, is made for administrative expense.

It will be seen from the balance sheet figures that in respect to women the present value of benefits greatly exceeds the present value of title VIII taxes. This is because women receive relatively low average taxable wages, and many of them withdraw from gainful employment long before reaching age 65. The cost of the benefits expressed as a percentage of annual taxable wages is very high in respect to all qualified individuals who will reach age 65 with relatively low aggregate wage credits. This will be true of men who are only intermittently in covered employment and of all insured employees who are now near the age of retirement. The system is no doubt fully self-supporting in respect to those who will be regularly employed in covered industries until they permanently withdraw from gainful employment.

On the basis of the valuation assumptions, the total annual cost of the system as determined on an actuarial reserve basis exceeds the annual tax receipts under title VIII of the act by annual amounts equivalent to about sixty-four hundredths of one percent of the aggregate annual earnings taxable under title VIII. However, as has been pointed out above, some of the valuation assumptions are necessarily highly arbitrary and for this reason it is believed that the estimated discrepancy of about 12 percent between future costs and future income (title VIII taxes plus interest on reserve) may be well within the margin of error in estimates based upon such assumptions and extending so far into the future. When the act has been in operation for several years it will be possible to make much more accurate estimates of the relationship between benefits and title VIII taxes.

TREASURY ACTIVITIES UNDER THE EMERGENCY RELIEF APPROPRIATION ACTS

The Treasury activities begun under the earlier Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts were continued in somewhat modified form during the year under allocations received from funds made available by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937. The following table shows as of June 30, 1938, the amounts of allocations to Treasury projects under the several acts, and total obligations and voucher payments for each allocation. Further information on these projects may be obtained in reports of the various bureaus and divisions included in this report and in previous annual reports of the Secretary of the Treasury.

NONFISCAL ACTIVITIES

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard, as the Federal maritime police agency, has carried out its duties in the interrelated fields of law enforcement; in assisting, saving, and protecting life and property; and in the maintenance of a state of preparedness for national defense. The Service, with its shore units located at strategic points on the coasts of the United States and its vessels operating upon the high seas and on the coastal and navigable waters of the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, has been in a position to give effective prosecution to the duties embraced within its field of public service, and its facilities have been employed in assisting other branches of the Government in meeting emergencies and in the performance of tasks involving the services of vessels and aircraft.

Its activities include prevention of the smuggling of liquor, narcotics, and other contraband; patrol of the waters of the North Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea and southeastern Alaska in the enforcement of laws and regulations for the protection of the fur seal, sea otter, and fisheries, and of certain other laws in Alaska; patrol in the enforcement of the Northern Pacific Halibut Act; enforcement of the Whaling Treaty Act; supervision of the anchorage and movements of vessels at ports and other places where Federal regulations are in force; enforcement of the customs, navigation, motorboat, and other related laws of the United States; International Service of Ice Observation and Ice Patrol in the North Atlantic Ocean; winter patrol of the coast to aid vessels and persons in distress; removal of derelicts and other obstructions to navigation from the paths of marine commerce; patrol of regattas and marine parades; and the saving and protection of life and property at sea and along the coasts.

During 1938 the smuggling of liquor and alcohol was not, as in former years, a major problem to the Coast Guard, but the utmost vigilance was demanded. Only 12 instances of the presence of foreign hovering vessels were noted, largely in the New England area, and quick action was taken by the Coast Guard to frustrate landing.

In the campaign against the smuggling of narcotics, over 4,430 vessels were kept under surveillance upon entering United States waters or while within territorial jurisdiction. Special patrols covered Delaware Bay and Delaware River, Chesapeake Bay, and the Jacksonville and New Orleans areas.

During the year there were 8,643 lives saved or rescued from peril, the largest number in the history of the Service. In April 1938, men and equipment were dispatched to the flooded area in Alabama to assist in the relief work.

A more detailed account of the operations of the Coast Guard will be found on pages 116 to 126 of this report.

Public Health Service

Health conditions in 1937 and the first half of 1938 remained unusually favorable. According to provisional tabulations the death rate for 1937 was 11.2 per 1,000 population as compared with the final rate of 11.5 for 1936. A continued decline in infant and maternal mortality, and a resumption of the decline in tuberculosis mortality were noted. New low death rates were recorded during 1937 for typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis, malaria, pellagra, nephritis, and diseases associated with pregnancy and childbirth. The leading causes of death, according to preliminary data, were diseases of the heart, cancer, pneumonia, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis, accidents (except automobile), and tuberculosis, in the order named.

The stimulating effect of Federal aid, under the provisions of title VI of the Social Security Act, upon State and local health services was particularly noticeable in the expansion of public health facilities, the increase in both State and local appropriations for such work, and the improvement in qualifications of technical and professional personnel engaged in public health work. Particularly gratifying progress was made in the extension of rural health services and in the recruiting and training of additional State and local personnel. The current appropriation and balances from the preceding appropriation provided approximately $9,000,000 for allotment to the States for health work under title VI of the Social Security Act, and practically all of this was paid to the States on the basis of budgets submitted by the State health departments and approved by the Surgeon General. A full account of the public health work conducted under the health provisions of the Social Security Act is to be found on page 216 of this report.

Under the stimulus given last year by the Public Health Service, the fight against the venereal diseases has gone forward with accumulating momentum. Health authorities, medical groups, educators, and religious and other organizations have increased their efforts and employed all educational mediums to acquaint the public with the serious nature of these diseases and the proper measures for control. Through increased State and local appropriations and the allotment of Federal funds under title VI of the Social Security Act, many States and localities have expanded their facilities for diagnosis and treatment of these diseases. An added impetus in the fight to reduce and control syphilis and gonorrhea in the United States was given by the Seventy-fifth Congress when it passed the Venereal Disease Control Act, appropriating $3,000,000 to carry out the provisions of the act during the fiscal year 1939, and authorizing increasing future appropriations. This legislation, by providing Federal assistance to the States and making the control of venereal diseases definitely a concern of the National Government, should give the vast army of health authorities, physicians, public officials, and the citizens the necessary encouragement and stimulation to make successful the concerted attack on these diseases.

Two outstanding events marked material progress in the provision of facilities for research—the organization of the National Cancer Institute and the culmination of plans for the erection of a group of new buildings for the National Institute of Health near Bethesda, Md., the cornerstone of the first structure having been laid on June 30, 1938.

In the conduct of national quarantine activities especial attention was directed to air traffic between the Orient and the West Coast and between South America and the South Atlantic Coast. The Quarantine Regulations were amended to prevent the importation of potential disease vectors in bacteria cultures and infected animals and plants. Unsettled conditions in Europe caused a considerable increase in applications for immigration visas and necessitated the detail of additional officers to American consulates abroad.

The United States Public Health Service hospital (narcotic farm) at Lexington, Ky., operated at full capacity during the year, admitting 950 patients, discharging 955, and having a daily average of 949. The initial group of buildings for the second institution, at Fort Worth, Tex., was completed and the medical officer in charge was assigned to duty, preparatory to opening the institution for the reception of patients in October 1938.

Many improvements were effected in the facilities for the medical care of Public Health Service beneficiaries at the marine hospitals and relief stations, as the result of funds made available for additional personnel and equipment and the adoption of new methods of treatment, such as the use of sulfanilamide. This splendid service has been afforded beneficiaries at a per diem cost of $3.56.

With the aid of collaborators from the Children's Bureau and the Bureau of the Census, the Public Health Service made a comprehensive study of the Health Department and other health agencies of the District of Columbia, including the municipal hospital, as a result of which appropriate suggestions were made for correcting the deficiencies disclosed by the survey.

The activities of the Public Health Service are more fully presented on pages 216 to 230.

Bureau of Narcotics

The Bureau of Narcotics continued during the year the policy of directing its principal enforcement activities against the chief violators of the domestic narcotic laws, cooperating with customs authorities in curbing the smuggling of drugs into the United States, and of soliciting the cooperation of State and municipal law enforcement agencies in dealing with the peddler and the addict, and in prosecuting minor infractions of the narcotic laws. The same policy was adopted with respect to the enforcement of the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937, which became effective on October 1, 1937.

Diversion of drugs from legitimate to illicit channels through the robberies of narcotic stocks, the forgery and false execution of narcotic prescriptions, and the improper prescribing and dispensing of narcotics continued to be an enforcement problem. The cases against persons registered under the Harrison Narcotic Law, as amended, were only 14 percent of the total cases reported under the narcotic laws during the year, compared with 23 percent during 1937. There were only 2 cases against persons registered under the Marihuana Tax Act out of a total of 846 cases reported under that act.

The Uniform State Narcotic Law was enacted during the year by the State of Michigan and the District of Columbia, making a total of 39 States and the District of Columbia in which this law had been enacted, with little or no amendment, prior to July 1, 1938. This act, when adopted by a State, complements the Federal laws and renders more effective the cooperation of State and municipal law enforcement agencies.

A more complete account of the activities of the Bureau will be found on pages 187 to 191 of this report.

CHANGES IN ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURE

During the year a number of changes were made in the organization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, looking to the more expeditious dispatch of its business and the greater convenience of taxpayers. The audit and disposition of tax returns under title VIII of the Social Security Act was transferred from the Bureau to collectors' offices, the Social Security Tax Unit was abolished as a separate subdivision of the Bureau, and the administration of the tax provisions under titles VIII and IX of the Social Security Act and under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 was transferred to the Accounts and Collections Unit. Plans were perfected also for the complete decentralization of income, excess-profits, estate, and gift tax collection, which it is expected will be placed fully in effect during the ensuing year. These plans contemplate the establishment of a number of regional divisions in which tax cases will be given final consideration locally, instead of requiring their submission to the Bureau at Washington. Three such regional offices have been established already—one on the Pacific coast, embracing the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, and Arizona, and the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii; the second at New York City, covering the State of New York; and the third at Chicago, including the States of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Under the provisions of Treasury Department Order No. 18, March 25, 1938, there were established in the Office of the Secretary a Division of Monetary Research and a Division of Tax Research, the functions of the divisions being set forth in the order, which is shown as exhibit 59 on page 329 of this report. Except with respect to the functions transferred to the newly established divisions, the Division of Research and Statistics continues to perform the duties outlined in Treasury Department Order No. 8 of September 17, 1934.

Attention is invited to the attached reports of bureaus and divisions of the Treasury Department and to the exhibits and tables accompanying the report on the finances.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF ACCOUNTS AND DEPOSITS

The Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits has administrative supervision over the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants and its relations to the office of the Treasurer of the United States, over the Division of Disbursement, the Division of Deposits, and the Section of Surety Bonds. It prepares periodic estimates of the future cash position of the Treasury for use of the Department in connection with its financing; prepares calls for the withdrawal of funds from special depositaries to meet current expenditures; directs the transfer of Government funds between Federal Reserve banks when necessary; directs fiscal agency functions in general, including deposits of gold certificates in the gold certificate fund for credit with Federal Reserve banks; supervises collections of principal and interest on foreign obligations; keeps the accounts, and handles generally matters relating to the indebtedness of foreign governments to the United States, including matters arising under funding agreements; supervises collections of railroad obligations owned by the Government, and keeps the accounts relating thereto; handles the collection of other obligations owned by the United States which are turned over to the Treasury by other departments for collection; and makes payments, keeps accounts, and handles matters generally relating to awards under the Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928, under the claims agreement of October 25, 1934, between the United States and Turkey, and under the act of April 10, 1935, covering claims against the Republic of Mexico. The Commissioner likewise exercises supervision, under direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, over the investment accounts of the Government, including investments held in the old-age reserve account, unemployment trust fund, and railroad retirement account, and is responsible for the proper custody of investments and securities held by the Treasurer of the United States and the Federal Reserve banks for which the Secretary is responsible, other than those related to public debt operations. The Commissioner also has supervision over the emergency accounting organization set-up in the several States under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1935, 1936, 1937, and 1938.

Daily statement of the United States Treasury

During the year important changes were made in the manner in which the expenditures of the Government are classified in the daily statement of the Treasury. For a number of years prior to July 1, 1937, expenditures under general and special accounts were classified as "general" to represent the usual expenditures of the Government, and as "recovery and relief" (and as "emergency") to represent expenditures beginning in the fiscal year 1932 and continuing thereafter, identified with governmental activities arising out of the economic emergency existing during that period. Beginning with the statement of July 1, 1937, expenditures under general and special accounts were classified as (I) general, (II) recovery and relief, (III) revolving funds (net), (IV) transfers to trust accounts, etc., and (V) debt retirements (sinking fund, etc.).

Further important changes in the manner of classifying expenditures as shown in the daily statement were initiated beginning July 1, 1938. These changes are summarized in the following extract from the announcement accompanying the daily statement for July 1, 1938:

Effective July 1, 1938, the financial transactions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, and Export-Import Bank of Washington will be reflected on page 3 of daily Treasury statements. Heretofore, such transactions have been included in the expenditures on page 2 of daily Treasury statements (commonly associated with the Federal Budget) on a net basis, i. e., checks paid by the Treasurer of the United States less receipts deposited by such corporations in their disbursing accounts with the Treasurer. The purpose of this change is to simplify the daily Treasury statement, and to eliminate confusion and misunderstanding concerning the effect of such corporations' transactions on the Federal Budget, particularly in cases where the Treasury acts only in the nature of a depository of funds derived by the Corporations from the sale of their own obligations on the market.

The complete text of the announcement which accompanied the statement for July 1, 1938, is shown as exhibit 65 on page 347 of this report.

Combined statement of assets and liabilities of governmental corporations and credit agencies

A combined statement of assets and liabilities of governmental corporations and credit agencies as of June 30, 1938, will be found as table 49 on page 530 of this report. This statement is published monthly in the Daily Statement of the United States Treasury, as required by Executive Order No. 6869 of October 10, 1934. A summary statement of the proprietary interest of the United States in such corporations and credit agencies as of June 30, 1929 to 1938, inclusive, appears as table 50 on page 536.

Securities owned by the United States Government

The aggregate amount of securities owned by the Government on June 30, 1938, based upon the latest reports received, was $15,566,304,-543.85, as against $17,606,022,695.57 on June 30, 1937, a decrease of $2,039,718,151.72. A summary comparison of the holdings at the end of each fiscal year follows. A detailed statement of the securities held on June 30, 1938, will be found as table 48 on page 527.

Accounting and disbursing of emergency relief funds

Under section II (A) of Executive Order No. 7034, dated May 6, 1935, and Department Circular No. 543, approved by the President, the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits continued during the year to maintain accounting and disbursing facilities for handling allocations made by the President under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts. The provisions of section II (A) of Executive Order No. 7034 were extended by Executive Orders Nos. 7396 and 7649, to apply to funds appropriated in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1936 and 1937.

In addition to the 56 Treasury-State accounts offices and 55 Treasury-State disbursing offices, there were 28 branch accounts offices and an equal number of branch disbursing offices at the beginning of the fiscal year. During the year, through the cooperation of the Works Progress Administration, the number of Treasury-State accounts offices was reduced to 55 and the number of branch accounts and disbursing offices was reduced to 6 offices of each class. As a result of the discontinuance of these branches and the consolidation of the work in the central State offices and as a result of administrative economies, a reduction in personnel of 2,087 employees was effected in the Treasury-State accounts and disbursing offices.

At the close of the year, over 238,000 separate project accounts were maintained on the books of the Treasury-State accounts offices for various administrative agencies. Of these accounts nearly 63,000 were active. In addition, there were maintained on the books of the Treasury-State accounts offices over 812,000 individual accounts of Farm Security (formerly Resettlement) borrowers, of which approximately 686,000 were active. In connection with the maintenance of such accounts, the Treasury-State accounts offices prepared over 2,470,000 bills to borrowers for amounts due.

From the beginning of the program in 1935, accounts of disbursing officers have been rendered to the General Accounting Office as of the 10th, 20th, and last day of each month. During the fiscal year 1938, pursuant to the President's letter of November 20, 1935, nearly 5,000 disbursing and collection accounts (including branch office accounts) were administratively examined by the Central Treasury Accounts Office prior to their transmission to the General Accounting Office for audit and settlement.

The practice inaugurated at the beginning of the program of compiling complete financial reports every 10 days for the President, administrative agencies, and others concerned, with respect to the financial status of the funds provided in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1935, 1936, and 1937, was continued during the year. In addition to these 10-day reports, there have also been compiled nine detailed reports showing the status of the funds. A cumulative summary of such reports is given below:

The reports to the Congress were submitted within 9 days after the close of the calendar year and contained detailed information with respect to the operations under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts classified according to act limitations, organization units, States in which the work was done, types of work, objects of expenditures, and by fiscal years.

A summary report of the status of the funds under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1935, 1936, and 1937, as of June 30, 1938, is contained in table 24, page 465. Similar information as of the close of each month is published in the daily Treasury statement for the 15th of the month next following.

Federal savings and loan associations

Under the act of June 13, 1933 (48 Stat. 133), the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized on behalf of the United States to subscribe for preferred shares in Federal savings and loan associations upon request of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The amendment of April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 645), to the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 further authorized the Secretary to subscribe for full-paid income shares in these associations. An appropriation of $50,000,000 to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase the preferred and full-paid income shares was reduced by an allocation of $700,000 to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The details concerning the provisions of law under which these subscriptions were made and the appropriations are contained in the annual report for 1936.

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation also was authorized to purchase full-paid income shares of Federal savings and loan associations after the funds available to the Secretary of the Treasury for the purchase of such shares had been exhausted. The funds available to the Secretary of the Treasury were exhausted on October 25, 1935.

During the fiscal year 1938, the sum of $381,000 was received on account of shares repaid, making the total shares repaid to June 30, 1938, $1,497,300.

The following statement shows a summary of the transactions in connection with the subscriptions by the Secretary of the Treasury to preferred and full-paid income shares in these associations:

Federal home loan banks

The Federal Home Loan Bank Act, approved July 22, 1932 (47 Stat. 728), provides that the Secretary of the Treasury shall subscribe, on behalf of the United States, for such part of the minimum capital of each of the 12 Federal home loan banks as is not subscribed for by members within 30 days after books have been opened for stock subscriptions. The aggregate amount authorized to be expended for this purpose was $125,000,000, and so much of such sum as was necessary was made available by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Further details concerning the provisions of the act of July 22, 1932, are contained in the annual report for 1936. Pursuant to the act approved February 24, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury canceled notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation aggregating $126,301,906.17, equivalent to the amount of funds advanced by the Corporation, plus interest paid to the Treasury on account of such notes.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board made calls for payments on account of subscription aggregating $4,227,000 during the fiscal year. The dividends received during the year aggregated $1,866,882.25.

The following statement shows a summary of the transactions in connection with the subscriptions by the Secretary of the Treasury to stock of Federal home loan banks:

Federal land banks

Capital stock.—Under the act of January 23, 1932, amending the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, it is the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury on behalf of the United States, upon the request of the board of directors of any Federal land bank made with the approval of the Farm Credit Administration, to subscribe from time to time for capital stock of such bank. The act further provides that such stock may at any time, in the discretion of the directors and with the approval of the Farm Credit Administration, be paid off at par and retired in whole or in part and that the Farm Credit Administration may at any time require such stock to be paid off at par and retired in whole or in part if in its opinion the bank has resources available for such purpose. The proceeds of all repayments on account of stock subscribed for by the Secretary of the Treasury are held in the Treasury and are available for the purpose of paying for other stock thereafter issued pursuant to said act.

To enable the Secretary of the Treasury to pay for said stock, $125,000,000 was appropriated under the act approved February 2, 1932. The following statement shows a summary of the transactions in connection with the subscriptions by the Secretary of the Treasury to stock of Federal land banks:

Payments on account of reduction in interest rates on mortgages and subscriptions to paid-in surplus.—The Secretary of the Treasury is directed, under certain conditions, to make payments to Federal land banks equal to the amount by which interest payments on mortgages held by such banks have been reduced pursuant to the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, and he is also to subscribe, under specified conditions and in the manner prescribed by the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, to the paid-in surplus of each Federal land bank an amount equal to the amount of all extensions and deferments of any obligation that may be or may become unpaid under the terms of any mortgage. A description of the basis of these payments is given on page 70 of the annual report for 1936.

The period for which payments to Federal land banks on account of reduction in interest rates may be made was extended to June 30, 1939, pursuant to Public No. 209, enacted July 22, 1937. Amendments to the law under which subscriptions are made to the paid-in surplus of the Federal land banks are contained in the Farm Credit Act of 1937, approved August 19, 1937.

A statement as of June 30, 1938, of the amounts appropriated on account of reduction in interest rates on mortgages and of payments to Federal land banks for this purpose is as follows:

Appropriations and expenditures under the Social Security Act

The Social Security Act, approved August 14, 1935, provided, among other things, for the establishment of a system of Federal old-age benefits, and for grants-in-aid to the several States to enable them to make more adequate provision for aged persons, blind persons, dependent and crippled children, maternal and child welfare, public health, and the administration of their unemployment compensation laws.

The amounts appropriated to June 30, 1938, under the various authorizations contained in the Social Security Act and total expenditures from such appropriations to June 30, 1938, are shown in the table on page 454.

Obligations of foreign governments

The United States received during the year payments aggregating $588,070.82 on account of the indebtedness of foreign governments, of which $69,000 was for account of principal, $481,009.82 was for account of interest, and $38,061 was for account of annuities under the moratorium agreements. The Government of Finland, in accordance with the provisions of its funding agreement of May 1, 1923, made payment of $69,000 for account of principal and $144,112.50 for account of the semiannual interest due on December 15, 1937, in part with $210,000 face amount of 2½ percent Treasury bonds of 1949-53, which were accepted at par.

The following statement shows the payments due during the period July 1 to December 31, 1937, and the amounts actually paid on account by certain governments:

<sup>1</sup> The German Government has been notified that the Government of the United States will look to the German Government for the discharge of this indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the Government of the United States.

<sup>2</sup> The Hungarian Government has deposited with the foreign creditors' account at the Hungarian National Bank an amount of pengo equivalent to the interest payments due from December 15, 1932, to June 15, 1937. The debt funding and moratorium agreements with Hungary provide for payment in dollars in the United States.

Austria.—The Minister of the Republic of Austria informed the Department of State on March 17, 1938, that, as a result of the developments which have occurred in Austria, that country had ceased to exist as an independent nation and had been incorporated in the German Reich. In view of this announcement the German Government was notified that the Government of the United States will look to it for the discharge of the relief indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the United States under the debt agreement of May 8, 1930, and the moratorium agreement of September 14, 1932.

Press releases of the Department of State dated April 6, 1938, and June 17, 1938, relating to this subject, will be found as exhibit 46 on page 292.

Hungary.—The Hungarian Government on August 16, 1937, made a proposal, which was accompanied by a definite acknowledgment of its indebtedness to the United States, to pay the amount of $19,656.32 per annum in semiannual installments of $9,828.16 over a period of 3 years, the first installment being payable on December 15, 1937, on account of the amounts due under the Hungarian debt funding agreement of April 25, 1924, and the moratorium agreement of May 27, 1932.

The Hungarian Government was informed that the Treasury will receive the semiannual payments contemplated under its proposal, and that the acceptance of such payments for application on account of its indebtedness cannot be construed as a concurrence in the proposal of the Hungarian Government as to suspension of payments previously due, nor in any way alter the provisions of its debt funding agreement of April 25, 1924, and moratorium agreement of May 27, 1932, with the United States or prejudice the rights of the United States Government. Pursuant to such proposal payments of $9,828.16 each were received by the Treasury on December 15, 1937, and June 15, 1938.

A press release of the Department of State accompanied by the correspondence between Hungary and the United States relating to the above-mentioned proposal will be found as exhibit 47 on page 294.

On February 7, 1938, a communication was received from the Minister of Hungary in which the Hungarian Government tentatively formulates for the consideration of the Government of the United States a possible basis for a new debt arrangement between the two countries to replace completely the debt agreement of 1924 and accruals thereunder. The President transmitted this communication to the Congress for its consideration. The President's message of March 28, 1938, and the communication from the Minister of Hungary appear as exhibit 48 on page 297.

Nicaragua.—The Government of Nicaragua purchased surplus war material from the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy under contracts dated November 14, 1921, February 25, 1927, and July 24, 1925, and gave in payment for such material its obligations bearing interest at 6 percent per annum, payable to the United States in the aggregate amount of $431,849.14. During the period from 1924 to 1926 Nicaragua paid to the United States $168,575.84 on account of such obligations, of which $141,950.36 was applied to the principal of the indebtedness and $26,625.48 was applied to interest.

On April 14, 1938, a treaty between the United States and Nicaragua for the adjustment of pending financial matters was signed in Washington, under which the United States agrees to pay and Nicaragua agrees to accept the sum of $72,000 in full settlement of the claim of Nicaragua for refund of $372,879.06, being the principal amount of certain income taxes paid by the Ferrocarril del Pacifico de Nicaragua (a railroad owned and operated by Nicaragua), and for refund of interest thereon, and in consideration of such agreement the United States cancels the indebtedness of Nicaragua in the principal amount of $289,898.78, together with interest thereon. The Senate, on June 13, 1938, gave its advice and consent to the ratification by the President of the treaty.

A press release of the Department of State relative to the execution of the treaty between the United States and Nicaragua and the agreement as ratified by the Senate will be found as exhibits 49 and 50 on pages 300 and 301.

Receipts from Germany

During the fiscal year 1938 the United States received no payments from the Government of Germany under the debt-funding agreement of June 23, 1930, covering the costs of the American Army of Occupation and the awards of the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany.

Army costs.—Payments of 8,200,000 reichsmarks were due on September 30, 1937, and March 31, 1938, respectively, from the Government of Germany on account of army costs under the provisions of the debt agreement of June 23, 1930. Interest amounting to 3,762,750 reichsmarks was also due on those dates. There has been no change in the army cost account from that shown in the statement appearing on page 39 of the annual report of 1932.

Mixed claims, United States and Germany.—Payments of 20,400,000 reichsmarks were due on September 30, 1937, and March 31, 1938, respectively, from the Government of Germany on account of mixed claims awards under the provisions of the debt agreement of June 23, 1930. Interest amounting to 12,750,000 reichsmarks was also due on those dates.

Annuities under moratorium agreement.—The semiannual installments, aggregating 3,058,098.90 reichsmarks, of the annuities under the moratorium agreement with the Government of Germany dated May 26, 1932, which were due during the fiscal year 1938, were not paid by Germany.

The status of the indebtedness of Germany to the United States as of June 30, 1938, under the funding and moratorium agreements is summarized in the following tables:

Treasury administration of alien and mixed claims

The Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928 authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to make payments on account of (1) awards of the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany, for claims of American nationals against the Government of Germany; (2) awards of the War Claims Arbitrator for claims of German, Austrian, and Hungarian nationals against the Government of the United States; and (3) awards of the Tripartite Claims Commission for claims of American nationals against the Governments of Austria and Hungary.

The time within which claimants could file applications for payment of awards from the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany, and the Tripartite Claims Commission, United States, Austria, and Hungary, has been extended from time to time, and was further extended until March 10, 1940, under the joint resolution of Congress approved May 23, 1938, a copy of which will be found as exhibit 64 on page 346 of this report.

Executive Order No. 6981, dated March 2, 1935, as amended by Executive Order No. 7111, dated July 22, 1935, removed in certain cases the restrictions imposed by Public Resolution No. 53 of June 27, 1934, as to payments, transfers, and deliveries of property under the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and the Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928, as amended.

Mixed Claims Commission: Claims against Germany.—No payments were made during the year on account of awards of the Mixed Claims Commission.

The following summary shows the awards certified to the Treasury by the Secretary of State, by classes, number, and amount of the awards, the amount paid on account, and the balance due thereon as of September 30, 1938:

Payments on this class of awards are first applied on account of the total amount payable as of Jan. 1, 1928, as directed by the Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928, until total of all payments on the three classes equals 80 percent of the amount payable Jan. 1, 1928. Payment of accrued interest since Jan. 1, 1928, on this class of claims deferred in accordance with act.

<sup>3</sup> Of this amount $850,025.51 has been covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. A further sum of $1,754.36 will be covered into the Treasury at a later date.

<sup>4</sup> Of this amount $24,159.09 has been paid to the Government of Germany. A further sum of $2,726.95 is payable in connection with the adjudication of late claims under the agreement of Dec. 31, 1928.

War Claims Arbiter.—Under the Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928, it was the duty of the War Claims Arbiter, within certain limitations, to hear the claims of German, Austrian, and Hungarian nationals and to determine the fair compensation to be paid by the United States for ships seized, patents sold or used by the United States, and a radio station sold to the United States.

War Claims Arbiter: Claims of German nationals.—The Treasury completed up to June 30, 1935, payment of 50 percent of the amount of all awards made by the War Claims Arbiter in favor of German nationals as required by paragraph 7 of section 4 (c) of the Settlement of War Claims Act of 1928. No payments were made on these awards subsequent to that date.

No payments were made on these awards during the fiscal year 1938.

Tripartite Claims Commission: Claims against Hungary.—The awards entered by the Tripartite Claims Commission against Hungary, in favor of American nationals, amounted to $199,975.57. During the fiscal year 1938 no payments were made on account of such awards. As of June 30, 1938, awards aggregating $7,257.35 had not been paid because claimants had not filed applications as required by law.

Claims of American nationals against Turkey

Representatives of the United States and Turkey signed at Istanbul on October 25, 1934, a final agreement for the settlement of the claims of the nationals of each country against the other, embraced within the agreement concluded between the United States and Turkey through an exchange of notes on December 24, 1923, and confirmed by a further exchange of notes on February 17, 1927. The agreement provides that the Republic of Turkey will pay to the United States the sum of $1,300,000, without interest, in full settlement of claims of American citizens which are embraced by the agreement of December 24, 1923, in 13 annual installments of $100,000 each; the first installment to be paid on June 1, 1936, following ratification of the agreement by the Great National Assembly of Turkey. The agreement was approved by the Assembly on December 23, 1934. Under an exchange of notes in October and November 1937 the United States consented to a change of the due date for the payment of the annual installments under the agreement from June 1 to June 20 because June 1 coincides with the beginning of the Turkish fiscal year and was therefore an inconvenient time for the Turkish Government to make payments of an important nature.

Under the joint resolution approved June 18, 1934, authorizing an appropriation to cover the expenses incurred by the United States in connection with such claims, it was provided that the expenses shall become a first charge upon any moneys received from the Turkish Government and the amount of such expenditures shall be deducted from the first payment by the Turkish Government and deposited in the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, and that the Secretary of State in distributing to the respective claimants the balance of the amounts received from the Turkish Government shall apportion the amount withheld on account of expenses in such manner as to constitute a uniform percentage of deduction from the amount found to be due each claimant.

The Special Claims Commission, United States and Turkey, established under the agreement of December 24, 1923, made awards in 33 cases aggregating $899,338.09, which were reduced by $70,891.06 on account of expenses incurred by the United States, leaving net awards amounting to $828,447.03 payable from funds received from the Republic of Turkey. Under the provisions of the act of February 27, 1896 (29 Stat. 32), these awards were certified on August 19, 1937, by the Secretary of State to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment. During the fiscal year 1938 a prorata payment was made to the claimants by the Treasury from funds amounting to $129,108.94, available for that purpose.

Claims of American nationals against Mexico

The Special Mexican Claims Commission was established pursuant to the act approved April 10, 1935, with jurisdiction to hear and determine, conformable to the terms of the convention of September 10, 1923, and justice and equity, all claims against the Republic of Mexico, notices of which were filed with the Special Claims Commission, United States and Mexico, established by the convention of September 10, 1923, in which the said Commission failed to award compensation, except such claims as may be found by the Commission provided for in the Special Claims Convention of April 24, 1934, to be general claims and recognized as such by the General Claims Commission. Section 4 of the act provides that if, after all claims have been passed upon and all awards have been entered, the total amount of such awards is greater than the amount that the Government of Mexico has agreed to pay to the Government of the United States in satisfaction of the claims, less expenses of the Commission, it shall reduce the awards on a percentage basis to such amount, and shall enter final awards in such reduced amounts.

Pursuant to section 9 of the act of April 10, 1935, the Secretary of State shall transmit to the Secretary of the Treasury a list of all claims allowed in whole or in part, together with the amount of each claim and the amount awarded by the Commission, and the Secretary of the Treasury, after making the deduction to cover the expenses of the United States incurred in connection with such claims, shall distribute in ratable proportions, among the persons in whose favor awards shall have been made, or their assignees, heirs, executors, or administrators of record, according to the proportions which their respective awards shall bear to the whole amount then available for distribution, such moneys as may be received from the Government of Mexico under the convention of April 24, 1934.

Under the convention between the United States and Mexico dated April 24, 1934, covering the en bloc settlement of the claims presented by the Government of the United States to the Commission established by the Special Claims Convention concluded September 10, 1923, the amount to be paid by the Government of Mexico to the Government of the United States was fixed at $5,448,020.14. This amount is to be paid at the rate of $500,000 per annum, beginning January 1, 1935, and continuing until the whole amount shall have been paid. Deferred payments, that is, payments made after January 2, 1935, shall bear interest at the rate of one-fourth of 1 percent per annum for the first year counting from January 1, 1935, and an additional one-fourth of 1 percent for each additional year until the maximum of 1 percent is reached, which shall be applied beginning January 1, 1939. In the event of failure to make annual payments when due, this rate shall be increased at the rate of one-fourth of 1 percent per annum on the amount of deferred payments during the period of any such delay until a maximum additional rate of 3 percent on such overdue amounts is reached.

On June 20, 1938, the Secretary of State certified to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment a list of awards entered by the Special Mexican Claims Commission aggregating $9,137,341.79, which were subject to reduction on a percentage basis as provided in section 4 of the act approved April 10, 1935. The final awards aggregated

$5,208,284.86. The total appropriations to cover the expenses incurred by the United States amounted to $250,000 and, pending a final determination as to the actual amount of expenses paid by the United States, an amount equivalent to the appropriations has been withheld from the payments made by the Government of Mexico.

As of June 30, 1938, there was available for distribution to claimants the sum of $1,814,220.30. A distribution of this amount to claimants was initiated shortly after that date.

District of Columbia workers' compensation fund.—This fund was established under the act of May 17, 1928 (45 Stat. 600), which extended the provisions of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, approved March 4, 1927, including all amendments thereto, to apply in respect to the injury or death of an employee of an employer carrying on certain employments in the District of Columbia, irrespective of the place where the injury or death occurs. The fund is derived from collections of awards against employers made by the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, as compensation for death of employees resulting from injuries, in each case where no person is found to be entitled to such compensation. Any portion of the fund which, in the opinion of the Commission, is not needed for current requirements is invested by the Treasurer of the United States. There were no changes in the investments during 1938.

District of Columbia water fund.—The District of Columbia Appropriation Act of June 29, 1937, authorized the Treasurer of the United States to invest in United States securities, for account of the water fund of the District of Columbia, such funds as may be determined by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to be available for that purpose. During the year the Treasurer acquired by purchase for account of the fund $736,000 face amount of 2¾ percent Treasury bonds of 1958-63 at a principal cost of $749,110.01; accrued interest paid in 1938 and repayable in 1939 amounted to $505.99.

United States Government life insurance fund.—The United States Government life insurance fund was established under the World War Veterans' Act, 1924, approved June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 607), which, among other things, consolidated, codified, revised, and reenacted the laws affecting the administration of the War Risk Insurance Act, as amended. Under section 17 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924, as amended, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to invest and reinvest the United States Government life insurance fund, or any part thereof, in interest-bearing obligations of the United States or bonds of the Federal farm loan banks and to sell such investments for the purposes of the fund. The fund is also available to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for making loans upon the security of Government life insurance policies. The act approved March 3, 1927, as amended by the Emergency Adjusted Compensation Act of February 27, 1931, authorized the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs to make loans to veterans upon their adjusted service certificates out of the United States Government life insurance fund. All of the funds available for investment during the fiscal year 1938 were used to make loans upon Government life insurance policies or were invested in obligations of the United States.

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs reported outstanding loans from this fund on June 30, 1938, aggregating $143,858,428.06 to veterans on policies. On June 30, 1938, the principal of outstanding loans made subsequent to the enactment of the Adjusted Compensation Payment Act, 1936, upon adjusted service certificates amounted to $2,663,251.12.

Monthly reports are made by the Treasury to the Veterans' Administration of all securities in the fund and the principal cost thereof as the result of investments made by the Secretary of the Treasury, and periodic verifications of the security holdings are made through reports rendered to the Administrator by the safekeeping offices. The investments as of June 30, 1938, were as follows:

Old-age reserve account.—Section 201 (a) of the Social Security Act, approved August 14, 1935, established in the Treasury the old-age reserve account. The Secretary of the Treasury is required to submit annually to the Bureau of the Budget estimates of the appropriations required to be made to this account. The actuarial status of the account is shown on page 56 of this report.

The Secretary of the Treasury invests such portions of the amounts credited to the account as are not, in his judgment, required to meet current withdrawals, in accordance with the procedure outlined in the annual report for 1937. The Treasury Department makes all benefit payments from the account in accordance with the certification by the Social Security Board.

Railroad retirement account.—The railroad retirement account was established pursuant to section 15 (a) of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937, approved June 24, 1937. The Railroad Retirement Board is required to submit annually to the Bureau of the Budget an estimate of the appropriation to be made to the account for each fiscal year, beginning with the fiscal year 1937, in an amount as an annual premium sufficient, with a reasonable margin for contingencies, to provide for the payment of all annuities, pensions, and death benefits, and all amounts credited to the account are available for such purposes.

The Secretary of the Treasury, at the request and direction of the Railroad Retirement Board, invests such portion of the amounts credited to the account as, in the judgment of the Board, is not immediately required for the payment of annuities, pensions, and death benefits, in accordance with the procedure outlined in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1937.

The following statement shows the status of the account as of June 30, 1938:

Library of Congress trust fund.—Under the act of March 3, 1925, as amended, the Library of Congress Trust Fund Board, consisting of the Secretary of the Treasury, the chairman of the Joint Committee on the Library, the Librarian of Congress, and two persons appointed by the President, is authorized to accept, receive, hold, and administer such gifts or bequests of personal property for the benefit of or in connection with the Library, its collections, or its service as may be approved by the Board and by the Joint Committee on the Library. The moneys or securities given or bequeathed to the Board are required to be receipted for by the Secretary of the Treasury, who is authorized to invest, reinvest, or retain investments as the Board may determine.

The act approved June 23, 1936, amended section 2 of the act of March 3, 1925, so as to authorize the Board in its discretion, unless prevented by the terms of a gift or bequest, to deposit the principal of any gift or bequest with the Treasurer of the United States as a permanent loan with interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum, payable semiannually, provided that such principal sums held by the Treasurer shall not exceed $5,000,000 at any time. The Board continued during the fiscal year 1938 its authorization to sell from time to time certain securities held under various donations and to deposit the principal proceeds of such sales in the permanent loan account. Total deposits in the permanent loan account from this source during the year amounted to $419,399.36. All other investments during the year were made by deposits in the permanent loan fund.

During the year the Board accepted two additional gifts from Gertrude Clarke Whittall aggregating $75,000 for deposit in the permanent loan account to augment her previous gift of $100,000 and to be used for the same purposes, namely, the income to be applied through the Music Division of the Library to the maintenance of the collection of Stradivari instruments and Tourte bows given by Mrs. Whittall to the Library, and to the program of music within the Library in which those instruments are used.

The property devised and bequeathed to the United States by the last will and testament of Joseph Pennell, deceased, referred to on page 98 of the annual report for 1936, was transferred to the Board during the year.

The following statement shows the earnings credited to each donation as of June 30, 1938:

Ainsworth library fund, Walter Reed General Hospital.—Under the joint resolution of Congress approved May 23, 1935 (49 Stat. 287), the adjutant, Walter Reed General Hospital, was authorized to accept the bequest of the late Maj. Gen. Fred C. Ainsworth, as contained in his last will and testament, and to receipt therefor on behalf of the United States, and to deposit the funds so received in the Treasury of the United States as a special fund dedicated to the purpose of establishing a permanent library at the Walter Reed General Hospital, to be known as the "Fred C. Ainsworth Endowment Library," said fund to be subject to disbursement for such purpose upon vouchers submitted by the adjutant, Walter Reed General Hospital, and to be available until expended. The administration, control, and expenditure of the fund and its application to the purposes intended shall be according to the sole discretion of the adjutant, Walter Reed General Hospital.

The Treasurer of the United States, upon the written request of the adjutant, Walter Reed General Hospital, is authorized to invest and reinvest any part or all of the corpus of the bequest, as well as any income therefrom, in interest-bearing United States Government bonds, and to retain custody thereof.

Pershing Hall Memorial fund.—The act of June 28, 1935 (49 Stat. 426), authorized the appropriation of $482,032.92 of the recreation fund—Army, created by the War Department Appropriation Act, approved March 4, 1933, for effecting a settlement of any indebtedness connected with Pershing Hall, a memorial already erected in Paris, France, under the auspices of the American Legion, Inc., to the commander-in-chief, officers, men, and auxiliary services of the American Expeditionary Forces. It provided that this amount would not be used for the purposes set forth in the act until legal title to Pershing Hall had been vested in the United States Government for the use and benefit of all American officers and enlisted men of the World War. It further provided that the balance remaining after settlement of the indebtedness would be retained in a special fund to be known as the Pershing Hall Memorial fund. Under the terms of the act, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized (a) to invest and reinvest the corpus of this fund in interest-bearing United States Government bonds, and (b) upon request of the American Legion, Inc., to pay to the national treasurer of the Legion any part of the earnings upon the fund for use in the maintenance and/or perpetuation of Pershing Hall. An appropriation for those purposes was provided by the act of August 12, 1935 (49 Stat. 594).

On August 3, 1936, the Secretary of the Treasury acting in conjunction with the Attorney General completed acquisition of Pershing Hall for the United States. Liquidation of the mortgage on Pershing Hall required an expenditure of $213,643.28. An additional $73,936.42 has been expended for the payment of contractors' and other claims constituting indebtedness connected with Pershing Hall.

The status of the fund as of June 30, 1938, was as follows:

Special funds

Colorado River Dam fund.—This fund was established under the act of December 21, 1928, to provide for the construction of works commonly referred to as the Boulder Canyon project. All revenues received in carrying out the provisions of the act are payable into the fund and expenditures are made out of the fund, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior.

The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to advance to the fund from time to time, within the appropriations therefor, such amounts as the Secretary of the Interior deems necessary for carrying out the provisions of the act, except that the aggregate amount of such advances shall not exceed $165,000,000. Further information with respect to this fund appears on page 105 of the annual report for 1936.

The status of the advances made to the fund as of June 30, 1938, was as follows:

Advances to Colorado River Dam fund, June 30, 1938

Advances to reclamation fund.—Under the act of Congress approved June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388), there was established in the Treasury a special fund known as the reclamation fund, representing receipts from the sale of public lands in certain States and Territories to be used for the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands. Pursuant to the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 835), the Secretary of the Treasury advanced to the reclamation fund from the General Fund of the Treasury $20,000,000. The act of June 12, 1917 (40 Stat. 149), provided for the reimbursement of the money so advanced through the transfer of $1,000,000 annually from the reclamation fund to the General Fund of the Treasury beginning July 1, 1920, and continuing until full reimbursement is made. Beginning with the fiscal year 1921 there has been returned to the General Fund $1,000,000 annually, making a total of $10,000,000 for the 10 years ended with the fiscal year 1930. The Deficiency Act of February 6, 1931, provided for a suspension of the annual payments for a period of 2 years; the act of April 1, 1932, as amended by the act of March 3, 1933, and the act of June 22, 1936, provided for a further extension until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938.

The Deficiency Act approved March 4, 1931, appropriated an additional advance of $5,000,000 to the reclamation fund from the General Fund, all of which was advanced between April 28, 1931, and November 30, 1931.

Provision for reimbursement of the above-mentioned amount was made in the Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1939, approved May 9, 1938.

Division of Deposits

The Division of Deposits is charged with the administration of all matters pertaining to the designation and supervision of Government depositaries and the deposit of Government funds in such depositaries, as prescribed by regulations incorporated in Department Circulars Nos. 92 and 176, as amended; the qualification of Federal savings and loan associations and Federal credit unions as fiscal agents of the United States under Department Circular No. 568; and the execution of the duties devolving upon the Secretary of the Treasury as a result of the enactment of the Government Losses in Shipment Act.

Depository functions.—The following statement shows the number and classes of depositories maintained by the Treasury and the Government deposits held by such depositories on June 30, 1938:

Number of depositories and amount of Government deposits held on June 30, 1938, by class of depositories

Special depositories.....	2,467	610,527,176.95

<sup>2</sup> Includes 1,444 national banks and 1,023 State banks and trust companies, of which 1,544 held deposits on June 30, 1938.

Approximately 1,047 changes and adjustments were effected within the depository system during the fiscal year 1938. These adjustments are summarized in the following table:

	Member bank depositories	Special depositories
Designated.....	33	89
Discontinued.....	33	205
Amounts for which qualified increased.....	199	27
Amounts for which qualified decreased.....	110
Miscellaneous changes.....	351

The administrative report of the Division of Deposits, contained in the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, outlined in detail certain major changes initiated during that year in the collection and deposit procedure of the Treasury. This phase of the work continued during the fiscal year 1938 with the result that deposits cleared through general member bank depositories increased from approximately $1,000,000,000 in 1937 to $1,800,000,000 during the fiscal year 1938.

Federal savings and loan associations and Federal credit unions.—On June 30, 1938, a total of 542 Federal savings and loan associations and Federal credit unions were reported to the Treasury as being eligible to qualify as fiscal agents under Treasury Department Circular No. 568 for the purpose of taking applications from their own members and forwarding remittances for, and making delivery of, United States savings bonds, and, of this number, 165 have qualified either by the pledge of collateral security or the execution of surety bonds in the amount of $5,000 each. The Federal savings and loan associations so qualified may be employed also as fiscal agents of the United States for the purpose of collecting delinquent accounts arising out of insurance and loan transactions of the Federal Housing Administrator under title I of the National Housing Act. In addition, on account of their limited membership, 923 Federal savings and loan associations were reported as being eligible to qualify as fiscal agents, under Treasury Department Circular No. 568, solely for the purpose of collecting delinquent accounts arising out of insurance and loan transactions of the Administrator under title I of the National Housing Act, and 52 associations of this group qualified for this purpose either by the pledge of collateral security or the execution of surety bonds in the amount of $1,000 each.

Government Losses in Shipment Act.—Under the Government Losses in Shipment Act, approved July 8, 1937 (50 Stat. 479), a copy of which appears as exhibit 51 on page 302 of this report, there was established in the Treasury a revolving fund known as the fund for the payment of Government losses in shipment and there was authorized to be appropriated to such fund an initial amount of $500,000; annual appropriations of $200,000 for each of the fiscal years 1939 to 1948, inclusive, and, from time to time, such additional sums as may be necessary for the purposes of the fund. The act made available two methods of replacement of losses which might result to the executive departments and to various governmental organizations in consequence of "shipments" of "valuables" as these terms are defined in the act.

Heretofore, reimbursement of losses was effected by means of insuring with private insurance companies. The practice of insuring with private insurance companies resulted from the fact that it was necessary for the efficient operation of the administrative machinery of the Government that, in event of loss, there should be available a means of prompt duplication or reimbursement, and the existing appropriation machinery was inadequate to that end.

The enactment of the Government Losses in Shipment Act is calculated to result in a substantial monetary saving to the Government inasmuch as experience over a period of years reveals that large sums of money were paid by the United States to private insurance companies in order to obtain the reimbursement of such losses as might result during the transportation of such articles as money, bonds, notes, and the like, whereas the actual losses sustained by the insurance companies were infinitesimal by comparison. Experience reveals also that investigations of losses and recoveries were made invariably by the United States Secret Service or some other governmental investigating bureau.

The methods of replacement of valuables, or the value thereof, provided under the Government Losses in Shipment Act, referred to above, are:

1. That replacement shall be made out of the revolving fund under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury, except:
2. That the Comptroller General of the United States is authorized and directed to make credit in the settlement of accounts in the General Accounting Office in such cases as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine that replacement can be effected, in whole or in part, without actual or ultimate injury to the United States, by such credit.

There was issued by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General under date of July 16, 1937, to become effective on and after August 15, 1937, Treasury Department Circular No. 576—Post Office Department Reg. No. 1 (see exhibit 52, p. 306), containing provisional regulations governing the shipment of valuables pursuant to the Government Losses in Shipment Act.

Under section 4 of the act, the Secretary of the Treasury has authority, under certain conditions, to grant exemptions to the provision of the act which prohibits the payment of premiums on insurance against loss, destruction or damage in the shipment of valuables by the departments and governmental organizations concerned. An exemption was ordered, under date of August 12, 1937, with respect to shipments of gold and silver coin or bullion to, from, between, or within foreign countries under the provisions of the Gold Reserve Act of 1934, as amended, and the Silver Purchase Act of 1934.

Also, as provided in section 6 of the act, the Secretary of the Treasury has the power, with the approval of the President, to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the functions vested in him by the act. Under this section, there was issued, under date of August 13, 1937, and supplemented under date of August 20, 1937, Treasury Department Circular No. 577, copies of which appear as exhibits 53 and 54 on pages 307 and 311, which prescribes regulations governing claims for replacement of valuables, or the value thereof, shipped pursuant to the Government Losses in Shipment Act.

No claims for losses were paid during the fiscal year 1938. The value of articles reported to have been shipped from August 15, 1937, to June 30, 1938, under the Government Losses in Shipment Act, of classes which were insured with private insurance companies against loss in transit by the Government prior to the enactment of the act, amounted to $7,828,602.642. The following table shows the estimated premium savings on such shipments:

Table of estimated premium savings for the period August 15, 1937, to June 30, 1938

On basis of premium rates for:	Estimated premium savings

Other classes of articles, having a total face value of $21,367,216,484, which are covered under the provisions of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, have not been included in the calculation of the estimated premium savings in the above table because, as a practice, the Government did not insure the subject articles prior to the enactment of the act.

Section of Surety Bonds

On June 30, 1938, there were 67 domestic companies holding certificates of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury under the act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended by the act approved March 23, 1910, qualifying them as sole sureties on recognizances, stipulations, bonds, and undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States, to be given with one or more sureties. There were also six branches of foreign companies holding certificates of authority authorizing them to act only as reinsurers on bonds in favor of the United States. During the year one certificate of authority of a domestic company, which had voluntarily ceased to write new business, expired; and one certificate of authority was issued to a domestic company to qualify as sole surety on bonds in favor of the United States.

Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants

The Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, in the name of the Secretary of the Treasury, issues all warrants on the Treasurer of the United States, and under section 10 of the act of July 31, 1894 (U. S. C., title 5, sec. 255), keeps the official accounts relating to the receipt, appropriation, and expenditure of the public moneys, covering all departments and establishments of the Government. This Division makes analyses of acts of Congress carrying appropriations and maintains the necessary appropriation accounts on its ledgers; it issues warrants for placing disbursing funds to the credit of disbursing officers, for the payment by the Treasury of claims settled by the General Accounting Office, and for covering into the Treasury the revenues and receipts of the Government. It handles the work involved in the Secretary's special deposit accounts, including alien property trusts and offers in compromise, the approval of the issuance of duplicate checks (see sec. 9 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act printed as exhibit 51, p. 302, and the new regulations based thereon printed as exhibit 55, p. 311), and outstanding liability claims; compiles, for submission to the Bureau of the Budget, the estimates of appropriations for the service of the Treasury; maintains budgetary accounts relating to apportionments and obligations of funds pertaining to all departments and establishments of the Government, including governmental corporations operating on public funds, pursuant to the provisions of the Executive order of July 27, 1933.

In addition to the above this Division compiles and publishes an annual digest of the appropriations made by Congress and an annual combined statement of the receipts, expenditures, and unexpended balances under each appropriation account.

Statements of the receipts and expenditures of the Government for the fiscal year 1938, compiled by this Division, are shown as tables 1 and 2, pages 354 to 362 of this report.

Division of Disbursement

The Division of Disbursement, organized December 16, 1933, under the provisions of section 4 of Executive Order No. 6166, has absorbed the disbursing functions formerly exercised by the departments and establishments of the Government located in Washington, D. C., including the emergency as well as the regular Government activities, with the exception of the Post Office Department, the Panama Canal, and that portion of the War and Navy Departments relating to national defense. In addition, it has absorbed the disbursing activities of the other departments and establishments in the field with the exception of the United States marshals and the Foreign Service of the Department of State.

Pursuant to requests made by the corporations, the Chief Disbursing Officer acts in the capacity of Disbursing Agent for the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the United States Housing Authority. This arrangement has proved satisfactory and economical, as it avoided the necessity for the corporations to establish separate disbursing offices in Washington and in the field.

On June 30, 1938, the Division maintained 19 regional offices and 55 Treasury-State disbursing offices in the field. There were also 6 branch offices of the Treasury-State disbursing offices.

Payments under the special programs of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration were continued during the year. The total number of payments under these programs, including the Soil Conservation payments, was 4,344,347.

On June 30, 1938, the total personnel of the Division, including regular, temporary, and emergency employees, was 2,955, and in addition there were 149 employees of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration detailed to offices of the Division to assist in the disbursing work incident to the special programs of that agency.

The offices of the Division made 92,087,492 payments by check and made cash payments in 1,007,704 instances. These payments were supported in the disbursing accounts by 8,049,595 vouchers. The Division also received, deposited, and accounted for 2,608,326 collection items.

DIVISION OF APPOINTMENTS

Number of employees in the Treasury Department

There were 21,021 employees in the departmental service of the Treasury on June 30, 1938, a net decrease of 217 for the year. The largest decreases occurred in the Division of Loans and Currency and in the Branch of Supply. These were partially offset by large increases in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and in the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

In the field service there were 55,814 employees on June 30, 1938. This number does not include the assistant collaborating epidemiologists who furnish information to the Public Health Service at a dollar a year and who are actually State employees. For comparative purposes these persons have also been excluded from the number of field employees in 1937, which leaves a total of 58,437 employees on the pay rolls on June 30, 1937. Therefore, the net decrease during the year was 2,623, which is accounted for chiefly by the large decrease in the number of persons employed in the emergency relief program. The largest increase was in the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The number of employees in the departmental service of the Treasury, classified according to bureaus and offices, at the end of each month from June 30, 1937, through June 30, 1938, is shown in table 60, page 560 of this report. A comparison of the number of employees in the departmental and field services of the Treasury on June 30, 1937, and June 30, 1938, is contained in table 61, page 561.

Retirement of employees

During the year there were 584 persons retired from the departmental and field services of the Treasury Department. Under the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended, and of section 204 of the Economy Act of June 30, 1932, 242 persons were retired from the departmental service of the Treasury Department, 14 of whom were retired at their own option before the compulsory retirement age; and 342 were retired from the field service, 29 at their own option.

As of June 30, 1938, six employees in the departmental service and one in the field service, who had reached the retirement age, were retained under the authority of the President provided in section 204 of the Economy Act.

Table 62, page 562, shows the number of persons retired in the departmental and field services of the Treasury from August 20, 1920, to June 30, 1938, and the number who have passed the compulsory retirement age but who are retained as of June 30, 1938.

BUDGET AND IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE

The Budget and Improvement Committee is responsible, under the direction of the Budget Officer, for the preparation and review of estimates submitted by Treasury bureaus and divisions for annual or deficiency appropriations. It is also responsible, under the direction of the Budget Officer, for the investigation of administrative methods and procedure in their relation to appropriation estimates and for other investigations upon assignment by the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary. To facilitate the investigations, a Sub-Committee on Investigations was recently created with a view to determining, through the inspection of field as well as departmental activities, the justification for proposed increases in appropriation estimates.

The review of appropriation estimates includes a thorough examination of the items by the individual committee members to whom respective bureaus or divisions are assigned. The entire committee then conducts formal hearings at which the bureau or division heads, or their representatives, present oral testimony in further support of their estimates. The committee, after deliberation, submits its recommendations to the Budget Officer for his guidance in determining the items which should be approved for transmittal to the Bureau of the Budget.

Subsequent to the submission of the regular estimates of appropriations for the fiscal year 1939, supplemental and deficiency estimates aggregating $237,883,845.71 were received. After examination these estimates were reduced to $235,488,229.61 and submitted to the Acting Director of the Bureau of the Budget.

Reserves amounting to $17,003,813 had been set aside from ordinary appropriations for the fiscal year 1938 by the Acting Director of the Bureau of the Budget. During the year, reserves amounting to $11,772,063 were released by the Acting Director, after approval of the committee, and additional reserves of $19,000 were set up, leaving $5,250,750 in reserve at the end of the year. Of the appropriations made to the Treasury Department for the fiscal year 1939, the Acting Director set aside $504,518 as reserves.

For the fiscal year 1940, heads of Treasury bureaus and offices submitted estimates for annual, permanent, and indefinite appropriations aggregating $4,103,249,931. After examination by the Budget and Improvement Committee, items aggregating $6,109,813 were disapproved in estimates for annual appropriations. Of the $4,097,140,118 approved and submitted to the Acting Director of the Bureau of the Budget, $1,023,525,502 was for annual appropriations, including $600,000,000 for the old-age reserve account; $5,910,241 for permanent and indefinite appropriations and special funds; $1,452,109,375 for trust funds; $1,031,000,000 for interest on the public debt; and $584,595,000 for public debt retirements chargeable against ordinary receipts.

The number of lives saved or persons rescued from peril during the year was the largest in the history of the Service, exceeding by 1,012 the previous high record of 1937.

A large portion of the activities of the Coast Guard, acting as the Nation's maritime police agency, cannot be presented in statistical form extending as they do into the broad, related field of law enforcement upon the sea and navigable waters, protecting and saving life and property, maintaining a state of preparedness for national defense, and assisting other governmental agencies.

Assistance in the development and settlement of the American island possessions in the South Seas was rendered by regular cruises of Coast Guard cutters from Honolulu to Baker, Howland, and Jarvis Islands, in cooperation with the Department of the Interior. During the year the Coast Guard towed 22 decommissioned merchant vessels of the Maritime Commission from Stapleton, N. Y., to Hampton Roads, Va.; and transported United States officials and material during the tie-up of commercial shipping in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico in January 1938.

During the flood which inundated the region adjacent to the Alabama and Tombigbee Rivers in Alabama, in April 1938, the Coast Guard dispatched a relief force of 60 officers and men, 27 boats, mobile communication facilities, and 1 airplane, removing 102 persons to places of safety and otherwise assisting in relief measures.

In the safeguarding of planes in pioneering and experimental flights across the Atlantic Ocean, the Coast Guard dispatched cutters to strategic points to afford radio bearings, weather information, etc. One cutter acted as plane guard and radio beacon in the Pacific Ocean for the ill-fated flight of Amelia Earhart.

Coast Guard forces cooperated with the Navy in the fleet landing exercises held in the region of Puerto Rico in January-March 1938, and participated with the Army and Navy in other maneuvers along the United States coast.

From December 14 to February 27, Coast Guard vessels conducted ice-breaking operations in the Hudson River to assist in keeping the channel to Albany open to navigation, and assistance of this nature was also rendered in the Great Lakes area and on the North Atlantic coast.

Service facilities were employed in the transportation of mail, Government officials, and supplies to Alaska; also in carrying mail to isolated Civilian Conservation Corps camps on the Great Lakes and in other localities during periods of interruption to regular commercial services. One cutter was placed at the disposal of the Federal Court for the Third Alaskan District in transaction of court business at various ports. In cooperation with the Bureau of the Mint, plans were completed at the end of the fiscal year for the Coast Guard to furnish armed protection in connection with the transfer of silver bullion from New York City to West Point, N. Y.

Work relief projects comprising the reconditioning, modernization, and construction of shore facilities at various Coast Guard stations, the construction of wooden boats, and dredging at Government Island, Alameda, Calif., authorized under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, were completed during the year.

Enforcement of customs and other laws

Empowered to enforce the laws of the United States upon the high seas and navigable waters, the law enforcement activities of the Coast Guard have embraced all phases of Federal maritime jurisdiction. Most prominent among these have been the customs, navigation, motorboat, and conservation laws. The Coast Guard stations located at strategic points along the coast and Service vessels cruising throughout all areas of the coastal waters of the United States have been instrumental in insuring the fullest measure of security and orderly conduct of marine activities.

Vessels of the Coast Guard were assigned, as customary, at ports of entry to provide transportation facilities to Customs and Immigration officers. Coast Guard aircraft also assisted the Customs Service in the patrol of the Mexican border; and both the Customs and Narcotics Bureaus have received assistance in making seizures and arrests for violation of their respective laws.

The Coast Guard Intelligence Division rendered valuable service to other Treasury law enforcement agencies as well as to its own Service and to other departments of the Federal Government.

In law enforcement matters upon the sea contiguous to Canadian territorial waters, the whole-hearted cooperation of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been enjoyed.

Smuggling.—Division commanders of the Coast Guard continued, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, as coordinators of the Treasury law enforcement agencies in the prevention and detection of the smuggling of liquor and narcotics within the limits of their respective divisions. The system was extended during the year to include the Puerto Rico-Virgin Islands areas, and the special organizations established during 1936 in the Hawaiian Islands were strengthened and perfected.

Only 12 instances of the presence of foreign hovering vessels within striking distance of the coast were noted. These sporadic attempts at smuggling, largely centered in the New England area, were dealt with quickly by Coast Guard patrols to frustrate any landings. Although alcohol or liquor smuggling was not, as in former years, a major problem, the matter continued to be one demanding the utmost vigilance.

The campaign against the suppression of illegal introduction of narcotic drugs was intensified. Upwards of 4,430 vessels were kept under surveillance upon entering United States waters or while within territorial jurisdiction. Special law enforcement patrols were established to cover Delaware Bay and Delaware River, Chesapeake Bay, and Jacksonville and New Orleans areas.

A summary of seizures, etc., during the year is presented in the following table:

Summary of Coast Guard seizures, etc., fiscal year 1938

Activity	Coast Guard	Joint seizures (Coast Guard and other Treasury agen- cies)	Total
Vessels seized.....	9	8	17
Arrests.....	85	640	725

Estimated internal revenue tax on contraband seized.....	$1, 487	$61, 658	$63, 145

Anchorage and movements of vessels.—On June 30, 1938, nine Coast Guard officers were serving as captains of the port in ports where Federal rules and regulations, promulgated by the Secretary of War and the Secretary of Commerce, are in effect governing the anchorage and movements of vessels in the interest of safe navigation, expeditious and orderly movement of marine commerce, and efficient port administration. At the larger ports, harbor craft were detailed to this duty and also in connection with the supervision of the loading of explosives. In localities where the continual presence of an enforcement officer was not necessary, periodic inspections were made by Coast Guard vessels regularly operating in the area.

Enforcement of Whaling Treaty Act.—Coast Guard officers were assigned as inspectors aboard two American whaling vessels which operated in the Indian Ocean and Antarctic waters and at two whaling factories in Alaska. A Coast Guard officer served as American delegate to the whaling conference held at Oslo, Norway, in May 1938, and at the International Conference on Whaling held in London in June. These conferences had for their purpose the adoption by interested nations of methods for the conservation of whales.

Patrol in northern waters.—The patrol of the waters of the North Pacific Ocean, Bering Sea, and southeastern Alaska involves enforcement of the international convention for the protection of the fur seal and sea otter, law enforcement generally, and assistance to marine commerce and Alaskan natives. The patrol for the season of 1937, in progress at the beginning of the fiscal year 1938, was conducted by eight Coast Guard vessels, which cruised 57,731 miles, assisted 14 vessels, boarded 203 vessels, afforded medical and dental aid to 1,606 persons, and transported 406 persons. Nine vessels were assigned to the patrol for the season of 1938, which was in progress on June 30, 1938.

Northern Pacific halibut fishery.—Nine Coast Guard vessels made 15 cruises to the halibut fishing areas during the year in the enforcement of the Northern Pacific Halibut Fishery Act and the International Convention for the Preservation of the Halibut Fisheries of the Northern Pacific Ocean. Six American vessels and one foreign vessel were seized for violations of the act during the year.

Protection to marine commerce and life and property

In the protection and saving of life and property, service units are constantly alert and prepared to respond to calls for assistance from floating craft or persons in peril. Communication facilities, disposition of forces, and organization plans are designed to meet not only individual calls for aid, but to put speedily into action expeditions for relief and assistance in national emergencies.

During the year Coast Guard officers were appointed and acted as members of the marine investigation boards convened by the Department of Commerce to investigate loss of life aboard ship.

International Service of Ice Observation and Ice Patrol.—The international Service of Ice Observation and Ice Patrol, conducted by the Coast Guard pursuant to the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, signed at London May 31, 1929, and the act of Congress approved June 25, 1936, was inaugurated on February 14, 1938, with the arrival of a Coast Guard cutter in the Grand Banks region. The cutter made two ice observation cruises for the purpose of locating the most southerly ice and of determining the prevailing ice situation. On March 24 the ice patrol was begun, and until its conclusion on July 22, two cutters, alternating on cruises, maintained a continuous patrol in the Grand Banks region, keeping in touch with the southerly, easterly, and westerly limits of the ice. Halifax, Nova Scotia, was used as their import base. Throughout the ice season the practice was followed of transmitting scheduled radio broadcasts of the position of all ice sighted or reported, of advising shipping concerning routes to be followed, and of furnishing information on the ice situation to ships upon request. The 1938 ice observation and ice patrol season was the longest on record.

An oceanographic vessel, which arrived in the Grand Banks region on March 30, conducted the scientific observations, keeping the patrol cutters informed of the speed and direction of currents prevailing in the Grand Banks region, in furtherance of the most efficient conduct of this international service. Upon the conclusion of the ice patrol, the vessel sailed on a post-season oceanographic and ice observation cruise in the Labrador Sea between Labrador and southwestern Greenland.

Winter cruising.—During the 1937–38 season of severe weather on the North Atlantic coast 14 Coast Guard cutters were designated, pursuant to Executive order, to render aid to marine commerce. These cutters cruised 44,423 miles; afforded assistance to 116 vessels, whose value, including cargoes, amounted to $8,731,617; and destroyed eight derelicts which were a menace to navigation. In the enforcement of Federal maritime laws, 272 vessels were boarded and examined.

Aviation

During the year an air station was established at New York, N. Y., and the station at Cape May, N. J., was placed out of commission. On June 30, 1938, air stations in commission were located at Salem, Mass.; New York, N. Y.; Charleston, S. C.; Miami and St. Petersburg, Fla.; Biloxi, Miss.; San Diego, Calif.; and Port Angeles, Wash. Air patrol detachments were maintained at El Paso, Tex., and Cape May, N. J., and aircraft were operated from the plane-carrying cutters in Hawaiian and Alaskan waters and on the Atlantic coast. Aircraft in service at the close of the fiscal year numbered 54 planes of various types, the largest being the flying boat PH-2 type, with a cruising range of 2,000 miles. Funds were provided in the Second Deficiency Act of June 25, 1938, for the construction of air stations at Elizabeth City, N. C., and San Francisco, Calif.

The practice of affording flight instruction to Coast Guard officers at the naval air station, Pensacola, Fla., has been continued.

Aircraft landings were made in the open sea in 33 instances, and 323 flights were made during hours of darkness. Operations during the past year in law enforcement missions, in saving and protecting life and property at sea, and in affording assistance to other branches of the Government have demonstrated the increasing importance of aircraft in the performance of Service duties. Insofar as operations can be presented statistically, the following résumé gives an idea of the extent and importance of Coast Guard aviation during the fiscal year 1938:

	Number		Number
Flights.....	4,383	Instances of assistance to other Government agencies.....	345
Miles cruised.....	934,430	Obstructions to navigation reported.....	19
Emergency medical cases transported.....	148	Smuggling vessels located.....	27
Persons transported from disabled vessels.....	21	Illicit distilleries located.....	607
Persons otherwise transported and assisted.....	581	Disabled vessels located.....	63
Vessels warned of impending danger.....	506
Persons warned of impending danger.....	2,135

Communications

Telephone and telegraph lines and cables.—The Coast Guard owns and operates a coastal telephone system consisting of 1,602 miles of pole line, 3,000 miles of open aerial circuits, 50 miles of aerial and underground cables, and 642 miles of submarine cables. A number of these lines are connected with central offices of commercial telephone systems, thus affording telephone and telegraph service to all units of the Coast Guard, to Navy direction finder stations, Weather Bureau offices, and lighthouses in various locations along the coastal waters of the United States.

Installation of telephone repeaters along the Long Island and New Jersey coasts has materially improved the transmission and the range of telephonic communication over Coast Guard lines. A study is now being made of the section from Lewes, Del., to Morehead City, N. C., with a view to the installation of repeaters in this section. These installations materially increase the value of Coast Guard telephone lines in law enforcement, national defense, and the saving of life and property.

Approximately 200,000 feet of obsolete telephone submarine cables, involving 12 important cables along the Atlantic coast, Gulf of Mexico, and the Great Lakes, were replaced with cable of modern design. In addition to cable replacements, general cable repairs were effected in all divisions. Research activities in connection with the improvement of both the physical and electrical characteristics of rubber insulated, steel armored, and rubber jacketed cable were carried on during the year.

Radio.—Research and development work was continued, particularly in connection with transmitting antennae and ground radial systems and the procurement of satisfactory equipment for lifeboat installation.

During the year new radio station buildings were constructed and occupied at Mobile, Ala., San Francisco, Calif., and at the Coast Guard Air Station, New York, N. Y.

Radiotelephone weather and marine information broadcasts, primarily for the benefit of yachts and small boats, were inaugurated at strategically located Coast Guard radio stations on the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf coasts, and at Cleveland, Ohio, on the Great Lakes. This contribution to the safety of small craft was made possible through the cooperation of the Weather Bureau, Lighthouse Service, and the Navy Hydrographic Office.

The laboratory and monitoring activities of the Coast Guard radio station at Fort Hunt, Va., were continued. In addition this station acted as headquarters' radio station and provided a fixed communication service to several divisions and a mobile service to the International Ice Patrol and vessels cruising in foreign waters.

Cooperation in communication problems with other agencies of the Treasury Department, notably Bureau of Customs, Alcohol Tax Unit, and Bureau of the Mint, was continued.

The Chief Communications Officer continued to represent the Treasury Department on the Interdepartmental Radio Advisory Committee. He also acted as chairman of the Committee on Administration which is preparing for the Cairo International Telecommunication Convention, and served as technical adviser to the United States delegation at the convention.

Floating equipment

Cutters, patrol boats, etc.—On June 30, 1938, the following floating equipment was in commission in the Coast Guard: Cruising cutters, 34; 165-foot patrol boats, 17; 125-foot patrol boats, 27; 100-foot patrol boats, 4; 80-foot patrol boats, 9; 78-foot patrol boats, 6; 75-foot patrol boats, 50; 72-foot patrol boats, 4; harbor tugs, 11; harbor launches, 39; special craft, 7; picket boats, 81; and miscellaneous patrol boats exceeding 40 feet in length. This floating equipment does not include the small boats, designed primarily for life-saving, assigned to Coast Guard stations and vessels.

During the year a number of cutters and smaller vessels were sold or transferred to other Government departments.

The work relief projects for the construction of wood patrol boats and harbor craft with funds allotted from the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 were completed, and the following boats were acquired: Four 80-foot patrol boats, two 65-foot patrol boats, and two harbor craft.

Two Coast Guard harbor cutters were under construction at the close of the fiscal year.

Small boats.—Considerable design work has been accomplished on a proposed new 40-foot motor lifeboat, and improvements have been made in the existing TR motor lifeboat and in the standard motor self-bailing surfboat. An experimental fresh water cooling system with keel condenser and dry exhaust, including provisions for hot air heating of forward cabin, has been installed in one lifeboat for test purposes. Experimental investigations and testing in the related field of special metals, wood, preserving treatments, etc., have been continued to improve and keep modern the materials and methods of construction of standard small boats of the Service.

Ordnance activities

A high standard of gunnery proficiency was maintained, the percentage of vessels holding the prescribed gunnery exercises being greater than in any previous year. Every ship for which short range practice is specified fulfilled the requirement, only 12 out of 123 being unable to hold modified practice. This is a remarkable record in view of the heavy operating schedules of Coast Guard vessels.

Customary small arms training was carried on throughout the Service. In the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, the Coast Guard team won 4 trophies and 131 medals. Coast Guard coaches continued to give instruction in the use of small arms to the armed civilian personnel of the Treasury Department, totaling 5,214 men on June 30, 1938.

In ordnance, gunnery, and small arms activities, the Coast Guard has enjoyed the full cooperation of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps in the furnishing of materials and facilities as required.

Stations, bases, repair depot, etc.

Stations and bases.—The plan to reorganize the stations for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the Coast Guard has resulted in reducing the number of active stations by 45 during the past 2 years. During 1938, 22 active stations were made inactive, and 3 active and 3 inactive stations were discontinued. On June 30, 1938, there were 200 active stations and 74 inactive stations, and 3 shore bases were in commission. A study of the inactive stations is now being made with the intention of discontinuing those not required for Coast Guard activities.

A number of new boathouses and launchways, several station dwellings, and miscellaneous projects at shore units were completed. New station structures were placed at Fort Pierce, Fla., as a new location for the former Indian River Inlet House of Refuge, which has been designated the Fort Pierce Inlet Station.

Repair depot.—The Repair Depot, Curtis Bay, Md., is maintained for repairing and altering cutters and for building small boats. During the year two 125-foot patrol boats were re-engined and completely overhauled, and three 75-foot patrol boats were reconditioned. The usual routine maintenance of vessels stationed in the West Indies and in the vicinity of Baltimore was performed, and alterations and repairs were made to several cutters. The boat building plant constructed 25 boats of various types, 6 of which were motor lifeboats, and also built a large number of lifeboat and surfboat launching carriages. A number of old-type motor lifeboats were modernized.

Engine school and repair base.—The Engine School and Repair Base, Norfolk, Va., is maintained for instructional purposes and as an engine repair base. During the year 37 enlisted men completed courses in the repair, operation, and maintenance of internal-combustion marine and aviation engines and in lathe practice. The students reconditioned gasoline marine engines and their parts for further use by the Coast Guard, and rebuilt parts of electrical equipment for engines, including starting motors, generators, magnetos, and distributors. Experimental work with gasoline marine and Diesel auxiliary engines and with lubricating oil treatment was carried out in connection with the instruction courses.

Personnel and training

On June 30, 1938, there were on the active list of the Coast Guard 524 commissioned officers, 78 cadets, 389 chief warrant officers, 153 regular warrant officers, 135 temporary warrant officers (of whom 115 were on duty with the War Department, under orders contained in Executive Order No. 6169), 8,803 enlisted men, 2 civilian instructors (at the academy), and 341 civilian employees in the field, of whom 250 were per diem employees at the Coast Guard Depot, Curtis Bay, Md. There were also 154 emergency employees.

During the year an officer of the Coast Guard acted as a member of the Senate Technical Advisory Committee on Safety of Life at Sea.

Recruiting.—Six main recruiting stations were in operation during the entire fiscal year. There were 4,167 applicants, of whom 1,063 were enlisted, 1,353 rejected for physical disability, and 1,751 rejected for other causes. Loss in personnel other than through expiration of enlistment was low. Of the discharged men who were eligible for reenlistment, 80 percent reenlisted.

Training.—Postgraduate instruction for commissioned officers was provided for 4 in resident law, 20 in extension law, 3 in marine engineering, and 2 in radio engineering. Several other officers were assigned to various universities for summer courses, and 9 officers completed flight training at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Resident schools within the Service provided training for enlisted men in radio, small arms maintenance, and gasoline and Diesel engine repairs and operation, and training for yeomen, pharmacist's mates, cooks, and bakers. From time to time men were assigned to schools of the Army and Navy for instruction not available within the Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard Institute at New London, Conn., provided instruction to enlisted men to qualify them for advancement, and has given them the opportunity to study various professional and educational subjects through correspondence courses.

In order to insure a thorough knowledge of all phases of maritime and navigation laws, lectures on law enforcement were delivered at various centers of Service activities, and, in November 1937, correspondence courses in these subjects were inaugurated, in which approximately 1,750 students were enrolled. The Treasury law enforcement course was completed by 232 officers and men.

Coast Guard Academy.—During the year 48 cadets were appointed, 25 resigned, and 23 were graduated and commissioned as ensigns in the Coast Guard; there were 78 cadets under instruction at the end of the year. The 1938 cadet practice cruise, which began on June 4, 1938, included United States and South American ports in its itinerary.

On April 27, 1938, the Congressional Board of Visitors to the Coast Guard Academy, appointed pursuant to the act of April 16, 1937, made its annual inspection of the academy.

Engineering competition.—Engineering competition, with awards made to the highest scoring vessels and their engineer forces, was continued during the year. This competition, which promotes a spirit of friendly rivalry among the competing units and maintains personnel and material in a high state of efficiency and readiness, was participated in by 32 cruising cutters and 45 patrol boats.

Boatmanship competition.—During the year a plan was inaugurated providing for competition between units in boatmanship, consisting of rowing races and competitions devised to demonstrate skill in handling boats under Service conditions. This has increased the interest in boatmanship.

Awards of lifesaving medals and decorations

The Secretary of the Treasury, under the provisions of law, awarded during the year 10 gold and 16 silver lifesaving medals of honor in recognition of heroism or bravery exhibited in the rescue or attempted rescue of persons from drowning in waters over which the United States has jurisdiction or upon an American vessel. Also, acting for the President, the Secretary awarded a distinguished flying cross to a Coast Guard officer for extraordinary achievement in an official aerial flight.

Legislation

The following general legislation affecting the Coast Guard was enacted by the Congress during the fiscal year:

The Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to establish Coast Guard stations in the following localities: At or near Beaver Bay, Minn. (Public No. 230, July 30, 1937); at or near St. Augustine, Fla. (Public No. 231, July 30, 1937); at or near Dauphin Island, Ala. (Public No. 285, August 14, 1937); in the vicinity of Fort Myers, Fla. (Public No. 283, August 14, 1937); at or near Panama City, Fla. (Public No. 443, March 14, 1938); and at or near Shelter Cove, Calif. (Public No. 699, June 22, 1938).

The act of July 30, 1937 (Public No. 234), remedied certain inadequacies in existing law and extended certain privileges to personnel of the Coast Guard which are now enjoyed by the personnel of the other military services. The bill relates to enlistment and extensions in the time thereof, medical treatment by the Public Health Service of dependent members of families of Coast Guard personnel, naturalization privileges of Filipinos serving in the Coast Guard, award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to members of the Coast Guard; advance of clothing funds to newly appointed cadets; and authority for retired Coast Guard officers to hold public office if elected thereto or if appointed by the President.

The act of January 12, 1938 (Public No. 419), provided for retirement or resignation of officers placed out of line of promotion and for involuntary retirement after 30 years' service.

The act of May 13, 1938 (Public No. 513), authorized the payment to the widow or other next of kin of money due the estate of a deceased officer or enlisted man, where the amount involved is less than $500.

The act of May 26, 1938 (Public No. 553), authorized the continuance of the payment to enlisted men of allowances for quarters and subsistence while sick in hospital or absent from their permanent duty stations in a pay status.

The act of June 23, 1938 (Public No. 705), provided for the establishment of the United States Maritime Service, with ranks, grades, and ratings of personnel similar to those in the Coast Guard, and gave authority to the United States Maritime Commission to avail itself of the services of any agency of the Government in carrying out the pertinent provisions in the act.

The act of June 30, 1938 (Public No. 787), designated the Coast Guard as one of the Federal agencies for research and experimental work with rotary-wing and other aircraft.

Funds available, obligations, and balances

The following table shows the amounts available for the Coast Guard for the fiscal year 1938, including regular and deficiency appropriations, the balances of appropriations from the previous year, and additional funds made available from funds appropriated under the National Industrial Recovery Act. The amounts of obligations and unobligated balances are also shown.

The Bureau of the Comptroller of the Currency is responsible for the execution of all laws relating to the supervision of national banking associations and all banks and building and loan associations in the District of Columbia. The Bureau is also responsible for the liquidation of suspended national banks placed in charge of receivers. Under the Emergency Banking Act of March 9, 1933, the Comptroller of the Currency is required to approve the issuance and retirement of preferred stock of national banking associations. Other duties include those incident to the formation and chartering of new national banking associations, the establishment of branch banks, the consolidation of banks, and the conversion of State banks into national banks.

The total assets of the 5,248 active national banks on June 30, 1938, amounted to $30,387,082,000, an increase of $50,011,000 since June 30, 1937, when $30,337,071,000 was reported by 5,299 banks. The deposits of the active banks in 1938 totaled $26,815,894,000, which was $49,981,000 more than in 1937. The amount of deposits in 1938 was exceeded on only one other call date in the history of the national banking system, namely, December 31, 1936, when they aggregated $27,608,397,000. The loans and investments totaled $19,978,900,000, representing a decrease of $956,282,000 during the year.

The assets and liabilities of active national banks on the date of each report from June 30, 1937, to June 30, 1938, are shown in the following statement:

Summary of changes in the national banking system

The authorized capital stock of the 5,258 national banks in existence on June 30, 1938, consisted of common capital stock aggregating $1,311,877,628, an increase during the year of $21,056,807, and preferred capital stock aggregating $266,826,644, a decrease during the year of $34,684,398. The total net decrease of capital stock was $13,627,591. During the year charters were issued to 12 national banking associations, of which 10 had common capital stock only, aggregating $2,425,000, and the remaining 2 banks had an aggregate of $35,000 common capital stock and $65,000 preferred capital stock. There was a net decrease of 64 in the number of national banks in the system during the year by reason of receiverships, voluntary liquidations and consolidations under the act of November 7, 1918, as amended.

Changes in the number and capital stock of national banks during the fiscal year 1938 are shown in the following summary:

Administration of unlicensed national banks

During the fiscal year 1938 liquidating dividends amounting to $68,865,000 were paid by receivers and trustees for waiving creditors of banks unlicensed on March 16, 1933, the close of the banking holiday. As of June 30, 1938, a total of 84.32 percent of the aggregate unsecured liabilities of these banks on March 16, 1933, had been released; 705 banks released 100 percent of unsecured liabilities. A summary with respect to the administration of all unlicensed national banks since March 16, 1933, follows:

BUREAU OF CUSTOMS

Collections

After 4 years of successive increases, customs revenue declined sharply in 1938 from the total for the preceding year. The collections of $359,600,000 in 1938 were 26 percent smaller than during 1937. Duties on each of the different types of entries, except those on mail and baggage, yielded smaller returns than during 1937, as indicated in the following table:

<sup>1</sup> Excludes customs duties of Puerto Rico, which are deposited to the credit of the Government of Puerto Rico, but includes fines and other minor collections of Puerto Rico.

Each schedule of the Tariff Act of 1930, except the tobacco schedule, recorded a decrease in the value of imports and each schedule, without exception, showed a decrease in duties collected.

The decline in collections under the sugar schedule was somewhat unusual, since the total for the fiscal year, $38,342,995, included $2,766,071 of import compensating taxes collected on refined sugar under the terms of the Sugar Act of 1937, which became effective September 1, 1937, and for which no comparable item was included in the collections during the previous year. Since the importation of sugar is controlled by a calendar year quota, most of the reduced importations from January to June 1938, which were smaller by 920,000,000 pounds than for the corresponding months of 1937, may have been merely deferred until the first half of the fiscal year 1939.

The decreases in the revenue yielded by the agricultural and wool schedules were greater than those for any other schedules and accounted for two-thirds of the entire decrease in revenue. Agricultural imports continued to exceed every other tariff schedule in the amount of revenue yielded, but declined in relative importance, representing only one-fifth of the total collections in 1938, as compared with one-fourth during the previous year.

Imports of dutiable unmanufactured wool declined sharply and, as a result, collections under the wool schedule dropped from second to sixth place in importance during 1938.

Items listed in the chemical schedule produced $11,300,000 less duties in 1938 than during the previous year, a decline of 37 percent.

The computed values of dutiable imports and the computed duties collected, by tariff schedules, are shown for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 in table 15 on page 436, and for the calendar years 1928 to 1937 and by months from January 1937 to June 1938 in table 17 on page 438.

It will be observed that the aggregate of duty collections as computed by tariff schedules is somewhat less than the actual collections reported by collectors of customs. This is in part due to the fact that the computations are necessarily based upon the data reported at the time of original entry and do not take into consideration the increased and additional duties levied as a result of the final determination of the correct quantity by the weighers and gaugers, changes in classification or rates of duty by appraisement officers, or clerical errors found upon liquidation of the entry. Furthermore, the import documents, from which the statistics used in the computation of duties are compiled, do not include many baggage, mail, and informal entries on which the duties collected amount to a considerable sum.

Almost four-fifths of the total duties collected during 1938 were reported by eight customs districts, and almost half of the entire total was reported by New York. A statement of the duties collected for each customs district appears in table 18 on page 442.

Volume of business

In order to present statistics of the volume of customs business which are analogous to collections, the data which follow are limited to the area in which all collections are turned into the Treasury of the United States. Since all customs receipts in the Virgin Islands and all except fines and other minor collections in Puerto Rico are deposited to the credit of those respective governments, none of the data for the former and none except those on seizures for the latter are included below.

Entries of merchandise.—The total number of entries of merchandise aggregated 3,121,176 in 1938, an increase of 45,715 over the previous year, although the collections in 1937 were at a much higher level than in 1938. This anomalous condition is due chiefly to the fact that certain types of commodities imported in 1937 consisted of bulk shipments which had a marked effect on collections but little effect on the number of entries. Furthermore, in 1938 importers ordered quantities sufficient only for their immediate needs, carrying little, if any, stocks in warehouses and, therefore, imported with greater frequency. The type of entry which showed the largest relative and absolute increase over 1937 was baggage entries, which are heaviest during the late summer and early fall. The increase in the early months of the fiscal year 1938 was sufficient to more than offset the decline in the number of baggage entries during the remaining months of the year.

Airplane traffic showed the largest relative increase during the year. The largest number of planes and of passengers arrived in the Florida customs district, more than half the total number of passengers reaching the United States by plane at the port of Miami. Large increases occurred in the Vermont and New York customs districts due to the establishment of new international air routes. The following table shows the number of airplanes and of airplane passengers entering the United States during the past 2 fiscal years:

Drawback transactions.—The number of drawback entries increased by 1,026 to 23,178 in 1938, and drawback payments increased by $1,067,700 to $11,841,390 in 1938. The actual payments corresponded very closely to the total allowed under the various provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930. About 98 percent of the drawback allowed consisted of drawback on exported merchandise manufactured from imported materials, the most important of which were sugar, flaxseed, and copper. Of the notices of intent to export with the benefit of drawback, 3,049 more were filed in 1938 than in 1937. A comparison of these transactions during the last 2 years is presented in the following table:

Appraisalment of merchandise.—In line with the decreases in the number of consumption entries, decreases also appeared in the number of packages examined by appraisalment officers, except mail packages. The following is a summary of appraisalment activities for the last 2 years:

Law enforcement activities

Seizures.—The number of seizures made for violations of customs laws continued to decline, although the amount of decrease during 1938 was smaller than during any recent year. The decrease in 1938 was due chiefly to a decline in the number of merchandise seizures. Lottery seizures, which were of considerable importance a few years ago, numbered only 141 during the year; practically all of such seizures are now handled by the post office authorities.

The number of liquor seizures, for the first time since the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, was larger than during the previous year, such seizures showing an increase of 917 during 1938. Almost 50 percent of the liquor seizures were made in the four customs districts along the Mexican border, where liquor is smuggled only to meet the demands in the vicinity of the border. The largest seizure of distilled liquor was one of 1,459 gallons of rum, valued at $10,465, at Newark, N. J., which represented more than one-third of the total gallonage seized during the year. The largest single seizure of beer, aggregating 197 gallons, was seized at New York City and constituted almost half of the total gallonage seized. Most of the alcohol seizures were along the Mexican border, the largest seizure being one of 115 gallons near Del Rio, Tex.

The total value of all seizures declined during the year by $544,520, which was due almost entirely to the smaller value of merchandise seized. It should be noted, however, that three seizures in 1937 represented more than half of the total value of all seizures for that year, whereas no individual seizures of comparable value were made during 1938. Seizures of cameras, binoculars, and ships' instruments in 1938 were almost three times the value of such seizures during the previous year, and seizures of wearing apparel and of textiles also showed substantial increases.

The number and principal types of seizures made by the Customs Service and other governmental agencies during the last 2 years are shown in the following statement:

In addition to the goods which were seized, claims aggregating $5,496,090 were initiated by the Customs Service against importers in connection with various irregularities and frauds discovered after the goods had gone into consumption.

In their campaign to prevent the smuggling of narcotics, customs and other officers made 503 seizures of narcotic drugs and paraphernalia, valued at $46,037. The total seizures of narcotics during the year increased in number by 190 and decreased in quantity and value by 12,172 ounces and $36,514, respectively. Ninety-two seizures of marihuana weighing 2,638 ounces accounted for part of the increase in the number of seizures. Prior to October 1, 1937, when the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937 became effective, seizures of this drug were turned over to State authorities for disposition.

The following table summarizes the number and value of the boats, automobiles, etc., seized for violations during the last 2 years:

All automobiles seized by narcotic agents are delivered to the Customs Service for forfeiture under customs laws. There were 164 of these automobiles valued at $63,128 in 1938, compared with 103 valued at $37,884 in 1937. During the year, 303 seized automobiles and trucks were either exported or returned to petitioners because the violations were not sufficiently flagrant to warrant the forfeiture. Of the 201 vehicles forfeited, 120 were assigned for official use either to the Customs Service or to some other governmental agency, and 81 were sold at public auction.

In the course of their regular duties, customs officers often apprehend violators of laws other than those relating to customs. During the year, 474 seizures were made for other departments and agencies, which included 450 for the Department of Agriculture. There were 246 persons apprehended, 217 of whom were for the Immigration Service. In addition, 5,135 violations of Department of Agriculture laws were detected.

Legal proceedings.—As the result of narcotic seizures, 89 defendants were presented for prosecution. Including the cases pending from the previous year, those which were concluded resulted in 100 convictions and only 19 acquittals. Prison sentences aggregating over 240 years and fines amounting to $53,000 were imposed by the court on the convicted offenders. In addition, penalties aggregating $151,615 were assessed against the masters of 64 vessels on which narcotic drugs were found concealed. Many of these cases have not yet been concluded, only $8,083 having been collected from the masters of vessels involved in narcotic violations.

In connection with all seizures, there were 575 arrests, a decrease of 49 during the year. Although there were fewer arrests and convictions during 1938, the high ratio of convictions in the cases disposed of continued. Of the 557 cases disposed of, 360 convictions were secured, or 65 percent of the total; in 1937, in 711 cases disposed of, 491 convictions were secured, or 69 percent of the total. Only 24 defendants were acquitted after trial and 173 cases dismissed or transferred before trial, compared with 52 acquittals and 168 dismissals or transfers in 1937. Prison terms to which customs violators were sentenced aggregated 325 years during 1938, compared with 550 years in 1937, while the total amount of the fines imposed was $135,586 during 1938 and $146,724 during the previous year.

Fines, penalties, etc.—The total collections from fines, penalties, liquidated damages, and sales of seizures aggregated $2,539,162 during 1938, an increase of $1,655,209 during the year. This was the largest total in the history of the customs service, the largest previous total being $2,472,603 in 1928. Almost three-fifths of these collections in 1938 represented the penalties collected in cases which originated prior to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and which involved the large scale smuggling of illicit liquors. More than $1,000,000 still remains to be paid in connection with these cases.

Penalties collected for false invoicing, fraud, and undervaluations were almost double such collections during 1937, due to the successful consummation of several important cases, two of which yielded more than half of the total collected for this type of violation. Penalties for irregularities in bonded importations, which represented the largest single item of the 1937 total, decreased sharply during the year. Violations of this sort were technical rather than willful, combining a variety of irregularities, such as failure to produce consular invoices, shortage in or improper delivery of bonded shipments, failure to redeliver merchandise subject to export or further customs examination, etc.

The net proceeds of the sale of seized articles by collectors of customs was more than double that of the preceding year, increasing from $22,151 in 1937 to $50,772 in 1938. The proceeds of articles sold by court order also increased substantially from $46,436 to $109,766. Of the total amount realized from the sale of seized merchandise during the year, gold sold to the Mint aggregated $21,281, and watch movements and parts yielded $48,132. This was the first time in several years that substantial sales of watch movements were made, although most of the seizures of these movements were effected in 1936 and prior years.

Included in the sales were also 99 automobiles for $3,672 and 9 boats for $480, as compared with 105 automobiles and 14 boats during 1937, which yielded $3,888 and $3,631, respectively. No sales of seized liquor were made during the past two years; such seizures, if of a sufficiently good quality for medicinal use, are delivered to the Federal and State Governments or to eleemosynary institutions. The following table presents a summary of the amounts collected for the last 2 years in fines, penalties, and forfeitures and from the sale of seizures, classified according to the type of violation:

Coordination with other agencies.—The coordination plan adopted in August 1934, which developed closer cooperation between the Coast Guard, Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Narcotics, Secret Service, and Customs Service, remained in operation during the year. The continued effectiveness of the law enforcement branches of these agencies, as a result of this coordination, has been most gratifying.

Smuggling

The illicit importation of over 900,000 lottery tickets was prevented during the year. As a result of information regarding a suspected vessel at Portland, Maine, in February 1938, customs officers seized 6 bales containing 368,640 lottery tickets. The officer of the ship, responsible for the importation, and the person who was to receive delivery in this country were both arrested, and after trial were fined $500 and $1,000, respectively. Later, bales containing large numbers of lottery tickets were picked up at various points on the beach.

Two somewhat unusual seizures in Buffalo during April and June 1938 consisted of platinum concentrate, aggregating 71 ounces and valued at $1,509. Chemists, to whom this valuable commodity was offered for sale, became suspicious as to its source, and the subsequent investigation by customs agents resulted in the arrest not only of the middlemen who were attempting to negotiate the sale but also of their principal. The concentrate had been stolen from the Canadian manufacturer by a confederate.

Acting upon information, customs agents discovered in the baggage of an incoming passenger at New York in November 1937 wearing apparel and jewelry to the value of $19,819, purchased in Europe at various times but never included in his previous baggage declarations upon his return to this country. As a result, $31,743 was paid by the defendant, which represented the forfeiture value of most of the merchandise, 75 percent of the personal penalty incurred, and a mitigated penalty on a small portion of the goods seized. This represents the largest seizure and collection during the year for undeclared merchandise in passengers' baggage.

Smugglers of furs, who met with reversals in northern New York in 1937, transferred their activities to Maine during the year. In August 1937 customs patrolmen effected the seizure of 148 silver fox pelts and arrested, near Monticello, Maine, the two men who were carrying them over the border. Four others, subsequently arrested in connection with the conspiracy, have already been sentenced. The pelts were disposed of at public auction for $10,325.

The prevention of the smuggling of livestock represents one of the major activities at certain points along the borders. The illicit introduction of uninspected animals into this country is particularly dangerous because the animals coming from the north are frequently infected with tuberculosis and Bangs disease, and those coming from the south with fever tick. As a result of seizures of Canadian cattle in the St. Lawrence district, one of the worst offenders in northern New York has been indicted, and the cattle auction sales which he had held for years have been discontinued.

As the result of information, an investigation at El Paso resulted in the seizure of 100 gallons of alcohol in November 1937 and the arrest of a Mexican liquor dealer and two of his employees, one of whom received a penitentiary sentence of 20 months. The principal in this case, who for several years had been known as the source of supply for non-tax-paid liquor and alcohol, forfeited a $7,500 bail bond and is now a fugitive from justice.

The largest liquor seizure during the year, consisting of 164 barrels of Bacardi rum aggregating 1,459 gallons, was effected at Newark, N. J., in April 1938, and resulted from the previous exportation to Cuba and the subsequent fraudulent reimportation of the shipment at New Orleans in an effort to secure the lower rates of duty on the products of Cuba. Criminal proceedings will probably be brought against the principals in this case for their conspiracy to defraud the Government.

Enforcement officers continued to give special attention to the smuggling of narcotics and, as a result, important seizures of contraband were made at widely separated points.

Seizures were made of 349 ounces of heroin in August and of 1,012½ ounces of crude opium in September 1937. The former seizure, which was concealed in the bulkhead of a locker in a stateroom, was made by customs guards in the course of their routine search of the vessel. In the latter case, as a result of information supplied by customs agents, the carrier was taken into custody on the high seas by the master of the vessel, and his stateroom sealed until the vessel's arrival in New York, where the carrier and the contraband merchandise were delivered to customs officers. Five arrests and convictions resulted from these two seizures, with sentences ranging from 1 to 15 years.

The detection by a customs guard, in New York in September 1937, of a member of the crew of a trans-Atlantic liner who had three bags of heroin concealed inside a cloth belt underneath his clothing led to the subsequent discovery of 14 additional identical bags concealed at various places on the vessel, the aggregate weight of which was 138 ounces. The carrier is now serving a 5-year sentence for his part in the smuggling operations, but refused to assist in the detection of the principals. A penalty of $7,905, equal to $50 per ounce, was imposed against the master of the vessel in this case.

The baggage examination at Rouses Point, N. Y., in July 1937, of a passenger en route from Europe, revealed 320 ounces of heroin concealed in a secret compartment of his trunk. A confession by the carrier, who later committed suicide, led to the subsequent detection of another carrier at New York with 464 ounces of heroin, also concealed in false compartments of his luggage.

Seizures both of crude and smoking opium along the Mexican border were quite numerous, and the quantity of drugs seized was greatly in excess of seizures during previous years. The largest narcotic seizure in this region was made by customs patrolmen near Sasabe, Ariz., and involved a Mexican customs officer, who had in his possession 512 ounces of crude opium. This officer had abused the courtesy extended to him by American customs officers in allowing him to pass without the customary search of his automobile. The offender and his companion pleaded guilty and were sentenced to 5 and 4 years imprisonment and to fines of $1,000 and $600, respectively.

As the result of the suspicious behavior of a narcotic addict and his companion, both with previous criminal records, customs patrolmen, in February 1938, arrested these men near Nogales, Ariz., on their return from Mexico with 192 ounces of crude opium and smaller quantities of other narcotics in their possession. The cases against these offenders have not yet been tried.

The seizure near Douglas, Ariz., in February 1938, of 294 ounces of smoking opium was effected when the carrier attempted to deliver the contraband to a customs patrol officer, who was posing as the purchaser. The carrier in this case, after pleading guilty, was sentenced to 2 years in prison and fined $400.

The greater number and larger size of narcotic seizures in this region was brought to the attention of the Mexican Government and, as a result of cooperation between Mexican and United States authorities, measures have been taken to suppress the cultivation in Mexico of opium poppies.

The arrest by customs guards at San Francisco in April 1938, of a petty officer of a United States Navy transport, in possession of 540 ounces of smoking opium, led to an investigation which culminated in the successful prosecution of 4 persons. The carrier was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment, and the other persons concerned, including another enlisted man of the Navy, were sentenced to from 2 to 8 years, and fined.

In the routine search of a vessel which had arrived at New York in March 1938, a customs guard discovered two paper packages which contained 141 ounces of heroin concealed in a sack of sawdust. Although at the time of seizure there was nothing to identify the offender, subsequent examination of the crew disclosed sufficient information to cause his arrest and conviction, and he is now serving a 5-year sentence. This case also resulted in the arrest in Belgium of the trafficker who had supplied the narcotics.

One of the largest seizures of marihuana during the year consisted of 854 ounces enclosed in a steel drum which was discovered on a Florida beach. Investigation disclosed that the contraband had been brought from Mexico and had been unladen under cover of darkness by members of the crew of a vessel. The master, long known as a notorious narcotic smuggler, and one of the crew members were convicted and sentenced to prison terms.

The alertness of the acting appraiser at Dayton, Ohio, led to the discovery that machinery invoiced and entered at a value of $6,500 had a true dutiable value of $18,793; this gross undervaluation necessitated the seizure of the importation. This case is but one of the many in which attempts to defraud the Government by this means were detected.

A larger amount of gold illegally brought into this country was seized during the year than during any year since the enactment of the Gold Reserve Act of 1934. In a number of cases, coins or gold dust were brought in through ignorance of the requirement that it should be declared upon entry, and the offense was detected upon its presentation to the Mint or to a licensed dealer for the purpose of sale. In other instances, however, actual smuggling was attempted. An alien, discovered at San Antonio in July 1937 with Mexican gold coins valued at approximately $6,000, had smuggled them across the border wrapped in a bag inside a spare tire in his automobile.

Customs procedure

During the year, the Bureau of Customs participated in the preparation and presentation to Congress of various proposed changes in the administrative provisions of the Tariff Act and related statutes for the purpose of modernizing existing legislation so as to simplify the interpretation of the law, facilitate its administration, and correct certain abuses which had grown up in the past years. These suggestions were incorporated in the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, which was approved by the President on June 25, 1938. (See exhibit 62, page 332.) The passage of this act necessitated many revisions in the Customs Regulations of 1937.

Two trade agreements were entered into during the year, making 17 trade agreements in effect during a greater part of this period. These trade agreements continued to require numerous interpretative decisions by the Bureau. Statutes imposing compensatory taxes on sugar and sugar products and legislation modifying the import taxes imposed by previous revenue acts on lumber and certain oils and oil products also required the issuance of new regulations.

The application of the countervailing duty provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930 to importations from certain foreign countries continued to present many difficult legal questions.

An active part was taken in the preliminary work incident to the issuance of a grant by the Foreign Trade Zone Board under the provisions of the act of June 18, 1934, to operate a foreign trade zone at Mobile, Ala. The zone, which is the second one established, was opened shortly after the end of the fiscal year.

Customs Agency Service

The Customs Agency Service is the investigative unit of the Customs Service and is charged primarily with the duty of preventing and detecting frauds in customs revenue. The officers of this Service are required by the regulations to conduct all investigations involving fraud or violations of the customs laws, and to investigate and report upon all matters brought to their attention by the Secretary of the Treasury, Department officials, the Commissioner of Customs, collectors, and other customs administrative officers, with respect to undervaluation, drawback, classification, smuggling, personnel, customs procedure, and other related subjects. At the close of the year 880 persons were in this Service. The following is a partial summary of the activities of the Customs Agency Service, exclusive of seizures, arrests, and actions connected therewith:

	Number
Investigations of violations of customs laws:
Undervaluation.....	2,359
Marking violations.....	376
Diamond and jewelry smuggling.....	300
Narcotic smuggling.....	1,812
Other smuggling.....	1,612
Touring permits.....	872
Other investigations:
Alleged erroneous customs procedure.....	193
Drawback.....	1,481
Classification and market value.....	646
Customs bonds to determine solvency and sufficiency.....	112
Applications for customhouse brokers' licenses.....	99
Applications for bonded truckmen's licenses.....	114
Petitions for relief.....	550
Personnel.....	286
Navigation violations.....	450
Pilferage of merchandise.....	102
Foreign, by members of domestic service.....	622
Examinations:
Financial accounts of collectors.....	315
Customhouse brokers' records.....	191

In addition to the law enforcement work, illustrations of which have been cited previously, other important aspects of the duties of this Service are outlined in the following paragraphs.

Undervaluation.—Customs agents during the year unearthed and investigated numerous cases of undervaluation and false classification of imported merchandise, with the result that the customs revenue has been materially increased by recoveries, and the violators penalized. The number of undervaluation cases of a criminal nature, involving fraudulent intent, were fewer during the year, due not only to the vigilance of customs agents, but also to the general knowledge that all violations of law and/or irregularities disclosed are being investigated to determine whether or not they may be brought within the provisions of the penal statutes.

The most important case of this type during the past year was that of an importer of watch and clock parts from Switzerland who, during the period from 1934 to 1937, had imported hair springs with collets attached (the collet being a small brass bushing for attaching hair springs to the staff of the balance wheel). These were entered and declared as hair springs without mention of the collets. The examining officers had been requested to be very careful in opening and examining the envelopes containing watch parts so as to avoid as far as possible any deterioration by exposure of the parts to the atmosphere and, for this reason, failed to note that these hair springs had the collets already attached to them. An informer brought this to the attention of customs agents; and upon investigation the collector's office decided that the hair springs with collets attached should be classified as sub-assemblies. The importer paid $173,234 in mitigation of the forfeiture value, which amounted to $259,419.

Drawback investigations.—The importance of the investigation of the claims of manufacturers desiring to establish a rate of drawback is indicated by the fact that $11,841,390 was paid as drawback during the year. In addition to the preliminary investigations, frequent examinations are made to determine whether fraud or misrepresentation has existed in connection with drawback payments and claims.

These investigations resulted in the detection of a number of irregularities and in substantial recoveries by the Government.

Port Examination Commission.—During the year the Port Examination Commission of the Customs Agency Service examined the accounts and procedure in eight customs collection districts for the purpose of securing uniformity and greater efficiency in the conduct of the customs business. In addition, customs agents examined 315 financial accounts of collectors of customs.

Enforcement Unit.—During the first full year of its operation as a part of the Customs Agency Service, the Enforcement Unit demonstrated the wisdom of such an organization. Customs patrolmen were used at seaports when necessary, their activities no longer being limited to the land border. In order to make this unit of wider usefulness, patrolmen received instruction in law enforcement and methods of investigation, and intensive instruction and competition in the use of firearms.

Foreign investigations.—The customs agents in the foreign service, known as Treasury representatives, continued to secure reports regarding foreign values or export values for the use of appraising officers in the United States. In addition, these officers rendered invaluable service in securing information regarding the attempted smuggling of narcotics, jewelry, and other merchandise, which made possible many of the seizures in this country.

Miscellaneous

Customs School of Instruction.—The School of Instruction for the Customs Service, which has now completed the third year of its existence, has an enrollment of over 10,000, including the entire personnel of the Customs Service and officers and employees of about 20 other departments and branches of the Government and of the Philippine Islands.

The instruction, which is conducted entirely by correspondence, is supplemented at many ports by discussions or lectures which are directed or given by expert field officers. It has been found that such discussions and lectures materially increase the employees' knowledge of customs law and procedure.

Appraisal Unit.—In order to promote efficiency and uniformity in the appraisement and classification of imported merchandise, the Appraisal Unit was established on September 1, 1937, when fifteen of the more important appraising officers and the Customs Information Exchange were transferred to this Unit. Subsequently, additional appraising officers were separated from the administrative control of the collectors of customs and placed in the Unit.

The Customs Information Exchange disseminates information of general interest to customs officers, secures special information in response to specific inquiries, and acts as a clearing house of information obtained as the result of foreign investigations. The activities of the exchange during the year are summarized as follows:

	Number
Appraisers' reports of values or classification received.....	13, 846
Appraisement appeals reports received.....	6, 305
Changes in value circulated.....	2, 612
Requests for investigation abroad.....	1, 287
Reports received in response to requests for investigation abroad.....	1, 927
Reports of original investigations by Treasury attachés and price lists from American consuls received and circulated.....	5, 510
Differences in classification of merchandise between the various field officers reported to the Bureau of Customs.....	735

Quota control.—Import quotas, established under the terms of the Canadian trade agreement, Philippine Independence Act, the Philippine Cordage Act, and Executive Orders Nos. 7575, 7701, and 7822, limit the quantity of certain commodities which may be imported within quota periods or may affect the dutiable status of certain other commodities within quota limitations. The control of these quotas is administered by the Bureau of Customs. Periodic information is provided through the press regarding the percentage of fulfillment of each import quota and when the quota on any commodity is approaching fulfillment. Information regarding each of the quotas for the quota periods ended in the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 is summarized in the following table:

Commodities imported under quota provisions during quota periods ended in the fiscal years 1937 and 1938

Division of Laboratories.—During the year, the 9 customs laboratories, located at Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Savannah, analyzed 82,264 samples of merchandise, an increase of 1,279 over last year. These analyses included 35,385 samples of sugar, 13,610 of ores, metals, etc., 5,362 of textiles, 3,796 of fixed oils, fats, etc., and 3,280 of suspected opium and narcotics, the latter representing an increase of 1,973 over the previous year.

A modern chemical laboratory was completed and equipped at Savannah, and plans are now being made to enlarge and modernize the customs laboratory at San Francisco.

Customs chemists assisted in developing a simple "spot test" set for morphine, heroin, etc. Hundreds of these test sets have been distributed to customs officers for their use in determining rapidly whether suspected materials actually contain narcotic drugs. Thirty-nine different methods of laboratory analysis for as many commodities were prepared by individual customs chemists for use in the various laboratories. In order to insure uniformity in analyzing and reporting samples of merchandise, a plan was instituted for sending identical prepared samples to each customs laboratory for a comparative test.

Changes in ports and stations.—One port at Nome, Alaska, and two stations at Lake Linden, Mich., and West Point, Va., were abolished during the year. A new port of entry was designated at Port St. Joe, Fla., made necessary by the erection of a pulp mill using imported materials, and one was designated at Highgate Springs, Vt. The status of the following 23 stations was changed by Executive order to that of ports of entry on July 15, 1937 (T. D. 49029): South Haven, Mich.; Pigeon River Bridge, Pine Creek, and Roseau, Minn.; Dunseith, Fortuna, Maida, and Noonan, N. Dak.; Morgan, Opheim, Peskan, Piegan, Raymond, Roosville, Scobey, Turner, Westby, Whitetail, and Whitlash, Mont.; Lynden and Metaline Falls, Wash.; and Ysleta and Freeport, Tex.

Permanent stations were designated during the year at Port McNicoll, Ont., Crane Lake, Minn., Antelope Wells, N. Mex., Columbia Falls, Mont., Beebe Plain, Vt., and Morses Line, Vt., and some seasonal stations were established at other points. At the end of the year there were 309 ports of entry and 80 permanent stations.

The oversea highway connecting the island of Key West and the mainland of Florida was formally opened toward the close of the fiscal year. The reestablishment of daily ferries for passenger service between Key West and Havana during the coming tourist season is expected to follow the resumption of automobile traffic with the mainland, thus causing Key West to recover at least partially the importance as a port of entry which it possessed before the destruction of all connecting bridges, viaducts, etc., by the hurricane in 1935.

Cost of administration.—The total revenues collected by the Customs Service during the year, including collections for other departments, etc., amounted to $392,057,977, a decrease of $132,213,494 from the previous year. As explained in the preceding pages, the volume of work performed by the Service, instead of following the trend in collections, was even greater than during 1937. The expenses, therefore, increased by $95,010 to $20,610,568 in 1938, causing an increase from $3.91 in 1937 to $5.26 in 1938 in the cost to collect $100.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

The deliveries of currency, securities, stamps, and miscellaneous printings by the Bureau during the year amounted to 420,949,382 sheets, an increase of 5,951,590 sheets over the previous year.

A statement of deliveries of finished work in the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 follows:

During the year a minor change was made in the plates for United States currency and Federal Reserve notes. The plate numbers appearing on the face and back of the notes were enlarged and the series designation was changed by the addition of a letter following the series year. On the $1 silver certificates the series was omitted from the face plates and was overprinted on the notes with the signatures. All other classes and denominations have the series designation engraved in the face plates.

The Bureau's new annex was completed and officially accepted May 17, 1938, and a number of activities were moved into the building between that date and June 30, 1938.

The personnel and activities of the guard force were transferred to the Secret Service Division, effective June 30, 1937.

The gradual diminishing of the plate printing force, due to numerous retirements from that group, occasioned the employment in the latter part of the year of 32 plate printer apprentices, between the ages of 18 and 20 years, to acquire practical knowledge of the different phases of printing, method of preparing and handling paper, inks, etc. These were the first apprentice appointments made since 1918.

Representatives were sent to the philatelic exhibition held at the Benjamin Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, Pa., from May 18 to 26, 1938, to demonstrate the printing of postage stamps.

A committee was formed to make observations and studies of hazardous conditions in the Bureau with the view to the protection of life and property. A fire fighting corps was also organized, which is composed of over 300 employees under the training and supervision of an experienced fireman.

At the beginning of the fiscal year there were on the pay roll 5,047 employees, including 107 who were holding temporary appointments. Increases in the requirements for currency, bonds, and postage stamps required additional personnel so that at the end of the year there were 5,500 employees on the pay roll.

There was expended during the year for salaries and expenses $12,037,336.41, an increase of $1,266,271.41 over the previous year. The following statement shows the appropriations, reimbursements, and expenditures for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938:

<sup>1</sup> Unexpended balance of deficiency appropriation which was available for expenditure to June 30, 1938. The difference between the amount shown as unexpended balance in the year 1937 and the amount available for expenditure in the year 1938 is due to canceling part of purchase order for intaglio ink paste in the amount of $29,049.05 and to several other adjustments.

<sup>2</sup> An additional amount of $8,358.25 received from sale of byproducts and useless property was deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States as miscellaneous receipts.

<sup>3</sup> Includes $9,000 and $11,300 transferred to Bureau of Standards for research work in 1937 and 1938, respectively, and $323,999.22 and $358,421.89 transferred to retirement fund in 1937 and 1938, respectively.

COMMITTEE ON ENROLLMENT AND DISBARMENT

The Committee on Enrollment and Disbarment is an administrative and judicial body. It has charge of the enrollment of attorneys and agents for practice before the Treasury Department and conducts hearings in disbarment proceedings. An attorney, not a member of the committee, represents the Government before the committee. All complaints are filed with the attorney for the Government, who institutes proceedings in disbarment or suspension if the charges warrant such action. The committee also issues licenses to customhouse brokers and makes findings of fact and recommendations to the Secretary in proceedings for the revocation or suspension of such licenses.

The following statement summarizes the work of the committee for the year 1938:

Since the organization in 1921 of the Committee on Enrollment and Disbarment, 50,874 applications for enrollment have been approved and 680 disapproved. One hundred ninety-seven practitioners have been disbarred from further practice before the Treasury Department, 132 have been suspended from practice for various periods, and 172 have been reprimanded.

FEDERAL ALCOHOL ADMINISTRATION <sup>1</sup>

The Federal Alcohol Administration is charged with preventing certain trade practices on the part of alcoholic beverage producers, importers, and wholesalers, with a view to the elimination of "tied" retail outlets, commercial bribery, consignment sales, false or misleading labeling and advertising, bulk distribution of distilled spirits, and interlocking directorates in the distilling and rectifying fields. The Federal Alcohol Administration Act requires that all producers (other than brewers), importers, and wholesale distributors of alcoholic beverages secure permits from the Administration which are conditioned upon compliance with the provisions of the act, the twenty-first amendment and its enforcing laws, and all other Federal alcoholic beverage laws.

Applications for permits on the part of persons entering businesses specified in the act, applications for label approval or exemption to cover new labels or changes in approved labels, and proposals involving amendments to the regulations are continually being received for consideration and appropriate action.

Permit Division

Due to changes in the control of plants and businesses operated under basic permits and to the entry of new members into the industry, the permit functions of the Administration are continually being exercised. Notwithstanding the termination of 1,693 permits, the number of outstanding permits increased by 942 during the year.

The following statement summarizes the activities of the Permit Division for the fiscal year 1938:

<sup>2</sup> Of the 441 distillers' basic permits, 87 merely authorize the operation under lease of existing distilleries, and the remaining 354 permits cover actual authorized distilling plants.

In addition to the above activities, 1,204 basic permits were amended during the year involving principally changes in corporate or trade names and changes in the location of plants or businesses covered by basic permits.

Label Examination Division

For the purpose of providing adequate information and preventing deception to the consumer with respect to the labeling of alcoholic beverages, the Federal Alcohol Administration Act provides that all bottled distilled spirits and wine shipped in interstate commerce, or imported into the United States, must be covered by certificates of label approval issued by the Administrator. Similar certificates are required for labels of malt beverages shipped into a State having regulations similar to those of the Administration.

Certificates of exemption from label approval may be issued for labels of wine or distilled spirits bottled within a State for intrastate sale only. However, if the State in which the product is bottled has regulations similar to those of the Administration, exemption certificates are not issued as such certificates would serve no useful purpose.

Although there was a marked decrease in the label applications filed during the year for both domestic and imported products, the filing of applications continued heavy. Competition in the industry and new private brands were important elements contributing to the large number of applications. As heretofore, the large majority of applications covered domestic distilled spirits and wine. During the year an average of more than 2,400 label applications were acted on per week.

The following table shows the action of the Administrator on applications for label approval for distilled spirits, wine, and malt beverages, both domestic and imported, and certificates of exemption for label approval during the fiscal year:

Label activities, fiscal year 1938

	Distilled spirits	Wine	Malt beverages	Total

Grand total.....	63,780	60,398	1,420	125,598

<sup>2</sup>The certificates of limited approval were issued only for labels of distilled spirits and wine entered into customs custody prior to the effective dates of the regulations. These certificates were issued for labels not in exact conformity with the regulations, but only if such labels contained all the mandatory information required and did not include any information considered false or misleading.

Statistics and Reports Division

This Division supervises the proper filing of the monthly reports of operations required from importers, distillers, rectifiers, and proprietors of internal revenue bonded warehouses holding warehousing and bottling basic permits; compiles from these reports statistical releases which are disseminated from time to time by the Administration; prepares special statistical information requested by members of the liquor industry and others; and assists in the preparation of data used in connection with proceedings for revocation of basic permits because of inactivity.

Enforcement Division

During the year the Enforcement Division conducted 3,058 investigations, of which 539 were made at the request of the Permit Division and involved inquiries into the personnel of permit applicants; 12 were undertaken in connection with cases involving possible annulment of permits which the Administration had reason to believe might have been issued on the basis of erroneous statements in applications; and 2,507 were investigations of alleged violations of the restrictive provisions of the act. This situation shows some change from the previous year, in that fewer permit investigations were required, some annulment cases were developed, and the number of violation cases increased.

In connection with the enforcement of the advertising regulations, the Division reviewed 158,824 advertisements and took action on 2,260 which involved various types of irregularities. In the field 114 investigations were conducted on advertising matters, all other action being initiated and carried out in the Washington office.

Legal Division

The Legal Division, under the General Counsel for the Federal Alcohol Administration, acts as legal adviser to the Administrator in all matters pertaining to the Administration, in the holding of industry hearings, in the drafting of regulations pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, in interpretations relating thereto, and in advising the industry in respect to compliance therewith; prosecutes, on behalf of the Administration, all complaints issued against permittees for violations of the conditions of their permits, and assists in the defense of cases involving litigation brought against the Administration or in its behalf; reviews all correspondence of a legal nature; and prepares all rulings and orders of the Administrator.

The Legal Division conducts all proceedings against permittees in matters relating to applications for basic permits and to violations of the act and regulations. The Administration's hearing officers hold hearings from time to time throughout the country, and make findings of fact and recommendations to the Administrator in respect to the cases under consideration. When exceptions to the findings of fact made by the hearing officers are filed by permittees, such exceptions are argued and presented to the Administrator on behalf of the Administration.

<sup>2</sup>Does not include 507 offers approved by the Attorney General during the year but submitted prior thereto.

The consideration of proposed changes in the Administration's regulations involved the holding, after due notice, of six public hearings, the study of the evidence received, and the preparation of the amendments.

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE <sup>1</sup>

General

Internal revenue collections.—Total collections of internal revenue during the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 are shown in the following summary, classified according to the administrative organization responsible for the tax. A detailed statement of collections appears in table 11, page 425 of this report.

Summary of internal revenue collections, fiscal years 1937 and 1938

<sup>1</sup> Excludes refunds from the trust fund set up for Philippine coconut oil tax collections, $205,613.63 covering 570 claims for 1937 and $184,891.63 covering 759 claims for 1938.

NOTE.—The figures in this table will not agree with those given in later sections of this report for the reason that the amounts shown in the later sections relate to claims disposed of by the units, whereas this table shows the actual payments made.

If the tax refunds made during the fiscal year 1938 on account of erroneous or illegal collections of internal revenue and agricultural adjustment taxes and payments for export drawbacks and redemption of stamps, amounting to $44,758,499.45, were deducted from the gross collections of $5,658,765,314.33, the net collection for the fiscal year 1938 would be $5,614,006,814.88. Gross collections, however, are used for comparative purposes in these reports.

Additional assessments.—The additional assessments resulting from office audits and field investigations made during the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 were as follows:

Additional assessments, fiscal years 1937 and 1938, by class of tax

Class of tax	1937	1938

Cost of administration.—The amount of $58,290,520 was appropriated for the fiscal year 1938 for salaries and expenses in connection with the assessment and collection of internal revenue taxes and the administration of the internal revenue laws. The expenditures and obligations against this appropriation were $58,204,050, leaving an unexpended balance of $86,470. The expenditures do not include amounts expended for refunding taxes illegally or erroneously collected and for redeeming stamps. The cost of collecting a total of $5,658,765,314 during the year was $1.03 per $100, compared with $1.12 per $100 for 1937.

During the year $7,578,906 was transferred from the Department of Agriculture for salaries and administrative expenses in connection with making refunds authorized by titles IV and VII of the Revenue Act of 1936. The amount expended and obligated from this fund amounted to $3,354,264, leaving an unexpended balance of $4,224,642, of which $4,200,000 is available for such salaries and expenses for 1939.

During the year $1,127,469 was transferred from the appropriation of the Social Security Board for salaries and administrative expenses in connection with the verification of social security information returns. The amount expended and obligated from this fund amounted to $1,122,410, leaving an unexpended balance of $5,059.

There was allocated during the year to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, from funds appropriated in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937, $1,381,309 for work relief projects. Obligations incurred for these projects amounted to $1,337,819.

Income Tax Unit

The work of the Income Tax Unit relates to the administration of the internal revenue laws with reference to taxes on income, excess-profits of corporations, excess-profits on Navy contracts, unjust enrichment tax, and refunds of certain processing taxes. The Unit also is required to make field examinations, when necessary, of returns filed under title IX of the Social Security Act.

Returns.—All income tax returns except those filed on Form 1040A are audited by the Income Tax Unit. Returns filed on Form 1040A

(returns of individuals reporting income, chiefly from salaries and wages, of less than $5,000) are audited in the collectors' offices under the supervision of the Accounts and Collections Unit.

Of the 2,718,442 returns examined and closed by the Washington and field offices during the year, including 4,318 returns closed by decision of the Board of Tax Appeals, 1,975,358 were filed by individuals and partnerships and 743,084 by corporations. In 193,120 cases, deficiencies were listed based upon agreements executed by taxpayers consenting to the immediate assessment and collection of the additional tax determined. This represented 94 percent of the cases in which deficiency taxes were proposed for assessment.

The following table shows, by tax years, the number of returns received and closed by the Washington and field offices during the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 and the number pending at the beginning and close of each year:

Back taxes.—The additional revenue made available for collection (exclusive of jeopardy assessments) was $205,862,242.14 for 1938, compared with $242,761,873.77 for the previous year. The field forces of the Income Tax Unit secured agreements to the assessment and collection of $93,797,011.08, of which $53,877,036.42 was immediately assessed under the provisions of mimeograph 3552, while $151,985,205.72 was assessed after consideration in Washington.

The additional revenues are classified in the following table to show the amounts involved as additional tax, interest, and penalty, and the procedure involved in reaching a settlement with the taxpayers.

Additional taxes were also assessed under the jeopardy provisions of the several revenue acts, as follows:

The amount involved in claims filed during the year 1938 was $100,546,057.18, compared with $81,264,584.17 the preceding year. Of the claims adjusted during the year, the amount rejected totaled $78,587,465.81, compared with $132,928,177.19 the preceding year.

There were also allowed 17,308 collectors' claims, final action on which resulted in 15,407 abatements or credits and 1,901 refunds. These claims were largely multiple item claims or claims for refund to numbers of taxpayers, and involved 31,632 items for abatement or credit and 126,107 items for refund.

Final notices of deficiency (90-day letters).—During the year 10,241 final notices of deficiency were mailed to taxpayers, compared with 11,989 the previous year.

Petitions were filed with the Board of Tax Appeals in 5,881 cases involving 58 percent of the returns with respect to which 90-day letters had been issued. The following table shows the number of returns by tax years involved in petitions filed with the Board of Tax Appeals during the fiscal years 1937 and 1938:

Audit in the field.—During the fiscal year, 750,714 returns were sent to the field divisions which, with the 493,146 on hand at the beginning of the year, made a total of 1,243,860. Of this number 695,580 were disposed of, leaving a balance of 548,280 returns pending June 30, 1938. Of the returns disposed of 429,601, or 62 percent, were investigated, 233,975 were returned to Washington without examination, and 32,004 were transferred to other divisions or to collectors' offices for investigation.

Changes in tax liability were recommended by the field forces in 258,998, or 60 percent, of the returns audited. In 229,729, or 89 percent, of the changed returns, taxpayers reached agreements with the field agents, consenting to the immediate assessment and collection of deficiencies amounting to $93,797,011.08 and the allowance of overassessments amounting to $16,053,703.57.

Total deficiencies recommended by the field forces amounted to $282,322,939.61, and overassessments recommended amounted to $23,520,556.40, leaving net deficiencies of $258,802,383.21.

Changes in organization and procedure.—In order that the field force might commence the examination of the larger and more important income tax returns at an early date following filing, agents in charge were directed to requisition those returns which they deemed of sufficient consequence to justify immediate attention. A total of 17,591 such returns was requisitioned and facilities were provided in the collectors' offices and in the Bureau to expedite the movement of those returns to the field.

To accelerate the examination and closing of income tax returns in the field, instructions were issued on April 15, 1938, to establish in each internal revenue agent's division an office audit section to which were to be assigned returns susceptible to closing upon the basis of an interview in the field office or by correspondence with the taxpayer.

Instructions were released requiring that 30-day letters advising taxpayers of proposed changes in tax liability be sent by registered mail, and that return receipts be demanded in each case. This rule was established in association with the extension of authority to agents in charge to release statutory notices of deficiency under certain conditions.

All internal revenue agents in charge, operating under standard procedure as distinguished from trial procedure, were authorized to issue 90-day letters where after protest the deficiency determined is $300 or less, and where taxpayers, regardless of the amounts of the deficiency proposed in preliminary letters, fail to respond or merely acknowledge receipt of the letters without protesting the determinations.

A new division was established in the Income Tax Unit on June 1, 1938, to administer, beginning July 1, 1938, those claims for refund of processing taxes and related floor stock tax claims requiring field investigation, previously administered by the Processing Tax Division of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit. The new division is also responsible for the disposition of all unjust enrichment tax returns. Arrangements have been made to appoint a substantial number of general deputy collectors for assignment in thirteen regional districts to expedite this work.

Miscellaneous Tax Unit

The work of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit relates to the administration of all internal revenue taxes except the income and excess-profits taxes, the taxes applicable to alcoholic beverages, and those imposed under the Social Security Act and under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937. The taxes under title VIII of the Social Security Act and those under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, administered in 1937 by the Miscellaneous Tax Unit and subsequently by the Social Security Tax Unit, were consolidated on April 1, 1938, with the Accounts and Collections Unit.

The special field force, under the supervision of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit, continued to produce excellent results in connection with investigations of the manufacturers' excise and other miscellaneous taxes.

The collections of miscellaneous taxes for the fiscal year 1938 amounted to $1,719,054,447, an increase of $105,726,942 over the previous year's collections (exclusive of collections under title VIII of the Social Security Act and under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937). More detailed statements concerning the various miscellaneous taxes will be found under the titles of the various divisions of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit.

Estate Tax Division.—Collections of estate tax for the year 1938 amounted to $382,175,326, exceeding collections for 1937 by $100,539,343. This increase in collections reflected the higher rates of tax and the lowered exemption provided in the Revenue Act of 1935, as this was the first full year in which returns were filed under that act. The collections, however, were adversely affected by the optional valuation clause contained in the Revenue Act of 1935 which permits the assets of an estate to be valued either as of the date of death or as of a date one year subsequent to the date of death. The election to have the assets of an estate valued on the lower basis was taken in 2,411 returns and operated to reduce the collections of estate tax by approximately $27,000,000. Collections of gift tax amounted to $34,698,739, an increase of $10,786,956 over the previous year. The collection of approximately $30,000,000 in estate tax and $5,500,000 in gift tax was withheld pending the adjudication of appeals filed with the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

The assessments of deficiencies in estate tax for the year amounted to $47,222,255, and the assessments of deficiencies in gift tax amounted to $7,773,128. The number of returns of estate tax increased from 15,244 in 1937 to 17,794 in 1938, while the number of returns of gift tax decreased from 17,046 in 1937 to 16,601 in 1938.

The administrative work in connection with estate tax and gift tax returns is summarized in the following table:

The refunds of estate tax recommended for payment during the year, including interest, amounted to $4,591,074, which included $975,916 of judgment claims. The refunds of gift tax recommended for payment, including interest, amounted to $544,248.

The table which follows presents a summary of the action taken in connection with estate and gift tax claims received and disposed of during the year:

Tobacco Division.—Collections of tobacco taxes for the year amounted to $568,181,968, which is the largest annual collection from this source since these taxes were first imposed. Of this amount, $493,432,960 was collected from the taxes on small cigarettes.

A detailed comparison of the tobacco taxes collected during the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 is shown in table 11, page 425 of this report.

Bituminous Coal and Silver Tax Division.—The Bituminous Coal and Silver Tax Division is concerned with the administration of the taxes imposed under the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and the Silver Purchase Act of 1934.

Collections of the tax imposed under the Bituminous Coal Act amounted to $3,211,601 for the fiscal year 1938, and the returns filed by producers in accordance with the provisions of the act totaled 48,765.

The following table summarizes the action taken in connection with coal tax claims received and disposed of during the year:

Tax collections under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 amounted to $142,107 for the year as compared with $633,712 for the previous year.

Sales Tax Division.—The collections from taxes administered by the Sales Tax Division amounted to $560,727,010, a decrease of $56,665,626 as compared with collections for the preceding year. The decrease in collections is reflected principally in the manufacturers' excise taxes and the documentary stamp taxes.

A summary of these collections for 1937 and 1938 follows. A detailed comparison for these years is shown in table 11, page 425.

During the year 11,038 field reports and 549,719 sales tax returns were examined in the Bureau.

The Sales Tax Division completes assessments, schedules claims and overassessments, and passes on offers in compromise not only for this Division but also for the Estate, Tobacco, and Capital Stock Tax Divisions. During the year $1,130,498,554, representing 1,078,104 items, was approved by the Commissioner on the 2,832 miscellaneous assessment lists, which included original and additional assessments of all miscellaneous internal revenue taxes.

The number of offers in compromise submitted in settlement of liabilities incurred in connection with sales, tobacco, estate, gift, narcotics, capital stock, and miscellaneous stamp and special taxes, and the aggregate amounts thereof, received and disposed of, are shown in the following table:

Capital Stock Tax Division.—The collections of capital stock tax during the year amounted to $139,348,567, which represents the largest amount ever collected from this source, exceeding the collections for 1937 by $1,849,321. Under the provisions of the Revenue

Act of 1935, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1936, corporations were required to show an adjusted declared value on their 1937 capital stock tax returns based on the original declared value reported on the return for the previous year. The adjustments provided by the act reflected only those transactions during the corporations' income-tax taxable years ended on or prior to June 30, 1937. The fact that the original declarations reported on the 1936 capital stock tax returns were comparatively high, together with substantial earnings and other additional adjustments reported by numerous corporations, accounts in part for the increase in capital stock tax collections during the year. Returns were received as follows: 419,989 taxable and 117,574 nontaxable domestic corporation returns, and 459 taxable and 255 nontaxable foreign corporation returns, a total of 538,277. Of the total number of returns received 33,349 were filed by new corporations incorporated subsequent to June 30, 1936, and 40,197 were delinquent returns covering the years 1933-36, inclusive. There were 11,872 affiliated groups of corporations which filed 49,801 returns. Twelve of the largest of these groups paid in excess of $15,000,000 during the fiscal year.

The claims for refund and abatement of capital stock taxes, penalties, and interest, received and adjusted in the Capital Stock Tax Division, are shown in the following table:

Processing Tax Division.—The Processing Tax Division is concerned principally with the adjustment of claims for refund or payment authorized under sections 601 and 602 of title IV and those claims under title VII of the Revenue Act of 1936 not requiring field investigations by officers under internal revenue agents. Effective July 1, 1938, the administrative functions relating to the claims under title VII were transferred to a new division established in the Income Tax Unit.

The following table shows the claims on hand at the beginning of the year, those received and disposed of, and those on hand at the close of the year:

The Processing Tax Division is also responsible for the administration of the tax imposed on the manufacture of sugar under the provisions of title IV of the Sugar Act of 1937. This tax became effective September 1, 1937, and from that date to June 30, 1938, 1,283 monthly returns were filed by manufacturers, and the tax collected amounted to $30,569,130.

Alcohol Tax Unit

Collections of the liquor taxes amounted to $567,978,601 in 1938, compared with $594,245,086 in the previous year, a decrease of $26,266,485. Details of these collections will be found in the table on page 425.

On June 30, 1938, the following number of legitimate producers and distributors of alcohol and alcoholic beverages and users of tax-free alcohol were under the supervision of the Alcohol Tax Unit:

Enforcement Division.—The Enforcement Division is responsible for the investigation, detection, and prevention of willful and fraudulent violations of the internal revenue laws relating to distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors.

During the year, 11,407 stills were seized, having an aggregate mash capacity of 1,917,785 gallons, and in connection therewith 7,553,848 gallons of mash were seized and destroyed. The investigators also seized 344,668 gallons of spirits and 4,225 automobiles and trucks. The total appraised value of the property seized amounted to $2,599,999. Arrests were made of 25,867 persons for Federal liquor law violations. Compared with the previous fiscal year, still seizures declined 29 percent, mash seizures declined 39 percent, and arrests declined 12 percent, which reflects the effectiveness of the Unit's enforcement program. This is the first year since the enactment of the twenty-first amendment and the repeal of the National Prohibition Act that there has been a substantial decline in illicit distillery seizures. There were 520 major conspiracy cases investigated, and in 402 conspiracy cases terminated by court action, 2,040 defendants were convicted, involving some of the most notorious racketeers engaged in the illicit liquor traffic.

Field Inspection Division.—This Division examines applications for the establishment of industrial alcohol plants, alcohol bonded warehouse and denaturing plants, rectifying plants, distilleries, and internal revenue bonded warehouses; reviews qualifying documents submitted in connection with the establishment of breweries and wineries, and inspects producing and processing plants throughout the United States to determine whether Bureau policy and the technical requirements of governing law and regulations are being complied with.

The Division is responsible for the planning, coordination, and supervision of the inspection service of the 15 supervisory districts, which are under the jurisdiction of the district supervisors; provides for the general instruction of the inspectors and storekeeper-gaugers; and assigns, directs, and supervises a group of technically trained field inspectors operating directly from the headquarters office.

There were 17,068 examinations of plats, plans, and other documents, and 64,884 inspections of plants and permittees made during the year.

Laboratory Division.—The Laboratory Division comprises a central laboratory in Washington, D. C., and 15 branch laboratories located throughout the country which perform the chemical work for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Bureau of Narcotics, and the Federal Alcohol Administration. During the year the Division also rendered substantial aid to the Secret Service, Procurement Division, and the Bureau of Customs. There were 67,743 samples examined in the branch laboratories, compared with 75,005 for the previous year. The Washington laboratory examined 8,526 samples, compared with 8,880 during the previous year.

Audit Division.—This Division conducts the plant operation, tax accounting, assessment, claim, and compromise work of the Alcohol Tax Unit.

During the year, 10,372 reports of violations of the internal revenue laws pertaining to alcoholic liquors by illicit operators were received from the field offices and audited, and tax liabilities disclosed thereby were assessed, including ad valorem penalties. There were also certified to the Commissioner for assessment 15,872 items totaling $5,371,653, listed in the Bureau, and 149,695 items aggregating $60,126,182, listed by collectors.

On July 1, 1937, there were on hand 728 offers in compromise aggregating $43,920, and during the year 18,830 offers in compromise amounting to $1,412,518 were received. Of the 19,558 offers in compromise to be disposed of, 17,441 aggregating $879,901, were accepted, 995 totaling $428,468 were rejected, 373 were forwarded to the Department of Justice, and 243 were returned to the field offices, leaving 506 on hand at the end of the year.

Procedure Division.—Regulations relating to the bottling in bond of distilled spirits were revised during the year and the stamp requirements considerably simplified. Bottled-in-bond stamps have heretofore been overprinted at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing with the name of the producer of the spirits and the age and bottling season. This overprint will hereafter be done locally, and the stamps may now be purchased from the collector without any delay.

Alcohol Tax Section of the Office of the General Counsel.—This section handles the legal work arising in connection with the administration and enforcement of the internal revenue liquor laws.

During the year, there were prepared 7,723 memoranda, 287 briefs, 5,370 opinions, 57 parole cases, 318 libels, and 18 indictments. Review work included 7,447 case reports, 130 claims of over $5,000 each, and 19,262 compromise cases. In addition, 111 revocation cases were handled, and 655 petitions for remission or mitigation of forfeitures were examined and finally passed upon.

Accounts and Collections Unit

The Accounts and Collections Unit is the central administrative organization for the 64 internal revenue collection districts and makes the administrative audit of all expenditures for the Internal Revenue Service. On April 1, 1938, the Social Security Tax Unit which administered the taxes under the Social Security Act and under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 from July 1, 1937, to March 31, 1938, was consolidated with this Unit.

There were 25,584,889 tax returns filed in collectors' offices during the fiscal year, an increase of 10,326,902 over the previous year. Of the total returns filed, 7,616,196 in 1938 were income tax returns, an increase of 880,742 during the year. The remainder of the increase was in the number of returns filed under titles VIII and IX of the Social Security Act.

During the fiscal year 55,882 income tax, 14,056 miscellaneous tax, and 320,467 social security tax returns were investigated by field deputy collectors, and 7,683,746 information returns were verified. At the close of business June 30, 1938, there were outstanding in the 64 collection districts 7,416 income tax returns and 6,658,256 information returns were on hand.

Deputy collectors of internal revenue served 179,090 warrants for distraint, which resulted in the collection of $40,393,267. An average of 2,688 deputy collectors made 2,745,923 revenue-producing investigations, including the serving of warrants for distraint, compared with 805,089 investigations made by an average of 1,967 deputy collectors in the preceding year. The total amount collected and reported for assessment by deputy collectors was $92,709,897, compared with $77,660,684 in the previous year. The average number of investigations made per deputy and the average amount of tax collected and reported for assessment were 1,022 and $34,490, respectively, compared with 409 and $39,482, respectively, in 1937. There were 123,780 warrants for distraint in the custody of the collectors' field forces on June 30, 1938, compared with 53,270 on June 30, 1937.

A total of 12,064,313,036 revenue stamps, valued at $1,113,890,080.62 was issued to collectors of internal revenue and the Postmaster General during the year, compared with 12,345,394,029 stamps, valued at $1,180,122,453.59, issued during 1937. Revenue stamps returned by collectors of internal revenue and by the Postmaster General, and credited to their accounts, amounted to $30,692,051.01. There were 755 applications allowed for restamping packages from which the original stamps had been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, compared with 301 applications in the preceding year.

Taxes under title VIII of the Social Security Act.—Collections for 1938 under title VIII of the Social Security Act amounted to $502,918,025, an increase of $295,578,934 over the previous year. Collections include both the employees' tax and the employers' tax, each of which was imposed at the rate of one percent of taxable wages paid.

Under Regulations 91, relating to the taxes imposed by title VIII, each employer was required to make a tax return on Form SS-1 for each month of the calendar year 1937. Those regulations, as amended by Treasury Decision 4769, approved October 15, 1937, provided for two six-month information returns from the employer for the calendar year on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a. A separate Form SS-2a for each employee was required, showing the amount of taxable wages paid to him. The employer executed Form SS-2, a summary to accompany the reports on Form SS-2a. Each information return was checked in the offices of collectors against copies of the six monthly tax returns of the employer for the same period. Upon completion of the audit, the information returns were forwarded to the Social Security Board in order that the wages as reported for each employee might be credited to his account, for use by the Board in computing old-age benefits to which the employee or his estate will later become entitled under title II of the Social Security Act.

Treasury Decision 4778, approved November 23, 1937, further amended Regulations 91 so as to require a combined tax and information return on Form SS-1a, to be made by employers at quarterly intervals, payment of the taxes under title VIII falling due at the same time. The first quarterly return period began on January 1, 1938. The combined return has simplified the reporting from the standpoint of the employer, and has resulted in a substantial reduction in the administrative expense entailed in handling and auditing the returns in collectors' offices. Furthermore, the period from the receipt of the returns until the information portion thereof is forwarded to the Social Security Board has been materially reduced.

There were 13,604,481 monthly returns on Form SS-1 and 1,728,215 quarterly returns on Form SS-1a filed during the fiscal year, compared with 5,970,261 monthly returns on Form SS-1 filed during the preceding year.

In addition to the above, 36,997,628 Forms SS-2a for the 6-month period ended June 30, 1937, and 38,101,707 Forms SS-2a for the 6-month period ended Dec. 31, 1937, were forwarded to the Social Security Board.

Monthly tax returns on Form SS-1 filed prior to November 1, 1937, had been transmitted by collectors to the Bureau for audit. As of November 1, 1937, the audit of these returns was transferred from the Bureau in Washington to collectors' offices. Returns on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a and on Form 22-1a have from their inception been audited in collectors' offices.

The following table sets forth information relative to claims adjusted under title VIII of the Social Security Act:

Claims under title VIII of the Social Security Act received and adjusted, fiscal year 1938

Claims:	Number
Filed during year	21,811
Received from other sources	33
Total to be adjusted	21,844

Refund	44,723.65
Total	201,815.13
Interest	2,381.32
Grand total	204,226.45

There were also allowed 98 collectors' claims recommending refunds of $1,828.98, plus interest of $76.19. Of the claims adjusted during the year, the amount rejected totaled $84,202.61.

Tax under title IX of the Social Security Act.—The tax under title IX of the Social Security Act is imposed on employers of eight or more, at the rate of 1 percent of taxable wages payable with respect to employment for 1936 and 2 percent for 1937. Collections for 1938 amounted to $90,266,534, an increase of $32,147,220 over the previous year. There were 339,651 returns filed during the fiscal year, as compared with 264,983 filed during the preceding fiscal year.

The return for each calendar year is due on January 31, following the close of the year, unless an extension is granted under the provisions of section 905 (b) of the act. While a general extension to April 1, 1937, was granted to all taxpayers for 1936, extensions for 1937 were granted only upon application by the employer.

Against the tax imposed under title IX a taxpayer is entitled to a credit (not exceeding 90 percent of the tax) for contributions paid to unemployment funds under a State law approved and certified by the Social Security Board to the Secretary of the Treasury, if such contributions are paid before the date the Federal return is required to be filed. An exception to the foregoing was provided by section 810 of the Revenue Act of 1938, under which credit against the tax for 1936 is allowable for contributions for that year paid on or before July 26, 1938. In view of this provision of the Revenue Act of 1938 it was necessary to reaudit the 1936 returns of taxpayers who had paid contributions to the States subsequent to March 31, 1937, and as a result 3,200 certificates of overassessment amounting to $360,720 were issued and 7,800 returns for 1936 were accepted as filed that otherwise would have resulted in tax due the Federal Government in the amount of $1,066,513.

For the year 1936 there were 35 States and the District of Columbia having unemployment compensation laws certified by the Board, and for the year 1937 there were 48 States, the District of Columbia, and the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii with laws so certified.

The number of title IX returns (annual) received and closed by the Bureau during the fiscal year 1938 and the number pending at the beginning and close of the year, by tax years, are shown in the following table:

Tax year	On hand July 1, 1937	Received during year	Closed dur- ing year	On hand June 30, 1938

Total.....	192, 557	377, 817	270, 267	300, 107

The Bureau submitted 1,572 returns to the field for investigation during the year. Independent of these cases, the field force submitted reports, prepared in connection with income tax investigations, in 1,874 cases, of which 1,368 were closed in the Bureau.

The following table sets forth information relative to claims adjusted and certificates of overassessment issued under title IX of the Social Security Act:

There were also allowed 511 collectors' claims recommending refunds of $23,571.67, plus interest of $1,008.79. Of the claims adjusted during the year, the amount rejected totaled $221,840.24.

Taxes under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937.—Collections of employers' tax and employees' tax under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, approved June 29, 1937, amounted to $149,434,336. Each tax was imposed at the rate of 2¼ percent of the taxable compensation. Collections of employee representatives' tax, which was imposed at the rate of 5½ percent of the taxable compensation, amounted to $41,330. There were 20,558 returns on Form CT-1 filed by employers, and 871 returns on Form CT-2 filed by employee representatives. The returns due during the year covered the following three return periods, for each of which a separate return was required: 9-month period ended September 30, 1937; 3-month period ended December 31, 1937; and 3-month period ended March 31, 1938. The following table shows the number of returns received and closed by the Bureau during the year and the number on hand on June 30, 1938:

There were also allowed four collectors' claims recommending refunds of $325.87, plus interest of $9.04. Of the claims adjusted during the year, the amount rejected totaled $178,990.33.

Technical Staff

The principal function of the Technical Staff is to settle tax disputes and thus avoid the uncertainty, expense, and delay incident to the litigation of complicated tax questions. Accordingly, the Staff considers proposals for settlement of income, estate, and gift tax liabilities as asserted in deficiency notices issued under the various revenue acts. It cooperates closely with the Office of the Chief Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the consideration and disposition of the petitions filed by taxpayers with the United States Board of Tax Appeals for the redetermination of such deficiencies. The Staff also considers certain classes of compromise cases of income tax and applications filed for extensions of time within which to pay income taxes, and reviews in behalf of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue final closing agreements executed pursuant to section 606 of the Revenue Act of 1928, as amended.

On July 1, 1937, the Staff in Washington had on hand 4,213 income, estate, and gift tax dockets pending before the United States Board of Tax Appeals. During the year it received 3,356 such dockets, and disposed of 4,717, leaving a balance of 2,852 on June 30, 1938. During the year it considered to a conclusion 3,159 Board cases, of which 1,570 cases were settled by agreement. In addition, the Los Angeles Division of the Technical Staff settled 122 docketed cases from March 1 to June 30, 1938. The deficiencies proposed in cases settled by the Staff, including the Los Angeles Division, totaled $27,677,685.59, and the recomputed deficiencies amounted to $12,368,890.84.

On July 1, 1937, the Staff had on hand 78 Board dockets involving personal holding company surtaxes and the accumulation of surplus to evade surtaxes; during the year 45 were received and 80 were disposed of, leaving 43 on hand on June 30, 1938. The Staff considered to a conclusion 68 of these special cases, 40 of which were settled by agreement involving asserted deficiencies of $5,055,177.92 and recomputed deficiencies of $1,570,140.14.

The figures for the income, estate, and gift tax dockets and for the dockets involving personal holding company surtaxes and the accumulation of surplus to evade surtaxes represent the results of consideration of Board cases by the Staff on its own responsibility and do not reflect the work of the circuit settlement groups composed of attorneys of the Office of the Chief Counsel and of members and field representatives of the Technical Staff. During the year 2,168 Board cases were settled by the joint action of these groups.

The Staff had on hand on July 1, 1937, 249 ninety-day cases; during the year 959 were received and 1,021 were disposed of, leaving 187 on hand on June 30, 1938. Of the cases disposed of, 591 were closed without the filing of appeals with the United States Board of Tax Appeals and involved proposed deficiencies of $5,965,013.06 and revised deficiencies assessed in the total amount of $3,120,797.23.

On July 1, 1937, the Staff had on hand 683 compromise cases, and during the year received 964 cases and disposed of 1,195, leaving a balance of 452 on June 30, 1938.

There were 27 extension of time cases on hand at the beginning of the year; during the year 252 were received and 257 were disposed of, leaving 22 on hand on June 30, 1938.

With respect to closing agreement cases, 27 were on hand for review July 1, 1937, 146 were received and 165 disposed of during the year, leaving a balance of 8 cases on June 30, 1938.

During the year the field representatives of the Staff at Cleveland, Dallas, and San Francisco collaborated with the attorney of the Chief Counsel's office in the settlement of cases in which deficiency notices were issued by the internal revenue agents in charge at those points. A total of 112 income, estate, and gift tax cases, both docketed and in the "90-day" status, were considered, and 43 were settled involving proposed deficiencies of $92,112.62, and agreed settlement deficiencies of $53,846.78.

The program for the decentralization of the appellate procedure for the administrative settlement of disputed income, excess-profits, and estate tax cases was inaugurated on March 1, 1938, by the establishment of the Los Angeles Division of the Technical Staff. A discussion of this program will be found on page 51.

Office of the Chief Counsel

The activities of the Office of the Chief Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue embrace the whole field of Federal taxation in connection with the preparation and presentation to the United States Board of Tax Appeals of defense in all appeals; the review of refunds, credits, and abatement in excess of $20,000; the deciding and advising in various administrative and internal revenue tax matters referred by the Secretary of the Treasury, the Under Secretary, or an Assistant Secretary, the General Counsel for the Department of the Treasury, the Commissioner or the assistant to the Commissioner, the heads of the administrative units of the Bureau, collectors of internal revenue, other branches of the Government, and individual correspondence; the preparation at the request of the Department of Justice or of the United States attorneys of data for use in the prosecution or defense of tax cases (civil and criminal) in suit, and otherwise complying with their requests for assistance in such cases; and the preparation, revision, and publication of regulations, Treasury decisions, mimeographs, and rulings, for the guidance of the officers and employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and others interested. The office is divided into six divisions, viz, Appeals, Civil, Interpretative, Penal, Review, and Legislation and Regulations.

The Chief Counsel's committee, consisting of four members, serves in an advisory capacity to the Chief Counsel, Assistant Chief Counsel, general assistants, and special assistants, who refer to the committee cases from all divisions of the office. The committee considers these cases and makes written recommendations as to their proper disposition. Since February 1938, the committee has been charged with the final review of cases involving compromises, closing agreements, and extensions of time for payment of tax, previous to their being sent to the Secretary of the Treasury for his approval. At the beginning of the year the committee had on hand 13 cases; during the year it received 722 and disposed of 695, leaving 40 cases pending at the close of the year.

The Reorganization Section is charged with the duty of protecting the interests and claims of the United States in bankruptcy and receivership proceedings, including particularly proceedings instituted under sections 77 and 77B of the Bankruptcy Act.

In the 466 corporate reorganization cases closed under sections 77 and 77B during the year, claims were filed in the amount of $9,888,-402.98 and were settled for $2,455,352.48. In addition to these there were 854 cases closed in which no tax claims were filed.

In the 1,730 cases closed relating to bankruptcy and receivership, claims were filed in the amount of $5,865,693.25, and $2,490,541.36 was collected.

Appeals Division.—This Division has immediate charge for the Commissioner of all cases involving income, excess-profits, unjust enrichment, estate, and gift taxes filed before the United States Board of Tax Appeals and all cases involving refunds of processing and related taxes pending before the Processing Tax Board of Review, including those appealed to the appellate courts. The Division prepares all of the pleadings in such cases and appears for and represents the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at the trial thereof.

Of the appeals taken to the United States Board of Tax Appeals and the appellate courts there were 5,043 income tax, 1 unjust enrichment tax, 410 estate tax, and 235 gift tax cases closed during the year. The methods by which such cases were closed are as follows:

Disposition of cases closed before the United States Board of Tax Appeals, fiscal year 1938

Of the appeals taken to the Processing Tax Board of Review 6 cases, involving $57,481, were dismissed during the year.

Civil Division.—This Division, in cooperation with and at the request of the Department of Justice, assists in the handling and preparation for trial of civil internal revenue cases arising in the Federal district courts, the United States Court of Claims, and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, together with a limited number of cases originating in State courts. The trials of such cases and arguments upon appeals are conducted by the Department of Justice, with the assistance of this Division, pursuant to the President's Executive order of June 10, 1933.

The Division's major activities during the year are shown in the following tables:

Interpretative Division.—The function of this Division is to consider for administrative purposes the various statutes relating to the internal revenue, and to pass upon questions of law arising thereunder. The Division also edits the material intended for publication in the Internal Revenue Bulletin and reviews various material submitted for consideration.

Penal Division.—The Penal Division considers both income tax cases and miscellaneous tax cases, prepares opinions construing criminal and percentage penalty statutes, and deals with particular cases involving criminal liability and percentage penalties for fraud (and occasionally for negligence or delinquency), including offers in compromise of such cases. Whenever requested by the Department of Justice, an attorney from this Division assists in the prosecution of criminal cases.

Number of cases received and disposed of, fiscal years 1937 and 1938

Review Division.—This Division reviews overassessments of income, excess-profits, war-profits, estate, gift, and miscellaneous taxes proposed for allowance (also deficiencies when coupled with overassessments), where the amount of the overassessments in any case exceeds $20,000, and proposed refunds of any tax in excess of $20,000. It prepares reports to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation required by section 710 of the Revenue Act of 1928, where the overpayments of income, excess-profits, war-profits, estate, or gift taxes exceed $75,000; and prepares public decisions where the overassessments exceed $20,000.

The work of the Division is summarized as follows:

Legislation and Regulations Division.—This Division prepares or reviews regulations issued under the internal revenue laws, and makes reports on legislation introduced in Congress affecting the internal revenue, except as they relate to alcoholic beverage taxes. There were 55 regulations issued during the year relating to income tax, capital stock tax, excess-profits tax, estate tax, social security tax, stamp tax, admissions tax, silver tax, manufacturers' excise taxes, tobacco tax, sugar tax, tax on marihuana, taxes on narcotics, and taxes under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937. In addition, the Division considers suggestions for amendments of, and additions to, the various internal revenue laws and prepares reports thereon for the consideration of the Commissioner and the General Counsel.

Intelligence Unit

The Intelligence Unit is principally concerned with the investigation of tax fraud cases in cooperation with internal revenue agents and deputy collectors. During the year, 794 investigations were made of alleged evasions of income tax, and of this number 196 cases, involving 309 individuals, were recommended for prosecution. On this charge there were convictions in 50 cases, involving 68 individuals, and there were acquittals in 4 cases, involving 5 individuals. Investigations of these cases resulted in recommendation for assessment of additional taxes and penalties amounting to $26,106,013.83.

In addition to collections by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of taxes, penalties, and interest, amounts are covered into the Treasury as a result of fines imposed in criminal cases. In some jurisdictions the courts have imposed an additional penalty by requiring the defendants to pay the costs of the investigations, that is, the salaries and expenses of the agents during investigations.

There were 3,988 investigations of applications of attorneys and agents to practice before the Treasury Department and 85 investigations of charges against enrolled agents and attorneys, resulting in the disbarment of 6, the reprimand of 3, and the rejection of applications of 44.

The investigations in 145 cases of charges against employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue resulted in the separation from the service of 89 employees and the prosecution of 20. Of the latter number 18 were convicted and 2 acquitted.

There were 3,429 cases of miscellaneous character investigated, including investigations for the Bureau of Narcotics and the Customs Service and of persons under consideration for appointment to various positions in the Treasury Department.

Work relief projects

During the year the Bureau of Internal Revenue continued work on its two work relief projects financed from funds provided under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts. These projects are under the supervision of the Accounts and Collections Unit and the Alcohol Tax Unit. The workers were recruited and employed in accordance with the regulations of the Works Progress Administration and the United States Employment Service of the Department of Labor, and were paid the security wage rates as stipulated in the Executive Order of May 20, 1935, and its amendments.

Accounts and Collections Unit (miscellaneous tax) project.—This project comprised a survey of miscellaneous taxes conducted in the field collection service of the Bureau. The work was carried on under the direction of the collectors of Internal Revenue in 21 of the collection districts in the United States and involved an intensive canvass to effect the collection of delinquent and deficient stamp taxes and taxes on sporting goods, cosmetics, capital stock, candy, automobile parts, admissions and dues, tires and tubes, matches, radios, electric refrigerators, jewelry, and furs. The number of persons employed on this project during the year averaged approximately 766 weekly. Allocations to this project during the year amounted to $926,808, and obligations were incurred aggregating $906,602. As a result of this work, $7,767,507 of miscellaneous taxes were assessed or recommended for assessment during the year, and $4,153,630 was collected.

Alcohol Tax Unit (retail liquor stores) project.—The project comprising the inspection of retail liquor dealers in various cities of the United States was continued during the fiscal year for the purpose of seeing that the retail liquor dealers comply with the requirements of the law as it relates to their business. During the year allocations to this project amounted to $454,501, and obligations were incurred totaling $431,217. As a result of these inspections, 18,586 dealers were found violating the internal revenue liquor statutes during the year, and revenues of $370,336 were collected.

LEGAL DIVISION

The General Counsel is the chief law officer of the Department and is in charge of all its legal activities. The Legal Division comprises the Office of the General Counsel and the legal staffs in all branches of the Department. During the fiscal year 1938 the Legal Division prepared 64 formal and numerous informal opinions for the guidance of administrative officers of the Department; and prepared or assisted in the preparation of more than 20 legislative proposals necessary to or desirable for efficient operation of the Department. Representatives of the Division frequently appeared before congressional committees to explain the purpose, effect, and legality of legislation affecting the Department and furnished other technical assistance to such committees. Assistance was rendered in the preparation of over 400 reports on legislation and of numerous executive orders and proclamations. The Division also undertook and completed a codification of Treasury Department regulations and other documents and filed the codification with the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register.

In connection with monetary, fiscal, and public debt matters, the Division drafted legislation, regulations, rulings, and opinions covering a broad field of subjects, and made numerous interpretations of the laws and regulations applicable to Government finance, public credit, fiscal relationships, bonds of indemnity and official bonds, insurance of valuables in shipment, issuance and subsequent transactions in public debt obligations and in obligations of Government corporations and agencies, monetary and industrial transactions in gold and silver, acquisition by the United States of monetary metals, protection of the dollar in foreign markets, transactions in gold and foreign exchange with foreign Governments and foreign central banks, and counterfeiting. Active assistance was rendered to the Department of Justice in cases in various courts involving questions of monetary policy, including 11 cases involving gold coin, gold bullion, and newly mined gold; 36 cases involving various so-called gold clause obligations; 1 case relating to the illegal possession of distinctive paper; and in a considerable number of cases involving civil and criminal penalties in connection with the enforcement of provisions of the Emergency Banking Act of 1933 relating to gold and the Gold Reserve Act of 1934, and the various proclamations, orders, and regulations issued thereunder. Under the Adjusted Compensation Payment Act the Division recommended approval for settlement of 2,442 cases. A compilation of Federal laws relating to the public debt was completed and published during the year, and progress was made in the work on a compilation of Federal laws relating to money.

With respect to the operations of the Coast Guard, the Division reviewed the proceedings and prepared the action of the reviewing authority and pertinent correspondence in 433 court-martial cases, 198 boards of investigation cases, 106 retiring-board cases, 13 life-saving medal cases, and one distinguished flying cross case; and prepared the papers and all correspondence in connection with approximately 110 formal contracts and 121 leases and renewals of leases.

A number of unusual legal questions arising in connection with the enforcement of the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937, which became effective October 1, 1937, and of the Federal narcotic laws were determined during the year; new and amendatory legislation relative to the traffic in narcotics was drafted for submission to Congress; regulations under the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937 and a complete revision of narcotic regulations were prepared; and assistance was extended to several of the States and to the District of Columbia in connection with the adoption and enforcement of the Uniform State Narcotic Law.

The Division drafted a bill embodying substantial amendments to administrative provisions of the customs laws. After enactment of the bill, with some changes, it drafted revisions of the customs regulations to carry out the new law. The export and currency practices of several foreign countries were investigated to determine whether any bases existed for applying countervailing duties to products of those countries. All outstanding findings of dumping were reviewed and a number of them were revoked, it being found that their continuance was not justified by present circumstances.

The Division did the legal work necessary to the acquisition of 303 sites for construction projects; examined approximately 2,920 contracts for the construction of public buildings and the purchase of supplies and equipment; reviewed and approved approximately 769 leases for office space for Government activities; and prepared contracts for the sale of 33 surplus real properties. Leases were prepared for rental of 21 surplus properties.

With relation to the activities of the Public Health Service, the Division gave advice in connection with the administration of the National Cancer Institute Act of August 5, 1937. Assistance was given in the drafting of an amendment to the quarantine regulations relating to the importation of living disease organisms and vectors, amendments to the Service regulations pertaining to medical treatment of Coast Guard personnel and their dependents, and waiting orders, regulations for the control of the arsphenamines, and regulations governing allotments and payments to States for the fiscal year 1939 under the Social Security Act and the Venereal Disease Act as amended May 24, 1938.

In the field of taxation the Division handled 5,689 income, estate, and gift tax appeals, involving $134,519,452, and prepared and reviewed 363 cases involving overassessments; prepared data for use by the Department of Justice in the prosecution or defense of 3,948 tax cases (civil and criminal) disposed of during the year; handled the preparation and publication of more than 2,449 regulations, Treasury decisions, and rulings; and reviewed more than 1,900 cases involving offers in compromise and extension of time to pay tax, in addition to a large number of closing agreements. The Division closed 854 reorganization cases, arising under sections 77 and 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, in which no tax claims were filed, and 466 reorganization cases in which claims in the amount of $9,888,402.98 were settled for $2,455,352.48; and closed 1,730 bankruptcy and receivership cases involving claims of $5,865,693.25, which were settled for $2,490,541.36. The Division participated in the preparation of the Revenue Act of 1937, the Revenue Act of 1938, the new Bankruptcy Act, and a provision for the refund of taxes paid under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934, the Kerr Tobacco Act, and the Potato Act of 1935. Such regulations as were required during the year for the foregoing legislation were prepared and issued.

In connection with the work of the Alcohol Tax Unit the Division prepared or revised 7,723 memoranda, 287 briefs, 5,370 opinions, 4 Treasury decisions, 655 petitions for remission, 130 claims amounting to over $5,000 each, 19,262 compromises, 7,447 case reports, 57 parole reports, 318 libels, 111 hearings, revocations, etc., and 18 indictments.

BUREAU OF THE MINT <sup>1</sup>

Institutions of the Mint Service

During the fiscal year 1938, seven mint institutions were in operation: Coinage mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Denver; assay office at New York, which handles the major portion of the gold imported and exported; gold bullion depository at Fort Knox, Ky.; mint at New Orleans, conducted as an assay office; and assay office at Seattle. The two last-named institutions are, in effect, merely bullion-purchasing agencies and also serve the public by making assays of ores and bullion. Electrolytic refineries are maintained at the New York, Denver, and San Francisco institutions.

Coinage

Domestic coin manufactured during the fiscal year amounted to 540,375,283 pieces, compared with 760,915,737 pieces during the preceding year when the output was the largest of any fiscal year in the history of the Government. The production in 1938, valued at $26,610,910, consisted of 111,754,358 subsidiary silver coins, valued at $19,854,941; 61,744,005 nickel coins, valued at $3,087,200; and 366,876,920 bronze coins, valued at $3,668,769.

Coinage for foreign governments amounted to 18,392,444 pieces, compared with 42,550,000 pieces during the prior year. The foreign coinage consisted of 8,672,348 silver, nickel, and bronze coins for Honduras, Nicaragua, and Colombia, made at Philadelphia, and 9,720,096 silver coins for China, made at San Francisco.

The grand total of domestic and foreign coins made in 1938 amounted to 558,767,727 pieces, a decrease of 244,698,010 pieces from the prior year.

The number of bullion deposits during the year totaled 56,005, including 298 inter-mint-service transactions. The deposit transactions required 85,187 assay determinations, compared with 97,293 assay determinations during the prior year.

Gold operations

Gold acquisitions by the mints and assay offices during the year amounted to $1,129,033,865.49; receipts from other Treasury offices of domestic and foreign coin melted during the year amounted to $1,358,071.81; and transfers between Mint Service Institutions amounted to $79,970,670.53. These transactions total $1,210,362,-607.83, compared with $7,759,425,211.99 for the prior year.

The acquisitions include $1,028,668.49 of gold received at $20.67+ per fine ounce, which had not been previously surrendered under the nationalization orders. The increment on this gold, due to the increase of the monetary value of gold to $35 per fine ounce, amounted to $713,015.63.

Silver operations

Acquisitions of silver by the mints and assay offices during the year totaled 406,661,895 fine ounces, at an average cost of 49.8+ cents per fine ounce or a total cost of $202,740,642. The acquisitions consist of the following:

Acquisition	Amount (fine ounces)	Cost
Newly mined domestic silver.....	68,715,543	$51,341,249
Nationalized silver.....	17,351	8,677
Purchase Act silver.....	337,225,185	151,082,730
Silver contained in gold bullion deposits, etc.....	415,082	181,807
Silver received in exchange for Government stamped bars.....	288,734	126,179
Total.....	406,661,895	202,740,642

United States coin received for recoinage totaled 3,641,169 fine ounces, with a recoinage value of $5,033,584. Silver deposited for foreign coinage by other governments totaled 725,250 fine ounces. Silver transfers between Mint Service Institutions totaled 1,325,932 fine ounces. These items plus the silver acquired during the year brought the total transactions in silver to 412,354,246 fine ounces, compared with the prior year's total of 254,696,986.

During the year 1938, $201,967,413 of silver certificates were issued against 156,209,171 fine ounces of silver bullion valued at $1.29+ per fine ounce, the statutory monetary value of silver. Such silver had been acquired at an average price of 58.3+ cents per ounce. The difference between the cost of the silver held to secure such certificates and the monetary value of such silver is $110,870,809 (including $20,519,797 arising under the proclamation of December 21, 1933) and this amount constitutes seigniorage.

The open-market price of silver in New York (mean of bid and asked) during the fiscal year 1938 averaged $0.44537. The highest point was $0.45062, which prevailed from July 1, 1937, to March 25, 1938, with lower prices of $0.44062 on March 28 and $0.43062 during the remainder of the fiscal year.

For newly mined domestic silver a return to the depositor of $0.7757+ per fine ounce, established by the President's proclamation of April 24, 1935, prevailed for silver mined prior to the end of December 1937; for silver mined after that date the return was $0.6464+, established by proclamation of December 30, 1937. The latter rate prevailed during the remainder of the fiscal year.

Refineries

The electrolytic refineries produced during the year 3,079,343 fine ounces (105.6 tons) of electrolytically refined gold bullion, and 1,605,294 fine ounces (55.0 tons) of silver bullion. During the prior year the quantities produced were 3,351,715 fine ounces (114.9 tons) of gold and 1,641,602 fine ounces (56.3 tons) of silver.

The electrolytic refineries at the Denver and San Francisco mints remained closed most of the year because of other more urgent activities.

Stocks of unrefined gold and silver bullion in mint institutions increased during the fiscal year 1938 by approximately 274 tons, to 1,589 tons. The increase in 1937 was about 250 tons.

Commemorative coins

Commemorative half dollars, bearing special designs relating to historic events, were issued during the fiscal year 1938, as follows:

Commemorative coins (half dollars) issued during the fiscal year 1938

Occasion commemorated	Date of law	Pieces
Antietam, Battle of, seventy-fifth anniversary.....	June 21, 1937	50,000
Norfolk, Va., three hundredth anniversary of original land grant and two hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the city of Norfolk as a borough.....	June 28, 1937	25,000

Stock of coin and monetary bullion in the United States

On June 30, 1938, the estimated stock of domestic coin in the United States was $1,077,724,054, of which $547,079,218 was standard silver dollars, $373,461,485 subsidiary silver coin, and $157,183,351 minor coin.

The stock of gold bullion, including coin, held in the Treasury on the same date was valued at $12,962,953,931, an increase of $644,682,766 over the previous year; and the stock of silver bullion was 1,678,532,406 fine ounces, an increase of 395,043,598.

Production of gold and silver

Domestic gold production during the calendar year 1937 was 4,804,540 fine ounces with a value of $168,158,900, compared with 4,357,394 fine ounces with a value of $152,508,800 in 1936. The quantity output was about 98 percent of that for the record year 1915, when the total was 4,887,604 fine ounces.

Domestic silver production during the calendar year 1937 totaled 71,941,794 ounces. This compares with 63,812,176 ounces for 1936, and with the record production of 74,961,075 fine ounces for 1915.

Industrial consumption of gold and silver

Gold consumption in the industrial arts during the calendar year 1937 is estimated at $39,622,338. Gold returned from industrial to monetary use amounted to $36,407,945, leaving $3,214,393 as net industrial consumption of new gold, which compares with an excess return from industry of $2,907,833 during the previous year.

Silver used in the arts is estimated at 51,292,270 fine ounces, of which 27,727,284 fine ounces was new material.

Compared with the prior year, there was an increase in gold consumption of approximately 190,000 ounces, and an increase in silver consumption in industry of about 15,500,000 ounces.

Mint buildings

The silver bullion depository, constructed on a site formerly included in the military reservation at West Point, was completed during the fiscal year 1938, and is operated as an auxiliary of the New York assay office. Silver bullion, which had been placed temporarily in the assay office at New York, the old assay office building at New York, the subtreasury building, and in rented vaults, will be stored in the depository.

Additional vaults for silver storage are under construction at the new San Francisco mint building, which was first occupied during the fiscal year 1937.

Appropriations, expenses, and income

Regular appropriations available for the Mint Service during the fiscal year 1938 totaled $1,353,560; the appropriation for meeting emergency expenses amounted to $1,120,000; the deficiency act of March 5, 1938, provided $110,700 for silver movements during 1938 and 1939, of which $17,360 was obligated in 1938; and reimbursements to appropriations for services rendered amounted to $167,837, making a total of $2,658,757.

Expenses amounted to $2,720,123, of which $2,618,125 was chargeable to appropriations and $101,998 chargeable to income.

The regular income realized by the Treasury from the Mint Service aggregated $18,676,153, of which $15,216,162 was seigniorage. The seigniorage on subsidiary silver coin was $9,852,612, and on minor coin $5,363,550. Extraordinary income aggregated $111,583,825, of which $110,870,809 was seigniorage on silver bullion revalued to $1.29+ per ounce, and $713,016 was the increment to $35 per ounce on revalued gold.

The number and value of gold and silver deposits and transfers, gross income, and expenses for the fiscal year 1938, and number of employees on June 30, 1938, at each institution are shown in the following table:

DIVISION OF MONETARY RESEARCH

The Division of Monetary Research in the Office of the Secretary was established on March 25, 1938. The Division provides information, economic analyses, and recommendations for the use of the Secretary of the Treasury and other Treasury officials to assist in the formulation and execution of the monetary policies of the Department in connection with the stabilization fund and other operations under the Gold Reserve and the Silver Purchase Acts. Analyses are made pertaining to gold and silver, the flow of capital funds into and out of the United States, the position of the dollar in relation to foreign currencies, monetary, banking, and fiscal policies of foreign countries, exchange and trade restrictions abroad, and similar problems. Analyses are also prepared relating to the customs activities of the Department and to the duties of the Secretary of the Treasury under the Tariff Act and on other matters pertaining to international trade, including the trade agreement program.

BUREAU OF NARCOTICS <sup>1</sup>

Enforcement activities

The policy of the Bureau of Narcotics of giving its attention primarily to the elimination of the sources of supply of illicit narcotic drugs has resulted in a reduction from year to year in the supply of narcotics available to the domestic illicit traffic. Prices of drugs in the illicit market continued high; and a high degree of adulteration was still apparent during 1938, especially in heroin, which was found to contain an average adulteration of 75.21 percent.

The decrease in the supplies of smuggled narcotics available to the illicit traffic, which has forced peddlers and addicts to turn to the channels of legitimate distribution for their supply, continued to be reflected in the forgery and false execution of narcotic prescriptions, the improper prescribing and dispensing of narcotics, and the robberies of wholesale and retail stocks. The quantities of drugs stolen increased greatly during the year.

The cooperation of State and municipal enforcement agencies with the Bureau increases in effectiveness with the adoption and enforcement of the Uniform State Narcotic Law in the States. This law, approved by the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and by the American Bar Association nearly 6 years ago, was adopted with little or no amendment during 1938 by the State of Michigan and the District of Columbia. Only nine States have not adopted the law, namely, California, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Vermont, and Washington. California and Pennsylvania, however, have adequate narcotic legislation.

The enforcement of the taxing features of the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937, approved August 2, 1937 (see exhibit 43, p. 275), will have the effect of restricting the use of the drug to industrial, medical, and scientific purposes; and the publicizing of the dealings in marihuana will prevent distribution for the purpose of maintaining or increasing narcotic addiction. Under the provisions of the act legitimate handlers of marihuana are required to pay occupational taxes, to register with the collector of internal revenue, and to file information returns. All transfers of the drug must be made in pursuance of special order forms issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, and a tax is imposed upon each transfer. A tax of $1 an ounce is imposed upon transfers to registered persons, and $100 an ounce upon transfers to nonregistered persons. Heavy penalties are provided for violations of the provisions of the act.

All of the States and the Territory of Hawaii now have laws for the control and suppression of the traffic in marihuana or cannabis. Narcotic officers have cooperated with State and municipal authorities in the enforcement of these laws and of the municipal ordinances for control of this traffic. The reports received in the Bureau of Narcotics covering seizures of marihuana by State and municipal authorities, in addition to the seizures by Federal authorities listed below, clearly establish that the marihuana problem is one of increasing national significance. Seizures of varying quantities of the drug and the destruction of considerable areas of the growing plants by State and municipal authorities were reported during the calendar year 1937 from 26 States, including 4 States from which none had previously been reported.

The act to increase the punishment of second, third, and subsequent offenders against the narcotic laws was enacted August 12, 1937, with a view to deterring the commission of offenses against the narcotic laws, and to removing such offenders from contact with society in order to prevent the spread of the narcotic habit and reduce the number of criminal offenses of other kinds.

The activities of the Bureau resulted in 3,206 arrests for violations of the Federal narcotic laws, other than the Marihuana Tax Act, and the seizure of 4,354 ounces of narcotic drugs and 167 automobiles during the year, as compared with 3,469 arrests and seizures of 3,962 ounces of narcotic drugs and 115 automobiles during 1937. There was a noticeable decrease in the number of violations reported under the narcotic laws, both in the registered and nonregistered classifications, a total of 4,049 violations having been reported for 1938 compared with 4,585 during the previous year. Of the total violations reported during the year, 14 percent involved persons registered under the law, as compared with 23 percent during 1937.

There were 769 arrests under the Marihuana Tax Act of 1937, and seizures of 1,106 pounds of bulk marihuana, 155 pounds of marihuana seeds, 12,561 marihuana cigarettes, 743 growing plants, 1,000 pounds of growing plants, 3½ acres of growing plants, and 9 automobiles. A total of 846 violations under the act was reported for the period from October 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938, only 2 of which were by registered persons.

The following tables show the number of cases of violation, by registered and nonregistered persons, of the narcotic and marihuana laws and the cases disposed of during the year as reported by Federal narcotic enforcement officers:

During the year 215,228 pounds of opium were imported, an increase of 38,480 pounds over the previous year. Of the quantity imported, however, 69,332 pounds were retained in customs bond and were not released to manufacturers. The net quantity made available to manufacturers showed an increase of 19,391 pounds compared with 1937. Coca leaves imported for medicinal purposes amounted to 256,877 pounds, an increase of 42,170 pounds over the previous year. Imports of coca leaves for the manufacture of nonnarcotic flavoring extracts amounted to 167,924 pounds.

Exports of narcotic drugs of all kinds amounted to 1,641 ounces in 1938, a decrease of 227 ounces from 1937. The drugs exported involved 40,598 taxable ounces of products.

The net quantity of pure drugs of all kinds sold to domestic purchasers by manufacturers amounted to 419,654 ounces, a decrease of 16,444 ounces from the previous year.

DIVISION OF PRINTING

The Division of Printing transacts all of the Treasury Department's printing and binding business with the Government Printing Office and outside contractors; approves requisitions for stationery supplies used by the Department; authorizes engraving work to be done by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for all Government departments and establishments, unless money, securities, or postage stamps are involved; and has control over newspaper and periodical advertising for the Treasury Department, the binding of confidential Department records, and the warehousing and distribution of blank books and forms for Washington and field offices of the Department. The Division also edits and prepares copy for weekly issues of "Treasury Decisions" under customs, internal revenue, narcotics, and other laws; and prepares semiannual bound volumes thereof and maintains a mailing list for their distribution. Appropriations to the Department for printing and binding and for purchases of stationery supplies are under the administrative control of the Division.

Printing and binding

During the year $1,650,663 was made available to the Division for printing and binding. Of this amount $1,649,581 was expended, leaving an unobligated balance of $1,082. The following table summarizes the appropriations and funds from other sources, the expenditures therefrom, and balances:

Department advertising

Authorizations for advertising were issued to 3,162 newspapers and periodicals during the fiscal year 1938, compared with 5,734 in 1937, a decrease of 2,572. The expenditures authorized were $38,427.64 in 1938 and $61,094.76 in 1937, a decrease of $22,667.12 in 1938.

Engraving work

Certificates, checks, commissions, drafts, transportation requests, and warrants totaling 135,716,746 were approved by the Division for execution by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for the several departments and establishments of the Government during the fiscal year 1938, compared with 167,437,503 in the preceding year.

PROCESSING TAX BOARD OF REVIEW

The Board of Review was established in the Treasury Department by the Revenue Act of 1936 to review and decide appeals of claimants from allowances or disallowances of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of claims for refund of processing taxes paid. The Secretary of the Treasury designates the members of the Board, who are officers or employees of the Treasury Department, and assigns to it such personnel as may be necessary to perform its functions.

The following table summarizes the work of the Board during the year:

Claims	Number	Amount

Of the 32 petitions disposed of, the period within which appeal may be taken to the appellate courts had expired in 7 cases.

PROCUREMENT DIVISION

Public Buildings Branch

Office of the Supervising Architect.—The activities of the Office of the Supervising Architect have continued to be devoted to the design and preparation of drawings and specifications for the wide variety of buildings required in the public service, and on a reimbursable basis the Office has furnished architectural service for projects under the control of other departments and agencies of the Government. Data relating to the progress made in the various building programs involved and the dollar-value of work accomplished under the jurisdiction of the Procurement Division appear in subsequent statements.

Type designs for the smaller post office buildings have been improved and refined; and designs, developed by the Office of the Supervising Architect in collaboration with the Advisory Committees on Architectural Design and Structural Engineering and with the Directive Board of the Public Buildings Branch, compare favorably with the highest standards of current practice in architectural and structural features.

In accordance with a policy adopted to expedite preliminary work for the emergency construction program, drawings and specifications for all buildings in that category have been prepared in the Office of the Supervising Architect. However, with a view to obtaining designs adaptable to governmental requirements and affording architects in private practice an opportunity to express their conception of Federal building design, the Office of the Supervising Architect, at the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, conducted 2 architectural competitions, 1 for the designs of 10 small post office buildings open to all architects in the United States except employees of the Government and the District of Columbia, and the other for the design of a post office and courthouse building for Covington, Ky., open to registered architects and architects furnishing acceptable evidence of their qualifications. More than 700 designs were passed upon by the Jury of Award. The Supervising Architect acted in the capacity of architectural adviser.

Continued consideration has been given to appropriate landscaping around the buildings.

Under the act of June 25, 1910, as amended, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized, upon the request of the head of any executive department or establishment of the Government, to cause plans, drawings, designs, and estimates to be prepared in the Procurement Division for buildings which the head of any executive department or establishment may be authorized to have constructed, reimbursement for the cost of such work to be made to the Procurement Division. In order to permit the most economical and advantageous method of securing construction for other departments, the act of June 15, 1938 (Public No. 609), amended the act of June 25, 1910, as amended, so as to extend the permissive authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Procurement Division, to the acquisition of land necessary for sites, the execution of contracts, and the supervision of construction; and provides that funds appropriated to other executive departments, etc., for buildings shall be available for transfer to and expenditure by the Procurement Division for carrying out the construction. In accordance with the act of June 15, 1938, a large volume of architectural work was taken up for the Bureau of Prisons, Department of Justice, and similar but less extensive services were rendered the Navy Department, the Department of Commerce, the Public Health Service, and the Coast Guard.

During the year architectural services were also supplied in connection with 12 projects outside the continental United States for the Foreign Service Buildings Commission of the Department of State.

Office of the Supervising Engineer.—At the end of the fiscal year 1938 the Office of the Supervising Engineer, through its field service, was supervising the execution in the continental United States, Virgin Islands, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and Hawaiian Islands of approximately 200 construction projects in various stages of completion, ranging in cost from $20,000 to several million dollars each. These projects included post office structures, exposition buildings, auditoriums, a cement plant in Puerto Rico, Federal jails, public health hospitals at various points, and a bullion depository at West Point, N. Y. Preparations were being made to supervise the construction of numerous additional jail projects and other work for other departments aggregating approximately $16,300,000. Topographical surveys and soil data necessary for the preparation of working drawings were being obtained for the above projects.

Under methods adopted by the Public Buildings Branch, violations of labor laws on Federal construction work, particularly the 8-hour law, were reduced to a minimum, and problems pertaining to labor difficulties were handled expeditiously.

In order to obtain centralized control of all repair work necessary for the preservation of the constantly increasing number of completed buildings, the field service was reorganized during November 1937. The Repairs Unit now prepares all drawings and specifications for ordinary and special repair projects, some of which amount individually to $100,000 or more. Under this arrangement the personnel in the eight district offices was diminished and the central office personnel was increased; the inspection personnel remained the same. This change not only enabled the central office to control expenditures, but allowed the field inspection service more time for inspection of new projects under construction.

During the year the Office drafted 518 formal contracts varying in amount from $2,000 to several million dollars each, the total original amount of these contracts being $39,553,286; issued approximately 15,000 authorizations for items of less than $2,000 each, covering independent minor contracts, and additions to, changes in, or deductions from major contracts in force; and issued approximately 9,000 individual orders for standard lock boxes, metal vault shelving, models, title letters, and other materials for buildings under construction and repair.

The unit of special inspection engineers submitted a large number of reports of inspection of newly constructed buildings of all types, covering, among other things, observations and suggestions relating to new materials and methods used in construction.

Combined building program.—Operations during the year by the Public Buildings Branch resulted in the completion or practical completion of 486 major construction projects, with total limits of cost of $84,170,333. Funds for these projects were provided by allotments by the Public Works Administration, by various appropriations for emergency construction of public buildings, and by the transfer of funds to the Division by other departments. The status of work under the combined program at the end of the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 was as follows:

Status	June 30, 1937		June 30, 1938
	Number	Limit of cost	Number	Limit of cost

Program under the Public Works Administration.—The number of allotments during the year for public buildings by the Public Works Administration under the act approved June 16, 1933, and subsequent legislation was increased by one, and the limits of cost were decreased by $366,064. Under this program 12 buildings, with a limit of cost of $11,317,883, were completed during the year. The status of the work under this program at the end of the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 was as follows:

Included in this program are two projects for the District of Columbia, one the Federal Trade Commission (Apex) Building, with a limit of cost of $3,780,000, which was completed during the year; and the other the Archives Building addition, with a limit of cost of $3,610,000, which was 85 percent complete on June 30, 1938.

Emergency construction program.—The acts approved June 19, 1934, August 12, 1935, June 22, 1936, and August 25, 1937, authorized expenditures totaling $255,000,000 for the emergency construction of public buildings throughout the country, the individual projects to be selected by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General. Under these acts 473 projects, with a limit of cost of $66,534,854, were completed during the year. The status of the work on June 30, 1937 and 1938, was as follows:

	Number	Limit of cost	Number	Limit of cost

The act of August 25, 1937, authorized an appropriation of $70,000,000 for public buildings over a period of 3 years. The act approved June 21, 1938, authorized an additional $60,000,000 for this purpose, making a total of $130,000,000 for the 3-year program. The selection of projects under the augmented authorization was in progress at the end of the year.

The status of work under the various emergency appropriation acts at the end of the year was as follows:

Program for other departments.—Funds to the amount of $35,358,668 were made available to the Division as of June 30, 1938, by other departments and by certain specific authorizations by Congress for the construction of new buildings and the rehabilitation, remodeling, extension, and repair of old buildings, 45 projects being involved. The status of this work on June 30, 1937 and 1938, was as follows:

Status	June 30, 1937		June 30, 1938
	Number	Limit of cost	Number	Limit of cost

Repair and equipment of Federal buildings.—During the year $2,474,950.48 was expended by the Department for the repair and equipment of Federal buildings, throughout the country, in the custody of the Post Office and Treasury Departments. Included in this expenditure were 6,970 contracts, at a cost of $1,933,611.03, for repair work, and orders for materials, amounting to $541,339.45, purchased through the Branch of Supply.

Administration and cost of Federal buildings under the control of the Treasury Department.—The administration, number, and cost of completed buildings (exclusive of land) from 1853 to June 30, 1938, are shown in the following table. The repairs on these buildings, payable from annual appropriations for repairs to public buildings, are not included in the cost.

Section of Space Control.—This Section consists of a Space Allotment Unit, Space Assignment Unit, and a Real Estate Unit.

The Space Allotment Unit during the year submitted recommendations for the assignment of space in 289 buildings, all of which on June 30, 1938, were either completed, under construction, or in the drawing stage. Excluding the post office buildings' space, the Unit has recommended for assignment 852,616 square feet of space, as a result of which approximately $162,587 will be saved the Government in annual rentals. This allocation was 281,019 square feet less than that requested, thus enabling the Government to make potential savings in construction costs.

The Space Assignment Unit cleared 11,830 new leases and renewals of existing leases for the fiscal year 1938 and assigned approximately 166,082 square feet of space to Federal agencies in buildings operated by the Treasury Department. A saving of $127,855 in rental was effected through a more efficient utilization of space in these buildings. Additional savings aggregating $181,977 were effected through the use of a leased building and four recommissioned buildings.

Rentals paid for commercial space throughout the United States showed a decrease of well over a million dollars, compared to the rentals for 1937.

The Real Estate Unit sold during the year 30 surplus properties at $806,868.76. Under the provisions of Public No. 330, approved August 26, 1935, which authorize the sale of Federal buildings and sites for which there is no further Federal need, 6 of these properties were sold for $119,725. The other 24 properties were sold for $687,143.76 under the provisions of Public No. 351, approved August 27, 1935, which authorize the sale of real property located outside the District of Columbia, exclusive of military or naval reservations, which is not needed by the Federal agency having control of the property. There remained to be sold 177 pieces of property valued at $27,285,561.33.

Properties with an estimated value of $5,755,298 were declared surplus by the various Government departments; and 28 properties with an estimated value of $776,732 were reassigned to other Federal agencies by the Real Estate Unit under the provisions of Public No. 351.

The Unit also clears the acquisition of real estate by all Government departments. During the year 172 clearances for the acquisition of property costing $4,456,324.80 were made.

The Inventory of Federal Real Estate and Improvements has been continued and compiled as of June 30, 1937. This report consists of over 15,000 projects supplied by 65 agencies having custody of real estate and improvements, and takes into account the acquisition and disposal of holdings during that fiscal year. The inventory is being continued at the request of the Bureau of the Budget in order to make available a precise and complete statement of the land and improvements in possession of the Federal establishment.

The liquidation of the assets of the United States Housing Corporation was continued during the year. Collections on outstanding balances due on purchasers' accounts totaled $91,347.08, which was derived from the following sources:

Principal payments on contracts of purchase.....	$72,973.09
Interest payments on contracts of purchase.....	18,097.82
Operation of projects (rent).....	276.17

In accordance with the provisions of the act approved July 11, 1919 (41 Stat. 55), these collections were deposited in the United States Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, bringing the total returns by the Corporation to June 30, 1938, to $73,286,284.56, which is itemized as follows:

Disposal of properties.....	$18,796,241.67
Repayment of loans.....	12,848,886.11
Operation of projects.....	9,141,056.78
Unexpended balance of original appropriation.....	32,500,000.00

At the close of the year $1,233,964.89, bearing interest at 6 percent per annum, remained to be collected from 574 purchase contract holders at 11 existing active housing projects. The appraised value of 224 parcels of unsold property, situated at 13 housing projects, was $124,334.66, valued according to the general appraisal of the Corporation's properties made in 1920. The Corporation is endeavoring to dispose of these at a fair and reasonable market value.

Section of Painting and Sculpture.—This Section was organized in October 1934 to secure suitable paintings and sculpture for public buildings and to stimulate the development of art in this country. Up to June 30, 1938, reservations have been made for mural and sculpture decorations in 692 buildings, and 305 contracts have been completed with an expenditure of $470,325. On June 30, 1938, there were 179 contracts in force involving an obligation of $366,005.

During the fiscal year 1938, the number of mural and sculpture contracts completed and in force increased by 126, which necessitated an increase in the number of artists employed.

Notable progress has been made by the artists, both in the quality of the designs submitted and in the significance of the projects executed. Experience in the decoration of Federal buildings has enabled the artists to create works more understandable to the public without the sacrifice of personal aesthetic conviction.

Greater appreciation of the work of the Section has been indicated by the increasing number of requests from schools and universities for lecturers and lecture material and by the inclusion in their fine arts courses of a study of the work of the Section. The circulation of the bulletin issued by the Section of Painting and Sculpture also increased—from 7,000 to 8,500.

The policy of making one large anonymous competition serve as the basis of a number of appointments has been endorsed whole-heartedly by the artists and has greatly increased interest in the competitions. During the year three national competitions were held—for the Dallas, Tex., Terminal Annex, the New York World's Fair, and the Federal Trade Commission Building in Washington. In the Dallas competition, 149 painters submitted 447 designs; in the World's Fair competition, 314 sculptors submitted 424 models; and in the Federal Trade Commission competition, 231 sculptors submitted 494 models. The models entered in the Federal Trade Commission competition were exhibited in the gallery of the Section of Painting and Sculpture and those for the World's Fair competition were exhibited at the World's Fair.

The Carnegie Foundation of New York has instituted two funds, one to be devoted to a critical study of the work of the Section and the other to a volume on the sculpture executed.

Treasury relief art project.—The Treasury relief art project, which was set up in 1935 for assistance to educational, professional, and clerical persons, is being liquidated as rapidly as the assignments are completed. During the year allocations to the Director of Procurement were increased in the amount of $35,737 to complete the projects which were pending on June 30, 1937.

Employment decreased from 135 persons on June 30, 1937, to 17 persons on June 30, 1938. Those who had completed their work were transferred to other Government agencies.

The total amount allocated to the project as of June 30, 1938, was $771,521, of which $754,430 was obligated. Obligations were liquidated in the amount of $744,140, leaving $10,290 outstanding unpaid. Of the total amount allocated, $17,091 remained unobligated.

As of June 30, 1938, 85 murals and 39 sculpture projects for Federal buildings were completed and installed. Of the 10,215 easel paintings executed, 2,287 were allocated. Four murals were in the final stages of completion, and installation of these is expected within the next three months. Four pieces of sculpture will be completed and installed not later than September 30, 1938. Four or five months' work remained to be done in the frame shop due to the large number of easel paintings executed.

No new projects were undertaken during the year, with the exception of the execution of a Naval Reserve medal which was designed in compliance with a request from the Secretary of the Navy.

Branch of Supply

The centralized purchase of supplies and materials through the consolidation of the requirements of the various departments and agencies continued to show pronounced economy. An analysis of 79 relatively small purchases and of four term contracts alone showed savings of $2,916,201.

During the year the Branch of Supply received 54,310 bids for supplies and materials and awarded 25,583 contracts, including term contracts. Purchases, exclusive of field purchases, amounted to $20,089,807, compared with $16,975,876 <sup>1</sup> in 1936 and $27,762,952 <sup>1</sup> in 1937. The term contracts were used by the various departments and establishments for additional purchases approximating $60,368,065.

The purchase of textiles for the Works Progress Administration sewing projects continued in importance. In 1938 the Branch of Supply purchased 126,792,230 yards at a cost of $11,328,200, compared with 113,218,678 yards in 1937 at a cost of $13,112,419. The special procedure to control these purchases has proved economical in time and funds. The purchases were made with a saving of $2,294,939 in 1938 and $2,104,171 in 1937. Clarity of specifications and advance inspections at the mills contributed substantially to these savings. In not a single instance were purchases made against the account of a defaulting contractor.

In a letter dated June 21, 1938, the President directed the Works Progress Administration to procure not to exceed $10,000,000 worth of surplus clothing for distribution to needy persons and also directed the Procurement Division to handle the purchase thereof. Arrangements were made by the Branch of Supply for handling this large transaction in the New York State Procurement Office under the personal direction of officers of the Branch of Supply. Administrative personnel and purchase experts were assigned to that office to assist in the work. In a later letter the President directed that the amount for this program be increased to $15,000,000.

The economy and convenience of consolidated service contracts at the larger field centers have prompted the extension of such contracts. As of June 30, 1938, drayage contracts were in effect in five of the larger centers; electricity contracts in three; gas in two; typewriter and miscellaneous office machine repairs in two; telephone in one; and a Nation-wide contract covering repairs to office machines of a prominent make. In addition, consolidated contracts were made for a number of services of less importance for the convenience afforded. Consolidated contracts, Nation-wide in scope, were executed covering tank car, tank wagon, and steel drum deliveries of motor gasoline. The net saving per gallon on the 146,890,816 gallons required will be $.0142, establishing a gross saving of $2,085,849.

Under consolidated electric contracts in the New York City area, the lower rate effective January 1, 1938, resulted in a saving for 1938 of $308,858. Arrangements have been made with the New York Edison Company to extend the same low rate to the Federal building in the New York World's Fair. The electricity contract in Philadelphia resulted in a saving of $6,000, about a 24 percent saving. A consolidated contract for gas in the New York area saved $4,700, a 33 percent reduction.

The Procurement Division requirement that all lubricating oil be purchased from Navy contracts resulted in a saving in 1938 of $1,514,750 to Federal agencies other than the Navy Department. A three year study was completed and a new specification developed covering a compound lubricating oil suitable for "caterpillar" type Diesel engines. This should result in a continuing saving, estimated for 1939 to be $37,500.

Fuel issues to the departments and agencies were consistent with a rather mild season, deliveries being 327,442 tons of coal, 6,927,564 gallons of fuel oil, 250 cords of wood, 1,085 bushels of charcoal, and 230 tons of coke. The 1,176,431 gallon increase in 1938 in fuel oil reflects the tendency toward a more general use of this fuel.

In connection with the purchases in 1938, 21,875 inspections were made in Washington, resulting in 1,441 rejections, while inspections at factories of 128,890 pieces of furniture resulted in the rejection of 882 pieces.

New specifications, revisions, and amendments to Federal specifications, totaling 190, were prepared, bringing the total specifications in effect on June 30, 1938, to 1,181.

Revision of the Federal Standard Stock Catalog and the checking and arranging of stock lists of various Federal agencies were continued.

Federal traffic activities required the issuance of 2,789 routing orders covering 22,650 cars and the routing of 34,771 less-than-carload shipments. Rate quotations were furnished in 285,087 instances. Through arrangements with carriers in a few specific shipments, over $400,000 was saved, and changes in classification affecting heavy continuing shipments will afford economy of major importance to various agencies.

The traffic night school was inaugurated in February 1938 by the Branch of Supply to instruct interested Government employees, without cost to the Government or charge to the participants, in procedure relating to the handling of Government freight and express traffic.

In the disposition of surplus property, sales to Government agencies amounted to $55,920, and sales, including waste materials, to the public in the District of Columbia amounted to $147,987. About half of the property sold had been reconditioned. Declarations covering about 4,400 lots of property declared surplus in the field resulted in 3,359 transfers to Government uses.

There were 847 lists of property, surplus to the emergency relief activities and determined to be of no further use to the Government, which were sent to State procurement offices for disposal. Sales of this property involved 1,015 awards and yielded a return of approximately $125,000.

The disposal of surplus property acquired by and surplus to the Federal Housing Administration resulted in the transfer of 13,869 items of miscellaneous equipment having a current value of $1,924,158, and consisting chiefly of domestic appliances such as refrigerators, washing machines, heaters, etc. About $400,000 worth of similar equipment is in process of like disposal.

Overhauls and adjustments of typewriters for various agencies totaled 21,823, with charges aggregating $36,290, which is estimated to be about $12,000 less than the same work by commercial agencies would have cost.

In the Procurement Division garage, passenger cars and trucks of various Federal agencies were serviced 29,872 times, 3,273 repair jobs were done, and 233,030 gallons of gasoline and 4,747 gallons of oil were dispensed.

Expert assistance in designing and selecting furnishings was given in connection with 12 different Federal activities. This involved the study of special furniture, rugs, curtains, and wall hangings.

Under the cooperative arrangement with the Department of Labor for the enforcement of the Walsh-Healey Act, which provides conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, investigations were made of all requests for exemption from provisions of the act and information was furnished on various important commodities.

Various studies have resulted in accomplishments of general importance. Plans were developed for the systematizing of intercommunication between Government agencies in Washington, which should effect a saving of over $15,000 a year on telephones. A survey for the Department of Agriculture of all motor vehicles owned by the Government affords the Bureau of Public Roads invaluable data. The general schedule contract for adding machines was improved through securing lower rates on quantity purchases. In cooperation with the Bureau of Mines a new specification for less sensitive dynamite was developed, which should afford additional safety.

The 123 Federal business associations, functioning as agencies of the Procurement Division on special field assignments, assisted in obtaining bids leading to consolidated contracts in the field and in collecting data for use in telephone service studies. Free use of 2,262 Government-owned trucks was obtained by the associations for the Post Office Department in handling mail during the Christmas period, representing a saving of $142,623.

Reimbursements from the $3,000,000 work relief supply fund to the general supply fund for the purchase and distribution of materials, supplies, and equipment for the work relief program amounted to $843,628 during the year. The work relief fund will be reimbursed by the governmental agencies for which these purchases were made.

In the State procurement office organization, which covered the 48 States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, the Honolulu office was eliminated in 1938 and certain areas were consolidated. These changes effected appreciable economies in salaries and rentals without any detriment to the service.

During the year the Branch of Supply and the State procurement offices acted upon 574,582 requisitions; issued 812,379 purchase orders; and passed for payment 1,145,327 vouchers, representing purchases of $148,827,485 against emergency relief funds. This amount includes the $11,328,200 of purchases of textiles by the Branch of Supply, but does not include clearances for purchase by other agencies. The 1938 volume was nearly 40 percent less than in 1936 and 1937, reflecting the reduction in emergency relief appropriations.

About 1,834 new leases and 635 renewals of leases for field offices of various activities operating under emergency relief funds were effected, and a large number of agreements were concluded for free space for these offices.

PUBLIC DEBT SERVICE

The Public Debt Service is charged with the conduct of transactions in public debt securities of the United States, the verification of United States currency redeemed by the Treasurer of the United States and of imperfect securities delivered by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the destruction of redeemed currency and other securities authorized to be destroyed, and the procurement of distinctive paper for currency and public debt securities.

The Public Debt Service comprises the Office of the Commissioner, the Division of Loans and Currency, the Office of the Register of the Treasury, the Division of Paper Custody, the Division of Public Debt Accounts and Audit, and the Destruction Committee, with a small field force at the mill of the contractor for distinctive paper. The Federal Reserve banks, as fiscal agents of the United States, function as a field force for public debt transactions, and the Postal Service functions in like manner for the sale of United States savings bonds.

The following statements, submitted by the administrative units of the Public Debt Service, summarize the transactions conducted during the year:

Division of Loans and Currency

This Division is the active agent of the Secretary of the Treasury for the issue of all public debt obligations of the United States and for conducting transactions in such obligations after issue. It is also responsible for the issue of bonds or other obligations of Puerto Rico and the Philippine Islands, for which the Treasury Department acts as fiscal agent, and of the securities of various Government corporations and credit agencies. The Division undertakes the safekeeping of these securities for certain Government offices. It also counts and delivers to the Destruction Committee the United States currency canceled as unfit and mutilated paper (spoilage, etc.) received from the Division of Paper Custody and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Issue and retirement of securities.—The following is a summary of the issues and retirements of securities conducted through this Division during the year. Detailed accounts of all transactions in public debt securities of the United States are presented in formal statements elsewhere in the report.

Transactions in United States and insular securities and in securities of various Government corporations and credit agencies, fiscal year 1938

United States savings bonds.—On June 30, 1937, there were 2,785,640 United States savings bonds on hand with a maturity value of $466,850,700. During the year the Division received from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing 2,895,000 bonds with a maturity value of $722,000,000, and 106 bonds with a maturity value of $24,850 were restored to stock. Of these bonds, 2,835,787 with a maturity value of $731,728,150 were issued and 231,138 bonds amounting to $32,459,950 were delivered to the Register of the Treasury, leaving a balance on hand of 2,613,821 bonds with a maturity value of $424,687,450 on June 30, 1938.

Original registration stubs, representing sales of United States savings bonds, received and audited, savings bonds redeemed prior to maturity received and registration discharged before payment, and savings bonds redeemed prior to maturity received and registration discharged after payment are shown in the following tables:

Register of the Treasury

The Register of the Treasury conducts the final audit and has custody of all retired public debt securities, including interest coupons and checks, and performs a like function with respect to the securities of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, Federal Housing Administration, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, and the consolidated obligations of the Federal home loan banks and the Federal land banks. The Register also retires bonds of the insular possessions which are exchanged for other securities.

The Register renders monthly certification to the Comptroller General of all public debt securities redeemed by the Treasurer of the United States, and establishes credits due the Federal Reserve banks and the Division of Loans and Currency for securities forwarded by them on account of exchanges, replacements, transfers of registration, etc.

The following statement sets forth, by class of security, the total number and face value of documents which were received by the Register's Office on account of transactions during the fiscal year 1938:

Division of Public Debt Accounts and Audit

This Division maintains administrative control accounts for all official transactions in the public debt conducted by the various Treasury offices and the Federal Reserve banks as fiscal agents of the United States, and also for transactions involving paper used for printing public debt and other securities, United States currency, stamps, etc., and miscellaneous securities and documents in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Also included in the administrative control accounts of this Division are transactions in bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, in consolidated Federal farm loan bonds of the Federal land banks, in notes of the Commodity Credit Corporation, and in debentures of the Federal home loan banks and the Federal Housing Administration, conducted by the Treasury and Federal Reserve banks, similar to those in public debt securities. Numerous administrative audit functions are performed in connection with the foregoing. The Division maintains control accounts for various classes of unissued currency in reserve stocks of the Treasurer of the United States, and conducts administrative examinations and physical audits of such unissued stocks of currency and of cash balances in custody, and of collateral securities held in trust in the offices of the Treasurer of the United States.

During the fiscal year 154 physical audits were conducted, involving securities, currency, paper, interest checks, etc., amounting to about $50,000,000,000 in face value and 94,000,000 in number of pieces.

The Division determined and certified credits to the cumulative sinking fund and amounts in the sinking fund available for expenditure from time to time, interest on all classes of public debt securities and securities of various Government corporations and credit agencies which became due and payable on their respective interest-payment dates, and the amount of each form of such securities and unpaid interest outstanding each month. It prepared estimates of interest to become payable on public debt securities in future fiscal years, and of expenditures to be made on account of retirements for the sinking fund and other special accounts, and prepared statements showing the accountability of Federal Reserve banks for public debt and other securities for the use of Federal Reserve Board examiners in their periodical examinations of those banks. Numerous data pertaining to public debt and other transactions for various interested offices and individuals were also compiled.

Division of Paper Custody

The Division of Paper Custody receives from the contractors all distinctive paper used in printing public debt obligations, obligations of Government corporations and agencies, and paper currency of the United States, Cuba, and the Philippine Islands; issues such paper to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing against orders to print, and certifies to public vouchers in payment of the paper. The Division also maintains records of all receipts and issues of Federal Reserve notes stored in the Federal Reserve vault.

The following tables summarize the operations of this Division during the fiscal year 1938:

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE<sup>1</sup>Public health work under the Social Security Act

Public health activities under the provisions of title VI of the Social Security Act are directed to the improvement of State and local health services through grants-in-aid to the States under the authority of section 601, administered by the Division of Domestic Quarantine, and to the investigation of disease and problems of sanitation, under the authority of section 603, administered by the National Institute of Health.

Section 601.—The outstanding features of the expanding national public health program under section 601 of the Social Security Act are the increase in both State and local appropriations stimulated by the Federal grants-in-aid, the increase in the number of industrial hygiene units in the State departments of health, the extension of rural health services, and the increase in the number and the improvement in qualifications of the technical and professional personnel engaged in State and local health work. Prior to 1936 only 4 States had established industrial hygiene units, whereas since that date 20 States have set up such units and 6 have begun limited activities under the State health departments.

With the sum of $1,116,656, carried over from the preceding year, added to the appropriation of $8,000,000 for 1938, the total amount available for allotment among the several States for public health work under the provisions of section 601 was $9,116,656. The amount actually paid to the States, on the basis of budgets submitted by the State health departments and approved by the Surgeon General, was $8,908,715, which left a balance of $207,941 to be added to the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939. It should be noted that the States were able to utilize a much larger amount of the available fund than was the case the year before.

During the year special consultant services on dental health work and laboratory activities were added to the consultant service being rendered to the States by district medical officers and public health nurses of the Public Health Service on problems of general organization and administration. Steps were taken also to extend the services of the district engineers of the Public Health Service in the rendering of expert advice to the State health departments on problems of environmental sanitation.

Seven medical officers were detailed to the States of Mississippi, Tennessee, West Virginia, and Maryland, to serve temporarily as county health officers during the year. Officers were also detailed at the request of State health authorities to serve as special advisers on problems of organization and administration in Texas, Kentucky, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Ohio.

The cooperative work of the Division of Venereal Diseases with State and local health departments was expanded under the provisions of section 601. A discussion of the activities of this Division will be found on page 224 of this report.

Section 603.—In order to carry out the provisions of section 603 of the Social Security Act, an appropriation of $1,600,000 was made to the Public Health Service for investigation of disease and problems of sanitation and for various administrative expenses. Of this amount $886,369 was allotted to the National Institute of Health to be used for studies of infectious diseases, chemistry, pharmacology, industrial hygiene, public health methods, pathology, cooperative measures, and activities connected therewith. This work is carried on in connection with the regular work of the Institute, a discussion of which will be found on page 221.

Division of Sanitary Reports and Statistics

The Public Health Service continued its important function of collecting and disseminating general information and statistical data regarding health conditions and the prevalence of communicable diseases in the United States and foreign countries. This information was summarized and published weekly in the Public Health Reports. In accordance with provisions of law, these reports are made available to public health officers, sanitarians, and libraries throughout the United States.

Health conditions, as interpreted from the death rate, remained unusually favorable throughout the calendar year 1937, with a preliminary death rate of 11.2 per 1,000 estimated population compared with 11.5 in 1936. The downward trend of tuberculosis mortality was resumed in 1937, after a break in 1936. Decreases, as compared with 1936, were recorded in the death rates for typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, malaria, pellagra, diseases of the digestive system, nephritis, and diseases associated with pregnancy and childbirth. The maternal mortality rate for 1937 was 13 percent less than that for 1936. On the other hand, little change was noted in the death rate for meningitis, diabetes, cerebral hemorrhage, heart disease, pneumonia, and accidents. Mortality from encephalitis, measles, whooping cough, influenza, poliomyelitis, and cancer was higher than in 1936. Owing to epidemics of influenza and poliomyelitis during 1937, the death rate for each of these diseases was the highest recorded during the past 5 years. A total of 11,673 cases of smallpox was reported in 1937, the largest number since 1931. For the first 6 months of the calendar year 1938, the number of cases of smallpox exceeded that for the entire year of 1937.

Through the Office of Health Education, established in 1935, considerable progress was made in popularizing health educational publications. The monthly publication, The Health Officer, first issued in 1936, continued to serve for the exchange of information of interest to State and local health officers and health workers in the field.

Division of Domestic Quarantine

This Division continued its duties in administering section 601 of title VI of the Social Security Act, details of which are given on page 216, its work in connection with the enforcement of the interstate quarantine regulations, and cooperative activities with the States in sanitation and the prevention of the spread of epidemic diseases.

Public health engineering.—Requests from Federal, State, and other agencies, interested in water pollution abatement, for consultant and advisory services from the Office of Stream Sanitation are increasing materially. Considerable work was carried out in cooperation with the National Resources Committee in connection with a revision of the drainage basin project lists compiled following the drainage basin studies made throughout the United States in the summer of 1936.

In the maintenance of supervision over water supplies used for drinking and culinary purposes by common carriers in interstate traffic, 2,090 of the 2,225 supplies reported by such carriers were inspected, with the cooperation of the State health departments, and 4,048 certificates were issued following these inspections. Upon the recommendation of the State health officers, 66 supplies were prohibited from use because of the lack of sanitary safeguards against potential hazards to health involved in the use of these particular supplies.

General sanitary inspections were made of 268 coach yards, 285 watering points and terminals, and 250 dining cars and commissaries. During the year the procedure for the certification of water supplies used for drinking and culinary purposes by common carriers was extended to provide for inspections by the State health authorities of the sanitary methods employed by the carrier companies in handling the water on their properties, in addition to inspections of the water supply systems delivering the water supplies to the carriers.

Following inspections with regard to the sanitation of vessels, favorable certificates were issued to 1,248 vessels, or 60 percent of the 1,816 vessels coming within the scope of the Interstate Quarantine Regulations; and "not approved" certificates were issued to 12 vessels. On the basis of affidavits from the shipmasters that the vessels were complying with the regulations, temporary certificates were issued to 422 vessels which could not be reached. Plans for the water supply systems of 22 new vessels were received for review and approval. A total of 833 water samples from vessels operating in the Great Lakes and inland rivers was examined bacteriologically.

During the year, 1,974 certificates of interstate shippers issued by producing States were endorsed by the Public Health Service and included in the semimonthly published lists of shellfish growers and shippers of States where control measures are satisfactory. Inspections were made of 540 shucking and packing plants and 26 growing areas to determine the efficiency of State control. It was necessary to continue withholding endorsement of the certifications of one State.

Reciprocity with Canada was carried on in connection with certification of water supplies of common carriers in international service and the issuance of certificates to shippers of shellfish.

Cooperation with other Federal agencies.—There was a considerable increase in cooperative assistance furnished to various Federal agencies on public health engineering matters by the engineering personnel of this Division. Federal construction programs and emergency relief activities have brought about an increase in requests for assistance of this kind. The National Park Service and the Office of Indian Affairs of the Interior Department continued to rely upon the Public Health Service for technical assistance in connection with the sanitation of the National Parks and the Indian reservations. The District of Columbia and the United States Lighthouse Service of the Department of Commerce received considerable assistance as well as the Coast Guard Service, particularly in the Great Lakes region.

It has been estimated that approximately 34.5 percent of the time of the engineering personnel was devoted to cooperative assistance to 24 Federal bureaus or subdivisions during the year. With this type of service constantly increasing, the work of the personnel is being extended so that it is not always possible to furnish without delay the assistance requested.

The detail of medical officers to serve as advisers to the Farm Security Administration and the Public Assistance Division of the Social Security Board was continued.

Works Progress Administration projects.—The Public Health Service continued its assistance to the Works Progress Administration and the State health departments by providing technical supervision of projects for the employment of work relief labor on the construction of sanitary out-door toilets in unsewered areas of small communities. Projects were operated in 39 States. The work covered an average of 1,162 counties throughout the year and furnished employment for an average of 18,624 men. A total of 470,000 new sanitary units was constructed and 21,200 old toilets were restored to sanitary condition. More than 1,774,600 sanitary units have been installed in unsewered areas of small communities since this program was inaugurated.

Technical supervision for the Works Progress Administration malaria control drainage program was continued. Approximately 2,686 miles of average size ditch were constructed, and an average of 19,029 men was employed on the projects during the year.

For the purpose of reducing the pollution of streams caused by acid mine waste waters, the Public Health Service, in cooperation with several State health departments, continued to provide the technical supervision on projects for the sealing of abandoned bituminous coal mines. At the close of the year, work was in progress in 86 counties, with the employment of an average of 4,800 men. Since the beginning of the program, 3,300 mines have been sealed, involving the closure of more than 100,000 openings. The amount of acid prevented from reaching streams by this work is estimated at 610,000 tons annually, and the amount that will be excluded from streams by work now in progress is estimated to be 317,000 tons annually.

A series of reports covering the inspections of the plumbing facilities of Federal buildings in New York, N. Y., and Detroit, Mich., which had been made under a Works Progress Administration project during the period May 1936 to June 1937, were prepared and transmitted to the governmental agencies concerned for their information and guidance. A summary report was issued in multilith form for general distribution and was reprinted either in whole or in part by a number of plumbing trade journals.

Division of Foreign and Insular Quarantine

In spite of the widespread prevalence of quarantinable diseases throughout the world, and the occurrence of several unusually severe epidemics of such diseases, no cases were imported into the United States or its insular possessions during the year. Quarantinable disease arrived at only two ports, New York and Honolulu, one case of smallpox reaching each place. In both instances effective measures, instituted at quarantine, prevented the spread of the disease. Strict precautionary measures were enforced at all United States ports, especially at those on the West Coast, where it was necessary to conduct intensive examinations in order to prevent the entrance of cholera carriers from the Orient.

During the year, 15,873 vessels, carrying 789,591 passengers and 1,196,688 seamen, were inspected by officers of the Service, and 1,004 vessels were fumigated. Examinations for plague infection which were made of 5,399 of the 7,659 rats recovered following fumigation revealed no infected rats.

The granting of radio pratique to vessels entering the harbors of New York and Boston produced such satisfactory results, both from the standpoint of the Service and of the shipping interests involved, that the system was extended during the latter part of the year to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

An increase in the prevalence of yellow fever in South America required the institution of additional control measures to prevent the introduction of the disease into the United States by aircraft. The most important of the preventive measures were the establishment of an Aedes aegypti control unit at Miami, Fla., and the extension of the program for the immunization of aircraft-operating personnel.

Inspections for quarantine and immigration purposes were made at United States airports of entry of 1,784 airplanes, carrying 23,172 passengers, of whom 6,730 were aliens.

The United States Quarantine Regulations were amended during the year to provide that no living disease organism or vector shall be imported into the United States except under special permit issued by the Surgeon General.

Examination of 2,447,339 alien passengers and 805,306 alien seamen by medical officers of the Service at United States ports resulted in the certification to immigration officials of 20,372 passengers and 1,438 seamen as being afflicted with some mental or physical defect or disease.

Unsettled conditions in Europe caused an increase of 35.81 percent in the number of aliens examined there during the year as compared with the preceding year. Public Health Service officers stationed in American consulates in foreign countries examined 65,261 applicants for immigration visas, 45,790 in the Eastern Hemisphere and 19,471 in the Western Hemisphere. Certifications for affliction with one or more of the defects or diseases requiring exclusion were made of 918 of those examined in the Eastern Hemisphere and 119 of those examined in the Western Hemisphere, while 8,438 of those examined in the Eastern Hemisphere and 2,538 of those examined in the Western Hemisphere were reported as being afflicted with a disease or condition which was likely to affect their ability to earn a living. Certification for affliction with a condition requiring deportation was made of only one of the aliens arriving in the United States from foreign ports at which they had undergone preliminary medical examinations.

National Institute of Health

The ultimate purpose of research in the field of public health is to produce practical results, either in basic epidemiological knowledge or in methods of prevention and control, useful in the efforts to combat disease and to improve the health of the people. Summaries of the more significant activities and accomplishments during the year in the scientific work of the various divisions are given in the following paragraphs.

Division of Biologics Control.—It was found that the stability of neoparsphenamine is affected by the age of the product and by the amount of moisture retained. When containing not more than 1.5

percent volatile material, the product may be expected to remain stable for three years when stored at a temperature slightly less than 20° C.

The inspection of establishments manufacturing biologic preparations and the routine testing of products, as provided in the act of July 1, 1902, proceeded without incident. Licenses to engage in interstate trade in these products are held by 61 concerns, of which 14 are foreign establishments. The licenses cover 166 different preparations.

Division of Chemistry.—In connection with the problem of removing fluorides from drinking water, it was found that fluoride can be removed by treatment with magnesium oxide in a manner which gives promise of economical development. Studies on ascorbic acid in plants have shown that light has a striking effect on the accumulation of this acid in the roots, as well as in the leaves of plants. This finding is viewed as important in connection with nutritional investigations. Other investigations were directed to the chemistry of enzymes and carbohydrates.

Division of Industrial Hygiene.—In the first series of investigations concerning lead arsenate, undertaken in view of the large amounts used as an insecticide spray, 100 milligrams of lead arsenate were ingested by two research workers over a period of 10 days; it was found that the greater part of the lead was excreted with the feces and that the arsenic was excreted in the urine. Further studies of selenium point to its significance as an industrial hazard in the manufacture of ceramics, paint pigments, special steel, copper alloys, and rubber specialties. As a result of extensive observations embracing surveys of prevalence and methods of prevention, the conclusion has been reached that chronic industrial mercurialism is preventable with good engineering and medical control; sanitary environment of workers engaged in the industries using mercury forms the basic means for prevention.

Other investigations in industry pertained to dust hazards, fatigue, illumination, sickness among employees, dermatoses, and the dangers to which workers in lead and manganese products are subjected.

Division of Infectious Diseases.—Epidemiological studies have disclosed the fact that rheumatic heart disease is exceeded as a cause of death only by tuberculosis, pneumonia, and syphilis. It caused more deaths in persons under 20 years of age than whooping cough, measles, meningococcic meningitis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and poliomyelitis combined. Data on 104,163 college students showed an incidence rate of 11.6 per thousand. In this connection the Public Health Service has pointed out that an unwarranted diagnosis of heart disease may seriously affect a student's career both in college and in later life.

Weil's disease, hitherto considered a tropical malady, has been found to be endemic in the United States. Cases were diagnosed in New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, West Virginia, Texas, Iowa, and Florida. Although the mortality is low, recently acquired knowledge regarding illness from this infection and its wide prevalence mark the disease as a new public health problem of considerable importance in this country.

Investigations of leprosy in continental United States have revealed that only in some parts of certain of the States bordering on the Gulf of Mexico does the disease show any notable tendency to spread, and even in individual States there are striking limitations of areas of communicability. Cases in New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago have all been traceable, with but a single exception, to infection acquired elsewhere.

Cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever have been reported from a considerable number of new areas. A largely increased amount of preventive vaccine was distributed during the year.

Poison-dusting by airplane for the control of mosquitoes has been demonstrated to be practical and economical. Based on experiments in the central South, investigators estimate the cost, including paris green, at $0.367 per acre. This item covers the pay of the most efficient personnel and cost of the best equipment.

Additional research was given to ascertaining new facts concerning the etiology and control of the rickettsial diseases such as Rocky Mountain spotted fever and endemic typhus, virus diseases including encephalitis and choriomeningitis, relapsing fever, tularaemia, whooping cough, Chagas' disease, hemolytic streptococci, staphylococci, diseases caused by fungi, conditions influencing the prevalence of tuberculosis, and fundamental problems of immunity.

Division of Pathology.—During the year 2,377 surgical specimens were examined for governmental agencies, and material from 287 autopsies was received. In connection with this service studies are being made on pinworm infestation of the appendix and the incidence of various types of tumors in man. In experimental pathology studies were made of material from 1,425 animal autopsies. An investigation of the pathologic histology of vanadium poisoning was completed.

Division of Pharmacology.—In an effort to obtain some information on the chemical nature of selenium in foodstuffs, experiments were made which led to the observation that selenium can be separated under suitable conditions quantitatively from its protein combination in grain by certain oxidizing agents. Functional studies in chronic selenosis indicate lack of consistent evidence as to diminution of gastric acidity.

Considerable attention was given to bacterial chemotherapy with a view to evolving methods of treating bacterial diseases by the injection of chemical compounds into the blood or tissues instead of the usual administration of drugs by mouth.

Division of Public Health Methods.—Major emphasis has been placed on the analysis of the information obtained in the national health survey begun during the fiscal year 1935. This survey included a study of sickness and medical care among 800,000 families in 19 States and a study of the personnel and facilities available for the provision of health and medical services. The quantitative information on unmet health needs revealed by these studies formed the basis of the national health program recently submitted to the President by the Interdepartmental Committee to Coordinate Health and Welfare Activities. Data from the survey are available in a series of reports by the Public Health Service and in the reports of the Interdepartmental Committee.

Dental defects of children, which constitute one of our most serious health problems, were studied among 4,400 elementary school children in a small city in Maryland. The inadequacy of dental care among these children was shown by the fact that caries defects occurred in permanent teeth at about six times the rate at which fillings were being placed.

Other features of divisional work comprised researches on the health of transients, health education, child hygiene, pollution of streams, and milk in relation to public health.

Division of Zoology.—Investigations of trichinosis indicate an incidence of 17 percent in the United States, that is, an astounding infection rate of one person in every six. Prevalence is low in the South, high along the North Atlantic coast and the southern part of the Pacific coast, and intermediate elsewhere. The most feasible plan for control appears to be State regulation of the garbage-feeding of swine.

Investigations of oxyuriasis covered approximately 3,300 persons, of whom 2,250 were in the general population of Washington, D. C., and showed an incidence of 40 percent. Studies to date indicate an incidence in white persons of 3 to 4 times greater than in Negroes.

National Cancer Institute.—Organization of the Institute was completed during the year in accordance with the act approved August 5, 1937, and the Institute functions as a division of the National Institute of Health. Fifteen grants-in-aid were made, 12 research fellowships awarded, and 17 young physicians were appointed to receive training in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer at approved training centers. Steps were taken to secure 9½ grams of radium, to be distributed as loans to responsible centers for the purpose of giving relief to present day cancer sufferers.

Eight research projects were launched. These relate to cell growth and differentiation, synthesis of carcinogenic agents, inhibition of tumor growth, production of malignant cells in vitro, the influence of anterior pituitary hormones on tumor growth, therapeutic studies, and an epidemiological study of lung cancer.

Division of Venereal Diseases

The national movement to curb the venereal disease menace gained momentum during the year. The program for the control of syphilis and gonorrhea sponsored by the Public Health Service was endorsed by a number of national organizations and by many clergymen and churches. A number of State assemblies passed laws requiring blood tests for syphilis of applicants for marriage licenses and of expectant mothers. Many States and localities intensified their efforts against syphilis and gonorrhea and requested assistance in developing their venereal disease control programs in accordance with the basic principles formulated by the Advisory Committee to the Public Health Service. In order to meet these many requests for assistance, especially trained commissioned officers were assigned as regional venereal disease control officers. National legislation to aid in the control of syphilis and gonorrhea was sponsored by health authorities, organized medicine, and leaders in social and political fields. The Venereal Disease Control Act, enacted May 24, 1938, imposes additional duties on the Public Health Service and provides for Federal funds to be allotted to the States. The sum of $3,000,000 was appropriated for the fiscal year 1939 to carry out the provisions of this act.

In cooperation with five of the leading clinics in the United States, studies for the purpose of improving present day methods in the diagnosis, treatment, and control of syphilis were continued. A group of specialists was organized for the purpose of conducting a cooperative study looking toward improvement of present day methods in the diagnosis, treatment, and control of gonorrhea. Surveys on incidence and prevalence of syphilis and gonorrhea were continued, and a tentative mechanical system for reporting morbidity, treatment-progress, and control of venereal diseases was devised.

In accordance with the recommendations of the committee on evaluation of serodiagnostic tests for syphilis, a comparative study of the performance of such tests in State laboratories was conducted. Forty-six laboratories representing forty-four States and the District of Columbia participated in this study. In order to maintain necessary standards in the performance of laboratory tests and to provide a system of periodical checking of State laboratories, the facilities at the venereal disease research laboratory at Stapleton, N. Y., were taxed to the utmost. Scientific studies of potential value in further increasing our knowledge with reference to diagnosis, treatment, and control of syphilis and gonorrhea were conducted at the Stapleton laboratory and at the syphilis research center, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

Studies pertaining to certain phases of the venereal diseases were conducted in cooperation with a number of medical centers and institutions which had developed special facilities for investigations of these particular problems.

The Public Health Service Medical Center at Hot Springs, Ark., served an important function in preventing the inter-State spread of venereal diseases by providing treatment for 6,209 indigent persons, 59 percent of whom were infected with a venereal disease in a communicable stage.

In 1935 the Transient Bureau of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration constructed a camp for transients near Hot Springs and the Public Health Service cooperated in the treatment of those transients who were infected with the venereal diseases. When the transient activities of the Federal Government were discontinued the Administrator of the Emergency Relief Administration in Arkansas agreed to make available during the fiscal year 1937 a sufficient amount from balances remaining from former Federal relief grants to the State of Arkansas for the continuation of this camp as an infirmary solely for the care of totally indigent patients infected with syphilis and gonorrhea. Full administrative responsibility for this service was turned over to the Public Health Service. This arrangement was continued until September 1, 1937, when under the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, approved August 25, 1937, $163,266 was transferred from unobligated balances of funds heretofore allocated to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to the Treasury Department, Public Health Service, for the maintenance and operation of the infirmary for the remaining ten months of the fiscal year 1938.

Division of Marine Hospitals and Relief

The splendid service afforded beneficiaries of the Public Health Service at its marine hospitals and other relief stations continued to improve. This was made possible through the addition of more personnel, the purchase of approximately $300,000 worth of new equipment, the addition of new drugs, notably sulfanilamide, to the armamentarium, and the initiation of new methods of treatment. As a result, there was a decrease in the number of hospital days' relief furnished per patient, even though there was an increase in the number of inpatients admitted. Seamen still constitute the most numerous class of patients. By the act of July 30, 1937, dependent members of families of officers and enlisted men of the Coast Guard, retired list included, were added to the list of beneficiaries, being granted the privilege of receiving inpatient treatment at first class stations at a per diem cost. This necessitated providing additional facilities for the care of women and children and likewise widened the scope of treatment rendered and of operations performed.

The Public Health Service continued to cooperate with other Government departments in Washington in furnishing emergency medical relief to employees and supervising 19 medical relief units in the Treasury Department and other agencies.

A daily average of 5,491 inpatients and 4,002 outpatients received treatment at the marine hospitals and other relief stations. A total of 60,403 inpatients were furnished 2,004,154 days treatment in hospitals, as compared with 59,722 inpatients and 2,041,114 hospital days last year. The per diem cost of operation was $3.56.

After nearly three-quarters of a century, the method of admitting insane beneficiaries of the Public Health Service to St. Elizabeths Hospital had to be changed. Since 1875 the act of Congress authorizing admission had been construed as not requiring judicial proceedings; but the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia held that such patients must be adjudicated insane, and, therefore, future admissions of Public Health Service beneficiaries will be effected on a commitment basis.

Division of Mental Hygiene

Follow-up studies, at the Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington, Ky., of the mental and physical deviations of patients during the period subsequent to the withdrawal of the drug of addiction have served to strengthen previous impressions that addicted patients do not tend to become normal until 7 months have elapsed following the withdrawal of narcotics.

The data obtained from the system of recording objective abstinence symptoms in chronic opium poisoning, inaugurated during the preceding year, were analyzed and the method was applied to evaluate several systems of treatment for the so-called "withdrawal stage." The results thus far indicate that systems of treatment for which specificity is claimed have no real value in reducing the severity of symptoms. According to the experiences obtained at the Public Health Service Hospital at Lexington, Ky., the best method for treating the withdrawal state of opium addiction is the application of palliative measures along with rapid withdrawal of the drug.

Studies of electro-encephalograms recorded on normal nonaddicted individuals, on addicts stabilized on morphine, and on addicts stabilized on substitute drugs, indicate that significant changes occur in the electrophysiology of the brain when an individual becomes addicted to narcotic drugs, and there is evidence of difference in the bio-electric phenomena with various narcotic drugs used. In the application of a point rating scale used in evaluating certain psychiatric changes occurring in addicts when stabilized on drugs and during and following their withdrawal, it was found that an individual who appears physiologically stable when receiving certain morphine doses is not necessarily stable from a psychiatric or emotional point of view. The evidence indicates that it requires more than a stabilizing dose to produce emotional tranquillity, and that certain narcotic drugs are more likely to produce this feeling which the addict desires than are others.

Studies also included an intensive investigation of the physical, chemical, psychological, and psychiatric changes resulting from single therapeutic doses of morphine, from repeated doses of morphine used when necessary during the course of the routine care of patients when addiction must be stabilized, and during that period subsequent to the withdrawal of the drug of addiction. Definite evidence was obtained that strong dependence is associated with a blood hydration, that the abstinence syndrome is accompanied by relative blood dehydration, from which the patient recovers by the 8th or 10th day, and that normal concentration is not regained for many months. A valuable contribution to the experimental field was the development of a test for morphine in biological materials which is applicable to excretion studies in human beings.

Psychological evidence suggests that there is degeneration of addicts but that those addicted for long periods of years do not show a greater degree of degeneration than those addicted for shorter periods. The correlation and coordination of these studies is thought to be important and necessary for formulating a more rational form of treatment.

Investigations regarding the habit-forming properties of certain derivatives of opium as possible substitutes for morphine were continued during the year, and studies were completed on the addiction liability of several new compounds. A thorough re-examination of the addiction liability of codeine was undertaken and arrangements were made to study certain synthetic compounds which, because of their pharmacological effect, do not lend themselves to the same methods of substitution previously employed.

Dr. Lyndon F. Small, consultant in alkaloid chemistry to the Public Health Service, was granted letters patent covering a process for obtaining "Ethers of Morphine and Dihydromorphine and their Respective N-Oxides" which he evolved in his efforts to obtain a substitute drug for morphine. This patent was assigned by Dr. Small to the United States Government, represented by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The United States Public Health Service Hospital, Lexington, Ky., designed to accommodate 1,000 patients, operated at approximately full capacity during the year, with an average daily patient population of 949, total admissions 950 (225 voluntary), and 955 discharges, 636 of whom were discharged as cured. A follow-up system for prisoner patients inaugurated during the year revealed that 347 former patients, representing 15.8 percent of the total number of patients discharged since the opening of the institution, had relapsed to the use of narcotics, and that 72 others had been arrested for drug law violations and other crimes but had not relapsed. Of the combined total, 316 have been returned to this hospital for further treatment of drug addiction or as parole or conditional release violators.

Construction of the initial group of buildings for the United States Public Health Service Hospital (second Narcotic Farm), Fort Worth, Tex., has been completed, and a medical officer has been detailed in charge of this institution. It is anticipated that the hospital will be ready to receive patients in October 1938.

The Public Health Service continued the work of supervising and furnishing the medical and psychiatric services for the Federal penal and correctional system, comprising 19 medical units in connection with the various institutions under the control of the Department of Justice, an additional medical unit having been provided for the new Federal jail at Terminal Island, Calif.

Psychiatric diagnostic service for United States courts was continued during the year at the Federal district courts located in Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Denver, Detroit, and Kansas City, Mo., and was extended to the Federal district courts located in Atlanta, Pittsburgh, and Minneapolis. During the year 107 persons brought before these Federal courts, charged with crimes against the United States, were given psychiatric examinations, and 14 of those examined were hospitalized for further observation.

The study of mental hospital conditions in the several States was continued during the year by the Mental Hospital Survey Committee, a cooperative committee composed of one or more representatives of national medical and psychiatric associations and organizations, including the Public Health Service, the object being to bring about improvement in and standardization of facilities and policies for the care of the mentally ill and to improve facilities for instruction in the psychiatric field.

A new law governing insanity proceedings in the District of Columbia became effective in June 1938, whereby the mandatory jury trial required for the commitment of a person to a mental hospital was abolished. This change in procedure was effected pursuant to recommendations made after a survey and study by the Public Health Service of the facilities and procedures for the care of the mentally ill in the District.

Division of Personnel and Accounts

Personnel.—On June 30, 1938, the regular commissioned corps of the Public Health Service consisted of 421 commissioned officers and 91 reserve officers on active duty. Other personnel of the Service totaled 6,950, not including 5,851 collaborating and assistant collaborating epidemiologists, who served at nominal compensation and who were for the most part officers or employees of State and local health organizations, and 522 emergency employees appointed under the Works Progress Administration.

Financial statement.—Following is a statement of appropriations and funds made available to the Public Health Service and the expenditures therefrom for the fiscal year 1938:

DIVISION OF RESEARCH AND STATISTICS

The Division of Research and Statistics in the Office of the Secretary serves as a research staff for the Secretary and other Treasury officials on matters relating to fiscal operations and policies, the estimated volume and source of future revenues, actuarial considerations involved in certain Treasury functions, and various general economic problems arising in connection with Treasury activities.

Estimates of Federal receipts from internal revenue taxes and from customs duties under existing laws are prepared for the Bureau of the Budget for use in all regular and interim Budget reports, and for such other purposes as may be required. Special revenue estimates are prepared for Treasury officials and for Congressional committees working on tax legislation.

The effects of actual and proposed fiscal operations on the credit structure and general economy of the country are analyzed and long-range trends are appraised. Current and prospective conditions in the money and capital markets are studied in relation to both longer-term programs of Federal financing and to the types of securities, the coupon rates, and maturities to be employed in particular financing operations. The investment portfolios of Government trust funds and of governmental corporations and credit agencies are analyzed for the purpose of recommending changes which appear advantageous. Studies are made of existing laws and of legislative proposals in their relation to Treasury financing and Federal fiscal policies.

Reports are prepared on the actuarial status of the old-age reserve account established under the Social Security Act and of other pension and trust funds for which the Treasury is responsible. In connection with retirement legislation, estimates are made of probable cost of existing and proposed plans. Other actuarial analyses are made as required. The Government Actuary, who is on the staff of the Division, is a member of the Board of Actuaries, established under the Civil Service Retirement Act, and serves in a consulting capacity on actuarial matters for governmental agencies outside the Treasury Department.

In addition to the preparation of memoranda and reports for the confidential use of Treasury officials, the Division performs research services of a general nature, including the preparation of replies to inquiries from outside the Treasury for information of a more or less technical nature, the preparation of publications within the field of its activities, the partial preparation and editing of the Annual Report of the Secretary, and the review of other Treasury publications of an economic or statistical nature.

DIVISION OF SAVINGS BONDS

The main function of the Division of Savings Bonds is to promote the sale of United States savings bonds. The division creates and designs its advertising and publicity material and maintains a statistical and mailing unit which distributes all literature and keeps the records of sales and promotional costs. The promotional cost, including charges for advertising space, descriptive literature, distribution, theoretical cost of postage, rent, light, heat, salaries, equipment, alterations to buildings, etc., was approximately one-fifth of 1 percent of the total cash value of savings bonds sold up to June 30, 1938. This ratio has been declining as the volume of sales has risen and expenditures have decreased.

From March 1, 1935, when these bonds were first offered for sale, to June 30, 1938, there were issued 6,451,941 savings bonds with an aggregate maturity value of $1,777,707,650. The sales are shown in some detail in the table on page 14.

Answers to questionnaires sent to all owners of savings bonds disclosed that the majority of these bonds had been purchased by small investors. The tabulation indicates that 26 percent of the bonds outstanding are held by skilled laborers, 23 percent by clerical employees, 16 percent by domestics, and 20 percent by other individuals. The remaining 15 percent are held by banks, trust companies, insurance companies, and other corporations and associations.

The Regular Purchase Plan, under which enrolled purchasers receive memorandum statements on savings bonds at regular intervals, had enlisted more than 25,000 regular purchasers by the close of the fiscal year. In addition, the great majority of the other owners of savings bonds are repeat purchasers, although not enrolled under the Regular Purchase Plan. Many investors are making systematic purchases for the purpose of old-age retirement and other fixed future needs.

SECRET SERVICE DIVISION

During the year 3,075 persons were arrested by agents of the Service, or by their direction, on charges involving counterfeiting of the obligations and coins of the United States, forgery, and miscellaneous offenses against the statutes relating to the Treasury Department. Of this number, 651 were note counterfeiters and note passers, 31 were note raisers and passers of altered currency, 559 were coin counterfeiters and coin passers, 1,664 were check forgers, 2 were apprehended for negotiating stolen or forged bonds, 25 for presenting false claims against the Government, 10 for violating the Gold Reserve Act, 15 for violating the Farm Loan Act, 12 for violating the Adjusted Compensation Act, 5 for making and possessing counterfeit strip stamps, 4 for making and negotiating counterfeit Government checks, 12 for conspiracy, 4 for impersonation, 2 for embezzlement, 6 for parole violation, and 73 for miscellaneous offenses.

Thirty-five new counterfeit note issues were detected, nearly all of which were photo-mechanical productions. Fifteen of these counterfeits were fairly deceptive and warranted distribution of descriptive warning circulars.

During the year counterfeit and altered notes having a representative value of $639,780 were captured by or turned over to agents of the Service, a decrease of $19,589 compared with 1937. Counterfeit coins in the amount of $55,015 were confiscated or turned over to the Service in connection with raids and subsequent arrests, a decrease of $17,062. The loss to the public through the counterfeit money placed in circulation and surrendered to the Service by banks and others was $439,667, a decrease of $147,213 for the year.

Of the counterfeit money seized, the Service held in evidence in court prosecutions $250,590 of counterfeit and altered notes, an increase of $110,588 compared with 1937, and $4,537 of counterfeit coins, a decrease of $39. In these cases the guilty persons were prosecuted.

In connection with arrests and investigations, agents captured or seized 170 metal plates, 57 film and glass negatives for printing counterfeit obligations and securities, 54½ steel dies, 40½ metal molds, and 459½ plaster molds for counterfeiting coins, and a large quantity of miscellaneous materials and counterfeiting paraphernalia.

Of the cases brought to trial, 2,577 were convicted and sentenced, 82 were acquitted, 770 are awaiting the action of the courts, and others were variously disposed of, some defendants being committed to insane asylums and others delivered to the military or police authorities. Convictions were obtained in 96.91 percent of the cases brought to trial.

Agents conducted investigations in 11,645 check cases, 198 bond cases, and 532 Gold Reserve Act cases. In check investigations, $13,940 was received in restitution and transmitted to the Treasury Department.

There were referred to the Service for investigation 20,443 cases of criminal character and 1,566 cases of noncriminal nature.

On April 1, 1938, a special educational campaign was inaugurated for the purpose of instructing merchants, bank personnel, and money handlers of all kinds in the detection of counterfeit money. Public addresses were made by the agents before business organizations, assemblies of bank and postal employees, police officers, and small shopkeepers. Radio talks were broadcast; moving picture shorts were produced; personal canvasses among storekeepers were conducted by the field agents; and 2,160 meetings were addressed, with 93,909 persons attending. Approximately 900,000 warning notices describing counterfeit notes were distributed through the mails, and more than 100,000 store employees were orally instructed. The campaign is being continued as a regular feature of the work.

DIVISION OF TAX RESEARCH

The Division of Tax Research was established in the Office of the Secretary on June 1, 1938, under the provisions of Treasury Department order dated March 25, 1938. The Director of Tax Research is in charge of the Division. The Division analyzes taxes and tax systems and makes recommendations thereon to aid the Secretary of the Treasury in the formulation and execution of tax programs and fiscal policies. Surveys and economic analyses in the field of taxation are made also for other Treasury officials and, on request, for the Congressional Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. The Division is responsible for the assembly and publication of all statistical information pertaining to Federal taxation and in this connection exercises general supervision over the work of the Statistical Section of the Income Tax Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Analyses of the Federal tax structure are made covering both immediate and contemplated revenue needs and dealing with the effectiveness and equitableness of the Federal tax system as it exists and with the proposed changes in the system. Studies are made of the distribution of the tax burden both for specific taxes and for the tax system as a whole. Analyses are made of the specific State and local taxes that are related to the respective taxes in the Federal tax structure. The experiences of States and localities in administering various taxes are studied in connection with problems of Federal tax administration. Comparative studies are made of selected taxes in foreign countries and of foreign tax systems as a whole as a further basis for study of the Federal tax structure.

Estimates of the extent and nature of the Federal, State, and local tax-exempt debt outstanding are furnished annually to the Secretary of the Treasury. The Division also reviews current developments in tax theory and practice, makes special analyses and reports on economic aspects of tax problems, prepares replies to correspondence, and performs other functions of similar nature.

TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES

Public moneys are received and disbursed through the accounts of the Treasurer of the United States. Deposit accounts are carried with designated Government depositaries and the Treasury at Washington. Credit accounts with disbursing officers of the Government are maintained on the books of the Treasurer. Funds appropriated by Congress for the use of the various departments and establishments of the Government are advanced to disbursing officers as required through credits to their accounts with the Treasurer, and disbursements are made by checks drawn by disbursing officers on their accounts with the Treasurer. The Treasurer also is fiscal agent for the payment of principal and interest on the public debt, for the issue and redemption of United States paper currency, for the redemption of national bank notes, Federal Reserve notes, and Federal Reserve bank notes, and for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds and other obligations of the insular governments and of governmental agencies and corporations. He is treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Postal Savings System and trustee and custodian of miscellaneous securities and trust funds.

A comparison of receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, and expenditures of the Government for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 is presented in the following table. The figures in this table, and throughout the remainder of the report of the Treasurer (pp. 234 to 237, inclusive), are on the basis of daily Treasury statements (revised). (For a description of bases used in the tables in this report and of the accounts through which Treasury transactions are effected, see pp. 351 and 352.)

PUBLIC DEBT

Public issues of Treasury notes and Treasury bonds

Exhibit 1

Offering of 1¼ percent Treasury notes of series E-1938 and 2 percent Treasury notes of series B-1942

On September 7, 1937, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau invited subscriptions for 15 month, 1¼ percent Treasury notes of series E-1938 and 5 year, 2 percent Treasury notes of series B-1942, in payment of which only 3¼ percent Treasury notes of series A-1937, maturing September 15, 1937, were accepted. In the related press release it was stated that $350,600,000 of special Treasury bills, which would mature immediately after September 15, and about $168,400,000 of interest on the public debt, which would become due September 15, would be paid from the Treasury's cash balance.

[Department Circular No. 578. Public Debt]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, September 7, 1937.

I. OFFERING OF NOTES

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for notes of the United States in two series, designated 1¼ percent Treasury notes of series E-1938 and 2 percent Treasury notes of series B-1942, respectively, in payment of which only Treasury notes of series A-1937, maturing September 15, 1937, may be tendered. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury notes of series A-1937 tendered and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

1. The notes of series E-1938 will be dated September 15, 1937, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 1¼ percent per annum, payable on a semi-annual basis on December 15, 1937, and on June 15 and December 15, 1938. They will mature December 15, 1938, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The notes of series B-1942 will be dated September 15, 1937, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2 percent per annum, payable semiannually on March 15 and September 15 in each year. They will mature September 15, 1942, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

3. The notes shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

4. The notes will be accepted at par during such time and under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of the Treasury in payment of income and profits taxes payable at the maturity of the notes.

5. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

6. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for notes allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before September 15, 1937, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury notes of series A-1937, maturing September 15, 1937, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Washington, December 6, 1937.

I. OFFERING OF BONDS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par and accrued interest, from the people of the United States for 2½ percent bonds of the United States, designated Treasury bonds of 1945. The amount of the offering is $250,000,000, or thereabouts, with the right reserved to the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the offering by an amount sufficient to accept all subscriptions for which Treasury notes of series A-1938, maturing February 1, 1938, are tendered in payment and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

1. The bonds will be dated December 15, 1937, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2½ percent per annum, payable semiannually on June 15 and December 15 in each year. They will mature December 15, 1945, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The bonds shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess-profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds authorized by the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above.

3. The bonds will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege and will not be entitled to any privilege of conversion.

4. Bearer bonds with interest coupons attached, and bonds registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of bonds of different denominations and of coupon and registered bonds, and for the transfer of registered bonds, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

5. The bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Cash subscriptions from banks and trust companies for their own account will be received without deposit but will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding one-half of the combined capital and surplus of the subscribing bank or trust company. Cash subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payment of 10 percent of the amount of bonds applied for. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, subscriptions in payment of which Treasury notes of series A-1938 are tendered will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment, and the basis of the allotment will be publicly announced.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for bonds allotted on cash subscriptions must be made or completed on or before December 15, 1937, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 10 percent of the amount of bonds applied for shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Any qualified depository will be permitted to make payment by credit for bonds allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve bank of its district. Treasury notes of series A-1938, maturing February 1, 1938, with coupon dated February 1, 1938, attached, will be accepted at par in payment for any bonds subscribed for and allotted, and accrued interest on the maturing notes from August 1, 1937, to December 15, 1937 ($9.701687 per $1,000), will be paid following acceptance of the notes. Payment through surrender of Treasury notes of series A-1938 should be made when the subscription is tendered.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

The amount of the offering is $200,000,000, or thereabouts, with the right reserved to the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the offering by an amount sufficient to accept all subscriptions for which Treasury notes of series A-1938, maturing February 1, 1938, are tendered in payment and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

1. The notes will be dated December 15, 1937, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 1¼ percent per annum, payable semiannually on June 15 and December 15 in each year. They will mature December 15, 1942, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The notes shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The notes will be accepted at par during such time and under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of the Treasury in payment of income and profits taxes payable at the maturity of the notes.

4. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

5. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Cash subscriptions from banks and trust companies for their own account will be received without deposit but will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding one-half of the combined capital and surplus of the subscribing bank or trust company. Cash subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payment of 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, subscriptions in payment of which Treasury notes of series A-1938 are tendered will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment, and the basis of the allotment will be publicly announced.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for notes allotted on cash subscriptions must be made or completed on or before December 15, 1937, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Any qualified depository will be permitted to make payment by credit for notes allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve bank of its district. Treasury notes of series A-1938, maturing February 1, 1938, with coupon dated February 1, 1938, attached, will be accepted at par in payment for any notes subscribed for and allotted, and accrued interest on the maturing notes from August 1, 1937, to December 15, 1937 ($9.701087 per $1,000), will be paid following acceptance of the notes. Payment through surrender of Treasury notes of series A-1938 should be made when the subscription is tendered.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Offering of 2½ percent Treasury bonds of 1948

On March 7, 1938, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced the offering of 10½ year, 2½ percent Treasury bonds of 1948 in exchange for 3 percent Treasury notes of series C-1938, maturing March 15, 1938. In the related press release it was stated that special Treasury bills aggregating $400,642,000, which would mature immediately after March 15, and about $162,000,000 of interest on the public debt, which would become due on March 15, would be paid from the Treasury's cash balance.

[Department Circular No. 581. Public Debt]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, March 7, 1938.

I. OFFERING OF BONDS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for 2½ percent bonds of the United States, designated Treasury bonds of 1948, in payment of which only Treasury notes of series C-1938, maturing March 15, 1938, may be tendered. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury notes of series C-1938 tendered and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

1. The bonds will be dated March 15, 1938, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2½ percent per annum, payable semiannually, on September 15, 1938, and thereafter on March 15 and September 15 in each year. They will mature September 15, 1948, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.<sup>1</sup> * * *

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for bonds allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before March 15, 1938, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury notes of series C-1938, maturing March 15, 1938, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription.

I. OFFERING OF BONDS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for 2¾ percent bonds of the United States, designated Treasury bonds of 1958-63, in payment of which only Treasury notes of series B-1938, maturing June 15, 1938, or Treasury notes of series D-1938, maturing September 15, 1938, may be tendered. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury notes of series B-1938 and of series D-1938 tendered and accepted.

II. DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

1. The bonds will be dated June 15, 1938, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2¾ percent per annum, payable semiannually on December 15, 1938, and thereafter on June 15 and December 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature June 15, 1963, but may be redeemed at the option of the United States on and after June 15, 1958, in whole or in part, at par and accrued interest, on any interest day or days, on 4 months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.<sup>1</sup> * * *

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts, and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or and will be sold on a discount basis to the highest bidders. Tenders will be received at the Federal Reserve banks, or the branches thereof, up to 2 p. m., eastern standard time, on Friday, July 2, 1937. Tenders will not be received at the Treasury Department, Washington.

The Treasury bills will be dated July 7, 1937, and will mature on April 6, 1938, and on the maturity date the face amount will be payable without interest. They will be issued in bearer form only, and in amounts or denominations of $1,000, $10,000, $100,000, $500,000, and $1,000,000 (maturity value).

It is urged that tenders be made on the printed forms and forwarded in the special envelopes which will be supplied by the Federal Reserve banks or branches upon application therefor.

No tender for an amount less than $1,000 will be considered. Each tender must be in multiples of $1,000. The price offered must be expressed on the basis of 100, with not more than three decimal places, e. g., 99.125. Fractions must not be used.

Tenders will be accepted without cash deposit from incorporated banks and trust companies and from responsible and recognized dealers in investment securities. Tenders from others must be accompanied by a deposit of 10 percent of the face amount of Treasury bills applied for, unless the tenders are accompanied by an express guaranty of payment by an incorporated bank or trust company.

Immediately after the closing hour for receipt of tenders on July 2, 1937, all tenders received at the Federal Reserve banks or branches thereof up to the closing hour will be opened and public announcement of the acceptable prices will follow as soon as possible thereafter, probably on the following morning. The Secretary of the Treasury expressly reserves the right to reject any or all tenders or parts of tenders, and to allot less than the amount applied for, and his action in any such respect shall be final. Those submitting tenders will be advised of the acceptance or rejection thereof. Payment at the price offered for Treasury bills allotted must be made at the Federal Reserve banks in cash or other immediately available funds on July 7, 1937.

The Treasury bills will be exempt, as to principal and interest, and any gain from the sale or other disposition thereof will also be exempt, from all taxation, except estate and inheritance taxes. (Attention is invited to Treasury Decision 4550, ruling that Treasury bills are not exempt from the gift tax.) No loss from the sale or other disposition of the Treasury bills shall be allowed as a deduction, or otherwise recognized, for the purposes of any tax now or hereafter imposed by the United States or any of its possessions.

Treasury Department Circular No. 418, as amended, and this notice prescribe the terms of the Treasury bills and govern the conditions of their issue. Copies of the circular may be obtained from any Federal Reserve bank or branch thereof.

Acceptance of tenders for Treasury bills dated July 7, 1937 (press release July 3, 1937)

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, July 3, 1937.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Taylor announced last evening that the tenders for $50,000,000, or thereabouts, of 273-day bills, dated July 7, 1937, and maturing April 6, 1938, which were offered on June 30, were opened at the Federal Reserve banks on July 2.

The total amount applied for was $133,100,000, of which $50,010,000 was accepted. The accepted bids ranged in price from 99.678, equivalent to a rate of about 0.425 percent per annum, to 99.607, equivalent to a rate of about 0.518 percent per annum, on a bank discount basis. Only part of the amount bid for at the latter price was accepted. The average price of Treasury bills to be issued is 99.628 and the average rate is about 0.490 percent per annum on a bank discount basis.

Sale of United States savings bonds of series C continued after December 31, 1937

[Second amendment to Department Circular No. 571. Public Debt]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, December 1, 1937.

United States savings bonds of series C will continue on sale indefinitely after December 31, 1937, without interruption. Paragraph 13 of Department Circular No. 571, dated December 16, 1936, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"13. United States savings bonds of series C, issued during the calendar year 1937, as evidenced by the issue date inscribed thereon at the time of issue, will form a separate series hereby designated series C-1937, and those issued during the calendar year 1938, will similarly form a separate series designated series C-1938. Savings bonds of series A, issued during the calendar year 1935, are hereby designated series A-1935, and those of series B, issued during the calendar year 1936, are hereby designated series B-1936."

The right is reserved at any time to terminate the sale of savings bonds of series C by notice given by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Postmaster General and to others concerned as designated sales agencies.

HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

First amendment, August 18, 1937, to Department Circular No. 368, prescribing general regulations governing full-paid interim certificates

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, August 18, 1937.

1. Treasury Department Circular No. 368, dated August 16, 1926, prescribing general regulations governing full-paid interim certificates, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (5) thereof and substituting the following:

"(5) Relief on account of lost or stolen, wholly or partly destroyed, or mutilated or defaced interim certificates will hereafter be granted as provided in section 8 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, approved July 8, 1937 (Public 192, 75th Cong., ch. 444, 1st sess.), and in accordance with the provision of Department Circular 300, as amended or revised."

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, withdraw or amend any or all of the provisions of this amendatory circular.

WAYNE C. TAYLOR,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Exhibit 15

Second supplement, August 13, 1937, to Department Circular No. 300, prescribing regulations with respect to United States bonds and notes

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, August 18, 1937.

1. Treasury Department Circular No. 300, dated July 31, 1923, prescribing regulations with respect to United States bonds and notes, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph 78 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"78. Relief on account of loss, theft, destruction, mutilation or defacement of United States securities may be given under the authority of and subject to the conditions set forth in section 8 of the 'Government Losses in Shipment Act,' approved July 8, 1937 (Public 192, 75th Cong., ch. 444, 1st sess.), which reads as follows:

"SEC. 8. (a) Whenever it is clearly proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury—

"(1) That any interest-bearing security of the United States, identified by number and description, payable to bearer or so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, has been wholly or partly destroyed, or so mutilated or defaced as to impair its value to the owner, or has been lost or stolen under such circumstances, and such a period of time having elapsed after it has matured or has become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, as in the judgment of the Secretary would indicate that it has been destroyed or irretrievably lost, is not held by any person as his own property and will never become the basis of a valid claim against the United States; or

"(2) That any interest-bearing security of the United States, identified by number and description, which is not payable to bearer and which has not been so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, has been lost or stolen, so that it is not held by any person as his own property, or has been wholly or partly destroyed, or so mutilated or defaced as to impair its value to the owner; the Secretary, upon receipt and approval by him of a bond of indemnity, if and as required by subsection (b) hereof, shall, in the case of a security which has not matured or become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, issue a substitute marked "duplicate" and showing the serial number of the original security; or shall, in the case of a security which has matured or become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, make payment thereof to the owner, with such interest only as would have been paid had the security been presented when it became due and payable: Provided, That in the case of an interim certificate relief may be given by the issue of a definitive security, whether before or after maturity, rather than by the issue of a substitute or by payment: And provided further, That no payment shall be made on account of interest coupons claimed to have been attached to such original security unless the Secretary is satisfied that such coupons have not been paid, and are in fact destroyed or can never become the basis of a valid claim against the United States.

"(b) Except as hereinafter provided, the owner of such lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security shall file with the Secretary of the Treasury a bond, to indemnify the United States, in such form and amount and with such surety, sureties, or security as the Secretary of the Treasury shall require: Provided, That in case of securities payable to bearer or so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, the destruction of which has not been proved, a corporate surety, qualified under the provisions of the act of August 13, 1894, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 6, secs. 6-13), shall be required on such bond of indemnity: And provided further, That a bond of indemnity shall not be required in any of the following classes of cases, except as hereinafter provided:

"(1) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner and while the security was in the custody or the control of the United States (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the United States, or while it was in the course of shipment effected pursuant to and in accordance with the regulations issued under the provisions of this act;

"(2) If substantially the entire security is presented and surrendered by the owner and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied as to the identity of the security presented and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

"(3) If the lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security is one which by the provisions of law or by the terms of its issue is transferable only by operation of law;

"(4) If the owner is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve bank:

"Provided, however, That in any of the foregoing classes of cases the Secretary of the Treasury may require a bond of indemnity if he deems it essential to the public interest.

"(c) The term "interest-bearing security of the United States" or "security", wherever used in this section, means any direct obligation of the United States issued pursuant to law for valuable consideration, and which by its terms bears interest, or is issued on a discount basis, and includes (but is not limited to) bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills, and interim certificates issued for any such security.

"(d) The Secretary of the Treasury shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the administration of this section.

"(e) Sections 3702, as amended, 3703, 3704, and 3705 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (U. S. C., title 31, secs. 735, 736, 737, and 738) are hereby repealed."

2. Subject to the provisions of section 8 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, quoted above, paragraphs 79 to 88, inclusive, of Treasury Department Circular 300, insofar as applicable, shall continue to govern the granting of relief on account of lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced securities of the United States, except that where, under the terms of said section a bond of indemnity is required, it shall be in a penal sum equal to the face amount of the lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security, plus an amount sufficient to protect the United States from any loss on account of interest which may be payable on such lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security.

3. Relief on account of the loss, defacement, or destruction of full-paid interim certificates of the First Liberty Loan will hereafter be granted as provided in section 8 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, quoted above, and in accordance with the applicable provisions of paragraphs 79 to 88, inclusive, of Department Circular 300, as amended. Treasury Department Circular No. 118, dated July 12, 1918, prescribing regulations concerning full-paid interim certificates, First Liberty Loan, is hereby superseded, so far as it relates to relief on account of loss, defacement, or destruction of such interim certificates.

4. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, withdraw or amend any or all of the provisions of this supplementary circular.

WAYNE C. TAYLOR,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Third supplement, June 27, 1938, to Department Circular No. 300, prescribing regulations with respect to United States bonds and notes

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, June 27, 1938.

1. Paragraphs 15 and 16 of Department Circular No. 300, dated July 31, 1923, as amended, prescribing regulations with respect to United States bonds and notes, are hereby amended to read as follows:

"15. On issues of registered bonds.—Registered bonds to be delivered upon exchange, transfer, or other transactions, unless delivered in person to the registered owner or his duly authorized representative, will be delivered by registered mail without expense to, but at the risk of, the registered owner, except that delivery will be made by express collect at the risk and expense of the owner, if written instructions to that effect are given.

"16. On issues of coupon bonds and notes.—Coupon bonds or notes to be delivered upon exchange or other transaction, whether the bonds or notes to be exchanged are presented to the Treasury Department or to a Federal Reserve bank, unless delivered in person to the owner or his duly authorized representative, will be delivered in regular course by a Federal Reserve bank, by registered mail insured at the risk and expense of the owner, except that delivery will be made by express collect likewise at the risk and expense of the owner, if written instructions to that effect are given."

2. This supplementary circular shall be effective July 1, 1938, and the Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, withdraw or amend any or all of the provisions thereof.

STEPHEN B. GIBBONS,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

SECURITIES GUARANTEED BY THE UNITED STATES

Exhibit 19

Section 20 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (Public No. 412, September 1, 1937), guaranteeing principal and interest of obligations of the United States Housing Authority

SEC. 20. (a) The [United States Housing] Authority is authorized to issue obligations in the form of notes, bonds, or otherwise, which it may sell to obtain funds for the purposes of this act. [The Authority may issue such obligations in an amount not to exceed $100,000,000 on or after the date of enactment of this act, an additional amount not to exceed $200,000,000 on or after July 1, 1938, and an additional amount not to exceed $200,000,000 on or after July 1, 1939.] The Authority may issue such obligations in an amount not to exceed $800,000,000.<sup>1</sup> Such obligations shall be in such forms and denominations, mature within such periods not exceeding sixty years from date of issue, bear such rates of interest not exceeding 4 per centum per annum, be subject to such terms and conditions, and be issued in such manner and sold at such prices as may be prescribed by the Authority, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

(b) Such obligations shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States or by any State, county, municipality, or local taxing authority.

(c) Such obligations shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed upon their face by the United States as to the payment of both interest and principal, and, in the event that the Authority shall be unable to make any such payment upon demand when due, payments shall be made to the holder by the Secretary of the Treasury with money hereby authorized to be appropriated for such purpose out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. To the extent of such payment the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holder.

(d) Such obligations shall be lawful investments and may be accepted as security for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds, the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or agency thereof. The Secretary of the Treasury is likewise authorized to purchase any such obligations, and for such purchases he may use as a public debt transaction the proceeds from the sale of any securities hereafter issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and the purposes for which securities may be issued under such act, as amended, are extended to include any such purchases. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time sell any of the obligations acquired by him pursuant to this section, and all redemptions, purchases, and sales by him of such obligations shall be treated as public debt transactions of the United States.

(e) Such obligations may be marketed for the Authority at its request by the Secretary of the Treasury, utilizing all the facilities of the Treasury Department now authorized by law for the marketing of obligations of the United States.

Portions of section 3 of the National Housing Act Amendments of 1938 (Public No. 424, February 3, 1938), relative to the guarantee by the United States of debentures of the mutual mortgage insurance fund and the housing insurance fund

SEC. 3. Title II of the National Housing Act, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"TITLE II—MORTGAGE INSURANCE

* * * * *

"PAYMENT OF INSURANCE

"[SEC. 204] (d) The debentures issued under this section to any mortgagee with respect to mortgages insured under section 203 shall be executed in the name of the mutual mortgage insurance fund as obligor, shall be signed by the [Federal Housing] Administrator by either his written or engraved signature, and shall be negotiable and the debentures issued under this section to any mortgagee with respect to mortgages insured under section 210 shall be executed in the name of the housing insurance fund as obligor, shall be signed by the Administrator by either his written or engraved signature, and shall be negotiable. All such debentures shall be dated as of the date foreclosure proceedings were instituted, or the property was otherwise acquired by the mortgagee after default, and shall bear interest from such date at a rate determined by the Administrator, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at the time the mortgage was offered for insurance, but not to exceed 3 per centum per annum, payable semiannually on the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July of each year, and shall mature three years after the 1st day of July following the maturity date of the mortgage on the property in exchange for which the debentures were issued. Such debentures as are issued in exchange for property covered by mortgages insured under section 203 or section 207 prior to the date of enactment of the National Housing Act Amendments of 1938 shall be subject only to such Federal, State, and local taxes as the mortgages in exchange for which they are issued would be subject to in the hands of the holder of the debentures and shall be a liability of the [mutual mortgage insurance] fund, but such debentures shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States; but any mortgagee entitled to receive any such debentures may elect to receive in lieu thereof a cash adjustment and debentures issued as hereinafter provided and bearing the current rate of interest. Such debentures as are issued in exchange for property covered by mortgages insured after the date of enactment of the National Housing Act

Amendments of 1938 shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, by any Territory, dependency, or possession thereof, or by any State, county, municipality, or local taxing authority; and such debentures shall be paid out of the [mutual mortgage insurance] fund, or the housing [insurance] fund, as the case may be, which shall be primarily liable therefor, and they shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, and such guaranty shall be expressed on the face of the debentures. In the event that the [mutual mortgage insurance] fund or the housing [insurance] fund fails to pay upon demand, when due, the principal of or interest on any debentures issued under this section, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to the holders the amount thereof which is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and thereupon to the extent of the amount so paid the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holders of such debentures.

Exhibit 22

[Public No. 442, 75th Cong., H. R. 9361]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That as of the 31st of March in each year and as soon as possible thereafter, beginning with March 31, 1938, an appraisal of all the assets and liabilities of the Commodity Credit Corporation for the purpose of determining the net worth of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be made by the Secretary of the Treasury. The value of assets shall, insofar as possible, be determined on the basis of market prices at the time of appraisal and a report of any such appraisal shall be submitted to the President as soon as possible after it has been made. In the event that any such appraisal shall establish that the net worth of the Commodity Credit Corporation is less than $100,000,000, the Secretary of the Treasury, on behalf of the United States, shall restore the amount of such capital impairment by a contribution to the Commodity Credit Corporation in the amount of such impairment. To enable the Secretary of the Treasury to make such payment to the Commodity Credit Corporation, there is hereby authorized to be appropriated annually, commencing with the fiscal year 1938, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, an amount equal to any capital impairment found to exist by virtue of any appraisal as provided herein.

SEC. 2. In the event that any appraisal pursuant to section 1 of this act shall establish that the net worth of the Commodity Credit Corporation is in excess of $100,000,000, such excess shall, as soon as practicable after such appraisal, be deposited in the Treasury by the Commodity Credit Corporation and shall be credited to miscellaneous receipts. The Secretary of the Treasury is directed, as soon as practicable, to use any amounts so deposited to retire an equivalent amount of the public debt, which amount shall be in addition to any other amount required to be used for such purpose.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of Agriculture, the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation are hereby authorized and directed to transfer to the United States all right, title, and interest in and to the capital stock of the Commodity Credit Corporation which each of them now holds. All rights of the United States arising out of the ownership of such capital stock shall be exercised by the President, or by such officer, officers, agency, or agencies as he shall designate, and in such manner as he shall prescribe.

SEC. 4. With the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Commodity Credit Corporation is authorized to issue and have outstanding at any one time, bonds, notes, debentures, and other similar obligations in an aggregate amount not exceeding $500,000,000. Such obligations shall be in such forms and denominations, shall have such maturities, shall bear such rates of interest, shall be subject to such terms and conditions, and shall be issued in such manner and sold at such prices as may be prescribed by the Commodity Credit Corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such obligations shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed both as to interest and principal by the United States, and such guaranty shall be expressed on the face thereof, and such obligations shall be lawful investments and may be accepted as security for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or officers thereof. In the event that the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be unable to pay upon demand, when due, the principal of, or interest on, such obligations, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to the holder the amount thereof which is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and thereupon to the extent of the amount so paid the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holders of such obligations. The Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, is authorized to purchase any obligations of the Commodity Credit Corporation issued hereunder, and for such purpose the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to use as a public debt transaction the proceeds from the sale of any securities hereafter issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and the purposes for which securities may be issued under such act, as amended, are extended to include any purchases of the Commodity Credit Corporation's obligations hereunder. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time sell any of the obligations of the Commodity Credit Corporation acquired by him under this section. All redemptions, purchases, and sales by the Secretary of the Treasury of the obligations of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be treated as public debt transactions of the United States. No such obligations shall be issued in excess of the assets of the Commodity Credit Corporation, including the assets to be obtained from the proceeds of such obligations, but a failure to comply with this provision shall not invalidate the obligations or the guaranty of the same. The Commodity Credit Corporation shall have power to purchase such obligations in the open market at any time and at any price.

SEC. 5. Bonds, notes, debentures, and other similar obligations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation under the provisions of this act shall be deemed and held to be instrumentalities of the Government of the United States, and as such they and the income derived therefrom shall be exempt from Federal, State, municipal, and local taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes). The Commodity Credit Corporation, including its franchise, its capital, reserves, and surplus, and its income shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, by any Territory, dependency, or possession thereof, or by any State, county, municipality, or local taxing authority; except that any real property of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be subject to State, Territorial, county, municipal, or local taxation to the same extent according to its value as other real property is taxed.

Approved, March 8, 1938.

Offering of $\frac{3}{4}$ percent notes of series C of the Commodity Credit Corporation

On April 25, 1938, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation, invited subscriptions for  $\frac{3}{4}$  percent notes of series C of the Corporation. The notes were offered for cash and in exchange for series B collateral trust notes of the Corporation, maturing May 2, 1938.

[Department Circular No. 583. Public Debt]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, April 25, 1938.

I. OFFERING OF NOTES

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation, invites subscriptions, at par and accrued interest, from the people of the United States for notes of the Commodity Credit Corporation, designated  $\frac{3}{4}$  percent notes of series C. The amount of the offering is \$200,000,000, or thereabouts.

II. DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

1. The notes will be dated May 2, 1938, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of  $\frac{3}{4}$  percent per annum, payable semiannually on November 2, 1938, and on May 2 and November 2, 1939. They will mature November 2, 1939, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. These notes are issued under the authority of the act approved March 8, 1938 (Public No. 442, 75th Cong.), which provides that these notes shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed both as to interest and principal by the United States; that they shall be deemed and held to be instrumentalities of the Government of the United States, and as such they and the income derived therefrom shall be exempt from Federal, State, municipal, and local taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes); and that the notes shall be lawful investments and may be accepted as security for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or officers thereof.

3. The authorizing act further provides that in the event the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be unable to pay upon demand, when due, the principal of, or interest on, such obligations, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to the holder the amount thereof which is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and thereupon to the extent of the amount so paid the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holders of such obligations.

4. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

5. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Cash subscriptions from banks and trust companies for their own account will be received without deposit but will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding one-half of the combined capital and surplus of the subscribing bank or trust company. Cash subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payments of 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, subscriptions in payment of which series B collateral trust notes of the Corporation are tendered will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment, and the basis of the allotment will be publicly announced.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for notes allotted on cash subscriptions must be made or completed on or before May 2, 1938, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 10 percent of the amount of notes applied for shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Series B collateral trust notes of the Commodity Credit Corporation, maturing May 2, 1938, will be accepted at par in payment for any notes subscribed for and allotted and should accompany the subscription.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

Announcement by the Secretary of the Treasury, February 14, 1938, with respect to acquisitions of gold by the Treasury Department

On December 22, 1936, the Secretary of the Treasury stated that, after conferring with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, he proposed to take appropriate action with respect to net additional acquisitions or releases of gold by the Treasury Department whenever it was deemed advisable and in the public interest to do so.

In pursuance of that policy, the Secretary of the Treasury, after conferring with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, today announces that gold acquired by the mints and assay offices after January 1, 1938, will be included in the inactive gold account only to the extent that such acquisitions in any one quarter exceed $100,000,000. No change is being made in the procedure whereby any gold released by the mints and assay offices is taken from the inactive gold account.

Memorandum of the Secretary of the Treasury, approved by the President September 14, 1937, relative to newly mined domestic silver mined prior to midnight of December 31, 1937

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

The Silver Proclamation of December 21, 1933, as amended, provides: "This proclamation shall remain in force and effect until the thirty-first day of December 1937, unless repealed or modified by act of Congress or by subsequent proclamation."

As you know, in the normal course a considerable period of time elapses between the date silver is mined and the date when the refining of the silver has been completed and the silver is delivered to a mint. Accordingly, a question has arisen as to whether domestic silver mined prior to midnight, December 31, 1937, may be received by the mints after that date under said proclamation.

I am advised by the General Counsel of the Treasury that in his opinion the mints may continue after December 31, 1937, to receive under said proclamation domestic silver mined prior to midnight, December 31, 1937, and otherwise complying with the proclamation. I am in accord with such opinion. Accordingly, if you approve, the mints will be instructed that they may continue after December 31, 1937, to accept under said proclamation newly mined domestic silver mined prior to midnight of December 31, 1937.

If you approve of the foregoing, I should appreciate it if you would so indicate below.

Proclamation, December 30, 1937, modifying the proclamation of December 21, 1933, as modified, relating to newly mined domestic silver

Whereas, by proclamation of the twenty-first day of December 1933, as modified by proclamations of the ninth day of August 1934, and the tenth and twenty-fourth days of April 1935, the United States coinage mints are directed to receive for coinage and addition to the monetary stocks of the United States silver mined subsequent to December 21, 1933, from natural deposits in the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof; and

Whereas, such proclamation as so modified states in part that:

"This proclamation shall remain in force and effect until the thirty-first day of December 1937, unless repealed or modified by act of Congress or by subsequent proclamation." and that

"Notice is hereby given that I reserve the right by virtue of the authority vested in me to revoke or modify this proclamation as the interest of the United States may seem to require."

Now, therefore, finding that the interests of the United States require further modification of said proclamation of the twenty-first day of December 1933, as so modified; by virtue of the power in me vested by the act of Congress cited in said proclamation, and other legislation designated for national recovery, and by virtue of all other authority in me vested;

I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby further modify the said proclamation of the twenty-first day of December 1933, so that the same shall remain in force and effect until the 31st day of December 1938, and so that the amount of deduction for seigniorage, brassage, coinage, and other mint charges from the monetary value of silver delivered thereunder which has been mined on or after January 1, 1938, shall be 50 percent of such monetary value; and I do proclaim and direct that, with respect to all silver received by a United States coinage mint under the provisions of the said proclamation of the twenty-first day of December 1933, which such mint, subject to regulations prescribed hereunder by the Secretary of the Treasury, is satisfied has been mined on or after January 1, 1938, from natural deposits in the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, the deduction for seigniorage and services performed by the Government shall be 50 percent and there shall be returned therefor, in standard silver dollars, silver certificates, or any other coin or currency of the United States, the monetary value of the silver so received (that is, $1.2929+per fine ounce), less such deduction of 50 percent, and that the said proclamation of the twenty-first day of December 1933, as heretofore and hereby modified shall remain in force and effect until the 31st day of December 1938, unless repealed or further modified by act of Congress or by subsequent proclamation.

Notice is hereby given that I reserve the right by virtue of the authority vested in me to revoke or modify this proclamation as the interests of the United States may seem to require.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 30th day of December, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-second.

Proclamation, April 28, 1938, revoking, except as provided therein, the proclamation of August 9, 1934, relating to silver

Whereas by Proclamation No. 2092 of August 9, 1934, the United States mints were directed to receive for coinage or for addition to the monetary stocks of the United States silver situated on August 9, 1934, in the continental United States, including the Territory of Alaska; and

Whereas such proclamation provides, in part:

"Notice is hereby given that I reserve the right by virtue of the authority vested in me to revoke or modify this proclamation as the interest of the United States may seem to require."

And whereas I find that the interest of the United States requires the revocation, except as herein provided, of the said proclamation:

Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 43 (b) (2), title III of the act of May 12, 1933, 48 Stat. 52, as amended, and the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 (48 Stat. 1178), and by virtue of all other authority in me vested, do hereby revoke the said Proclamation No. 2092 of August 9, 1934, except as to the provisions thereof relating to settlement for silver received by the United States coinage mints pursuant to Proclamation No. 2067 of December 21, 1933, which provisions shall not be affected by this proclamation.

Notice is hereby given that I reserve the right by virtue of the authority vested in me to revoke or modify this proclamation as the interest of the United States may seem to require.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Exhibit 32

Announcement by the Secretary of the Treasury, April 28, 1938, of the revocation of a proclamation and certain orders and regulations relating to silver

Secretary Morgenthau announced today that the following proclamation, orders, and regulations relating to silver were revoked today, April 28, 1938:

1. Executive Order No. 6814 dated August 9, 1934, and the amendment thereto, Executive Order No. 6895A, dated November 2, 1934,

2. Proclamation No. 2092 of August 9, 1934 (except certain provisions relative to settlement for newly mined domestic silver received by United States coinage mints under Proclamation No. 2067 of December 21, 1933, as modified),

3. The orders of the Secretary of the Treasury of June 28, 1934, and May 20, 1935,

4. The Silver Regulations of August 17, 1934, as amended.

The revoked Executive order and proclamation required the delivery to, and directed the receipt by, the United States mints of silver situated in the United States on August 9, 1934.

The revocation of the orders of the Secretary of the Treasury eliminates the restrictions imposed by such orders upon the importation and exportation of silver.

The revoked regulations were issued under, and implemented, the revoked proclamation and orders and prescribed the required reports and records relative to silver holdings and transactions.

The revocations in no way affect the application of the tax on silver transfers under subdivision 10 of schedule A of title VIII of the Revenue Act of 1926, as added by section 8 of the Silver Purchase Act of 1934.

Likewise, the revocations do not in any way affect the continued receipt of newly mined domestic silver under the proclamation by the President of December 21, 1933, as modified.

Exhibit 33

Statement by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of China, July 9, 1937, announcing further progress in monetary cooperation between the two countries

The following joint statement is made by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of China:

The monetary cooperation which resulted from the conference of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America with representatives of the Chinese Ministry of Finance in May 1936 has contributed to the very successful functioning of the new Chinese monetary system with benefits both to the internal economy of China and to American trade.

We are now able to announce further progress in monetary cooperation between the two countries in pursuit of the understanding reached a year ago. At that time the Secretary of the Treasury, in a public statement, said:

"I feel confident that the monetary program being pursued by the National Government of China is not only along sound lines, but constitutes an important step toward the desired goal of stability of world currencies.

"To supplement their efforts toward that objective and to cooperate with them in their program of monetary reform and currency stabilization, and in accordance with our silver purchase policy, we have definitely indicated our willingness, under conditions mutually acceptable, to make purchases from the Central Bank of China of substantial amounts of silver, and also to make available to the Central Bank of China, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, dollar exchange for currency stabilization purposes."

At the same time, the Minister of Finance of China in a public statement expressed the firm belief that the new measures of monetary reform which were then being adopted by the Chinese Government, and the arrangements made with the United States would insure the stability of the Chinese currency, and this would inevitably lead to greater economic improvement and prosperity of the Chinese people.

Arrangements have now been made through which the Government of China will purchase from the United States Treasury a substantial amount of gold. To aid the Chinese Government thus to augment its gold reserves, and in accordance with the terms of the United States Silver Purchase Act of 1934, the United States Treasury will purchase an additional amount of silver from the Chinese Government.

The United States Treasury will also broaden the scope of the arrangements under which the Central Bank of China has been enabled, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, to obtain dollar exchange for currency stabilization purposes.

Both the Secretary of the Treasury and the Finance Minister of China are greatly gratified by the beneficial results to both countries which have been the consequence of their understanding reached last year, and they are equally gratified to be able to announce further progress in their cooperation. It is a source of satisfaction to them that the program of monetary reforms and currency stabilization in China has been carried out with great success and has been accompanied by an increase of trade between China and other nations, particularly the United States, which occupies the first place in China's foreign trade.

Because of his desire to express the appreciation of the Chinese Government and the people of China, the Chinese Minister of Finance came in person to the United States to conduct the negotiations which have just been concluded.

The Secretary of the Treasury greatly appreciates having had this opportunity for personal contact with the Finance Minister of China and of undertaking in conference with him to further the welfare of both countries.

Statement by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of Brazil, July 16, 1937, relative to gold and dollar exchange

The following joint statement is made by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of Brazil:

The Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America and the Minister of Finance of the United States of Brazil are entering into an agreement under which:

1. The United States undertakes to sell gold to Brazil at such times and in such amounts as the Brazilian Government may request, up to a total of $60,000,000;

2. The United States will make dollar exchange available to the Government of Brazil or its fiscal agent, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, for the purpose of promoting exchange equilibrium.

The agreement is designed to promote the development of conditions favorable to the maintenance of monetary equilibrium between the two countries and to facilitate the establishment by the United States of Brazil of a central reserve bank as a part of the program of the Brazilian Government for improving the financial structure of the Nation to meet the needs of its expanding economy.

In recent years there has occurred a notable improvement of the trade and financial position of Brazil. It is a matter of gratification both to the Secretary of the Treasury and the Finance Minister that this favorable development of the Brazilian economy makes feasible at this time this important step.

Both the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance are pleased to have had this opportunity to extend the field of cooperation between their countries and, in accordance with their conversations, the Secretary of the Treasury stands ready to supply such technical assistance as Brazil may care to avail itself of in connection with the organization of the new bank.

Announcement by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance of Mexico, December 31, 1937, relative to the peso-dollar exchange and silver

Secretary Morgenthau and Minister of Finance Suarez announce that they have reached a mutually satisfactory understanding on common problems before the two Treasuries.

Arrangements have been made looking to the continued stability of peso-dollar exchange, thereby facilitating orderly exchange transactions.

Likewise, mutually satisfactory arrangements have been made with regard to Mexican silver.

[Public No. 198, 75th Cong., II. R. 6737]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the first and fourth paragraphs of section 1 of the act entitled "An act to allow the bottling of distilled spirits in bond," approved March 3, 1897, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. II, title 26, sec. 1276), are designated "(1)" and "(6)," respectively, and the second and third paragraphs of said section are amended to read as follows:

"(2) Every bottle when filled shall have affixed thereto and passing over the mouth of the same a stamp denoting the quantity of distilled spirits contained therein and evidencing the bottling in bond of such spirits under the provisions of this act, and of regulations prescribed hereunder.

"(3) The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe (a) regulations with respect to the time and manner of applying for, issuing, affixing, and destroying stamps required by this section, the form and denominations of such stamps, applications for purchase of the stamps, proof that applicants are entitled to such stamps, and the method of accounting for receipts from the sale of such stamps, and (b) such other regulations as the Commissioner shall deem necessary for the enforcement of this act.

"(4) Such stamps shall be issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to each collector of internal revenue, upon his requisition in such numbers as may be necessary in his district, and, upon compliance with the provisions of this act and regulations issued hereunder shall be sold by collectors to persons entitled thereto, at a price of 1 cent for each stamp, except that in the case of stamps for containers of less than one-half pint, the price shall be one-quarter of 1 cent for each stamp.

"(5) And there shall be plainly burned, embossed, or printed on the side of each case, to be known as the Government side, such marks, brands, and stamps to denote the bottling in bond of the whisky packed therein as the Commissioner may by regulations prescribe."

Approved, July 9, 1937.

[Public No. 620, 75th Cong., II. R. 8665]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 3336 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1331 (b)), is further amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 3336. Every brewer, on filing notice as provided by law of his intention to commence or continue business, shall execute a bond to the United States in a penal sum equal to the amount of the tax on fermented malt liquor which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said brewer will be liable to pay during any one month: Provided, That the penal sum of any such bond shall not exceed $100,000 nor be less than $1,000. The bond shall be conditioned that the brewer shall pay, or cause to be paid, as herein provided, the tax required by law on all beer, lager beer, ale, porter, and other fermented liquors made by or for him, before the same is sold or removed for consumption or sale, except as hereinafter provided; and that he shall keep, or cause to be kept, in the manner

<sup>1</sup> The following laws which modify the tax system are not included: Public No. 377, August 26, 1937, Revenue Act of 1937; Public No. 554, May 28, 1938, Revenue Act of 1938; Public No. 400, August 28, 1937, an act to amend the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, to exempt persons traveling between Puerto Rico and the continental United States from the payment of a stamp tax on steamship tickets; Public No. 696, June 22, 1938, amending the Bankruptcy Act of 1898—secs. 267 to 270, 375, 396, 399 (1), 520 to 522, 526 (1), and 679 relate to exemption of certain transfers from stamp tax and the nonrecognition of income arising from and the reduction of the basis of the debtor's property due to the cancellation of indebtedness; Public No. 721 (see p. 332), sec. 20 provides that in certain cases taxes shall not be construed as customs duties; Public No. 722, sec. 13 (a), effective July 1, 1939, exempts railroad carriers and certain related and controlled companies from the employer's tax imposed under title IX of the Social Security Act, and in lieu thereof section 8 provides for contributions at the same rate to be administered by the Railroad Retirement Board.

An act to amend certain provisions of law relative to the production of wines, brandy, and fruit spirits so as to remove therefrom certain unnecessary restrictions; to facilitate the collection of internal revenue taxes thereupon; and to provide abatement of certain taxes upon wines, brandy, and fruit spirits where lost or evaporated while in the custody and under the control of the Government without any fault of the owner

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 618 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1918 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 26, sec. 1303) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 618. (a) That under such regulations and upon the execution of such notices, entries, bonds, and other security as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, domestic wines subject to the taxes imposed by sections 611 or 613 as amended, may be removed from the winery where produced, free of tax, for storage on other bonded winery or bonded storeroom premises, or from such premises to other such bonded premises, or for exportation from the United States or for use as distilling material at any regularly registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant: Provided, however, That the distiller using any such wine as distilling material shall, subject to the provisions of section 3309 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, be held to pay the tax on the product of such wines as will include both the alcoholic strength therein produced by fermentation and that obtained from the brandy or wine spirits added to such wines at the time of fortification: Provided further, That suitable samples of brandy or fruit spirits may be withdrawn under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, which samples shall be tax-free if for laboratory analysis and tax-paid if for any other use: Provided further, That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall remit or refund all fortification taxes assessed or paid upon the quantity of fortifying spirits contained in wines exported, or which have become unfit for use as wine and are used as distilling material."

SEC. 2. Section 410 of the Liquor Tax Administration Act (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1320a) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 410. Under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, distillers may collect, in locked tanks, distillates containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of aldehydes or 1 per centum or more of fusel oil (heads and tails) removed in the course of distillation. The distillates so collected may, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be removed from such distillery for denaturation or be destroyed in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner, under the supervision of an internal revenue officer to be designated by the Commissioner, and when so denatured or destroyed shall not be subject to the tax imposed by law upon distilled spirits. Such distillates so collected in fruit brandy distilleries may, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be drawn into approved casks, barrels, or other containers and stored in the brandy deposit room of the fruit brandy distillery where produced pending removal for denaturation or destruction."

SEC. 3. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, upon the presentation of proof to his satisfaction of the loss by leakage, evaporation, theft, or otherwise of brandy or fruit spirits, intended for the fortification of wine, from storage tanks in bonded warehouses or from steel drums filled therefrom while such drums are in such warehouse, and in the fortification room of a bonded winery, not occurring as the result of any negligence, connivance, collusion, or fraud on the part of the winemaker or his agents, is hereby authorized to remit or refund the taxes assessed or paid upon such lost brandy or fruit spirits: Provided, however, That such remission or refund shall be allowed only to the extent that the distiller or winemaker is not indemnified or recompensed for such loss.

SEC. 4. The first paragraph of section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 27, sec. 74b), is amended by inserting in lieu of the period at the end thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That under the provisions of this section insofar as applicable, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may, under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, permit the transfer of fortifying spirits containing more than one hundred and fifty-nine degrees proof up to and including one hundred and ninety-two degrees proof by pipe line from registered fruit distilleries and receiving cisterns in such distilleries to storage tanks in the internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises to be warehoused in such storage tanks and transferred by pipe line to the fortification rooms of contiguous wineries when required."

SEC. 5. Subdivision (g) of paragraph "Fifth" of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1394 (c) (3)), is amended to read as follows:

"(g) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, each person making sales of fermented malt liquor or wine to the members, guests, or patrons of bona fide fairs, reunions, picnics, carnivals, or other similar outings, and each fraternal, civic, church, labor, charitable, benevolent, or ex-service men's organization making sales of fermented malt liquor or wine on the occasion of any kind of entertainment, dance, picnic, bazaar, or festival held by it, if such person or organization is not otherwise engaged in business as a wholesale or retail liquor dealer or as a wholesale or retail malt liquor dealer, shall pay, before any such sales are made and in lieu of the special taxes imposed by subdivision (a) of this paragraph and subdivision (a) of paragraph 'Fourth' of this section (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1934 (b) (1)) a special tax of $2 as a retail dealer in malt liquors, if fermented malt liquor only is sold, or a special tax of $2 as a retail dealer in liquors if wine only, or wine and fermented malt liquor only, are sold for each calendar month in which any such sales are made."

SEC. 6. The fourth paragraph of section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, approved February 24, 1919 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 26, sec. 1151 (b)), is amended to read as follows:

"The taxes imposed by the first paragraph of this section shall not attach to cordials or liqueurs on which a tax is imposed and paid under sections 611 or 613 of this act, as amended, nor to the mixing and blending of wines, where such blending is for the sole purpose of perfecting such wines according to commercial standards, nor to blends made exclusively of two or more pure straight whiskies aged in wood for a period not less than four years and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance than pure water and if not reduced below ninety proof; nor to blends made exclusively of two or more pure fruit brandies distilled from the same kind of fruit, aged in wood for a period not less than two years and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance than pure water and if not reduced below ninety proof: Provided, That such blended whiskies and blended fruit brandies shall be exempt from tax under the first paragraph of this section only when compounded under the immediate supervision of a revenue officer, in such tanks and under such conditions and supervision as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe."

SEC. 7. The second paragraph added to section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, by section 319 (b) of the Liquor Tax Administration Act (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1151 (f)) is amended to read as follows:

"The manufacture of vermouth with fortified sweet wine on bonded winery premises shall not be deemed to be rectification with the meaning of paragraph 'Third' of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, if distilled spirits other than necessary in the production of approved essences, used in the manufacture of vermouth, whether or not such essences are produced on the bonded winery premises, are not added to the fortified sweet wine used in the manufacture thereof or to such vermouth during or after its manufacture. Such vermouth may be manufactured on bonded winery premises, but only in a separate department thereof having no interior communication with any other department or part of such premises, under such supervision and in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe."

SEC. 8. (a) The last paragraph of section 610 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1310 (d)), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot wines" a comma and the following: "prune wines, plum wines, pear wines"; and by striking out "or (6)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(6) prunes, (7) plums, (8) pears, (9)."

(b) Section 612 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1301 (a), (b), (c), and (d)), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot wines", wherever they appear, a comma and the following: "prune wines, plum wines, pear wines"; and by inserting after the words "apricot brandy", wherever they appear, a comma and the following: "prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy."

(c) Section 613 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1300 (a) (2)), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot wine", wherever they appear, a comma and the following: "prune wine, plum wine, pear wine"; and by inserting after the words "apricot brandy", wherever they appear, a comma and the following: "prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy."

(d) The last paragraph of section 42 of the act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1301 (e)), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot brandy", where they first appear in such paragraph, a comma and the following: "prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy"; by inserting after the words "apricot wines" a comma and the following: "prune wines, plum wines, pear wines"; and by striking out "and (5)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(5) no brandy other than prune brandy may be used in the fortification of prune wine and prune brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than prune wine, (6) no brandy other than pear brandy may be used in the fortification of pear wine and pear brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than pear wine, and (7) no brandy other than plum brandy may be used in the fortification of plum wine and plum brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than plum wine and (8)."

(e) The first proviso of section 3255 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1176), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot wine", wherever they appear, a comma and the following: "prune wine, plum wine, pear wine"; and by inserting after the words "apricot brandy" a comma and the following: "prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy."

(f) Section 618 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, sec. 1304), is amended by inserting after the words "apricot wines" a comma and the following: "prune wines, plum wines, pear wines."

Approved, June 15, 1938.

Exhibit 40

Joint resolution to provide for a floor stock tax on distilled spirits, except brandy<sup>1</sup>

[Pub. Res. No. 114, 75th Cong., II. J. Res. 683]

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be levied, assessed, collected, and paid a floor tax of 25 cents on each proof-gallon and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof-gallon upon all distilled spirits, except brandy, produced in or imported into the United States upon which the internal revenue tax imposed by law has been paid and which, on July 1, 1938, are held by a retail dealer in liquors in a quantity in excess of two hundred and fifty wine-gallons in the aggregate or by any other person, corporation, partnership, or association in any quantity and which are intended for sale for beverage purposes or for use in the manufacture or production of any article intended for sale for beverage purposes.

Each retail dealer in liquors and each person required hereunder to pay the floor tax shall within thirty days after July 1, 1938, make return under oath in such form and under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe. Payment of the tax shown to be due may be extended to a date not exceeding seven months after July 1, 1938, upon the filing of a bond for payment in such form and amount and with such surety or sureties as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe.

All provisions of law, including penalties, applicable in respect of internal revenue taxes on distilled spirits shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with this section, be applicable in respect of the floor tax imposed hereunder.

Approved, June 16, 1938.

An act to amend the National Firearms Act

[Public No. 651, 75th Cong., H. R. 9610]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the first sentence of section 2 (a) of the National Firearms Act is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting a colon and the following: "Provided, That manufacturers and dealers in guns with two attached barrels from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading shall pay the following taxes: Manufacturers, $25 per year; dealers, $1 per year."

SEC. 2. The first sentence of section 3 (a) of such act is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting a colon and the following: "Provided, That the transfer tax on any gun with two attached barrels, twelve inches or more in length, from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading, shall be at the rate of $1."

Approved, June 16, 1938.

Exhibit 42

Portions of the Sugar Act of 1937 (Public No. 414, September 1, 1937) imposing excise taxes with respect to sugar

TITLE IV—EXCISE TAXES WITH RESPECT TO SUGAR

DEFINITIONS

SEC. 401. For the purposes of this title—

(a) The term "person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

(b) The term "manufactured sugar" means any sugar derived from sugar beets or sugarcane, which is not to be, and which shall not be, further refined or otherwise improved in quality; except sugar in liquid form which contains non-sugar solids (excluding any foreign substance that may have been added) equal to more than 6 per centum of the total soluble solids, and except also sirup of cane juice produced from sugarcane grown in continental United States.

The grades or types of sugar within the meaning of this definition shall include, but shall not be limited to, granulated sugar, lump sugar, cube sugar, powdered sugar, sugar in the form of blocks, cones, or molded shapes, confectioners' sugar, washed sugar, centrifugal sugar, clarified sugar, turbinado sugar, plantation white sugar, muscovado sugar, refiners' soft sugar, invert sugar mush, raw sugar, sirups, molasses, and sugar mixtures.

(c) The term "total sugars" means the total amount of the sucrose (C'erget) and of the reducing or invert sugars. The total sugars contained in any grade or type of manufactured sugar shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in paragraphs 758, 759, 762, and 763 of the United States Customs Regulations (1931 edition).

(d) The term "United States" shall be deemed to include the States, the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

TAX ON THE MANUFACTURE OF SUGAR

SEC. 402. (a) Upon manufactured sugar manufactured in the United States, there shall be levied, collected, and paid a tax, to be paid by the manufacturer at the following rates:

(1) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and for each additional sugar degree shown by the polariscopic test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion;

(2) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein.

(b) Any person who acquires any sugar which is to be manufactured into manufactured sugar but who, without further refining or otherwise improving it in quality, sells such sugar as manufactured sugar or uses such sugar as manufactured sugar in the production of other articles for sale shall be considered for the purposes of this section the manufacturer of manufactured sugar and, as such, liable for the tax hereunder with respect thereto.

(c) The manufacturer shall file on the last day of each month a return and pay the tax with respect to manufactured sugar manufactured after the effective date of this title (1) which has been sold, or used in the production of other articles, by the manufacturer during the preceding month (if the tax has not already been paid) and (2) which has not been so sold or used within twelve months ending during the preceding calendar month, after it was manufactured (if the tax has not already been paid): Provided, That the first return and payment of the tax shall not be due until the last day of the second month following the month in which this title takes effect.

For the purpose of determining whether sugar has been sold or used within twelve months after it was manufactured sugar shall be considered to have been sold or used in the order in which it was manufactured.

(d) No tax shall be required to be paid upon the manufacture of manufactured sugar by, or for, the producer of the sugar beets or sugarcane from which such manufactured sugar was derived, for consumption by the producer's own family, employees, or household.

IMPORT COMPENSATING TAX

SEC. 403. (a) In addition to any other tax or duty imposed by law, there shall be imposed, under such regulations as the Commissioner of Customs shall prescribe, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, a tax upon articles imported or brought into the United States as follows:

(1) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and for each additional sugar degree shown by the polariscopic test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion;

(2) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein;

(3) On all articles composed in chief value of manufactured sugar 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein.

(b) Such tax shall be levied, assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as a duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930, and shall be treated for the purposes of all provisions of law relating to the customs revenue as a duty imposed by such act, except that for the purposes of sections 336 and 350 of such act (the so-called flexible-tariff and trade-agreements provisions) such tax shall not be considered a duty or import restriction, and except that no preference with respect to such tax shall be accorded any articles imported or brought into the United States.

EXPORTATION, LIVESTOCK FEED, AND DISTILLATION

SEC. 404. (a) Upon the exportation from the United States to a foreign country or the shipment from the United States to any possession of the United States except Puerto Rico, of any manufactured sugar, or any article manufactured wholly or partly from manufactured sugar, with respect to which tax under the provisions of section 402 has been paid, the amount of such tax shall be paid by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the consignor named in the bill of lading under which the article was exported or shipped to a possession, or to the shipper, if the consignor waives any claim thereto in favor of such shipper: Provided, That no such payment shall be allowed with respect to any manufactured sugar, or article, upon which, through substitution or otherwise, a drawback of any tax paid under section 403 has been or is to be claimed under any provisions of law made applicable by section 403.

(b) Upon the use of any manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, as livestock feed, or in the production of livestock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol, there shall be paid by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the person so using such manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, the amount of any tax paid under section 402 with respect thereto.

(c) No payment shall be allowed under this section unless within one year after the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto.

COLLECTION OF TAXES

SEC. 405. (a) Except as otherwise provided, the taxes imposed by this title shall be collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such taxes shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

(b) All provisions of law, including penalties, applicable with respect to the taxes imposed under title IV of the Revenue Act of 1932, shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, be applicable in respect to the tax imposed by section 402. If the tax is not paid when due there shall be added as part of the tax interest at 6 per centum per annum from the date the tax became due until the date of payment.

(c) The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out all provisions of this title except section 403.

(d) Any person required, pursuant to the provisions of section 402, to file a return may be required to file such return with and pay the tax shown to be due thereon to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the manufacturing was done or the liability incurred.

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 406. The provisions of this title shall become effective on the date of enactment of this act.

TITLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

* * * * *

SEC. 503. There is authorized to be appropriated an amount equal to the amount of the taxes collected or accrued under title IV on sugars produced from sugarcane grown in the Commonwealth of the Philippine Islands which are manufactured in or brought into the United States on or prior to June 30, 1941, minus the costs of collecting such taxes and the estimates of amounts of refunds required to be made with respect to such taxes, for transfer to the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines for the purpose of financing a program of economic adjustment in the Philippines, the transfer to be made under such terms and conditions as the President of the United States may prescribe: Provided, That no part of the appropriations herein authorized shall be paid directly or indirectly for the production or processing of sugarcane in the Philippine Islands.

* * * * *

SEC. 513. No tax shall be imposed on the manufacture, use, or importation of sugar after June 30, 1941 * * *.

Exhibit 43

An act to impose an occupational excise tax upon certain dealers in marihuana, to impose a transfer tax upon certain dealings in marihuana, and to safeguard the revenue therefrom by registry and recording

[Public No. 238, 75th Cong., H. R. 6906]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That when used in this act—

(a) The term "person" means an individual, a partnership, trust, association, company, or corporation and includes an officer or employee of a trust, association, company, or corporation, or a member or employee of a partnership, who, as such officer, employee, or member, is under a duty to perform any act in respect of which any violation of this act occurs.

(b) The term "marihuana" means all parts of the plant Cannabis sativa L., whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of such plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant, its seeds, or resin; but shall not include the mature stalks of such plant, fiber produced from such stalks, oil or cake made from the seeds of such plant, any other compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such mature stalks (except the resin extracted therefrom), fiber, oil, or cake, or the sterilized seed of such plant which is incapable of germination.

(c) The term "producer" means any person who (1) plants, cultivates, or in any way facilitates the natural growth of marihuana; or (2) harvests and transfers or makes use of marihuana.

(d) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury and the term "collector" means collector of internal revenue.

(e) The term "transfer" or "transferred" means any type of disposition resulting in a change of possession but shall not include a transfer to a common carrier for the purpose of transporting marihuana.

SEC. 2. (a) Every person who imports, manufactures, produces, compounds, sells, deals in, dispenses, prescribes, administers, or gives away marihuana shall (1) within fifteen days after the effective date of this act, or (2) before engaging after the expiration of such fifteen-day period in any of the above-mentioned activities, and (3) thereafter, on or before July 1 of each year, pay the following special taxes respectively:

(1) Importers, manufacturers, and compounders of marihuana, $24 per year.

(2) Producers of marihuana (except those included within subdivision (4) of this subsection), $1 per year, or fraction thereof, during which they engage in such activity.

(3) Physicians, dentists, veterinary surgeons, and other practitioners who distribute, dispense, give away, administer, or prescribe marihuana to patients upon whom they in the course of their professional practice are in attendance, $1 per year or fraction thereof during which they engage in any of such activities.

(4) Any person not registered as an importer, manufacturer, producer, or compounder who obtains and uses marihuana in a laboratory for the purpose of research, instruction, or analysis, or who produces marihuana for any such purpose, $1 per year, or fraction thereof, during which he engages in such activities.

(5) Any person who is not a physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner and who deals in, dispenses, or gives away marihuana, $3 per year: Provided, That any person who has registered and paid the special tax as an importer, manufacturer, compounder, or producer, as required by subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, may deal in, dispense, or give away marihuana imported, manufactured, compounded, or produced by him without further payment of the tax imposed by this section.

(b) Where a tax under subdivision (1) or (5) is payable on July 1 of any year it shall be computed for one year; where any such tax is payable on any other day it shall be computed proportionately from the first day of the month in which the liability for the tax accrued to the following July 1.

(c) In the event that any person subject to a tax imposed by this section engages in any of the activities enumerated in subsection (a) of this section at more than one place, such person shall pay the tax with respect to each such place.

(d) Except as otherwise provided, whenever more than one of the activities enumerated in subsection (a) of this section is carried on by the same person at the same time, such person shall pay the tax for each such activity, according to the respective rates prescribed.

(e) Any person subject to the tax imposed by this section shall, upon payment of such tax, register his name or style and his place or places of business with the collector of the district in which such place or places of business are located.

(f) Collectors are authorized to furnish, upon written request, to any person a certified copy of the names of any or all persons who may be listed in their respective collection districts as special taxpayers under this section, upon payment of a fee of $1 for each one hundred of such names or fraction thereof upon such copy so requested.

SEC. 3. (a) No employee of any person who has paid the special tax and registered, as required by section 2 of this act, acting within the scope of his employment, shall be required to register and pay such special tax.

(b) An officer or employee of the United States, any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or insular possession, or political subdivision, who, in the exercise of his official duties, engages in any of the activities enumerated in section 2 of this act shall not be required to register or pay the special tax, but his right to the exemption shall be evidenced in such manner as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe.

SEC. 4. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person required to register and pay the special tax under the provisions of section 2 to import, manufacture, produce, compound, sell, deal in, dispense, distribute, prescribe, administer, or give away marihuana without having so registered and paid such tax.

(b) In any suit or proceeding to enforce the liability imposed by this section or section 2, if proof is made that marihuana was at any time growing upon land under the control of the defendant, such proof shall be presumptive evidence that at such time the defendant was a producer and liable under this section as well as under section 2.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person who shall not have paid the special tax and registered, as required by section 2, to send, ship, carry, transport, or deliver any marihuana within any Territory, the District of Columbia, or any insular possession, or from any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, any insular possession of the United States, or the Canal Zone, into any other State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or insular possession of the United States: Provided, That nothing contained in this section shall apply to any common carrier engaged in transporting marihuana; or to any employee of any person who shall have registered and paid the special tax as required by section 2 while acting within the scope of his employment; or to any person who shall deliver marihuana which has been prescribed or dispensed by a physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner registered under section 2, who has been employed to prescribe for the particular patient receiving such marihuana; or to any United States, State, county, municipal, District, Territorial, or insular officer or official acting within the scope of his official duties.

SEC. 6. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person, whether or not required to pay a special tax and register under section 2, to transfer marihuana, except in pursuance of a written order of the person to whom such marihuana is transferred, on a form to be issued in blank for that purpose by the Secretary.

(b) Subject to such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, nothing contained in this section shall apply—

(1) To a transfer of marihuana to a patient by a physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner registered under section 2, in the course of his professional practice only: Provided, That such physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner shall keep a record of all such marihuana transferred, showing the amount transferred and the name and address of the patient to whom such marihuana is transferred, and such record shall be kept for a period of two years from the date of the transfer of such marihuana, and subject to inspection as provided in section 11.

(2) To a transfer of marihuana, made in good faith by a dealer to a consumer under and in pursuance of a written prescription issued by a physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner registered under section 2: Provided, That such prescription shall be dated as of the day on which signed and shall be signed by the physician, dentist, veterinary surgeon, or other practitioner who issues the same: Provided further, That such dealer shall preserve such prescription for a period of two years from the day on which such prescription is filled so as to be readily accessible for inspection by the officers, agents, employees, and officials mentioned in section 11.

(3) To the sale, exportation, shipment, or delivery of marihuana by any person within the United States, any Territory, the District of Columbia, or any of the insular possessions of the United States, to any person in any foreign country regulating the entry of marihuana, if such sale, shipment, or delivery of marihuana is made in accordance with such regulations for importation into such foreign country as are prescribed by such foreign country, such regulations to be promulgated from time to time by the Secretary of State of the United States.

(4) To a transfer of marihuana to any officer or employee of the United States Government or of any State, Territorial, District, county, or municipal or insular government lawfully engaged in making purchases thereof for the various departments of the Army and Navy, the Public Health Service, and for Government, State, Territorial, District, county, or municipal or insular hospitals or prisons.

(5) To a transfer of any seeds of the plant Cannabis sativa L. to any person registered under section 2.

(c) The Secretary shall cause suitable forms to be prepared for the purposes before mentioned and shall cause them to be distributed to collectors for sale. The price at which such forms shall be sold by said collectors shall be fixed by the Secretary, but shall not exceed 2 cents each. Whenever any collector shall sell any of such forms he shall cause the date of sale, the name and address of the proposed vendor, the name and address of the purchaser, and the amount of marihuana ordered to be plainly written or stamped thereon before delivering the same.

(d) Each such order form sold by a collector shall be prepared by him and shall include an original and two copies, any one of which shall be admissible in evidence as an original. The original and one copy shall be given by the collector to the purchaser thereof. The original shall in turn be given by the purchaser thereof to any person who shall, in pursuance thereof, transfer marihuana to him and shall be preserved by such person for a period of two years so as to be readily accessible for inspection by any officer, agent, or employee mentioned in section 11. The copy given to the purchaser by the collector shall be retained by the purchaser and preserved for a period of two years so as to be readily accessible to inspection by any officer, agent, or employee mentioned in section 11. The second copy shall be preserved in the records of the collector.

SEC. 7. (a) There shall be levied, collected, and paid upon all transfers of marihuana which are required by section 6 to be carried out in pursuance of written order forms taxes at the following rates:

(1) Upon each transfer to any person who has paid the special tax and registered under section 2 of this act, $1 per ounce of marihuana or fraction thereof.

(2) Upon each transfer to any person who has not paid the special tax and registered under section 2 of this act, $100 per ounce of marihuana or fraction thereof.

(b) Such tax shall be paid by the transferee at the time of securing each order form and shall be in addition to the price of such form. Such transferee shall be liable for the tax imposed by this section but in the event that the transfer is made in violation of section 6 without an order form and without payment of the transfer tax imposed by this section, the transferor shall also be liable for such tax.

(c) Payment of the tax herein provided shall be represented by appropriate stamps to be provided by the Secretary and said stamps shall be affixed by the collector or his representative to the original order form.

(d) All provisions of law relating to the engraving, issuance, sale, accountability, cancelation, and destruction of tax-paid stamps provided for in the internal revenue laws shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with this act, be extended and made to apply to stamps provided for in this section.

(e) All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by the act of December 17, 1914 (38 Stat. 785; U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 26, secs. 1040-1061, 1383-1391), as amended, shall, insofar as not inconsistent with this act, be applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by this act.

SEC. 8. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person who is a transferee required to pay the transfer tax imposed by section 7 to acquire or otherwise obtain any marihuana without having paid such tax; and proof that any person shall have had in his possession any marihuana and shall have failed, after reasonable notice and demand by the collector, to produce the order form required by section 6 to be retained by him, shall be presumptive evidence of guilt under this section and of liability for the tax imposed by section 7.

(b) No liability shall be imposed by virtue of this section upon any duly authorized officer of the Treasury Department engaged in the enforcement of this act or upon any duly authorized officer of any State, or Territory, or of any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or of any insular possession of the United States, who shall be engaged in the enforcement of any law or municipal ordinance dealing with the production, sale, prescribing, dispensing, dealing in, or distributing of marihuana.

SEC. 9. (a) Any marihuana which has been imported, manufactured, compounded, transferred, or produced in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture and, except as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, all the provisions of internal revenue laws relating to searches, seizures, and forfeitures are extended to include marihuana.

(b) Any marihuana which may be seized by the United States Government from any person or persons charged with any violation of this act shall upon conviction of the person or persons from whom seized be confiscated by and forfeited to the United States.

(c) Any marihuana seized or coming into the possession of the United States in the enforcement of this act, the owner or owners of which are unknown, shall be confiscated by and forfeited to the United States.

(d) The Secretary is hereby directed to destroy any marihuana confiscated by and forfeited to the United States under this section or to deliver such marihuana to any department, bureau, or other agency of the United States Government, upon proper application therefor under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary.

SEC. 10. (a) Every person liable to any tax imposed by this act shall keep such books and records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe.

(b) Any person who shall be registered under the provisions of section 2 in any internal revenue district shall, whenever required so to do by the collector of the district, render to the collector a true and correct statement or return, verified by affidavits, setting forth the quantity of marihuana received or harvested by him during such period immediately preceding the demand of the collector, not exceeding three months, as the said collector may fix and determine. If such person is not solely a producer, he shall set forth in such statement or return the names of the persons from whom said marihuana was received, the quantity in each instance received from such persons, and the date when received.

SEC. 11. The order forms and copies thereof and the prescriptions and records required to be preserved under the provisions of section 6, and the statements or returns filed in the office of the collector of the district under the provisions of section 10 (b) shall be open to inspection by officers, agents, and employees of the Treasury Department duly authorized for that purpose, and such officers of any State or Territory, or of any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or of any insular possession of the United States as shall be charged with the enforcement of any law or municipal ordinance regulating the production, sale, prescribing, dispensing, dealing in, or distributing of marihuana. Each collector shall be authorized to furnish, upon written request, copies of any of the said statements or returns filed in his office to any of such officials of any State or Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any insular possession of the United States as shall be entitled to inspect the said statements or returns filed in the office of the said collector, upon the payment of a fee of $1 for each 100 words or fraction thereof in the copy or copies so requested.

SEC. 12. Any person who is convicted of a violation of any provision of this act shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 13. It shall not be necessary to negative any exemptions set forth in this act in any complaint, information, indictment, or other writ or proceeding laid or brought under this act and the burden of proof of any such exemption shall be upon the defendant. In the absence of the production of evidence by the defendant that he has complied with the provisions of section 2 relating to registration or that he has complied with the provisions of section 6 relating to order forms, he shall be presumed not to have complied with such provisions of such sections, as the case may be.

SEC. 14. The Secretary is authorized to make, prescribe, and publish all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act and to confer or impose any of the rights, privileges, powers, and duties conferred or imposed upon him by this act upon such officers or employees of the Treasury Department as he shall designate or appoint.

SEC. 15. The provisions of this act shall apply to the several States, the District of Columbia, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, and the insular possessions of the United States, except the Philippine Islands. In Puerto Rico the administration of this act, the collection of the special taxes and transfer taxes, and the issuance of the order forms provided for in section 6 shall be performed by the appropriate internal revenue officers of that government, and all revenues collected under this act in Puerto Rico shall accrue intact to the general government thereof. The President is hereby authorized and directed to issue such Executive orders as will carry into effect in the Virgin Islands the intent and purpose of this act by providing for the registration with appropriate officers and the imposition of the special and transfer taxes upon all persons in the Virgin Islands who import, manufacture, produce, compound, sell, deal in, dispense, prescribe, administer, or give away marihuana.

SEC. 16. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the remainder of the act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 17. This act shall take effect on the first day of the second month after the month during which it is enacted.

SEC. 18. This act may be cited as the "Marihuana Tax Act of 1937."

Approved, August 2, 1937.

Over 5 years but not over 10 years.	40
Over 10 years.	30

Net gains computed on the basis of foregoing percentages are included in net income and are subject to normal and surtax rates. Losses so computed are allowed in determining net income to the amount of the capital gains taken into account plus $2,000.

Over 18 months but not over 24 months.	60%
Over 24 months.	50

After computation of amount of gain or loss to be taken into account according to the above percentages, such gain or loss from sale or exchange of capital assets is treated as follows:

Assets held 18 months or less: Gains not offset by allowed losses are included with other income subject to full normal tax and surtax rates. Losses are allowed only to the extent of gains on such transactions, but losses disallowed in 1 year (to an amount not exceeding net income) may be carried forward and applied against gains from such transactions in the succeeding taxable year.

Assets held more than 18 months: Net gains are included with other income subject to normal tax and surtax rates or are segregated and taxed at 30%, whichever method results in lesser total tax.

Net losses are deducted from other income or 30% of such losses is credited against the tax, computed on net income before deducting the net loss, whichever method gives the greater tax.

EXCELLENCY:

I had the honor to receive the note of November 20 last by which Your Excellency was good enough to transmit to me a statement of the payments envisaged by the Belgian-American debt agreement of August 18, 1925, and by the moratorium agreement of June 10, 1932.

I did not fail to transmit this communication to my Government, which has now instructed me to inform the Government of the United States that the Royal Government keenly regrets to find that the reasons which have forced it to suspend, since December 15, 1932, the service of its debt to the United States, have lost none of their validity.

No new element having arisen which would permit Belgium to modify its attitude, my country finds it impossible to effect, on December 15, 1937, next, the payment in question.

I avail myself [etc.].

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note of November 20, 1937, transmitting a statement of the Secretary of Treasury which indicates the amount due from the Czechoslovak Government under the provisions of the debt agreement of October 13, 1925, and the moratorium agreement of June 10, 1932.

The Czechoslovak Government appreciates the reiterated assurance of the Government of the United States that any proposals which the Czechoslovak Government may desire to present in regard to the payment of this indebtedness would receive careful consideration with a view to eventual submission to the American Congress.

I have been instructed to inform Your Excellency that my Government regrets that prevailing conditions do not warrant, at this time, the resumption of discussions which would result in a mutually satisfactory settlement of this question.

FRANCE

To the Secretary of State from the French Chargé d'Affaires, December 6, 1937

EXCELLENCY:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note, dated November 20, 1937, transmitting a statement of the amounts due by France to the United States on December 15 next, under the terms of the agreements signed by the French Government.

In presenting this statement, you took occasion to reiterate that the Government of the United States is fully disposed to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposals which the French Government may desire to put forward in regard to the settlement of this indebtedness and to give them careful consideration with a view to their eventual submission to the American Congress.

The French Government thanks the Government of the United States for having been so kind as to renew these assurances and desires on its part to emphasize again its sincere desire to seek the bases for a settlement of this debt acceptable to both countries.

As soon as a satisfactory development of the situation will permit, the French Government will not fail to seize the opportunity, which it hopes will be soon, to enter into conversations for the negotiation of an agreement to the conclusion of which, like the Government of the United States, it attaches great importance.

Please accept [etc.].

GREECE

Announcing the receipt of interest payments due from Greece (Treasury Department press release, May 23, 1938)

The Secretary of the Treasury today announced that His Excellency, Mr. D. Siellianos, Minister of Greece, delivered check No. 35606 drawn by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at the direction of the Bank of Greece for account of the Greek Ministry of Finance, to the order of the Secretary of the Treasury in the amount of $174,336 representing payment by the Greek Government to the Government of the United States of 40 percent of the semiannual interest amounting to $217,920 due on May 10 and $217,920 due on November 10, 1937, on the 4 percent loan of 1929 made to the Greek Government by the United States under the agreement of May 10, 1929.

This amount has been received by the Treasury in the same manner as the payments made by the Greek Government to the United States on account of the amounts due during the period from 1932 to 1936, inclusive, were received by the United States, namely, without prejudice to the contractual rights of the United States which are set forth in part II of the debt agreement of May 10, 1929, and in accordance with the position of the United States as stated in the note addressed by the Secretary of State to the Greek Minister at Washington on February 8, 1936.

HUNGARY

SIR:

I have the honor to inform you that in conformity with the proposal contained in the note of this Legation of August 16, 1937, the Royal Hungarian Government is making a payment today in the amount of $9,828.16 to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in favor of the Treasury of the United States.

In this connection I have the honor to inform you that my Government in its progressive regularization of its foreign debt service confidently expects to avail itself at an early date of the assurance of your Government that it will give careful consideration to any proposals which my Government may put forward in regard to the payment of its indebtedness to the Government of the United States.

Accept [etc.].

JOHN PELÉNYI.

To the Secretary of State from the Hungarian Minister, June 15, 1938

SIR:

By order of my Government, I beg to inform you that the amount of $9,828.16 has been deposited today in the Federal Reserve Bank in New York on account of Hungary's indebtedness to the American Government.

It is the earnest hope of my Government that the Congress of the United States will give favorable consideration at an early date to the offer of my Government submitted in the Aide Memoire of February 7, 1938.

Accept [etc.].

JOHN PELÉNYI.

ITALY

To the Secretary of State from the Italian Ambassador, December 10, 1937

HONORABLE SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of November 20, whereby you have sent me a statement of the amounts due from the Italian Government up to December 15, 1937, under the provision of the debt agreement of November 14, 1925, and the moratorium agreement of June 3, 1932.

My Government has taken note with appreciation of the renewed assurance that the United States Government is fully disposed to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposals which the Italian Government may desire to put forward in regard to the payment of its indebtedness and that such proposals would receive careful consideration with a view to eventual submission to the American Congress.

While thanking you for the above communication, my Government regrets to be still unable, at the present moment, to submit any proposals and wishes to refer to the considerations previously brought to the attention of the Federal Government.

Accept [etc.].

POLAND

To the Secretary of State from the Polish Ambassador, December 8, 1937

SIR:

Acting upon instructions of my Government, and in answer to your note of November 20, 1937, I beg to thank you for the assurance that the United States Government is fully disposed to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposal which my Government desire to put forward in regard to payments resulting from the terms of the debt agreement of November 14, 1924, and the moratorium agreement of June 10, 1932.

In connection with the above I have the honor to inform you that, for reasons analogous to those contained in the note of December 8, 1932, and confirmed by later declarations, the Polish Government are obliged to request similarly a deferment of payment of the installment payable on December 15, 1937, the Polish Government, to their great regret, still not being in a position to resume the service of the debt towards the United States.

Accept [etc.].

RUMANIA

To the Secretary of State from the Rumanian Minister, December 14, 1937

SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your note of November 20, 1937, enclosing the statement showing the amounts due from the Rumanian Government up to December 15, 1937, pursuant to the terms of the debt agreement of December 4, 1925, and the moratorium agreement of June 11, 1932.

In the note of June 12, 1937, and in my previous communications, I have referred to the reasons why my Government was obliged to suspend payment under the above-mentioned agreements. The Rumanian Government feels that the considerations which governed their decision six months ago apply with equal force today, as no changes have occurred in the general situation which would permit to expect a favorable result by initiating negotiations at the present time.

Please accept [etc.].

DAVILA.

To the Secretary of State from the Rumanian Minister, June 11, 1938

SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your note of May 31, 1938, enclosing the statement showing the amount due from the Rumanian Government up to June 15, 1938, pursuant to the terms of the debt agreement of December 4, 1925, and the moratorium agreement of June 11, 1932.

In reply, I wish to state that the causes which forced my Government to suspend payment under the above-mentioned agreements still obtain. As a consequence, the Rumanian Government, while deeply appreciating the desire of the Government of the United States to discuss any proposals for the resumption of the payment of this indebtedness, feels obliged to postpone the beginning of negotiations until such time as economic conditions throughout the world permit the expectation of a favorable solution of this problem.

Please accept [etc.].

YUGOSLAVIA

To the Secretary of State from the Minister of Yugoslavia, December 11, 1937

SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of November 20, 1937, with which you were good enough to transmit a statement showing the amounts due and payable on December 15, 1937, and pursuant to the debt agreement of May 3, 1926.

The Royal Government, while appreciating the readiness of the United States Government to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposals which may be put forward in regard to the payment of the amounts due, are unable to put at this moment any such proposals forward or to resume payments according to the aforesaid debt agreement, for the same reasons as those exposed in my previous notes.

Accept [etc.].

CONSTANTIN FOTITCH.

To the Secretary of State from the Minister of Yugoslavia, June 10, 1938

SIR:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 31, 1938, with which you were good enough to transmit a statement showing the amounts due and payable on June 15, 1938, by the Yugoslav Government, pursuant to the terms of the debt agreement of May 3, 1926.

For the same reasons as those which I had the honor to expose in my previous letters, the Royal Government, while appreciating the willingness of the United States Government to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposals concerning this indebtedness, are still unable, to their sincere regret, to resume payment under the said agreement or to present, under the present circumstances, and in the present moment, any proposal to this effect.

Accept [etc.].

Exhibit 46

Text of notes delivered to the German Foreign Minister by the American Ambassador at Berlin, relative to the indebtedness of Austria to the United States (State Department press releases, April 6, 1938, and June 17, 1938)

APRIL 6, 1938.

I am directed by my Government to inform Your Excellency as follows:

On March 17, 1938, the Minister of the Republic of Austria, Mr. Edgar Prochnik, informed the Department of State that, as a result of the developments which had occurred in Austria, that country had ceased to exist as an independent nation and had been incorporated in the German Reich; that therefore the Austrian mission to this country, of which he had been the head, had been abolished; and that the affairs of the mission had been taken over by the Embassy of Germany. The German Ambassador has informed the Department of State that he has assumed the functions hitherto performed by the Minister of Austria.

The Government of the United States finds itself under the necessity as a practical measure of closing its Legation at Vienna and of establishing a Consulate General. In the circumstances I am directed by my Government to request provisional consular status for Mr. John C. Wiley, Consul General; Mr. John H. Morgan and Mr. John H. Lord, consuls; and Mr. G. Frederick Reinhardt and Mr. Thomas R. Flack, vice consuls.

APRIL 6, 1938.

In view of the announcement made to the Government of the United States by the Austrian Minister on March 17, 1938, my Government is under the necessity for all practical purposes of accepting what he says as a fact and accordingly consideration is being given to the adjustments in its own practices and procedure in various regard which will be necessitated by the change of status of Austria.

In this connection I have to notify the German Government that the Government of the United States will look to it for the discharge of the relief indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the Government of the United States under the debt agreement signed May 8, 1930, and the moratorium agreement signed September 14, 1932, between the Government of the United States and the Government of Austria.

This debt was incurred by the Government of Austria for value received through the purchase of flour under the authority of the act of Congress approved March 30, 1920, which authorized the United States Grain Corporation to sell flour on credit to relieve populations in countries of Europe or countries contiguous thereto, suffering for the want of food. It was first represented by an obligation of the Government of Austria dated September 4, 1920, in the amount of $24,055,708.92, which with other obligations of a similar tenor issued at the same time in favor of several other governments was by the express terms thereof a first charge on all the assets and revenues of Austria. On June 9, 1923, the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, under special authority conferred by joint resolution of Congress approved April 6, 1922, subordinated the lien of this obligation upon the assets and revenues of Austria to the lien of the Austrian reconstruction loan of 1923, which has since been redeemed, and of the so-called Czechoslovakian conversion loan, upon certain revenues of the Government of Austria. On July 2, 1930, the Secretary of the Treasury, under special authority of an act of Congress approved February 4, 1929, subordinated the lien of the Austrian relief bonds held by the United States to the lien of the Austrian Government international loan of 1930. Except as thus subordinated to prior liens pursuant to the acts of Congress of April 6, 1922, and February 4, 1929, the Austrian relief obligations held by the United States are expressly secured by a first lien on all the assets and revenues of Austria.

In addition to the sums owed this Government from the Austrian Government, consideration is required for the various dollar obligations of Austrian borrowers which are in private hands. The Austrian Government itself borrowed in the American market in 1930, the issue being part of the Austrian Government international loan of 1930 and being secured by a first charge upon the gross receipts of the Austrian customs and tobacco monopoly, subject at the present time only to the charge on these revenues in respect of the Czechoslovakian conversion loan. Furthermore, substantial amounts of bonds publicly issued in the American market by several Austrian political subdivisions and corporations, payable in dollars, are owned by citizens and residents of the United States.

On these dollar bonds in private hands, the Austrian Government and the other Austrian debtors have been making regular payments pursuant to the terms of the obligations. This Government will expect that these obligations will continue to be fully recognized and that service will be continued by the German authorities which have succeeded in control of the means and machinery of payment in Austria. The welfare of numerous American citizens is directly affected and this Government will appreciate prompt assurances on the subject.

In pursuance to instructions received from my Government, I have the honor to bring to Your Excellency's attention that according to advices received from the Foreign Bondholders Protective Council, the June 1, 1938, monthly service installment on the Austrian Government international loan of 1930 has not been paid. In this connection I have the honor to refer to my note of April 6 notifying Your Excellency that the Government of the United States will look to the German Government for the discharge of the relief indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the Government of the United States and pointing out that the lien of this relief indebtedness upon the assets and revenues of Austria has been subordinated by the United States to the lien of the Austrian international loan of 1930 upon the same assets and revenues.

While no reply to this note has been received, indications were given on the occasion of the presentation of the Embassy's Aide Memoire of May 16 that Your Excellency's Government was taking the position that having regard to former precedents of international law and to the principles applied therein it was not under a legal obligation to take over the external debts of the Austrian Federal Government.

The Government of the United States does not wish to omit, on the occasion of the failure of the German Government to make the contractual monthly payment due June 1 on the Austrian loan of 1930, in spite of the express charge which it enjoys on the assets and revenues of Austria taken over by the German Government, to state its dissent from the indicated position of the German Government as to its legal responsibilities in the premises, and to express the hope that Germany may yet undertake the payments incumbent on it both under international law and under equity.

It is believed that the weight of authority clearly supports the general doctrine of international law founded upon obvious principles of justice that in case of absorption of a state, the substituted sovereignty assumes the debts and obligations of the absorbed state, and takes the burdens with the benefits. A few exceptions to this general proposition have sometimes been asserted, but these exceptions appear to find no application to the circumstances of the instant case. Both the 1930 loan and the relief loans were made in time of peace, for constructive works and the relief of human suffering. There appears no reason why American creditors of Austria should be placed in any worse position by reason of the absorption of Austria by Germany than they would have been in had such absorption not taken place. The United States Government therefore, while recognizing that the German Government is at present engaged in negotiations with numerous governments covering this and related questions, regrets that the service of the loan, affecting many American holders, should have been interrupted, reasserts its own position, and requests that as early reply as possible may be made to the note of April 6, 1938.

Exhibit 47

Announcement concerning the proposal of the Hungarian Government to make payments on account of its indebtedness to the United States (State Department press release, August 26, 1937)

The Hungarian Government has made a proposal to pay the Government of the United States the amount of $19,656.32 per annum in semiannual installments of $9,828.16 over a period of three years, the first installment being paid December 15, 1937, on account of the amounts due under the Hungarian debt funding agreement of April 25, 1924, and the moratorium agreement of May 27, 1932. The payments are to be made without prejudice to the obligations of the Hungarian Government under these agreements, which the Hungarian Government continues to acknowledge.

The Government of the United States has agreed to receive these payments and to credit them on account of the amounts due and has expressed to the Hungarian Government its gratification for the partial resumption of effective payment on the debt, transfer of which has been interrupted since the general transfer moratorium on Hungarian foreign debts proclaimed by the Hungarian Government December 23, 1931.

The regular payments due from Hungary under the funding and moratorium agreements from December 15, 1937, to June 15, 1940, inclusive, are as follows:

	Funding agreement		Moratorium agreement	Total
	Principal	Interest
Dec. 15, 1937.....	$13,830.00	$32,047.57	$4,225.58	$50,103.15
June 15, 1938.....		31,805.55	4,225.58	36,031.13
Dec. 15, 1938.....	14,345.00	31,805.55	4,225.58	50,376.13
June 15, 1939.....		31,554.52	4,225.58	35,780.10
Dec. 15, 1939.....	14,850.00	31,554.51	4,225.58	50,630.09
June 15, 1940.....		31,294.64	4,225.58	35,520.22
Total.....	43,025.00	190,062.34	25,353.48	258,440.82

The partial payments proposed by Hungary are as follows:

	Amount	Percentage of amount due on respective date		Amount	Percentage of amount due on respective date
Dec. 15, 1937.....	$9,828.16	19.6	Dec. 15, 1939.....	9,828.16	19.4
June 15, 1938.....	9,828.16	27.3	June 15, 1940.....	9,828.16	27.7
Dec. 15, 1938.....	9,828.16	19.5
June 15, 1939.....	9,828.16	27.5	Total.....	58,968.96	22.8

The Hungarian Government has made no payment to the United States Treasury under the debt agreement and the moratorium agreement since the Hoover moratorium year July 1, 1931, to June 30, 1932. It has, however, regularly included in its budget the amounts payable under the agreements and has deposited in the Hungarian National Bank on the respective due dates Hungarian Treasury bills in favor of the United States in respect of the amounts payable semiannually. During this time, since December 23, 1931, the Hungarian Government has suspended transfer into foreign currencies of payments on all Hungarian governmental and nongovernmental long-term and short-term foreign debts with the exception of the Hungarian Government reconstruction loan of 1924. Since 1933 transfer on the reconstruction loan has also been partially suspended, the Government paying in foreign exchange 55 percent in 1934 and thereafter 50 percent of the face value of the bond coupons.

The Hungarian bonds held by the Government of the United States under the debt agreement and the moratorium agreement have been subordinated to the reconstruction loan pursuant to a provision in the debt agreement and in the act of Congress approved May 23, 1924, which provided that all or any part of the security for the bonds issued under the debt agreement "may be released by the Secretary of the Treasury on such terms and conditions as he may deem necessary or appropriate in order that the United States may cooperate in any program whereby Hungary may be able to finance its immediate needs by the flotation of a loan for reconstruction purposes." On May 29, 1924, acting under the authority conferred by the act of Congress above referred to, the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, on behalf of the United States, consented to subordinate the lien of the bonds issued under the debt agreement upon the assets and revenues of Hungary to that of the Hungarian reconstruction loan which was then in contemplation under a plan approved by the Reparation Commission on February 21, 1925.

The Hungarian Government's proposals for partial resumption of service on its indebtedness to the United States Government are made in connection with arrangements recently undertaken by the Hungarian Government for a general liquidation of the transfer moratorium. The Hungarian Government has negotiated with bondholders protective committees for a permanent readjustment of the reconstruction loan of 1924, on the basis of paying 60 percent of the original bond interest, canceling the unpaid arrears of interest. This proposal has been recommended to bondholders by the respective bondholders protective committees. The Hungarian authorities have also proposed to holders of other Hungarian long-term bonds a partial resumption of payment of interest in foreign currencies during the years August 1, 1937, to July 31, 1940. The Foreign Bondholders Protective Council has recommended these proposals to American bondholders, stating that the offer made by the Hungarian Government is the best that could be obtained, is in line with its present exchange position, and with the reasonable expectations for the future, and as indicating a genuine effort upon the part of the Hungarian Government to resume dollar remittances to the holders of its foreign dollar bonds.

The indebtedness of the Government of Hungary to the United States originated from the sale of flour to the Hungarian Government under the act of Congress approved March 30, 1920, which authorized the United States Grain Corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to sell or dispose of flour in its possession for cash or on credit for such prices or upon such terms and conditions as might be necessary to relieve the populations in the countries of Europe or countries contiguous thereto suffering for the want of food. The debt agreement of May 25, 1924, funded the Hungarian indebtedness with interest accrued thereon from May 29, 1920, to December 15, 1923, at the rate of  $4\frac{1}{4}$  percent per annum, into \$1,939,000 par amount of bonds of Hungary maturing serially on each December 15, from December 15, 1924, to December 15, 1935, and bearing interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum from December 15, 1923, to December 15, 1933, and thereafter at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  percent per annum until the principal thereof shall have been paid.

The payments to be received under the Hungarian proposals represent the first resumption of payment or partial payment by any government which has entirely suspended payment of its funded indebtedness to the United States. The Government of Greece has from time to time made partial payments on its especially secured indebtedness under part II of the Greek debt agreement of May 10, 1929, but has made no payments since July 1, 1931, on its indebtedness under part I of that agreement, or under the Greek moratorium agreement of May 24, 1932. The Government of Finland has made all payments due from it on their due dates. No other debtor government has made any payment since December 15, 1933.

The correspondence between the two governments is attached.

Text of note from the Honorable Anthony de Balásy, Chargé d'Affaires ad interim of Hungary, to the Secretary of State of the United States, August 16, 1937

SIR:

Referring to your note of May 28, 1937, with regard to the indebtedness of the Government of Hungary to the Government of the United States in which you reiterate your Government's disposition to discuss through diplomatic channels any proposals which my Government may desire to put forward concerning the payment of this indebtedness, I have the honor to inform you of the receipt of instructions from the Royal Hungarian Foreign Office to submit the following proposals with respect to the amounts due under the debt funding agreement of April 25, 1924, and the moratorium agreement of May 27, 1932.

Before setting forth the proposals in detail, I have been instructed to point out that although financial and economic conditions in Hungary have undergone a slight improvement, the amount of foreign exchange for meeting the services on the aforementioned indebtedness is available only in a limited amount. Thus the payments must of necessity be small but nevertheless they will entail considerable sacrifice and therefore my Government begs to express the hope that the Government of the United States will consider them with proper understanding.

The Royal Hungarian Government proposes to pay to the Government of the United States the amount of $19,656.32, representing one per centum of the principal of $1,965,632.75 due under the above-mentioned agreements, in semi-annual installments of $9,828.16 over a period of 3 years, the first payment to be made on December 15, 1937, and the last to be made on June 15, 1940.

The settlement of interests which have accrued from the 16th of June 1932 to the 15th of June 1937 would be held in suspense for the time being.

The Hungarian Government would leave to the discretion of the American Government what portion of the proposed payment should be applied to the interests and what portion to the principal. However, if it is in any way possible, the Hungarian Government would like to have 25 per centum, i. e., $4,914.08, of the proposed payment applied on account of the interest due in the respective period, and the remaining 75 per centum to the amortization of the principal, with the understanding that the whole question of the application of payments to principal and interest will be considered in any eventual subsequent negotiations for the settlement of the debt.

In connection with the above, the Hungarian Government begs to refer to the treasury certificates (bearing interest at 4 and 2 per centum per annum), which have been substituted for the interest payments on the relief loan and which have been deposited to the Foreign Creditors Account at the Hungarian National Bank during the entire period of the transfer moratorium, and to advise that in their place would be deposited one noninterest-bearing treasury certificate and that the interests which have accrued on the above certificates and have been paid into the Foreign Creditors Account would be refunded to the Hungarian Government. In view of the fact that the proposed payments, which in case of their acceptance would cover a period of 3 years, have been calculated on the basis of the original principal, which principal is hereby acknowledged again by my Government, the Hungarian Government feels that those treasury certificates which have been deposited during the period of the transfer moratorium and applied against the installments of the sinking fund should be canceled and the interests which have accrued thereon should be refunded to the Hungarian Government.

I have the honor to request that the foregoing be brought to the attention of the competent American authorities and that I may be informed of their reply in order that I may advise my Government accordingly.

Accept [etc.].

ANTHONY BALÁSY.

Text of note from the Secretary of State of the United States to the Chargé d'Affaires ad interim of Hungary, August 26, 1937

SIR:

I duly transmitted for the consideration of the Acting Secretary of the Treasury your note No. 704/R, dated August 16, 1937, through which the Hungarian Government proposed to pay to the United States the amount of $19,656.32 annually over a period of three years in semiannual installments of $9,828.16, the first payment to be made on December 15, 1937, and the last to be made on June 15, 1940.

I have now received a communication from the Acting Secretary of the Treasury in which, after reciting the various statements and requests in your note, including the fact that the proposal of your Government is accompanied by a definite acknowledgment by your Government of its indebtedness to the United States, the Acting Secretary requests that I transmit to you a notification in the following sense:

"The Hungarian Government should be informed that the Treasury Department will receive the semiannual payments contemplated under its proposal. The Hungarian Government states that it will leave to the discretion of the American Government what portion of the proposed payments should be applied to interest and what portion to principal. Under all the circumstances the Treasury Department feels that the proposed payments should be applied entirely to interest, and, therefore, pursuant to the offer of the Hungarian Government will apply such payments accordingly. The Hungarian Government should, however, be informed that the acceptance of such payments by the Treasury for application on account of its indebtedness to the United States cannot be construed as a concurrence in the proposal of the Hungarian Government as to suspension of payments previously due, nor in any way alter the provisions of its debt funding agreement of April 25, 1924, and moratorium agreement of May 27, 1932, with the United States or prejudice the rights of the United States Government.

"With respect to that part of the proposal of the Hungarian Government relative to the substitution of a noninterest-bearing treasury certificate to the Foreign Creditors Account at the Hungarian National Bank for treasury certificates previously deposited in such account, the Treasury has taken due note of the action contemplated to be taken by the Hungarian Government in this connection. However, the attention of that Government should again be directed to the provisions of its debt funding and moratorium agreements and it should be notified that the issuance and deposit of the treasury certificate as indicated above cannot, in any way, alter the provisions of its agreements with the United States or prejudice the rights of the United States Government."

In transmitting this notification from the Secretary of the Treasury, I desire to express the gratification with which this Government learns that the Hungarian Government will resume payment in dollars of a substantial part of current installments falling due on its indebtedness to the Government of the United States, which it has continued to acknowledge but on which payment in dollars has been interrupted as part of a general transfer moratorium. The ability of Hungary at the present time to adjust part of its foreign indebtedness on a permanent basis and to resume partial payment on the rest on a temporary and provisional basis is an encouraging evidence of improved economic conditions. The promptness with which the Hungarian Government, after negotiating a settlement of prior ranking indebtedness, has offered to make partial current payments on its indebtedness to the United States Government, while continuing to acknowledge the obligation to pay in full, is a heartening sign of recognition of the importance of conserving the sanctity of intergovernmental contractual obligations.

Message from the President of the United States to the Congress, March 28, 1938, concerning the desire of the Hungarian Government to repay its relief loan to the United States without interest

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 28, 1938.

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith, for the consideration of the Congress, a communication from the Minister of Hungary on the relief indebtedness of Hungary to the United States, in which the Hungarian Government tentatively formulates for the consideration of the American Government a possible basis for a new debt arrangement between the two countries to replace completely the debt agreement of 1924 and accruals thereunder.

The indebtedness of the Government of Hungary to the Government of the United States is not a war debt but is properly designated as a relief debt, having been contracted in May 1920 under the authority of the act of March 30, 1920, which authorized the United States Grain Corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to sell or dispose of flour in its possession for cash or on credit at such prices and on such terms or conditions as considered necessary to relieve the populations in the countries of Europe or countries contiguous thereto suffering for the want of food. The American Relief Administration acted as the fiscal agent of the United States Grain Corporation in dispensing this relief.

The original indebtedness, the principal amount of which was $1,685,835.61, with interest accrued thereon from May 1920 to December 1923, at the rate of 4¼ percent per annum, was funded as of the latter date, by agreement made in April 1924, into bonds of Hungary in the aggregate principal amount of $1,939,000, maturing serially in the succeeding years for 62 years, bearing 3 percent for the first 10 years and thereafter at the rate of 3½ percent per annum. In approving this debt settlement, the Congress authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to subordinate the lien of the bonds taken under it to the lien of the Hungarian reconstruction loan, which was about to be issued and sold in numerous countries, including the United States. In May 1924 the Secretary, acting upon this authorization, formally subordinated the American Government's lien to the lien of the reconstruction bond issue.

On December 23, 1931, the Hungarian Government proclaimed a transfer moratorium suspending payment in foreign currencies of all Hungarian foreign obligations, public and private, except the aforesaid reconstruction loan of 1924. Payments on the latter loan were subsequently suspended in part. During 1937 the Hungarian Government began liquidating the transfer moratorium by negotiating agreements with the foreign holders of Hungarian obligations for the acceptance of reduced payments in full satisfaction of existing indebtedness. It is in this connection that the Hungarian Government has now come forward of its own initiative in an effort to reach an agreement with the United States Government under which the relief indebtedness can also be discharged in full.

No readjustment of the terms of payment of the Hungarian indebtedness to the United States can be made except pursuant to act of Congress. The Hungarian Government is seeking a definitive readjustment of the terms of payment of this indebtedness on the basis of full payment over a period of years of the total original amount borrowed, without interest.

The Hungarian Government calls attention to the similarity between its suggested basis for payment and that accepted by the United States in the Austrian debt agreement of May 8, 1930, which provided that a sum very slightly in excess of the original Austrian indebtedness incurred in 1920 should be repaid, without interest, in 40 annuities. The Congress of the United States, after full consideration of the nature of the Austrian indebtedness, voted by a large majority in the House of Representatives and by a unanimous procedure in the Senate to authorize the signature of the draft agreement which had been prepared by the Treasury Department and the representatives of the Austrian Government. The Hungarian debt is a relief debt like the Austrian one.

The Hungarian Minister also suggests that the terms compare favorably with those in several other debt settlements, and that in announcing the signature of the debt agreement with Austria in 1930, the Secretary of the Treasury said:

"The settlement compares favorably with the settlement made by the United States with the Governments of Greece, Italy, and Yugoslavia."

It has, of course, been the consistent policy of the United States to consider each debt in the light of the circumstances of the debtor government, and it is with this in view that the Hungarian communication is transmitted to the Congress.

I believe the proposals of the Hungarian Government should receive the most careful consideration of the Congress. They represent a noteworthy wish and effort of the Hungarian Government to meet its obligations to this Government.

In its simplest terms, the offer of the Hungarian Government is to repay to the United States the whole of the relief loan but without payment of any interest thereon.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

(Enclosure: Aide Memoire on Hungary's relief debt to the United States, February 7, 1938.)

AIDE MEMOIRE ON HUNGARY'S RELIEF DEBT TO THE UNITED STATES

1. Hungary, normally a wheat- and flour-exporting country, was faced in 1920 with a threatening famine. It became necessary therefore to purchase on credit from the United States Grain Corporation 13,890 tons of flour at a price of $121.37 per ton and the Hungarian Government became indebted to the American Government for the cost of this purchase in the amount of $1,685,835.

This debt was funded into interest-bearing bonds in 1924. The funded principal amount of these bonds was $1,939,000 since there was included in the total an amount of $253,000 which had accrued as interest between 1920 and 1924.

The Hungarian-American debt settlement was worked out on the same basis as the British American debt funding settlement, containing none of the concessions which were later granted from those terms to other countries. The total principal to be repaid included, as has already been remarked, a large element of accrued interest. Furthermore, the annual payments becoming due on the new principal from the very beginning of the agreement contained a large element of interest payment.

This is in contrast to the settlements reached with other Danubian countries which had likewise incurred relief debts to the American Government at about the same time and for similar purposes. In these other funding arrangements the annuities provided for the years between 1924 and 1931 were all on account of the principal amount of indebtedness.

On the other hand, as a result of this difference in terms, of the $468,466.32 which the Hungarian Government paid during these years, only $73,995.50 was applied to reduction of principal, the other $393,717.78 being charged as interest. Thus the nominal unpaid principal of the Hungarian debt now stands at a substantially higher total than it would, had Hungary enjoyed the terms later granted to other Danubian countries.

The failure of Hungary to effect payments to the United States under the terms of its debt contract had no relation whatsoever with the defaults of other debtors of the United States. In December 1931, 6 months before the Hoover moratorium expired, the sudden withdrawal of foreign short-term credits completely exhausted the gold and foreign exchange reserve of the National Bank of Hungary and forced the Government, in order to safeguard the financial stability of the country, to decree a transfer moratorium on all foreign debts.

The annuities due under the funding agreement of 1924 were included, however, by the Hungarian Government in every budget passed by Parliament from 1932 to 1937, and on each payment date the United States Government was informed that in lieu of transfer, treasury bills in the national currency were deposited in its favor.

Since the summer of 1937 the Hungarian Government has been emerging from the moratorium which for several years has interrupted payments on all kinds of Hungarian foreign debts to all classes of creditors in all parts of the world. Arrangements on a provisional and temporary basis have been worked out with various groups of creditors. Concurrently a payment of $9,828.16 was made to the American Government on December 15, 1937.

2. Responsive to the repeated indications given by the American Government to the effect "that this Government is fully disposed to discuss, through diplomatic channels, any proposals which your Government may desire to put forward in regard to the payment of this indebtedness, and to assure you that such proposals would receive careful consideration with a view to eventual submission to the American Congress," the Hungarian Government is now prepared to offer to the United States Government to pay in full the total original amount borrowed.

It therefore tentatively formulates for the consideration of the American Government a possible basis of a new debt arrangement between the two countries to replace completely the debt agreement of 1924 and accruals thereunder.

The forms and terms for effecting this new settlement which are under consideration as the basis of a possible offer to the American Government are as follows:

(a) That all payments hitherto made by the Hungarian Government under the debt settlement of 1924 to the United States (approximate amount $478,000) should be recalculated as credited against original principal ($1,685,000).

(b) That the original principal ($1,685,000) of the amount borrowed less the preceding amount paid ($478,000), or $1,207,000, be paid in full in a series of annuities.

(c) The sum total of these annuities shall be equal to this reduced principal and shall be in the form of dated noninterest-bearing notes falling due at specified dates. These annuities shall run for a period of approximately 30 years (and hence each would be approximately in the amount of $39,000).

3. The Hungarian Government wishes to point out that the sum total of these annuities, taken together with amounts previously paid by the Hungarian Government under the debt agreement of 1924, would be identical with the whole original amount borrowed, and thus represent an exact and full discharge of the debt.

The Hungarian Government hopes all the more that this offer will prove acceptable to the American Government as it very closely approximates the basis for payment annuities already accepted in the Austrian settlement of May 8, 1930, for the discharge of a relief indebtedness of the same character and referring to a country whose capacity to pay can hardly be considered inferior to that of Hungary.

In announcing the signature of said agreement with Austria, the Treasury Department stated that "The settlement compares favorably with the settlements made by the United States with the Governments of Greece, Italy, and Yugoslavia."

The Hungarian offer would be even more favorable to the United States Government as, in contrast to the terms of the Austrian settlement, the Hungarian Government offers complete repayment of its relief obligation within the present generation.

Exhibit 49

Announcement concerning the treaty between the United States and Nicaragua for adjustment of pending financial questions (State Department press release, April 14, 1938)

The Government of Nicaragua is indebted to the Government of the United States in the amount of approximately $484,000 for the purchase of surplus arms, ammunition, and other military equipment. The principal transactions were concluded on November 14, 1921, and February 25, 1927. The amount of the principal is $289,898.78. Interest charges had increased this amount to approximately $484,000 as of August 30, 1937.

The Nicaraguan Government on the other hand has been endeavoring for a number of years to obtain settlement of its claim for refund of income taxes paid to the Government of the United States by the Ferrocarril del Pacifico de Nicaragua (Pacific Railway of Nicaragua), which was incorporated in 1912 under the laws of the State of Maine. The railroad is owned and operated by the Government of Nicaragua and functions solely within the territory of that country. The amount of taxes for which refund is claimed is $372,879.06. Interest charges as of August 30, 1937, had increased this amount to the sum of $641,115.91.

Beginning in 1922 the Nicaraguan Government sought to have the railroad declared exempt, as an agency of that Government, from taxation by the United States, and to obtain refund of income taxes previously paid. Pending consideration of the matter, however, the taxes continued to be paid. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in Decision No. 2076, of April 17, 1931, stated that—

"The entire overassessments are due to the fact that, after a thorough consideration of the taxpayer's manner of organization and mode of operation, it is determined that the corporation is an agency of a foreign government and is exempt from the operation of the Federal revenue laws and the regulations promulgated thereunder, sections 213 (b) (5) and/or 231(12), Revenue Acts of 1918 and 1921."

Refund of taxes for the years 1921 and 1922 was made. Claims for the remaining years (1919, 1920, and 1923 to 1928, inclusive) were rejected on the ground that they had not been filed within the period prescribed by statute for the filing of claims for the refund of income taxes although the corporation was held to be exempt from tax for all years involved.

Following further consideration of the matter by the various Government agencies concerned, it was decided that the most desirable manner of effecting a settlement would be through the conclusion of a treaty. The treaty signed today offsets the two items and provides for the payment of $72,000 by the Government of the United States to the Government of Nicaragua.

Exhibit 50

Agreement with Nicaragua providing adjustment of certain accounts and refund of income taxes, ratified by the Senate on June 13, 1938

The United States of America and the Republic of Nicaragua:

Considering that the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua is indebted to the Government of the United States of America in the amount of $289,898.78, representing unpaid balance of the principal amount of indebtedness incurred for the purchase from the Government of the United States of America of certain arms and ammunition;

Considering that the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua makes a claim to refund of income taxes from the Government of the United States of America in the principal amount of $372,879.06, representing payment of income taxes to the Government of the United States of America by the Ferrocarril del Pacifico de Nicaragua; and

Being desirous of adjusting in a mutually satisfactory manner the aforesaid accounts and of strengthening still further the friendly relations which happily exist between the two Governments;

Have decided to enter into an agreement for that purpose and to that end have appointed their plenipotentiaries:

The President of the United States of America; Cordell Hull, Secretary of State of the United States of America; and

The President of the Republic of Nicaragua; Señor Doctor Don León De Bayle, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Nicaragua in Washington, who, having communicated their respective full powers to each other, which have been found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon the following:

ARTICLE I

The Government of the United States of America shall pay to the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua the sum of $72,000 in full settlement of the claim of the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua for refund of $372,879.06, being the principal amount of certain income taxes paid by the Ferrocarril del Pacifico de Nicaragua, and for refund of interest thereon.

ARTICLE II

The Government of the Republic of Nicaragua agrees to accept the payment of $72,000 in full settlement of its aforesaid claim, and in consideration of such agreement the Government of the United States of America hereby cancels the present indebtedness of the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua to it for arms and ammunition sold to the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua, in the principal amount of $289,898.78, together with interest thereon.

ARTICLE III

The present agreement shall be ratified in accordance with the constitutional methods of the High Contracting Parties and shall take effect immediately on the exchange of ratifications, which shall take place as soon as possible at Washington.

In witness whereof, the plenipotentiaries have signed this agreement in duplicate, in the English and Spanish languages, both texts being authentic, and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done at the city of Washington, the 14th day of April, 1938.

GOVERNMENT LOSSES IN SHIPMENT

Exhibit 51

An act to dispense with the necessity for insurance by the Government against loss or damage to valuables in shipment, and for other purposes

[Public No. 192, 75th Cong., H. R. 6635]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That as soon as practicable after the approval of this act the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General shall, jointly, with the approval of the President, prescribe regulations governing the shipment of valuables by the executive departments, independent establishments, agencies, wholly owned corporations, officers, and employees of the United States, with a view to minimizing risks of loss and destruction of, and damage to, such valuables in shipment. After the effective date of such regulations, which shall be not more than thirty days after their issuance, it shall be the duty of every such executive department, independent establishment, agency, wholly owned corporation, officer, and employee, and of every person acting for him or it, or at his or its direction, to comply with such regulations in making any shipment of valuables.

SEC. 2. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $500,000 to be used, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the replacement of valuables, or the value thereof, lost, destroyed, or damaged in the course of shipment effected pursuant to the regulations prescribed under section 1. There is hereby further authorized to be appropriated annually, beginning with the fiscal year 1939 and ending with the fiscal year 1948, inclusive, the sum of $200,000 for the said purposes, and from time to time such additional sums as may be necessary for the said purposes. There shall be in the Treasury of the United States a revolving fund, to be known as "the fund for the payment of Government losses in shipment" (hereinafter referred to as "the fund"), to be constituted of the said sum of $500,000 and the sums hereafter appropriated for the said purposes, together with all recoveries and repayments credited to the fund as hereinafter provided. There is hereby further authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $10,000, for expenditures under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, to be used for the payment of administrative expenses, including personal services, necessary to carry out the provisions of this act for the fiscal year 1938.

SEC. 3. In the event of loss or destruction of, or damage to, valuables of which shipment shall have been made pursuant to the regulations prescribed under section 1, a claim in writing for replacement shall be made upon the Secretary of the Treasury who, if he shall be satisfied that such loss, destruction, or damage has occurred and that shipment was made substantially in accordance with such regulations, shall cause replacement to be made out of the fund through such officers as he may designate. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury that such loss, destruction, or damage has occurred or that such shipment was made substantially in accordance with such regulations shall be final and conclusive and shall not be subject to review by any other officer of the United States: Provided, however, That where the Secretary of the Treasury determines that such replacement can be effected, in whole or in part, without actual or ultimate injury to the United States, by a credit in the accounts of the executive department, independent establishment, agency, officer, employee, or other accountable person making the claim, he shall not resort to the fund, except to the extent that such replacement cannot be so effected by such credit, but shall certify such determination to the Comptroller General and, upon receipt of such certification, the Comptroller General is authorized and directed to make such credit in the settlement of accounts in the General Accounting Office: Provided further, That the fund shall not be available with respect to any loss, destruction, or damage affecting valuables of which shipment shall have been made by or on behalf of the Public Debt Service of the Treasury Department, insofar as such loss, destruction or damage is chargeable against the indefinite appropriation "Expenses of loans, act of September 24, 1917, as amended and extended" (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 31, secs. 760, 761): And provided further, That the fund shall not be available with respect to any loss, destruction, or damage affecting valuables, insofar as such loss, destruction, or damage may be adjusted by the Postmaster General under the provisions of the act of March 17, 1882, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 39, sec. 49); nor shall it be available with respect to any loss, destruction, or damage affecting valuables of which shipment shall have been made at the risk of persons other than the United States, its executive departments, independent establishments, agencies, wholly owned corporations, officers, and employees. All recoveries and repayments on account of loss, destruction, or damage to valuables of which replacement shall have been made out of the fund shall be credited to it and shall be available for the purposes thereof.

SEC. 4. On and after the effective date of the regulations prescribed under section 1, no executive department, independent establishment, agency, wholly owned corporation, officer, or employee shall expend any money, or incur any obligation, for insurance, or for the payment of premiums on insurance, against loss, destruction, or damage in the shipment of valuables except as specifically authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary of the Treasury may give such authorization if he shall find that the risk of loss, destruction, or damage in such shipment cannot be adequately guarded against by the facilities of the United States or that the circumstances are such that adequate replacement cannot be provided under this act.

SEC. 5. Every officer and employee of the United States and every person acting on behalf of a wholly owned corporation who makes a shipment of valuables in good faith pursuant to and substantially in accordance with the regulations prescribed under section 1 shall be deemed, insofar as there may be concerned the propriety with respect to such shipment of any act or omission governed by such regulations, to be acting in faithful execution of his duties of office and in full performance of the conditions of his bond and oath of office, if any.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of the Treasury shall have power, with the approval of the President, to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the functions vested in him by this act, and may for such purpose require persons making shipment of valuables or making claims for replacement to make such declarations or to furnish him with such other information as he may deem necessary.

SEC. 7. For the purposes of this act—

(a) The term "valuables" means any article or thing or representative of value in which the United States has any interest, or in connection with which it has any obligation or responsibility, direct or indirect, and which is of, or is similar to, a class or kind of article or thing or representative of value which it has been the practice heretofore of the United States to insure as the insured party, against loss, destruction, or damage in shipment, and includes, but is not limited to, coin, specie, bullion, currency, bonds, coupons, debentures, bills, notes, certificates of indebtedness, certificates of deposit, mortgages, assignments, certificates of stock, warehouse receipts, checks, trust receipts, warrants, stamps, and any other securities, papers, or materials of value, whether complete, incomplete, mutilated, in definitive form, or represented by interim documents: the term "United States" as used in this subsection means the United States or any of its executive departments, independent establishments, agencies, wholly owned corporations, officers, or employees;

(b) The term "shipment" means the transportation, or the effecting of transportation, of valuables, without limitation as to the means or facilities used or by which the transportation, is effected or the person to whom it is made, and includes, but is not limited to, shipments made to any executive department, independent establishment, agency, wholly or partly owned corporation, officer, or employee of the United States, or any person acting on his or its behalf or at his or its direction;

(c) The term "wholly owned corporation" means any corporation, regardless of the law or laws under which it is incorporated, the capital of which is entirely owned, directly or indirectly, by the United States, and includes the duly authorized officers, employees, and agents thereof;

(d) The term "replacement" means payment, reimbursement, replacement, or duplication or the expenses incident thereto.

SEC. 8. (a) Whenever it is clearly proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury—

(1) That any interest-bearing security of the United States, identified by number and description, payable to bearer or so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, has been wholly or partly destroyed, or so mutilated or defaced as to impair its value to the owner, or has been lost or stolen under such circumstances, and such a period of time having elapsed after it has matured or has become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, as in the judgment of the

Secretary would indicate that it has been destroyed or irretrievably lost, is not held by any person as his own property and will never become the basis of a valid claim against the United States; or

(2) That any interest-bearing security of the United States, identified by number and description, which is not payable to bearer and which has not been so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, has been lost or stolen, so that it is not held by any person as his own property, or has been wholly or partly destroyed, or so mutilated or defaced as to impair its value to the owner; the Secretary, upon receipt and approval by him of a bond of indemnity, if and as required by subsection (b) hereof, shall, in the case of a security which has not matured or become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, issue a substitute marked "duplicate" and showing the serial number of the original security; or shall, in the case of a security which has matured or become redeemable pursuant to a call for redemption, make payment thereof to the owner, with such interest only as would have been paid had the security been presented when it became due and payable: Provided, That in the case of an interim certificate relief may be given by the issue of a definitive security, whether before or after maturity, rather than by the issue of a substitute or by payment: And provided further, That no payment shall be made on account of interest coupons claimed to have been attached to such original security unless the Secretary is satisfied that such coupons have not been paid, and are in fact destroyed or can never become the basis of a valid claim against the United States.

(b) Except as hereinafter provided, the owner of such lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security shall file with the Secretary of the Treasury a bond, to indemnify the United States, in such form and amount and with such surety, sureties, or security as the Secretary of the Treasury shall require: Provided, That in case of securities payable to bearer or so assigned as to become, in effect, payable to bearer, the destruction of which has not been proved, a corporate surety, qualified under the provisions of the act of August 13, 1894, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 6, secs. 6-13), shall be required on such bond of indemnity: And provided further, That a bond of indemnity shall not be required in any of the following classes of cases, except as hereinafter provided:

(1) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner and while the security was in the custody or the control of the United States (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the United States, or while it was in the course of shipment effected pursuant to and in accordance with the regulations issued under the provisions of this act:

(2) If substantially the entire security is presented and surrendered by the owner and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied as to the identity of the security presented and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

(3) If the lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated, or defaced security is one which by the provisions of law or by the terms of its issue is transferable only by operation of law;

(4) If the owner is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve bank:

Provided, however, That in any of the foregoing classes of cases the Secretary of the Treasury may require a bond of indemnity if he deems it essential to the public interest.

(c) The term "interest-bearing security of the United States" or "security," wherever used in this section, means any direct obligation of the United States issued pursuant to law for valuable consideration and which by its terms bears interest, or is issued on a discount basis, and includes (but is not limited to) bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills, and interim certificates issued for any such security.

(d) The Secretary of the Treasury shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the administration of this section.

(e) Sections 3702, as amended, 3703, 3704, and 3705 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (U. S. C., title 31, secs. 735, 736, 737, and 738) are hereby repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 3646 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 31, sec. 528), as amended, is further amended to read as follows:

"(a) Except as hereinafter provided, whenever it is clearly proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury that any original check of the United States is lost, stolen, or wholly or partly destroyed, or is so mutilated or defaced as to impair its value to its owner or holder, persons authorized to issue such checks on behalf of the United States are authorized, before the close of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the original check was issued, to issue to the owner or holder thereof a substitute, marked 'duplicate' and showing the number, date, and payee of the original check, upon the receipt and approval by the Secretary of the Treasury of a bond, to indemnify the United States, in such form and amount and with such surety, sureties, or security as the Secretary of the Treasury shall require; but no such substitute shall be payable if the original check shall first have been paid: Provided, however, That the authority herein conferred to issue substitute checks may, in the case of checks issued on account of public debt obligations and transactions regarding the administration of banking and currency laws, be issued without limitation of time.

"(b) A bond of indemnity shall not be required under subsection (a) of this section in any of the following classes of cases except as hereinafter provided: (1) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner or holder and while the check was in the custody or control of the United States (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the United States, or while it was in the course of shipment effected pursuant to and in accordance with the regulations issued under the provisions of the Government Losses in Shipment Act; (2) if substantially the entire check is presented and surrendered by the owner or holder and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied as to the identity of the check presented and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the United States; (3) if the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the original check is not negotiable and cannot be made the basis of a valid claim against the United States; (4) if the amount of the check is less than $50 and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner or holder; (5) if the owner or holder is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve bank: Provided, however, That in any of the foregoing classes of cases the Secretary of the Treasury may require a bond of indemnity if he deems it essential to the public interest.

"(c) The Secretary of the Treasury shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the administration of the provisions of this section.

"(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, whenever any original check of the Post Office Department has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Postmaster General may authorize the issuance of a substitute, marked 'duplicate' and showing the number, date, and payee of the original check, before the close of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the original check was issued, upon the execution by the owner thereof of such bond of indemnity as the Postmaster General may prescribe: Provided, That when such original check does not exceed in amount the sum of $50 and the payee or owner is, at the date of the application, an officer or employee in the service of the Post Office Department, whether by contract, designation, or appointment, the Postmaster General may, in lieu of an indemnity bond, authorize the issuance of a substitute check or warrant upon such an affidavit as he may prescribe, to be made before any postmaster by the payee or owner of an original check.

"(e) Substitutes, marked as hereinabove provided, drawn on the Treasurer of the United States, shall, after the lapse of the period fixed by section 21 of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act, 1934 (48 Stat. 1235; U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 31, sec. 725 (t)), for the payment of the original checks, be payable only as the original checks would be payable thereunder.

"(f) The term 'original check' wherever used in this section means any check, warrant, or other order for the payment of money, payable upon demand and not bearing interest, drawn by a duly authorized officer or agent of the United States on its behalf against an account or funds of the United States, whether upon a bank or upon the Treasurer or other paying officer of the United States, but does not include money, coins, or currency of the United States nor instruments issued by any corporation or other entity owned or controlled by the United States, whether in whole or in part, against such corporation's or entity's own funds; as used in subsection (d) of this section it means such an instrument drawn by a duly authorized officer or employee of the Post Office Department."

SEC. 10. This act may be cited as the "Government Losses in Shipment Act."

SEC. 11. This act shall become effective on July 1, 1937.

Regulations, July 16, 1937, governing the shipment of valuables pursuant to the Government Losses in Shipment Act

[Treasury Department Circular No. 576. Post Office Department Circular No. Reg. 1]

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL,
Washington, July 16, 1937.

To the Heads of the Executive Departments, Independent Establishments, Agencies, Wholly Owned Corporations, Officers and Employees of the United States:

The following provisional regulations are prescribed pursuant to section 1 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, Public No. 192, Seventy-fifth Congress, first session, relative to shipments of valuables made pursuant to that act:

1. All terms used in these regulations have the same meaning as when used in said act. Section 7 of said act defines in part the term "valuables" as "any article or thing * * * which is of or is similar to a class or kind of article or thing or representative of value which it has been the practice heretofore of the United States to insure, as the insured party * * *," and the term "shipment" as "the transportation or the effecting of transportation of valuables without limitation as to the means or facilities used * * *."

2. After the effective date and hour of these regulations, as hereinafter provided, shipments of valuables shall be made (1) in the same manner and at such time as those of the same class or kind were made, when insured, immediately preceding the effective date of these regulations, or (2) in such other manner and at such other time consonant with the greatest possible protection against risk of loss and destruction of and damage to such valuables as the respective heads of the various executive departments, independent establishments, agencies and wholly owned corporations of the United States may from time to time direct, after notice to the Secretary of the Treasury.

3. These regulations shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., August 15, 1937, eastern standard time, and as to all shipments as above defined which have not left the office of the sender prior thereto.

4. The Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General, with the approval of the President may, at any time, or from time to time, revoke or amend these regulations or prescribe and issue supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations pursuant to section 1 of the said Government Losses in Shipment Act.

Exhibit 53

Regulations, August 13, 1937, governing claims for replacement of valuables, or the value thereof, shipped pursuant to the Government Losses in Shipment Act

[Department Circular No. 577. Accounts and Deposits]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, August 13, 1937.

To the Heads of the Executive Departments, Independent Establishments, Agencies, Wholly Owned Corporations, Officers and Employees of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks when acting on behalf of the United States or Agencies thereof, and Others Concerned:

The following regulations are prescribed pursuant to section 6 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act, Public No. 192, Seventy-fifth Congress, first session, approved July 8, 1937, hereinafter referred to as the "act." All terms used in these regulations shall have the same meaning as when used in said act, unless otherwise indicated.

1. General instructions.—To facilitate the reporting of loss or destruction of, or damage to valuables and submission of proofs of claim for relief, under the provisions of section 3 of the act, in the event of loss or destruction of, or damage to valuables shipped pursuant to the regulations prescribed under section 1 of said act, executive departments, independent establishments, agencies, wholly owned corporations, officers, employees, Federal Reserve banks when acting on behalf of the United States or agencies thereof, and others concerned, hereinafter sometimes referred to as "consignors," should observe strictly the following instructions. Failure on the part of any consignor or agent or employee thereof to comply with these instructions may retard recoveries and may under the circumstances preclude reimbursement from the fund or other relief under the act, and render the consignor responsible for any loss occurring through such negligence.

2. Method of shipment.—All shipments shall be made in accordance with the terms of Treasury Department Circular No. 576—Post Office Department Circular No. Reg. 1, dated July 16, 1937, and such amendments and supplements thereto as may, from time to time, be promulgated.

3. Preparation of shipment.—Each shipment must be inspected and verified by two responsible employees before final preparation for delivery to the carrier (to wit, before sealing, locking, etc.) and must be finally prepared for such delivery in their presence and before leaving their immediate control. In the case of any class of shipments with respect to which it is not possible or practicable to comply strictly with the foregoing requirement, it shall be the duty of administrative officers to make adequate provision, through the establishment of accounting controls, or otherwise, for the maintenance of basic records from which they will be in a position to prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury the exact extent of loss, destruction, or damage, in the event that claim for replacement out of the fund, or otherwise, shall be made. The foregoing requirements will apply irrespective of the carrier or method of transportation employed in making shipments.

4. Record of shipment.—A permanent record of each shipment must be maintained by the consignor which record must include: (1) The name and address of the consignee; (2) a complete description of the contents (if the shipment comprises securities, the record must be maintained by issue, series, denomination, and serial number, and a description of the coupons, if any, attached to such securities at the time of shipment); (3) face or par value of shipment in the case of securities, currency, etc., or replacement value in the case of other valuables; (4) the registry number or the lock and rotary numbers, if any, under which shipped; (5) the number of the registry receipt or other receipt of carrier; (6) the date and hour of delivery to the carrier; (7) a record of the signatures of the employees who verified the contents of the package and witnessed sealing; (8) a record of the signatures of the employee or employees who thereafter had custody thereof, until delivered at the post office for registration or deposited with the post office or other carrier for shipment; and (9) the name of the carrier. In addition the consignor must preserve for a reasonable time all registry receipts or other carriers' receipts, and such other documents as may be incidental to the shipments.

5. Advice of shipment.—In the event the value of any one shipment to one consignee at one time, by one consignor, except in the case of an intracity shipment, equals or exceeds $10,000, immediate notice thereof must be forwarded by the consignor to the consignee by separate mail. There should be included in such notice: (1) A complete record of the contents of the shipment; (2) the method of transportation employed and the name of the carrier; (3) the date of delivery to such carrier. The consignee should be requested to arrange: (1) That the shipment, when received, be opened and inspected by one or more responsible employees of the consignee; (2) that immediate advice of any difference between the amounts or quantity indicated in such notice and in the shipment when opened be forwarded to the consignor; (3) that the consignor and the post office, or office of other carrier through which delivery would be made, be notified immediately in the event of the failure of the shipment to arrive in due course; (4) that consignor be advised immediately concerning any damage to the shipment; and (5) that all findings of the consignee in such cases be made a matter of record which may be subject to the call or inspection of the Secretary of the Treasury or other duly authorized Government officer in connection with any investigation which may be necessary in connection therewith.

6. Report of shipment.—As promptly as possible after the close of each month, detailed reports of shipments made during the preceding month must be forwarded by the consignors to the Secretary of the Treasury, for attention of the Division of Deposits, substantially in the form attached hereto, marked as exhibits Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

7. Report of loss, destruction, or damage.—As soon as it shall come to the attention of the consignor that loss or destruction of, or damage to valuables shipped in accordance with the act has occurred, an immediate report thereof shall be forwarded in writing by the consignor to the Secretary of the Treasury, for attention of the Division of Deposits. If the loss, destruction, or damage represents a value equal to or in excess of $10,000, or if delay is likely to retard the Government in its effort to recover such valuables, such report should be transmitted by wire and promptly confirmed in writing.

Such report should indicate: (1) Date of shipment; (2) the amount and character of the valuables lost, destroyed, or damaged; (3) the name and address of consignee; (4) the method of transportation, name of carrier and location of office of carrier from which shipment was made; (5) the registry receipt or other receipt number; and (6) a statement of the cause of the loss, destruction, or damage, if known.

An immediate report of the loss, destruction, or damage should also be made by the consignor to the agent in charge of the nearest United States Secret Service office and to the local post office or local office of other carrier. Government officers reporting losses to such agencies will be expected to cooperate therewith to the fullest extent in facilitating investigations and recovery.

As expeditiously as possible and without further instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, the consignor should proceed to place a tracer on the shipment and to take such other action as may be deemed necessary or advisable to facilitate recovery.

8. Claim for replacement.—Claim for replacement shall be made in writing to the Secretary of the Treasury and shall be supported by proof of claim pursuant to paragraph 9 hereof. Such claim accompanied by a recommendation with respect to the manner of replacement thereof shall be submitted through the head of the executive department, independent establishment, agency, or wholly owned corporation concerned, or, in the case of officers or employees under the Treasury Department, through their respective administrative heads. The manner of replacement shall be subject to the determination of the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the act.

9. Proof of claim.—The Secretary of the Treasury may require proof of claim in such form and in such manner as may from time to time be deemed necessary.

In general, the requirements of the Secretary of the Treasury will be as follows:

(1) Satisfactory proof of shipment as claimed, which should be supported by the original "Record of shipment" required to be maintained pursuant to paragraph 4 hereof. The original record will be returned after adjustment of the claim.

(2) Satisfactory proof of loss, destruction, or damage. The consignor will be required to submit a statement concerning the loss or destruction of, or damage to shipment or any part thereof; and, if received by the consignee with contents not intact, all the circumstances must be set forth with respect to the condition in which such shipment was received and the manner of the inspection and verification of its contents. Whenever possible to do so, affidavits covering the loss, destruction, or damage should be obtained from the consignee and the carrier. Such proof of claim must be accompanied by the recommendation of the head of the executive department, independent establishment, agency, or wholly owned corporation concerned, or in the case of officers or employees under the Treasury Department of their respective administrative heads.

(3) Statement and recommendation of investigating officer or officers.

10. Recoveries.—In the event of loss or destruction of, or damage to valuables, for which relief shall have been granted, under section 3 of the act, the consignors are required to take such steps as are necessary and reasonable for the defense, safeguard, or recovery of the valuables or the value thereof, as the case may be, and the Secretary of the Treasury will take such further steps to that end as he may deem necessary in the particular circumstances.

All recoveries and repayments on account of loss, destruction, or damage to valuables of which replacement shall have been made out of the fund shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury and shall be credited to the fund.

The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, with the approval of the President, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing claims for replacement of valuables shipped pursuant to the Government Losses in Shipment Act.

Washington, D. C., October 16, 1937.

The following regulations and instructions governing the issue of duplicates of checks drawn by officers or agents of the United States are hereby established pursuant to section 3646 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as amended by the act approved July 8, 1937, known as the Government Losses in Shipment Act, and section 3647 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended. The requirements contained herein must be strictly observed except as the Secretary of the Treasury, being satisfied that observance thereof is not necessary to carry out the purposes of the law and these regulations, may waive or modify any such requirement.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

1. Advice of nonreceipt or loss.—In the event of the nonreceipt or loss of a check issued by an officer or agent of the United States, the owner, better to protect his interest, should immediately notify the Treasurer of the United States or other drawee, describing the check, stating the name of the officer or agent of the United States by whom the check was drawn, giving, if possible, its date, number, and amount, and requesting that payment be stopped.

<sup>1</sup> The word "duplicate" as used herein means a "substitute, marked 'duplicate'" as provided in sec. 9 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act (Public No. 192, 75th Cong., approved July 8, 1937).

Upon receipt of such request, if the check is found to be outstanding, a form of affidavit, and in appropriate cases a bond of indemnity (Form No. 2244 or 2244a), will be prepared in the Treasurer's office and transmitted for execution by the claimant. The bond and affidavit, when duly executed according to instructions, must be transmitted to the officer or agent who issued the original check.

2. Affidavit of nonreceipt or loss.—An affidavit in substantially the form prescribed, Form 2244, 2244a, 2244b, or 2244c, as the case may be, must be executed by the claimant and submitted to the officer or agent who drew the original check, with a bond of indemnity or application (Form 2244b or 2244c), giving the claimant's name and residence in full, describing the check, and all endorsements thereon, showing the claimant's interest therein and detailing the circumstances attending its nonreceipt or loss. The affidavit must be made and signed before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths for general purposes, who must certify that he administered the oath. If executed in a foreign country, the affidavit must be made before a notary public or before a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States.

If a corporation or association, etc., is the claimant, an officer thereof must make and sign the affidavit individually, but on behalf of the corporation or association.

If a partnership is the claimant or if the check is owned jointly by two or more persons, all partners or joint owners must execute the affidavit.

3. Issue of duplicate.—After the expiration of thirty days from the date of the original check, and before the close of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which it was issued, the officer or agent will prepare a duplicate, which must be an exact transcript of the original, special care being taken that the number, date, and name of the payee correspond to those of the original. In the case of checks issued on account of public debt obligations and transactions regarding the administration of banking and currency laws, duplicates may be issued without limitation of time. The officer or agent will then, without delay, forward the bond (Form 2244 or 2244a) or application (Form 2244b or 2244c) and the duplicate check to the Secretary of the Treasury (Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants). The bond or application and the information obtained shall be examined by the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants and, if satisfactory, shall be approved and the duplicate check certified, by direction of the Secretary, by the Chief or the Assistant Chief, Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants. In the event the claimant is someone other than the payee of the original check, he should present clear and satisfactory evidence of his ownership to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants. Upon a finding by the Chief or the Assistant Chief of the Division that the claimant is the lawful owner of the original check, a duplicate may be issued to the claimant, payable to such claimant through an endorsement on behalf of the Secretary to that effect.

Certification of approval shall be made in writing on the application or bond as well as on the duplicate check. Any duplicate issued in pursuance of these regulations and instructions, and certified as provided above, may, if properly endorsed, be paid subject to the same rules and regulations as apply to payment of original checks; but no duplicate shall be paid if the original has already been paid.

No bond of indemnity shall be required in any of the following classes of cases except as hereinafter provided:

(a) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner or holder and while the check was in the custody or control of the United States (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the United States; or while it was in the course of shipment effected pursuant to and in accordance with the regulations issued under the provisions of the Government Losses in Shipment Act;

(b) If substantially the entire check is presented and surrendered by the owner or holder and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied as to the identity of the check presented and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

(c) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the original check is not negotiable and cannot be made the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

(d) If the amount of the check is less than $50, and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner or holder;

(e) If the owner or holder is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve bank;

Provided, however, That in any of the foregoing classes of cases the Secretary of the Treasury may require a bond of indemnity if he deems it essential to the public interest.

Where the amount of the check is not more than $20, and the original check has not been received by the payee, it will ordinarily be presumed that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner. In cases falling within the provisions of subsections (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section, application for the issuance of a duplicate check without a bond of indemnity shall be made on Form 2244b or 2244c. Additional affidavits and evidence may be required.

4. In case the officer or agent of the United States is dead or no longer in the service of the United States.—In case of the loss of a check issued by an officer or agent, other than the Treasurer of the United States or the Secretary of the Treasury, who is dead or no longer in the service of the United States, the affidavit and bond required to be furnished by the owner of said check to an officer or agent in the service of the United States, prior to the issue of a duplicate check, should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury, who will refer them to the General Accounting Office for examination and the statement of an account in favor of the owner of said check, as provided in section 3647 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended, and section 307 of the act of June 10, 1921. Payment will then be made by a check issued pursuant to such statement of account.

5. Recovery of original.—In the event of the recovery of the original check, after the issuance of the duplicate, it must be surrendered to the Secretary of the Treasury for cancellation. If the check has been recovered before the issuance of a duplicate, the Treasurer of the United States or other drawee should be immediately notified and removal of the stoppage requested.

6. Errors, erasures, etc.—Care should be exercised in the execution of the bond to avoid erasures and corrections. If, however, a correction should be necessary, and it is impracticable to obtain another form, a separate notation should be made on the margin of the bond, setting forth the change or correction, which statement should be signed by principal and sureties. For example: "The change in the date, line 13, to August 18, 1937, (or recite other change) was made with full knowledge and consent of the undersigned _____ (Principal) _____ (Surety) _____ (Surety)."

There shall be no deviation from the printed bond form, except as may be authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury.

7. Penalty.—The penalty of the bond should be in multiples of five dollars, and shall be at least equal to the amount of the check, plus 10 percent, but in no case shall the bond be in an amount less than $10.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXECUTING BOND OF INDEMNITY

8. Names and residence.—The name, including first name, middle initial, if any, and last name of the principal and each surety, together with their addresses, by street, number, city, and State, must be given in the first paragraph of bond. The names and addresses should be printed or typewritten, or otherwise clearly written.

9. Signature and seal.—The principal and each surety must sign the bond at the foot thereof, by first name, middle initial, if any, and last name, to correspond with his name as shown in the first paragraph of bond. A corporate principal or surety must affix its corporate seal.

10. Witnesses.—The signature of a witness must appear in the appropriate place, with his full address, with a showing as to whose signature he has witnessed. Signatures of corporations may be attested. If the signature of a witness is illegible the name should be indicated by printing or typewriting.

11. Corporation as principal.—If the principal is a corporation, the first and second lines of bond must be filled in thus: "(Name of corporation) _____, by _____ (an officer duly authorized)." The bond must be signed: "(Name of corporation) _____, by _____ (name and title of authorized officer)." Seal of the corporation must be affixed to its signature. If the corporation has no impression seal, the fact shall be stated, in which case a scroll or adhesive seal shall appear following the corporate signature.

The official character and authority of the person or persons executing the bond in the name of the principal shall be certified by the Secretary or other officer (who shall be an officer other than the officer executing the bond) on the form at bottom of bond. In lieu of such certificate there may be attached to the bond copies of so much of the records of the principal as will show the official character and authority of the officer signing, duly certified as correct under the corporate seal by the Secretary or other authorized officer as aforesaid. If the corporation has no seal, such records of authority must be sworn to by the certifying officer before a person authorized to administer oaths for general purposes, and such person must affix his seal.

12. Unincorporated companies, societies, lodges, etc., as principal.—The instructions pertaining to corporations govern. See paragraph No. 11 of the regulations and instructions.

13. Partnerships.—If the principals are partners, their individual names shall appear on lines one and two of bond, followed by the recital that they are all the partners composing a firm, naming it, and all the members of the firm shall sign the bond as individuals. All members of the firm must execute the affidavit.

14. Assumed business title.—If the principal is doing business under an assumed business title, his individual name shall appear on line one of the bond, followed by the recital that he is the sole owner of the firm, naming it, and he shall sign the bond as an individual. He must also execute the affidavit as an individual, showing that he is the sole owner of the firm.

15. Joint ownership.—If the check is owned jointly by two or more persons, all such joint owners must execute the bond as principal and execute the affidavit.

16. Sureties.—The surety on the bond may be a corporation authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury, or two responsible individuals, unless the amount of the original check is less than $50, in which case one responsible surety may be accepted. The sureties, if individuals, must be citizens and residents of the United States, except that sureties on bonds executed in the Canal Zone, the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, or any possession of the United States need not be citizens of the United States, but if not citizens of the United States they shall be domiciled in the place where the principal resides.

When the principal resides in a foreign country and it is impracticable to obtain citizens and residents of the United States as sureties, or a duly qualified corporate surety, other sureties may be accepted, provided their sufficiency as such is certified by a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States.

A firm, as such, will not be accepted as surety, nor a partner for co-partners.

When approved corporate surety or responsible individual sureties cannot be obtained, the Secretary of the Treasury will give consideration to the acceptance of other security.

17. Sufficiency of sureties.—The sufficiency of individual sureties must be certified by one of the following-named officers: An executive officer of an incorporated bank or trust company, or manager of a branch thereof, over his official designation and seal of the bank or trust company; postmaster; judge or clerk of court; collector or deputy collector of internal revenue; collector or deputy collector of customs; United States commissioner; United States district attorney; assistant United States district attorney; United States marshal; notary public; justice of the peace; a commissioned officer of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, or Coast Guard for sureties in the military, naval, or coast guard service, respectively; an Army reserve officer in command at Civilian Conservation camps for sureties in the Civilian Conservation Corps; or a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States in case of sureties resident in foreign countries. This certificate must be made by a disinterested person.

Affidavits as to the financial qualifications of individual sureties may be required when deemed advisable.

18. This circular supersedes Treasury Department Circular No. 327, dated October 15, 1924, and subsequent amendments thereto, and all previous regulations governing the issuance of duplicate checks of disbursing officers; also Department Circular No. 54 (Treasurer, U. S.), Revised, dated June 28, 1932, governing the issuance of duplicate Treasurer's checks and interest checks. The Secretary of the Treasury may withdraw or amend at any time or from time to time any or all of the foregoing rules and regulations.

WAYNE C. TAYLOR,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURE

Exhibit 56

Department Circular No. 187<sup>1</sup>, Second Revision, March 24, 1938, prescribing time and leave regulations for the departmental service

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, March 24, 1938.

ANNUAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Executive Order No. 7845, dated March 21, 1938, "Prescribing Regulations Relating to Annual Leave of Government Employees," is hereby promulgated for the information of all concerned:

"By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of March 14, 1936, entitled 'An act to provide for vacations to Government employees and for other purposes' (49 Stat. 1161), I hereby prescribe the following regulations governing the granting of annual leave to civilian officers and employees of the United States, the District of Columbia, and all corporations included within the provisions of section 6 of the said act, except as provided in part III hereof:

"Part I. Definitions

"SEC. 1. As used in these regulations:

"(a) 'Employee' and 'employees' include officer and officers, respectively.

"(b) 'Permanent employees' are those appointed without limitation as to length of service or for definite periods in excess of 6 months.

"(c) 'Temporary employees' are those appointed for definite periods of time not exceeding 6 months.

"(d) 'Emergency employees' are those whose compensation is paid from emergency funds and whose tenure of appointment is limited to the period for which the emergency funds are available.

"(e) 'Indefinite employees' are those appointed for the 'duration of the job' and those who, although paid only when actually employed, are continuously employed or required to be available for duty for a period of not less than 1 month, as distinguished from part-time or intermittent employees.

"(f) 'Accumulated leave' means the unused annual leave not exceeding 60 days which has accrued during years prior to the current year.

"(g) 'Current annual leave' means the leave authorized by statute for the current year.

"(h) 'Current accrued leave' means that part of the current annual leave which bears the same ratio to the current annual leave that the expired part of the current year bears to the full year.

"(i) 'Unaccrued leave' means that part of the current annual leave which bears the same ratio to the current annual leave as the unexpired part of the current year bears to the full year.

"Part II. General provisions

"SEC. 2. Permanent employees who have been employed continuously for 1 year or more and who do not contemplate leaving the service during the current calendar year shall be entitled to current annual leave with pay at any time during such calendar year not in excess of 26 days. In addition to current annual leave such employees may be granted accumulated leave not to exceed 60 days.

"SEC. 3. Leave shall be granted at such time or times as may be deemed to be in the public interest.

"SEC. 4. (a) Unaccrued leave shall be granted only with the express understanding that if such leave is not later earned during the calendar year, deductions will be made for the unearned portion from any salary due the employee, or from any deductions in the retirement fund to the credit of the employee.

"(b) In cases of separations where employees are indebted to the Government for advanced annual leave such indebtedness shall be charged against the employee on the basis of the salary rate obtaining during the period of advanced annual leave and on the basis of 1 day's pay for each day of absence, exclusive of Sundays and holidays. Absences for fractional parts of a day will be charged proportionately. This provision shall not apply in cases of death, retirement for age or disability, reduction of force, or when an employee who is not eligible for retirement is unable to return to duty because of disability, evidence of which shall be supported by an acceptable certificate from a registered practicing physician or other practitioner.

"SEC. 5. Employees, other than temporary, entering the service by original appointment or by reinstatement shall be entitled to annual leave with pay accruing at the rate of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days for each month of service rendered until the completion of 1 year's service. Emergency and indefinite employees shall be entitled to annual leave with pay accruing at the rate of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days per month for each month of service, and may in addition thereto be granted accumulated leave.

"SEC. 6.<sup>1</sup> An employee transferred or reappointed without break in service from one permanent position to another permanent position within the same or a different governmental agency shall at the time of the transfer be credited with such accumulated and current accrued leave as may be due him, or charged with any unaccrued leave which may have been advanced. 'Break in service' means separation from the service for a period of one or more work days.

"SEC. 7. An employee voluntarily separated from the service without prejudice during any calendar year shall be entitled to all of his accumulated leave plus his current accrued leave to and including the date of separation.

"SEC. 8. An employee who is involuntarily separated from the service other than for cause due to his own misconduct shall be entitled to all of his accumulated leave and current accrued leave, and the date of his discharge shall be fixed so as to permit him to take such leave. The date of discharge of an employee separated from the service for cause due to his own misconduct may, within the discretion of the administrative office concerned, be fixed so as to permit the allowance of all or any part of accumulated leave and current accrued leave.

"SEC. 9. Leave without pay shall not be granted until all accumulated leave and current accrued leave allowable under these regulations is exhausted, except that employees injured in line of duty may take leave without pay, if desired, covering their absence due to such injury instead of covering such time by annual leave; and during absence because of such injury and while being paid by the Employees' Compensation Commission, employees shall continue to earn leave, which shall, however, be granted only in the event of their return to actual duty.

"SEC. 10. Annual leave shall accrue to an employee while in a leave-with-pay status. Except as provided in section 9 hereof, annual leave shall not accrue to an employee while in a non-pay status due to leave without pay or furlough when the duration of such non-pay status in any calendar year aggregates 30 days or more: Provided, That when the duration of such non-pay status is in excess of 30 days in any calendar year, such excess shall affect the accrual of annual leave only when it aggregates 10 days, and likewise for each aggregate period of 10 days thereafter.

"SEC. 11. Except in the case of temporary employees, Sundays and holidays occurring within a period of annual leave shall not be charged as annual leave: Provided, That in the case of employees whose terms or conditions of employment require that they regularly work on a Sunday or a holiday and be off duty on another day of the week in lieu thereof, the Sunday or holiday occurring within a period of annual leave shall be charged as annual leave and the lieu day shall not be so charged. The word 'holidays' as used herein means all days declared or recognized by Federal statute as holidays, all days specifically declared holidays by Executive order, and all days on which the departments and establishments are closed by Executive order, but does not include non-work days established by administrative order, or days on which, by Executive order or administrative order, certain classes of employees are merely excused from work.

"SEC. 12. The minimum charge for annual leave shall be 15 minutes, and additional leave shall be charged in like multiples. Annual leave granted for less than 1 day shall be charged in the ratio that the amount of annual leave granted bears to the number of work hours of the regular work day prevailing in the agency concerned. For the purposes of this section, Saturdays and part holidays shall not be considered regular work days, except as may be required under section 11 hereof.

"SEC. 13. Annual leave shall not be granted with pay at the beginning of a calendar year immediately following a period of absence in a non-pay status in the preceding year unless and until there is a return to duty, at which time leave may be retroactively granted. Leave without pay under any other circumstances may not later be converted into annual leave.

"SEC. 14. Temporary employees shall be granted  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days leave for each full month of service, and Sundays and holidays occurring within a period of annual leave shall be charged as annual leave. After the first month of service such leave may be credited at the beginning of the month in which it accrues.

"SEC. 15. Temporary employees who subsequently receive permanent or probational appointments in the same department without break in service shall be entitled to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days annual leave for each full month of service to the date of permanent appointment and thereafter at the rate of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days per month.

"SEC. 16. Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to prevent the continuance of any leave differential existing prior to January 1, 1936, for the benefit of employees of the Federal Government stationed without the continental limits of the United States. However, any department may, if it so desires, apply these regulations to employees stationed without the continental limits of the United States, subject to the continuance of such leave differential.

"SEC. 17. The annual leave authorized by these regulations shall, except as to temporary employees, be recorded and administered on a calendar year basis.

"SEC. 18. The heads or governing bodies of the various governmental agencies to which this Executive order applies shall be responsible for the proper administration of these regulations in so far as they pertain to the granting of annual leave to employees under their respective jurisdictions; and they may, within the limits authorized by law, issue such regulations as are not inconsistent with these regulations.

"Part III. Employees excepted"

"SEC. 19. These regulations shall not apply to:

"(a) Teachers and librarians of the public schools of the District of Columbia.
 "(b) Officers and employees of the Panama Canal and Panama Railroad on the Isthmus of Panama.

"(c) Temporary employees engaged on construction work at hourly rates.

"(d) The Postmaster General and officers and employees in or under the Post Office Department, except those serving in the departmental service and in the Mail Equipment Shops.

"(e) Persons paid security or prevailing wages from funds allocated by the Works Progress Administration on State, municipal, or other public but non-Federal projects, or on a Federal project: Provided, That annual leave shall be granted in accordance with these regulations to employees in the central office of the Works Progress Administration in the District of Columbia and at district and local headquarters, and to other employees in administrative or clerical positions who receive other than security or prevailing wages, as prescribed in Executive orders.

"(f) Employees not required to be continuously employed during regular tour of duty, such as (1) per diem or per hour employees engaged in an emergency who may be employed for more than one 7- or 8-hour shift within 24 hours during the emergency; (2) part-time or intermittent employees; (3) persons engaged under contract; (4) employees engaged temporarily for less than a month on a piece-price basis; (5) employees who are paid at hourly rates but who are not engaged on construction work, such as mechanics, skilled laborers, and others engaged in various services on maintenance, repair, clean-up work, etc., where employment is more or less intermittent and not on a regular and continuous basis; and (6) employees paid on a fee basis, such as physicians, surgeons, and other consultants.

"Part IV. Ratification: Revocation: Effective date"

"SEC. 20. All temporary regulations issued by the heads of the various departments and independent establishments under authority of Executive Order No. 7321 of March 21, 1936, are hereby ratified. All such temporary regulations and all other regulations relating to the granting of annual leave are hereby revoked in so far as they are inconsistent with these regulations.

"SEC. 21. This order shall be effective as of January 1, 1938, and shall, as of that date, supersede Executive Order No. 7409 of July 9, 1936 (1 F. R. 766), prescribing regulations relating to annual leave of Government employees.

"SEC. 22. This order shall be published in the Federal Register.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

THE ABOVE EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 7845 WILL GOVERN THE GRANTING OF ANNUAL LEAVE TO EMPLOYEES OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Applications for leave for more than 2 days must be submitted in advance on the form prescribed therefor. Applications for 2 days or less need not be made on this form, but the absence must be noted on the Daily List of Absentees.

Employees will be charged with the number of days of leave granted on applications unless request is made in writing for cancellation or modification thereof.

Absence under all classes of leave will be reported annually at the close of each calendar year to the Office of the Secretary, Division of Appointments.

SICK LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Executive Order No. 7846, dated March 21, 1938, "Prescribing Regulations Relating to Sick Leave of Government Employees," is hereby promulgated for the information of all concerned:

"By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of March 14, 1936, entitled 'An act to standardize sick leave and extend it to all civilian employees' (49 Stat. 1162), I hereby prescribe the following regulations governing the granting of sick leave to civilian officers and employees of the United States, the District of Columbia, and all corporations included within the provision of section 6 of the said act, except as provided in part III hereof:

"Part I. Definitions

"SEC. 1. As used in these regulations 'employee' and 'employees' shall include:

"(a) Officer and officers, respectively.

"(b) Permanent employees—those appointed without limitation as to length of service or for definite periods in excess of 6 months.

"(c) Temporary employees—those appointed for definite periods of time not exceeding 6 months.

"(d) Emergency employees—those whose compensation is paid from emergency funds and whose tenure of appointment is limited to the period for which the emergency funds are available.

"(e) Indefinite employees—those appointed for the 'duration of the job' and those who, although paid only when actually employed, are continuously employed or required to be available for duty for a period of not less than 1 month, as distinguished from part-time or intermittent employees.

"Part II. General provisions

"SEC. 2. Sick leave with pay shall be granted to employees when they are incapacitated for the performance of their duties by sickness, injury, or pregnancy and confinement, or when some member of the immediate family of the employee is afflicted with a contagious disease and requires the care and attendance of the employee, or when, through exposure to contagious disease, the presence of the employee at his post of duty would jeopardize the health of others.

"SEC. 3. Except as provided in section 4 hereof, employees shall be entitled to sick leave at the rate of  $1\frac{1}{4}$  days a month, and if such leave is not used it shall accumulate: Provided, That the total accumulation shall not exceed 90 days. Sick leave accruing during any month of service shall be available at any time during the month.

"SEC. 4. In cases of serious disability or ailments, and when the exigencies of the situation so require, sick leave may be advanced not in excess of 30 days in addition to the unused sick leave that has accumulated to the credit of the employee: Provided, That temporary employees shall not be entitled to an advance of sick leave: And provided further, That no advances of sick leave shall be made to any employee unless the absence from duty on account of illness is for a period, or periods, of not less than 5 consecutive days, except that advanced leave in a less amount may be granted to supplement accrued leave to cover a continuous absence of 5 days or more; that every case of advanced leave shall be supported by a certificate of a registered practicing physician or other practitioner; that the total of such advances shall not at any time exceed 30 days in excess of the accumulated sick leave; and that such advances shall be charged against sick leave subsequently accumulating.

"SEC. 5. When an employee applies for sick leave in excess of the amount accumulated to his credit and the circumstances do not justify such an advance, the excess leave applied for, if granted and used, shall be charged against any unused annual leave to which the employee is entitled, or, if there is no unused annual leave, the excess shall be charged as leave without pay, and such excess leave, however charged, shall not thereafter be converted into either sick or annual leave subsequently accumulating.

"Sec. 6. Sick leave shall not be advanced in an amount that would exceed the total that would accumulate during the period from the date of the advance to the termination of a limited appointment (not temporary in character) or one expiring on a specified date.

"Sec. 7. Advanced sick leave may be granted irrespective of whether the employee has to his credit unused annual leave.

"Sec. 8. Sick leave shall not be granted for slight illness or indisposition not incapacitating the employee for the performance of his regular duties, or for absence for the purpose of being treated professionally by a dentist or oculist in his office; but sick leave may be granted for detention at home or in a hospital by illness or disability due to causes as to which a dentist or oculist is qualified to certify.

"Sec. 9.<sup>1</sup> An employee transferred or reappointed without break in service from one permanent position to another permanent position within the same or a different governmental agency shall be credited with accumulated sick leave and charged with sick leave previously advanced in excess of that accumulated at the time of transfer. 'Break in service' means separation from the service for a period of one or more work days.

"Sec. 10. Sick leave shall accrue to an employee while in a leave-with-pay status. Sick leave shall not accumulate to an employee while in a non-pay status due to leave without pay or furlough when the duration of such non-pay status in any calendar year aggregates 30 days or more: Provided, That when the duration of such non-pay status is in excess of 30 days in any calendar year, such excess shall affect the accumulation of sick leave only when it aggregates 10 days, and likewise for each aggregate period of 10 days thereafter. Sick leave shall not accrue during any period of suspension for disciplinary reasons.

"Sec. 11. In the case of voluntary separation or removal for cause of an employee to whom sick leave has been advanced in an amount in excess of that accumulated, the employee shall refund the amount paid him for the period of such excess, or deduction therefor shall be made from any salary due him or from any deductions in the retirement fund to his credit. Such indebtedness shall be charged against the employee on the basis of the salary rate obtaining during the period of advanced sick leave, and on the basis of 1 day's pay for each day of absence, inclusive of Sundays and holidays. Absences for fractional parts of a day will be charged proportionately. Refund shall not be required in cases of death, retirement for age or disability, reduction of force, or when an employee who is not eligible for retirement is unable to return to duty because of disability, which shall be evidenced by an acceptable certificate from a registered practicing physician or other practitioner.

"Sec. 12. Sundays, holidays, and non-work days within a period of sick leave shall be charged as sick leave, except when immediately preceding or following a period of sick leave, if the employee shall have been in a pay status immediately prior to or following such Sundays, holidays, or non-work days.

"Sec. 13. The minimum charge for absence on account of sickness, except on Saturdays or on other days on which 4 hours constitute a full work day, shall be one-half day; and additional fractions authorized on the same day shall be charged in multiples of one-half hour. On Saturdays, or other days on which 4 hours constitute a full work day, absences on account of illness shall be charged as follows: For 2 hours or less—one-half day; for more than 2 hours and not more than 3 hours—three-fourths of a day; for more than 3 hours—a full day.

"Sec. 14. Notification of absence on account of sickness shall be given as soon as possible on the first day of absence. If such notification is not made in accordance with this regulation, such absence may be charged to annual leave or leave without pay. Application for sick leave shall be filed within 2 days after return to duty.

"Sec. 15. Application for sick leave for a period in excess of 3 days shall be supported by a certificate of a registered practicing physician or other practitioner, except that in remote localities where such certificate cannot reasonably be obtained, the applicant's signed statement as to the nature of the illness and the reason why a certificate is not furnished, may be accepted. For periods of 3 days or less, the total of which shall not exceed 12 days in any 1 calendar year, the applicant's signed statement on a prescribed form may be accepted.

"SEC. 16. When sickness continuing for more than 5 days occurs within a period of annual leave, the period of illness may, upon presentation of the certificate of a registered practicing physician or other practitioner, be charged as sick leave, and the charge against annual leave reduced accordingly. No such charge against sick leave shall be made for illness which does not last more than 5 days. Application for such substitution of sick leave for annual leave shall be made within 2 days after the expiration of the annual-leave period: Provided, That this provision may be waived by the head of the department or agency concerned.

"SEC. 17. Sick leave may not be granted for a period immediately following a period of absence in a non-pay status, unless and until there is a return to actual duty, nor may such leave without pay be converted into sick leave.

"SEC. 18. Sick leave accumulated during temporary appointment shall be credited to an employee who receives a permanent appointment in the same governmental agency without break in service but shall not be transferable elsewhere under any circumstances.

"SEC. 19. In the case of an employee who was not entitled to sick leave under prior law, but who is now entitled thereto, sick leave as accumulated may be substituted for leave without pay or annual leave taken because of illness between January 1 and March 14, 1936.

"SEC. 20. Sick leave taken in excess of  $1\frac{1}{4}$  days a month during the period between January 1 and March 14, 1936, shall be charged against sick leave subsequently accumulating.

"SEC. 21. Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to prevent the continuance of any sick leave differential existing prior to January 1, 1936, for the benefit of employees of the Federal Government stationed without the continental limits of the United States. However, any department may, if it so desires, apply these regulations to employees stationed without the continental limits of the United States, subject to the continuance of such leave differential.

"SEC. 22. The heads or governing bodies of the various governmental agencies to which this order applies shall be responsible for the proper administration of these regulations in so far as they pertain to the granting of sick leave to employees under their respective jurisdictions; and they may, within the limits authorized by law, issue such regulations as are not inconsistent with these regulations.

"Part III. Employees excepted

"SEC. 23. These regulations shall not apply to:

"(a) Teachers and librarians of the public schools of the District of Columbia.

"(b) Officers and members of the police and fire departments of the District of Columbia, other than civilian personnel.

"(c) Officers and employees of the Panama Canal and Panama Railroad on the Isthmus of Panama.

"(d) Temporary employees engaged on construction work at hourly rates.

"(e) The Postmaster General and officers and employees in or under the Post Office Department except those serving in the departmental service and in the Mail Equipment Shops.

"(f) Persons paid security or prevailing wages from funds allotted by the Works Progress Administration on a State, municipal, or other public but non-Federal project or on a Federal project: Provided, That sick leave shall be granted in accordance with these regulations to employees in the central office of the Works Progress Administration in the District of Columbia and at district and local headquarters, and to other employees in administrative or clerical positions who receive other than security or prevailing wages as prescribed in Executive orders.

"(g) Employees not required to be continuously employed during regular tour of duty, such as (1) per diem or per hour employees engaged in an emergency who may be employed for more than one 7- or 8-hour shift within 24 hours during the emergency; (2) part-time or intermittent employees; (3) persons engaged under contract; (4) employees engaged temporarily for less than a month on a piece-price basis; (5) employees who are paid at hourly rates but who are not engaged on construction work, such as mechanics, skilled laborers, and others engaged in many services on maintenance, repair, clean-up work, and the like, where employment is more or less intermittent and not on a regular or continuous basis; and (6) employees paid on a fee basis, such as physicians, surgeons, and other consultants.

"Part IV. Ratification: Revocation: Effective date

"SEC. 24. All temporary regulations issued by the heads of the various departments and independent establishments under authority of Executive Order No. 7321 of March 21, 1936, are hereby ratified. All such temporary regulations and all other regulations relating to the granting of sick leave are hereby revoked in so far as they are inconsistent with these regulations.

"SEC. 25. This order shall be effective as of January 1, 1938, and shall, as of that date, supersede Executive Order No. 7410 of July 9, 1936 (1 F. R. 767 (DI)), prescribing regulations relating to sick leave of Government employees.

"SEC. 26. This order shall be published in the Federal Register.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

THE ABOVE EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 7846 WILL GOVERN THE GRANTING OF SICK LEAVE TO EMPLOYEES OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Referring to part II, section 1, of Executive Order No. 7846 above quoted, cases of personal illness or exposure to contagious diseases must be reported at once to the office to which the employee is attached, which office, in turn, should immediately report all cases of contagious diseases to the chief clerk of the Department, who will cause an investigation to be made. Proof of negligence or of willful misstatement in reporting such exposure to contagion will be sufficient cause for discipline.

The Department will hold employees strictly accountable for the truth of statements appearing in applications for sick leave, and will investigate circumstances coming to its attention which may appear to be inconsistent with such statements. Proof of any willful misstatement or of any attempt of an employee to mislead or deceive official superiors, directly or indirectly, in regard to an application for leave on account of sickness, will be sufficient cause for discipline.

The chief clerk of the Department will, upon request from an administrative officer, arrange for the detail of a proper officer to investigate and report facts in any case.

The administrative office shall forward all requests for advanced sick leave, accompanied by the employee's statement showing whether or not he was continuously confined to home or hospital and under the immediate care of a registered practicing physician or other practitioner, to the Secretary's Office (Division of Appointments) for approval.

All requests for accrued and advanced sick leave on account of enforced absence, due to contagion, must be supported by a certificate from the local health officer, except that, in a community where there is no health officer, a statement from the attending physician will suffice.

Referring to part II, section 14, of Executive Order No. 7845 above quoted, requiring the filing of application for sick leave within 2 days after return to duty, it is hereby directed, where an employee is unable to obtain a certificate from a registered practicing physician or other practitioner within the 2 days prescribed, that the application be filed by the employee without the certificate and the certificate be obtained and attached at a later date.

The following Executive order, issued by the President under date of July 17, 1930, is made a part of these regulations:

"SPECIAL LEAVES OF ABSENCE TO BE GIVEN DISABLED VETERANS IN NEED OF MEDICAL TREATMENT

"With respect to medical treatment of disabled veterans who are employed in the executive civil service of the United States, it is hereby ordered that, upon the presentation of an official statement from duly constituted medical authority that medical treatment is required, such annual or sick leave as may be permitted by law and such leave without pay as may be necessary shall be granted by the proper supervisory officer to a disabled veteran in order that the veteran may receive such treatment, all without penalty to his efficiency rating.

"The granting of such leave is contingent upon the veteran's giving prior notice of definite days and hours of absence required for medical treatment in order that arrangements may be made for carrying on the work during his absence."

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Applications for leave without pay for 1 day or more must be submitted on the form provided therefor and forwarded to the Secretary, Division of Appointments, together with the recommendation of the head of the bureau, office, or division, or chief of division, Secretary's Office, in which the applicant is employed. Applications for less than 1 day need not be submitted on this form but the absence must be noted on the Daily List of Absentees. In case an employee is absent beyond the period fixed in these regulations for sick and annual leave, with no probability of an immediate return to duty, the administrative officer having jurisdiction will report the case to the Secretary, Division of Appointments, giving a full statement of the facts, with such recommendation as may be deemed proper. Leave of absence without pay should be applied for in periods not exceeding 60 days at any one time, and such leave should be applied for in advance.

If leave without pay on account of sickness is applied for, a certificate of the attending physician should be attached, otherwise a statement to that effect will be accepted. If leave without pay is applied for, for any reasons other than given above, a statement must be attached, showing the necessity for such leave.

Employees on leave of absence without pay all day on Saturday will be charged a full day. Any absence on leave without pay before 1 o'clock on a Saturday will be computed on a 4-hour-day basis, each hour being counted one-fourth of a day. Where the employee reports for duty at the opening hour but leaves before the closing hour, he should be given no benefit of the shorter day, pay for the portion of the day worked to be computed on the basis of a regular working day. For example, where the employee is absent the last hour he will be paid for three-sevenths or three-eighths of a day, as the case may be, and will be charged and deductions made for four-sevenths or five-eighths of a day. (See Comp. Gen. Dec., vol. 11, p. 119.) When an employee is granted leave without pay for a Saturday or a day preceding a holiday and returns to duty at the opening hour on the following Monday or day following the holiday, he will be in a non-pay status for 1 day; but if he is absent without previously applying for the leave without pay, he will be in a non-pay status for 2 days.

MILITARY LEAVE

Applications for military leave of not to exceed 15 days for all military organizations (except the National Guard), in any 1 year must be made in advance and be subsequently supported by a certificate of a competent officer of the organization authorized by law to the effect that the time served was in accordance with general orders, and state the provision of law under which such time was served. Members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia may be granted military leave (1) on all days of service which they may be ordered to perform by the commanding general; and (2) on all days during which they shall be engaged in field or coast-defense training ordered or authorized under the provisions of the act of June 3, 1916.

COURT LEAVE

Employees who, in obedience to a subpoena or direction by proper authority, appear as witnesses for the Government in court proceedings, are entitled, under section 850, Revised Statutes, to their regular compensation while absent from duty and to any actual and necessary expenses, but are not entitled to any witness fees or mileage. Where an employee appears as a witness for a suitor other than the United States the provisions of section 850, Revised Statutes, are not applicable and the employee is not entitled to his regular compensation while absent from his place of duty unless entitled to and granted annual leave for that purpose. (See 4 Comp. Gen. 91.)

ABSENCE WITHOUT AUTHORIZED LEAVE

An employee detained by causes beyond control, and unable to report for duty at the opening hour, must notify the office in which employed to that effect not later than 11 a. m., if practicable, on the first day of absence. Absence from duty for any cause, without prior permission, must be satisfactorily explained, and if not satisfactorily explained, will be cause for deduction in salary or other disciplinary measures.

HOURS OF SERVICE

The act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1482), provides for Saturday half holiday for certain Government employees. The statute grants part of a holiday and not additional leave of absence. As to employees whose regular work day is 8 hours the statute grants a half holiday, and as to employees whose regular work day is 7 hours the statute grants a part holiday of 3 hours. Where employees for special public reasons are required to work more than 4 hours on any Saturday, the act provides for "an equal shortening of the work on some other day." In such case the employee's regular working time on some other day will be reduced, without loss of pay or leave time, by a period equal to the time such employee was required to work in excess of 4 hours on the Saturday, except that such reduced working time shall not be for a period greater than the difference between 4 hours and the number of hours that constitute his regular work day. The Saturday overtime must be taken by the shortening of some day at the earliest time the public business will permit. Saturday overtime may not be used for the purpose of accumulating annual leave.

ADMINISTRATION

Employees must be at their desks or posts of duty at the opening hour, and continue on duty until the closing hour. A recess of half an hour for luncheon will be allowed—from 12:30 to 1 p. m.—unless other hours have been authorized: Provided, however, That administrative officers may vary the luncheon period of certain employees where the public business requires it.

The beginning of the luncheon period and the close of the work day will, except in cases governed by special luncheon or closing hours, be indicated by signal. Until such signal is sounded, employees will remain at their desks or posts of duty. Congregating at the exits of the building or in the corridors prior to the sounding of the dismissal signal is strictly prohibited.

Clerks and employees will not be permitted to visit one another or to receive visits during office hours except on official business, and then only with the knowledge and concurrence of their immediate official superiors. Frequenting or loitering in the corridors of the building will not be permitted.

The practice of eating luncheon during the working period and in addition thereto taking a half hour for other purposes, the reading of newspapers or other unofficial matter, conducting private correspondence, attending to business matters purely personal, using official time for private conversation and the discussion of unofficial subjects, loud and unnecessary talking and boisterous conduct of any nature, and smoking in the file rooms of the Department are positively prohibited. Chiefs of divisions, sections, or rooms will be held strictly responsible for the enforcement of this regulation, and violations thereof will be reported to the chief clerk of the Department through the proper official channels.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE DURING OFFICE HOURS

Any employee leaving the building where employed during office hours must be provided with a pass on the prescribed form, completely filled out before being signed by the officer having authority to excuse. The pass will cover absence as indicated by the cross in the space provided therefor. It will be surrendered to the guard, who will note thereon the time of departure and retain it. When the employee returns, the time of entering the building will also be noted on the pass by the guard. This pass will not be required of employees leaving the building on official business who are provided with annual passes.

OFFICIAL PASSES

Annual passes may be issued by the chief clerk of the Department upon the recommendation of the administrative officers in charge, as follows:

(1) Unlimited passes to those employees who are required to enter and leave the Treasury Building or any of its annexes on public business at all hours on week days, as well as to enter and leave the Treasury Building on Sundays and holidays.

(2) Limited passes to those employees who are habitually required during office hours to enter or leave the Treasury Building or any of its annexes on public business.

(3) Luncheon passes to those employees who are habitually required to take their luncheon period at some time other than the regular luncheon half hour.

The limited and unlimited passes are to be used solely on account of official business and are not to be used in cases of late arrival of the holder in the morning or at the luncheon hour, nor when excused. Luncheon passes are to be used solely when leaving and reentering the building in connection with lunch. The passes should be countersigned by heads of bureaus, offices, divisions, or chiefs of divisions, Secretary's Office, who will be held to strict accountability for their proper use.

TARDINESS

An employee arriving after the opening hour and before the authorized luncheon period will be considered tardy unless when reporting he presents to the guard a written excuse (Form 2158) issued the day previous, signed by an authorized officer, or unless, where unavoidably detained by unforeseen circumstances, he advises his office of such fact and is excused. Tardy employees will register their names and the bureau, office, division, or division of Secretary's Office, in which employed, on the form provided by the guard, and then report the fact of their late arrival to the time clerks of their respective offices. The guard will in each case enter the time of arrival on the slip.

Heads of bureaus, offices, or divisions, and chiefs of divisions, Secretary's Office, will maintain daily tardy records in their offices and report monthly to the chief clerk of the Department the names of employees who have been tardy 10 times during the year. The chief clerk will see that these employees are officially reprimanded and warned to improve their records. All subsequent cases of tardiness in excess of 10 times during the year will also be made on the monthly report in order that disciplinary measures may be taken, the chief clerk to submit all such cases to the Secretary together with his recommendation as to appropriate action.

An employee leaving during the luncheon period and not returning until after 1 p. m., will fill out and sign the form provided by the guard, who will enter the time of return thereon, unless the employee has previously filed a pass authorizing absence from the building after 1 p. m., in which case the time of return will be entered thereon by the guard. Employees not regularly excused, who are late in reporting at the close of the luncheon period, must report that fact to their respective time clerks.

The forms above referred to which are collected by guards will be distributed to the several time clerks before 10 a. m., of the following day for check against the daily time reports of their respective bureaus, offices, and divisions.

So much of these regulations as relates to arrival and departure during office hours applies only to employees in buildings where guard forces are maintained. In buildings without guards, employees who are necessarily detained at the regular luncheon period will be excused for luncheon by the persons having authority to excuse.

Heads and deputy heads of bureaus, offices, and divisions, and chiefs and assistant chiefs of divisions in the Secretary's Office, are not required to observe the luncheon period, nor are they required to use passes when departing from or entering the building. The chief clerk of the Department will supply a list of the names of such officials for the information of the guards on duty at the several entrances.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

These regulations apply to all branches of the Treasury Department in Washington and to all employees thereof, except Presidential officers, and commissioned officers of the Coast Guard and Public Health Service.

Annual leave of absence or leave without pay for less than 1 day of employees who are required by departmental regulations to work 8 hours per day will be charged at the rate of one-eighth of a day for each hour of absence; of employees who are required to work 7 hours per day, at the rate of one-seventh of a day for each hour of absence. On Saturdays the computation will be on the basis of a 4-hour day.

Willful neglect on the part of any official or employee in charge of a daily time sheet or record to report the absence of any employee will be considered sufficient grounds for discipline.

Heads of bureaus, offices, or divisions, and chiefs of divisions, Secretary's Office, will be held to strict official responsibility for the enforcement of these regulations.

Department Circular No. 202,<sup>1</sup> Second Revision, March 25, 1938, prescribing time and leave regulations for the field forces

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, March 25, 1938.

To the Officers and Employees of the Treasury Department Field Forces:

ANNUAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Executive Order No. 7845, dated March 21, 1938, "Prescribing Regulations Relating to Annual Leave of Government Employees", is hereby promulgated for the information of all concerned:

[Executive Order No. 7845 omitted here, see p. 315.]

The local field officer directly responsible to the head of his service in Washington is authorized to grant annual leave, in accordance with these regulations.

Leave of absence for less than 1 day of employees who are required by law or regulations to work 7 or 8 hours per day will be computed on the basis of a 7- or 8-hour day, except Saturdays. Employees taking leave on Saturdays will be charged with the time actually taken, but not to exceed 4 hours.

Permanent employees stationed in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Alaska, the Virgin Islands, the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone, or abroad in countries not contiguous to the continental United States, will be allowed 30 days annual leave, exclusive of Sundays and holidays. Such employees who are in the service at the beginning of the year and who have served continuously 1 year or more in the Treasury Department and are not leaving the service, may be granted leave at any time during a calendar year not to exceed 30 days, plus such unused leave as may have been accumulated from previous years, such leave to be allowed at the discretion of the head of the local field office when the public business will permit. Probational employees in the places named, in the service on January 1, who have served less than 6 months, and those entering the service after January 1, may be granted leave at the rate of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  days per month, as earned, for each month of service to the end of the calendar year. The leave of employees in the places named who have been accustomed to living on the mainland of the United States may be cumulative for a period not exceeding 3 years, but in no case shall leave in excess of 90 days be granted in any 1 calendar year.

No leave will be charged against a permanent employee who is granted leave under the provisions of the above paragraph who is stationed in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Alaska, the Virgin Islands, the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone, or abroad in countries not contiguous to the continental United States, who has been accustomed to living on the mainland of the United States, for the time necessarily consumed in travel from the employee's station direct to the mainland of the United States and return to his station.

Applications for leave for more than 2 days must be submitted in advance on department stock Form 2217. Applications for 2 days or less need not be made on this form, but the absence must be noted on the Daily List of Absentees, department stock Form 2242.

Employees will be charged with the number of days of leave granted on applications, unless request is made in writing for cancellation or modification thereof.

These regulations apply to all branches of the field service of the Treasury Department and to all employees thereof except presidential appointees, commissioned officers and enlisted men of the Coast Guard, and commissioned officers of the Public Health Service.

While in most instances local field officers are given authority, under these regulations, to grant leave without referring the case to the Department, they will be held strictly responsible that such absence, so far as possible, shall be without additional expense to the Government. Whenever, in the discretion of the head of the service in Washington, it is necessary to assign a temporary employee to duty in order to grant sick and annual leave with pay to a permanent or probational employee, additional expense will be incurred with the understanding that not more than the amount of annual and sick leave authorized under these regulations shall be granted under this provision.

Willful neglect on the part of an official or employee in charge of a daily time sheet or record to report the absence of any employee will be considered sufficient grounds for discipline.

Absence under all classes of leave will be reported on the first working day of each month to the head of the service in Washington on department stock Form 2243, except that in the Customs Service such reports shall be rendered annually. A record of all classes of leave will be kept by each local field officer for this purpose on department stock Form 2152. The total leave granted in each calendar year should be noted on department stock Form 2240, which shall be the permanent record. Thereafter the yearly record on department stock Form 2152 may be disposed of.

Only such forms as are now provided by Department regulations, or that may hereafter be authorized by the Secretary, will be used for time and leave records. The present department stock forms which may be used are as follows: 2242, Daily List of Absentees, to be used in reporting absentees to the local field officer, noting thereon under remarks the character of leave or the cause of tardiness; 2217, Application for Leave, to be used in requesting leave of whatever character for 1 day or more; 2152, Record of Absence During the Year, to be used as the record of leave in the office of the local field officer for the year; 2240, Leave Record During Service, to be used for recording yearly leave record; 2243, Monthly Report of Absence, to be used for reporting monthly and annual leave of all employees to the Department; 2243-A (continuation sheet); 2243-B, half-length form for offices having less than 12 employees.

SICK LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Executive Order No. 7846, dated March 21, 1938, "Prescribing Regulations Relating to Sick Leave of Government Employees," is hereby promulgated for the information of all concerned:

[Executive Order No. 7846 omitted here, see p. 318.]

THE ABOVE EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 7846 WILL GOVERN THE GRANTING OF SICK LEAVE TO EMPLOYEES OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT IN THE FIELD

The local field officer directly responsible to the head of his service in Washington is authorized to grant sick leave, in accordance with these regulations.

Referring to part II, section 2, of Executive Order No. 7846, above quoted, cases of personal illness or exposure to contagious disease must be reported at once to the office to which the employee is attached, which office in turn should immediately report all cases of contagious disease to the officer in charge, who will cause an investigation to be made of the circumstances. In cases of exposure to contagious disease such officer and employee shall be guided by local health laws and regulations. Proof of negligence in reporting or willful misstatement in connection with exposure to contagion will be sufficient cause for discipline.

The officer in charge will detail an officer or employee to investigate and report the facts in any case of absence without permission or in questionable cases of illness.

Local field officers will hold employees strictly accountable for the truth of statements appearing in applications for sick leave, and will investigate circumstances coming to their attention which may appear to be inconsistent with such statements. Proof of any willful misstatement, or of any attempt of an employee to mislead or deceive official superiors, directly or indirectly, in regard to an application for leave on account of sickness, will be sufficient cause for discipline.

Requests for advanced sick leave must be accompanied by the employee's statement showing whether or not he was continuously confined to home or hospital and under the immediate care of a registered practicing physician or other practitioner.

Referring to part II, section 14, of Executive Order No. 7846, above quoted, requiring the filing of application for sick leave within 2 days after return to duty, it is hereby directed, where an employee is unable to obtain a certificate from a registered practicing physician or other practitioner within the 2 days prescribed, that the application be filed by the employee without the certificate and the certificate be obtained and attached at a later date.

SPECIAL LEAVES OF ABSENCE TO BE GIVEN DISABLED VETERANS IN NEED OF MEDICAL TREATMENT

The following Executive Order issued by the President under date of July 17, 1930, is made a part of these regulations:
[Executive order omitted here, see p. 321.]

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Applications for leave without pay for 1 day or more must be submitted on stock Form 2217 to the head of the service in Washington who is authorized to grant the same. Applications for less than 1 day need not be submitted on this form but the absence must be noted on the daily report, stock Form 2242, to the head field officer. In case an employee is absent beyond the period fixed in these regulations for sick and annual leave, with no probability of an immediate return to duty, the head field officer having jurisdiction will report the case to the head of the service in Washington, giving a full statement of the facts, with such recommendation as may be deemed proper. Leave of absence without pay should be applied for in periods not exceeding 60 days at any one time, and such leave should be applied for in advance.

If leave without pay on account of sickness is applied for, a certificate of the attending physician should be attached. If no physician was in attendance, the reason therefor must be given. If leave without pay is applied for, for any reason other than sickness, a statement must be attached, showing the necessity for such leave.

When an employee is granted leave without pay for a Saturday or a day preceding a holiday and returns to duty at the opening hour on the following Monday or day following the holiday, he will be in a non-pay status for 1 day; but if he is absent without previously applying for the leave without pay, he will be in a non-pay status for 2 days. Employees on leave of absence without pay all day on Saturday will be charged a full day. Leave without pay for fractions of a day on Saturday will be charged as follows: Where the employee reports for duty after the opening hour and remains until the closing hour, time will be charged and deductions made on the basis of a 4-hour day, each hour being counted one-fourth of a day. Where the employee reports for duty at the opening hour, but leaves before the closing hour, he should be given no benefit of the shorter day, pay for the portion of the day worked to be computed on the basis of a regular working day. That is, where the employee is absent the last hour he will be paid for three-sevenths or three-eighths of a day, as the case may be, and will be charged and deductions made for four-sevenths or five-eighths of a day (11 Comp. Gen. 119).

MILITARY LEAVE

Members of the National Guard may be granted military leave on all days in which they may be engaged in field or coast defense training, ordered or authorized under the act of June 3, 1916 (39 Stat. 203). Members of the Naval Reserve may be granted military leave on all days during which they are employed on training duty for periods not to exceed 15 days in any one calendar year (act of February 28, 1925, 43 Stat. 1089). Members of the Naval Militia may be granted military leave whenever they attend drills, cruises, or other ordered duty of the Naval Militia (act of August 29, 1916, 39 Stat. 594). Members of the Officers' Reserve Corps may be granted military leave on all days during which they shall be ordered to duty with troops or at field exercises, or for instruction, for periods not to exceed 15 days in any one calendar year (Army Appropriation Act of May 12, 1917, 40 Stat. 72). Members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia may be granted military leave whenever they may be called upon to perform service by the commanding general as authorized by section 49 of the act of March 1, 1889 (25 Stat. 779), as amended by the act of February 18, 1909 (35 Stat. 634). Applications for such leave, which shall be in addition to the annual leave, must be made in advance and be subsequently supported by the certificate of a competent officer of the organization of which the employee is a member. Temporary employees will not be granted military leave of absence.

COURT LEAVE

Employees who, in obedience to a subpoena or direction by proper authority, appear as witnesses for the Government in court proceedings, are entitled, under section 850, Revised Statutes, to their regular compensation while absent from duty and to any actual and necessary expenses, but are not entitled to any witness fees or mileage. Where an employee appears as a witness for a suitor other than the United States the provisions of section 850, Revised Statutes, are not applicable and the employee is not entitled to his regular compensation while absent from his place of duty unless entitled to and granted annual leave for that purpose (4 Comp. Gen. 91).

ABSENCE WITHOUT AUTHORIZED LEAVE

An employee detained by causes beyond control, and unable to report for duty at the prescribed hour of reporting, must notify the office in which employed to that effect within 2 hours, if practicable, of such prescribed hour, on the first day of absence. Absence from duty for any cause without prior permission must be satisfactorily explained, and if not satisfactorily explained will be cause for deduction in salary or other disciplinary measures.

HOURS OF SERVICE

The act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1482), provides for Saturday half holiday for certain Government employees. The statute grants part of a holiday and not additional leave of absence. As to employees whose regular work day is 8 hours, the statute grants a half holiday, and as to employees whose regular work day is 7 hours, the statute grants a part holiday of 3 hours. Where employees for special public reasons are required to work more than 4 hours on any Saturday, the act provides for "an equal shortening of the work on some other day." In such case the employee's regular working time on some other day will be reduced, without loss of pay or leave time, by a period equal to the time such employee was required to work in excess of 4 hours on the Saturday, except that such reduced working time shall not be for a period greater than the difference between 4 hours and the number of hours that constitute his regular work day. The Saturday overtime must be taken by the shortening of some day at the earliest time the public business will permit. Saturday overtime may not be used for the purpose of accumulating annual leave.

ADMINISTRATION

Employees must be at their desks or posts of duty at the opening hour, and continue on duty until the closing hour. A recess of half an hour for luncheon will be allowed—from 12:30 to 1 p. m.—unless other hours have been authorized: Provided, however, That local field officers may vary the luncheon period of certain employees where the public business requires it.

The time clerk shall report to the local field officer each day the names of all employees who were tardy that day, stating in each case the time of reporting for duty and the reason assigned for tardiness. An accurate check of an employee's tardiness should be kept and filed with that employee's record for consideration in connection with recommendation for promotion or demotion.

The practice of eating luncheon during the working period and in addition thereto taking a half hour for other purposes, the reading of newspapers or other unofficial matter, conducting private correspondence, attending to business matters purely personal, using official time for private conversation and the discussion of unofficial subjects, loud and unnecessary talking and boisterous conduct of any nature, are positively prohibited. Officers in charge will be held strictly responsible for the enforcement of this regulation.

Amendments, May 11, 1938, to Department Circular No. 187, Second Revision, and Department Circular No. 202, Second Revision

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, May 11, 1938.

Supplementing and modifying Department Circular No. 187, Second Revision, dated March 24, 1938; and Department Circular No. 202, Second Revision, dated March 25, 1938, the following Executive orders, dated May 9, 1938, are hereby promulgated for the information of all concerned:

EXECUTIVE ORDER (NO. 7879)

"Amending section 6 of Executive Order No. 7845 of March 21, 1938, prescribing regulations relating to annual leave of Government employees"

"By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of March 14, 1936, entitled 'An act to provide for vacations to Government employees and for other purposes' (49 Stat. 1161), it is ordered that section 6 of Executive Order No. 7845,<sup>1</sup> dated March 21, 1938, prescribing regulations relating to annual leave of Government employees, be, and it is hereby, amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 6. An employee transferred or reappointed without break in service from one permanent, emergency, or indefinite position to another permanent, emergency, or indefinite position within the same or a different governmental agency shall at the time of the transfer or reappointment be credited with such accumulated and current accrued leave as may be due him, or charged with any unaccrued leave which may have been advanced. "Break in service" means separation from the service for a period of 1 or more work days."

"This order shall be effective as of January 1, 1938, and shall be published in the Federal Register.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

EXECUTIVE ORDER (NO. 7880)

"Amending section 9 of Executive Order No. 7846 of March 21, 1938, prescribing regulations relating to sick leave of Government employees"

"By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of March 14, 1936, entitled 'An act to standardize sick leave and extend it to all civilian employees' (49 Stat. 1162), it is ordered that section 9 of Executive Order No. 7846,<sup>2</sup> dated March 21, 1938, prescribing regulations relating to sick leave of Government employees, be, and it is hereby, amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 9. An employee transferred or reappointed without break in service from one permanent, emergency, or indefinite position to another permanent, emergency, or indefinite position within the same or a different governmental agency shall be credited with accumulated sick leave and charged with sick leave previously advanced in excess of that accumulated at the time of transfer or reappointment. "Break in service" means separation from the service for a period of 1 or more work days."

"This order shall be effective as of January 1, 1938, and shall be published in the Federal Register.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Exhibit 59

Treasury Department Order No. 18, March 25, 1938, establishing in the Office of the Secretary a Division of Monetary Research and a Division of Tax Research

There are hereby established in the Office of the Secretary (a) a Division of Monetary Research and (b) a Division of Tax Research. There are also hereby created the positions, respectively, of Director of Monetary Research and of Director of Tax Research.

DIVISION OF MONETARY RESEARCH

The functions of the Division of Monetary Research will include the preparation of analyses and recommendations to aid the Secretary of the Treasury in the formulation and execution of the monetary policies of the Treasury Department in connection with the stabilization fund and other operations under the Gold Reserve and Silver Purchase Acts, and economic analyses relating to the customs activities of the Treasury Department and the Secretary's duties under the Tariff Act. This Division will function under the immediate supervision of the Director of Monetary Research, who will report to the Secretary through the Technical Assistant to the Secretary.

DIVISION OF TAX RESEARCH

The functions of the Division of Tax Research will include the preparation of the analyses of tax systems and tax structures, and recommendations thereon to aid the Secretary of the Treasury in the formulation and execution of taxation policies; the analysis of proposed revenue legislation; and cooperation with the Congressional Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. This Division will be responsible for the assembly and publication of all statistical information pertaining to Federal taxation, and in this connection will exercise general supervision over the work of the statistical section of the Income Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue. This Division will function under the immediate supervision of the Director of Tax Research, who will report to the Secretary through the Under Secretary.

MODIFICATION OF TREASURY DEPARTMENT ORDER NO. 8

Treasury Department Order No. 8, dated September 17, 1934, establishing the Division of Research and Statistics, is hereby modified by the transfer from that Division of the functions herein assigned, respectively, to the Division of Monetary Research and the Division of Tax Research.

Except with respect to the functions herein transferred, the Division of Research and Statistics will continue to perform the duties outlined in Treasury Department Order No. 8. All of the service units of that Division, including the graphic section, the statistical section, the stenographic section, and the library, will be utilized by the two new divisions herein established, and to the extent that consolidation is found practicable the administrative records pertaining to the personnel of the three divisions will continue to be maintained in the Division of Research and Statistics.

Funds available to the Division of Research and Statistics will be allotted to the two new divisions in amounts proportionate to the personnel and other expenses to be assumed by them.

This order is effective immediately with respect to the establishment of the Division of Monetary Research. The establishment of the Division of Tax Research will be effective as of June 1, 1938.

together with expenses incurred by Reconstruction Finance Corporation in connection with section 1 of the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932, as amended; and together with the interest paid to the Treasury thereon in the amount of $33,177,491.82: Provided, That any evidence of indebtedness with respect to funds disbursed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation under or by reason of the provisions of law referred to in subsection (a) hereof be transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided further, That with respect to funds heretofore or hereafter disbursed by Reconstruction Finance Corporation under or by reason of the provisions of law referred to in subsection (b) hereof, notes shall be canceled by the Secretary of the Treasury only upon the transfer and delivery by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the Secretary of the Treasury or to such officer, officers, agency, or agencies as the President shall designate, of all such capital stock as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation may hold pursuant to any provision of law referred to in said subsection (b): Provided further, That the Secretary of the Treasury and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation are authorized and directed to make adjustments on their books and records as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

SEC. 2. The amount of notes, debentures, bonds, or other such obligations which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized and empowered to have outstanding at any one time under the provisions of law referred to in subsections (a) and (b) of section 1 of this act is correspondingly reduced by the amount of the notes authorized to be canceled by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 1 of this act.

SEC. 3. Any sums at any time received by any agency of the United States, including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, representing repayments or recoveries of funds disbursed out of amounts allocated or made available pursuant to any of the provisions of law referred to in section 1 hereof, shall forthwith be covered into the General Fund of the Treasury, except that whenever, under applicable provisions of law or otherwise, such funds represent amounts which continue to be available or required to be expended for the purposes for which originally allocated or made available, such funds shall not be covered into the General Fund of the Treasury until the expiration of the period during which they are so available or required to be expended.

SEC. 4. Section 3 of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, approved January 22, 1932, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 15, sec. 601, and the following), is further amended by striking out the first two sentences of such section and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The management of the Corporation shall be vested in a board of directors consisting of five persons appointed by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Of the five members of the board not more than three shall be members of any one political party and not more than one shall be appointed from any one Federal Reserve district."

Exhibit 62

Customs Administrative Act of 1938, amending certain administrative provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, and for other purposes

[Public No. 721, 75th Cong., II. R. 8099]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this act may be cited as the "Customs Administrative Act of 1938."

SEC. 2. Sections 1, 201, 401 (k), 557, and 562 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, secs. 1001, 1201, 1401 (k), 1557, and 1562) and section 401 (a) of the Anti-Smuggling Act (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 19, sec. 1709 (a)) are hereby amended by inserting "Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef," before the words "and the island of Guam" and before the words "or the island of Guam" wherever such words appear in each such section.

SEC. 3. Section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1304) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 304. MARKING OF IMPORTED ARTICLES AND CONTAINERS.

"(a) Marking of articles.—Except as hereinafter provided, every article of foreign origin (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) imported into the United States shall be marked in a conspicuous place as legibly, indelibly, and permanently as the nature of the article (or container) will permit in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of the article. The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—

"(1) Determine the character of words and phrases or abbreviations thereof which shall be acceptable as indicating the country of origin and prescribe any reasonable method of marking, whether by printing, stenciling, stamping, branding, labeling, or by any other reasonable method, and a conspicuous place on the article (or container) where the marking shall appear;

"(2) Require the addition of any other words or symbols which may be appropriate to prevent deception or mistake as to the origin of the article or as to the origin of any other article with which such imported article is usually combined subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser; and

"(3) Authorize the exception of any article from the requirements of marking if—

"(A) Such article is incapable of being marked;

"(B) Such article cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States without injury;

"(C) Such article cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States, except at an expense economically prohibitive of its importation;

"(D) The marking of a container of such article will reasonably indicate the origin of such article;

"(E) Such article is a crude substance;

"(F) Such article is imported for use by the importer and not intended for sale in its imported or any other form;

"(G) Such article is to be processed in the United States by the importer or for his account otherwise than for the purpose of concealing the origin of such article and in such manner that any mark contemplated by this section would necessarily be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed;

"(H) An ultimate purchaser, by reason of the character of such article or by reason of the circumstances of its importation, must necessarily know the country of origin of such article even though it is not marked to indicate its origin;

"(I) Such article was produced more than twenty years prior to its importation into the United States; or

"(J) Such article is of a class or kind with respect to which the Secretary of the Treasury has given notice by publication in the weekly Treasury Decisions within two years after July 1, 1937, that articles of such class or kind were imported in substantial quantities during the five-year period immediately preceding January 1, 1937, and were not required during such period to be marked to indicate their origin: Provided, That this subdivision (J) shall not apply after September 1, 1938, to sawed lumber and timbers, telephone, trolley, electric-light, and telegraph poles of wood, and bundles of shingles; but the President is authorized to suspend the effectiveness of this proviso if he finds such action required to carry out any trade agreement entered into under the authority of the act of June 12, 1934 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, secs. 1351-1354), as extended.

"(b) Marking of containers.—Whenever an article is excepted under subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section from the requirements of marking, the immediate container, if any, of such article, or such other container or containers of such article as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be marked in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of such article, subject to all provisions of this section, including the same exceptions as are applicable to articles under subdivision (3) of subsection (a). If articles are excepted from marking requirements under clause (F), (G), or (H) of subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section, their usual containers shall not be subject to the marking requirements of this section. Usual containers in use as such at the time of importation shall in no case be required to be marked to show the country of their own origin.

"(c) Additional duties for failure to mark.—If at the time of importation any article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) is not marked in accordance with the requirements of this section, and if such article is not exported or destroyed or the article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) marked after importation in accordance with the requirements of this section (such exportation, destruction, or marking to be accomplished under customs supervision prior to the liquidation of the entry covering the article, and to be allowed whether or not the article has remained in continuous customs custody), there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon such article a duty of 10 per centum ad valorem, which shall be deemed to have accrued at the time of importation, shall not be construed to be penal, and shall not be remitted wholly or in part nor shall payment thereof be avoidable for any cause. Such duty shall be levied, collected, and paid in addition to any other duty imposed by law and whether or not the article is exempt from the payment of ordinary customs duties. The compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the exportation, destruction, or marking to exempt articles from the application of the duty provided for in this subsection shall be reimbursed to the Government by the importer.

"(d) Delivery withheld until marked.—No imported article held in customs custody for inspection, examination, or appraisement shall be delivered until such article and every other article of the importation (or their containers), whether or not released from customs custody, shall have been marked in accordance with the requirements of this section or until the amount of duty estimated to be payable under subsection (c) of this section has been deposited. Nothing in this section shall be construed as excepting any article (or its container) from the particular requirements of marking provided for in any other provision of law.

"(e) Penalties.—If any person shall, with intent to conceal the information given thereby or contained therein, deface, destroy, remove, alter, cover, obscure, or obliterate any mark required under the provisions of this act, he shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both."

SEC. 4. Subdivisions (1), (5), and (6) of section 308 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1308) are hereby amended to read as follows:

"(1) Articles to be repaired, altered, or otherwise changed in condition by processes which do not result in articles manufactured or produced in the United States;

"(5) Automobiles, motorcycles, bicycles, airplanes, airships, balloons, boats, racing shells, and similar vehicles and craft, and horses, and the usual equipment of the foregoing; all the foregoing which are brought temporarily into the United States by nonresidents (A) for the purpose of taking part in races or other specific contests, or (B) for the transportation of such nonresidents, their families and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be necessary and appropriate to the purposes of the journey, but not to be used for the transportation of persons or articles for hire nor in any case primarily for the carriage of articles (but nothing in this act shall be construed as altering the customary exceptions of vehicles and other instruments of international traffic from the application of the customs laws); and in the case of horses, vehicles, and craft entered under this subdivision collectors of customs may, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, defer the exaction of a bond for not to exceed ninety days (or six months in the case of such horses, vehicles, and craft from a country which accords a similar privilege to horses, vehicles, and craft from the United States) after the date of importation, but unless such horse, vehicle, or craft is exported or the bond is given within the period of such deferment, such horse, vehicle, or craft shall be subject to forfeiture;

"(6) Locomotives and other railroad equipment brought temporarily into the United States for use in clearing obstructions, fighting fires, or making emergency repairs on railroads within the United States, or for use in transportation otherwise than in international traffic when the Secretary of the Treasury finds that the temporary use of foreign railroad equipment is necessary to meet an emergency;" and the period at the end of subdivision (8) is changed to a semicolon and a new subdivision is added at the end of such section 308 to read as follows:

"(9) Professional equipment, tools of trade, and camping equipment imported for their own use by nonresidents sojourning temporarily in the United States, and articles of special design for temporary use exclusively in connection with the manufacture or production of articles for export."

SEC. 5. (a) Section 309 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1309) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 309. SUPPLIES FOR CERTAIN VESSELS AND AIRCRAFT.

"(a) Exemption from customs duties and internal revenue tax.—Articles of foreign or domestic manufacture or production may, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, be withdrawn from bonded warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, or continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse free of duty or internal revenue tax for supplies (not including equipment) of vessels of war, in ports of the United States, of any nation which may reciprocate such privilege toward the vessels of war of the United States in its ports, or for supplies (not including equipment) of vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions, or for supplies (not including equipment) of aircraft registered in the United States and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, or for supplies (including equipment), maintenance, or repair of aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign aircraft is permitted.

"(b) Drawback.—Articles withdrawn from bonded warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, or continuous customs custody elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse and articles of domestic manufacture or production, laden as supplies upon any such foreign vessel or any such vessel or aircraft of the United States or laden as supplies (including equipment) upon, or used in the maintenance or repair of, any such foreign aircraft, shall be considered to be exported within the meaning of the drawback provisions of this act.

"(c) Articles removed in, or returned to, the United States.—Any article exempted from duty or tax, or in respect of which drawback has been allowed, under this section or section 317 of this act and thereafter removed in the United States from any vessel or aircraft, or otherwise returned to the United States, shall be treated as an importation from a foreign country.

"(d) Reciprocal privileges.—The privileges granted by this section and section 317 of this act in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of Commerce shall advise the Secretary of the Treasury that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued, or will discontinue, the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted by this section and such section 317 shall not apply thereafter in respect of aircraft registered in that foreign country."

(b) Section 317 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1317, and title 26, sec. 897 (b)) is amended by changing the caption thereof to read "Tobacco products—supplies for aircraft."; by designating the present paragraph thereof as subsection (a); and by adding thereto a new subsection (b) to read as follows:

"(b) The shipment or delivery of any merchandise for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign aircraft is permitted, shall be deemed an exportation within the meaning of the customs and internal revenue laws applicable to the exportation of such merchandise without the payment of duty or internal revenue tax."

(c) This section shall take effect on the day following the enactment of this act.

SEC. 6. Section 315 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1315) is hereby amended by deleting the proviso thereof, changing the colon preceding such proviso to a period, and adding at the end of such section the following: "Insofar as duties are based upon the quantity of any merchandise, such duties shall, except as provided in paragraph 813 and section 562 of this act (relating respectively to certain beverages and to manipulating warehouses), be levied and collected upon the quantity of such merchandise at the time of its importation. No administrative ruling resulting in the imposition of a higher rate of duty or charge than the Secretary of the Treasury shall find to have been applicable to imported merchandise under an established and uniform practice shall be effective with respect to articles entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to the expiration of thirty days after the date of publication in the weekly Treasury Decisions of notice of such ruling; but this provision shall not apply with respect to the imposition of antidumping duties."

SEC. 7. The Tariff Act of 1930 is hereby amended by adding at the end of part I of title III thereof the following new section:

"SEC. 321. ADMINISTRATIVE EXEMPTIONS.

"Collectors of customs are hereby authorized, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, to disregard a difference of less than $1 between the total estimated duties or taxes deposited, or the total duties or taxes tentatively assessed, with respect to any entry of merchandise and the total amount of duties or taxes actually accruing thereon, and to admit articles free of duty when the expense and inconvenience of collecting the duty accruing thereon would be disproportionate to the amount of such duty, but the aggregate value of articles imported by one person on one day and exempted from the payment of duty under the authority of this section shall not exceed $5 in the case of articles accompanying, and for the personal or household use of, persons arriving in the United States, or $1 in any other case."

SEC. 8. Section 402 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1402) is hereby amended by inserting the words "for home consumption" after the words "freely offered for sale" in subsection (e), and by inserting the words "for domestic consumption" after the words "freely offered for sale" in subsections (e) and (g) and after the word "sold" in subsection (g).

SEC. 9. So much of the last sentence of section 451 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1451) as precedes the words "gives a bond in a penal sum to be fixed by the collector" is hereby amended to read as follows: "Upon a request made by the owner, master, or person in charge of a vessel or vehicle, or by or on behalf of a common carrier or by or on behalf of the owner or consignee of any merchandise or baggage, for overtime services of customs officers or employees at night or on a Sunday or holiday, the collector shall assign sufficient customs officers or employees if available to perform any such services which may lawfully be performed by them during regular hours of business, but only if the person requesting such services"; and the said section 451 is further amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "Nothing in this section shall be construed to impair the existing authority of the Treasury Department to assign customs officers or employees to regular tours of duty at nights or on Sundays or holidays when such assignments are in the public interest."

SEC. 10. (a) Section 159 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1459) is hereby amended by striking out the last two sentences of such section and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Any person importing or bringing merchandise into the United States from a contiguous country otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle shall immediately report his arrival to the customs officer at the port of entry or customhouse which shall be nearest to the place at which he shall cross the boundary line and shall present such merchandise to such customs officer for inspection."

(b) Section 460 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1460) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 460. SAME—PENALTIES FOR FAILURE TO REPORT OR FILE MANIFEST.

"The master of any vessel or the person in charge of any vehicle who fails to report arrival in the United States as required by the preceding section, or if so reporting proceeds further inland without a permit from the proper customs officer, shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each offense. If any merchandise is imported or brought into the United States in any vessel or vehicle, or by any person otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, from a contiguous country, which vessel, vehicle, or merchandise is not so reported to the proper customs officers; or if the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle fails to file a manifest for the merchandise carried therein, or discharges or lands such merchandise without a permit; such merchandise and the vessel or vehicle, if any, in which it was imported or brought into the United States shall be subject to forfeiture; and the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle, or the person importing or bringing in merchandise otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise which was not reported, or not included in the manifest, or which was discharged or landed without a permit. If any vessel or vehicle not so reported carries any passenger; or if any passenger is discharged or landed from any such vessel or vehicle before it is so reported, or after such report but without a permit; the master of the vessel or the person in charge of the vehicle shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty of $500 for each passenger so carried, discharged, or landed."

SEC. 11. The Tariff Act of 1930 is hereby amended by adding at the end of part II of title IV thereof a new section to read as follows:

"SEC. 467. SPECIAL INSPECTION, EXAMINATION, AND SEARCH.

"Whenever a vessel from a foreign port or place or from a port or place in any Territory or possession of the United States arrives at a port or place in the United States or the Virgin Islands, whether directly or via another port or place in the United States or the Virgin Islands, the collector of customs for such port or place of arrival may, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe and for the purpose of assuring compliance with any law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, cause inspection, examination, and search to be made of the persons, baggage, and merchandise discharged or unladen from such vessel, whether or not any or all such persons, baggage, or merchandise has previously been inspected, examined, or searched by officers of the customs."

SEC. 12. The last sentence of subsection (f) of section 484 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1484) is hereby amended to read as follows: "All other merchandise arriving on one vessel or vehicle and consigned to one consignee shall be included in one entry, unless the Secretary of the Treasury shall authorize the inclusion of portions of such merchandise in separate entries under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe."

SEC. 13. Section 485 (f) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1485 (f)) is hereby amended by changing the last comma therein to a period; by striking out the words "or by any other person specifically authorized by any officer of such corporation to make the same"; and by inserting in lieu of the deleted words a new sentence to read as follows: "Whether the consignee is an individual, a partnership, or a corporation, the declaration may be made by any person who has knowledge of the facts and who is specifically authorized by such individual, a member of such partnership, or an officer of such corporation to make such declaration."

SEC. 14. (a) So much of section 491 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1491) as precedes the words "shall be considered unclaimed and abandoned" is hereby amended to read as follows: "Any entered or unentered merchandise (except merchandise entered under section 557 of this act, but including merchandise entered for transportation in bond or for exportation) which shall remain in customs custody for one year from the date of importation thereof, without all estimated duties and storage or other charges thereon having been paid.”

(b) Such section 491 is further amended by adding the following new sentences at the end thereof: “Merchandise subject to sale hereunder or under section 559 of this act may be entered or withdrawn for consumption at any time prior to such sale upon payment of all duties, storage, and other charges, and expenses that may have accrued thereon, but such merchandise after becoming subject to sale may not be exported prior to sale without the payment of such duties, charges, and expenses nor may it be entered for warehouse. The computation of duties for the purposes of this section and sections 493 and 559 of this act shall be at the rate or rates applicable at the time the merchandise becomes subject to sale.”

SEC. 15. Section 499 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1499) is hereby amended by striking out from the first sentence thereof the words “except as otherwise provided in this act” and inserting in lieu thereof the words “except under such bond or other security as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury to assure compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and instructions which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce.”

SEC. 16. (a) Section 499 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1499) is hereby further amended by inserting after the word “regulation” in the third sentence thereof the following: “or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports or to one or more importations or one or more classes of merchandise.”; by adding after the third sentence thereof the following new sentence: “All such special regulations or instructions shall be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions within fifteen days after issuance and before the liquidation of any entries affected thereby.”; and by adding at the end of such section the following new paragraph:

“No appraisalment made after the effective date of the Customs Administrative Act of 1938 shall be held invalid on the ground that the required number of packages or the required quantity of the merchandise was not designated for examination or, if designated, was not actually examined, unless the party claiming such invalidity shall establish that merchandise in the packages or quantities not designated for examination, or not actually examined, was different from that actually examined and that the difference was such as to establish the incorrectness of the appraiser’s return of value; and then only as to the merchandise for which the value returned by the appraiser is shown to be incorrect.”

(b) Section 501 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1501) is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence of the first paragraph thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: “Every such appeal shall be transmitted with the entry and the accompanying papers by the collector to the United States Customs Court and shall be assigned to one of the judges, who shall in every case, notwithstanding that the original appraisalment may for any reason be held invalid or void and that the merchandise or samples thereof be not available for examination, after affording the parties an opportunity to be heard on the merits, determine the value of the merchandise from the evidence in the entry record and that adduced at the hearing.”; and such section 501 is further amended by designating the present two paragraphs thereof as subsections (a) and (b), respectively, and by adding after such subsections a new subsection (c) to read as follows:

“(c) If upon the hearing of a protest, the United States Customs Court shall declare an appraisalment of merchandise made after the effective date of the Customs Administrative Act of 1938 to have been invalid or void, it shall remand the matter to a single judge, who shall proceed to determine the proper dutiable value of such merchandise in the manner provided for by this section. In such proceeding no presumption of correctness shall attach to the invoice or entered values.”

SEC. 17. (a) Subsection (b) of section 516 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1516 (b)) is hereby amended to read as follows:

“(b) Classification.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall, upon written request by an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler, furnish the classification of, and the rate of duty, if any, imposed upon, designated imported merchandise of a class or kind manufactured, produced, or sold at wholesale by him. If such manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler believes that the proper rate of duty is not being assessed, he may file a complaint with the Secretary, setting forth a description of the merchandise, the classification, and the rate or rates of duty he believes proper, and the reasons for his belief. If the Secretary decides that the classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon, the merchandise is not correct, he shall notify the collectors as to the proper classification and rate of duty and shall so inform the complainant, and such rate of duty shall be assessed upon all such merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after thirty days after the date such notice to the collectors is published in the weekly Treasury Decisions. If the Secretary decides that the classification and rate of duty are correct, he shall so inform the complainant. If dissatisfied with the decision of the Secretary, the complainant may file with the Secretary, not later than thirty days after the date of such decision, notice that he desires to protest the classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon, the merchandise. Upon receipt of such notice from the complainant, the Secretary shall cause publication to be made of his decision as to the proper classification and rate of duty and of the complainant's desire to protest, and shall thereafter furnish the complainant with such information as to the entries and consignees of such merchandise, entered after the publication of the decision of the Secretary at the port of entry designated by the complainant in his notice of desire to protest, as will enable the complainant to protest the classification of, or rate of duty imposed upon, such merchandise in the liquidation of such an entry at such port. The Secretary shall direct the collector at such port to notify such complainant immediately when the first of such entries is liquidated. Within thirty days after the date of mailing to the complainant of notice of such liquidation, the complainant may file with the collector at such port a protest in writing setting forth a description of the merchandise and the classification and rate of duty he believes proper. Notwithstanding such protest is filed, merchandise of the character covered by the published decision of the Secretary, when entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or before the date of publication of a decision of the United States Customs Court or of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, rendered under the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, not in harmony with the published decision of the Secretary, shall be classified and the entries liquidated in accordance with such decision of the Secretary, and, except as otherwise provided in this act, the liquidations of such entries shall be final and conclusive upon all parties. If the protest of the complainant is sustained in whole or in part by a decision of the United States Customs Court or of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, merchandise of the character covered by the published decision of the Secretary, which is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after the date of publication of such court decision, shall be subject to classification and assessment of duty in accordance with the final judicial decision on the complainant's protest, and the liquidation of entries covering such merchandise so entered or withdrawn shall be suspended until final disposition is made of such protest, whereupon such entries shall be liquidated, or if necessary, reliquidated in accordance with such final decision. Every proceeding arising under this subsection shall be given precedence over other cases on the dockets of the United States Customs Court and the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, and shall be assigned for hearing and trial at the earliest practicable date and expedited in every way."

(b) The provisions of subsection (b) of section 516 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, shall apply only in the case of complaints filed after the effective date of this act. The provisions of subsection (b) of section 516 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as in force prior to the effective date of this act, shall continue in force with respect to any proceedings commenced by the filing of a complaint thereunder, except that upon the expiration of thirty days after the effective date of this act, or upon the expiration of thirty days after the date of a decision of the Secretary adverse to the complainant, whichever is the later, any such proceedings in which a protest has not been duly filed shall be deemed to have been terminated unless the complainant shall have filed with the Secretary after the effective date of this act a notice that he desires to protest the classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon, the merchandise.

(c) The provisions of subsection (b) of section 516 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, shall not apply with respect to any article of a class or kind which is named or described in any obligation undertaken by the United States in a foreign trade agreement entered into under section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1351).

SEC. 18. Section 520 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1520), as amended by section 2 of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act, 1934 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 31, sec. 725a), is hereby further amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 520. REFUNDS AND ERRORS.

"(a) The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to refund duties or other receipts in the following cases:

"(1) Excess deposits.—Whenever it is ascertained on liquidation or reliquidation of an entry that more money has been deposited or paid as duties than was required by law to be so deposited or paid;

"(2) Fees, charges, and exactions.—Whenever it is determined in the manner required by law that any fees, charges, or exactions, other than duties and taxes, have been erroneously or excessively collected; and

"(3) Fines, penalties, and forfeitures.—Whenever money has been deposited in the Treasury on account of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture which did not accrue, or which is finally determined to have accrued in an amount less than that so deposited, or which is mitigated to an amount less than that so deposited or is remitted.

"(b) The necessary moneys to make such refunds are hereby authorized to be appropriated annually from the General Fund of the Treasury.

"(c) Notwithstanding a valid protest was not filed, the Secretary of the Treasury may authorize a collector to reliquidate an entry to correct—

"(1) A clerical error in any entry or liquidation discovered within one year after the date of entry, or within sixty days after liquidation when liquidation is made more than ten months after the date of entry; or

"(2) Any assessment of duty on household or personal effects which by law were not subject to duty and in respect of which an application for refund has been filed with the collector within one year after the date of entry."

SEC. 19. (a) Section 1 of the act of June 19, 1886, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 46, sec. 331), is hereby further amended by adding a comma and the following words after the words "Measurement of tonnage and certifying the same" and before the semicolon in the first sentence thereof: "except that the compensation and necessary travel and subsistence expenses of the officers so measuring or certifying such vessels at the request of the owners thereof at a place other than a port of entry or a customs station shall be paid by such owners."

(b) Section 524 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1524) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Receipts for any reimbursable charges or expenses which have been paid for out of any appropriation for collecting the revenue from customs shall be deposited as a refund to such appropriation instead of being covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, as provided by the act entitled 'An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, and for other purposes', approved March 4, 1907."

SEC. 20. The Tariff Act of 1930 is hereby amended by adding at the end of part III of title IV thereof a new section, to read as follows:

"SEC. 528. TAXES NOT TO BE CONSTRUED AS DUTIES.

"No tax or other charge imposed by or pursuant to any law of the United States shall be construed to be a customs duty for the purpose of any statute relating to the customs revenue, unless the law imposing such tax or charge designates it as a customs duty or contains a provision to the effect that it shall be treated as a duty imposed under the customs laws. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict the jurisdiction of the United States Customs Court or the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals."

SEC. 21. Section 553 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1553) is hereby amended by adding the following at the end thereof: "In places where no bonded common-carrier facilities are reasonably available, such merchandise may be so transported otherwise than by a bonded common carrier under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe."

SEC. 22. (a) Section 557 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1557) is hereby further amended by inserting before the colon preceding the proviso in the first paragraph thereof the words "or elsewhere, or for transfer to another bonded warehouse at the same port"; by eliminating the phrase "99 per centum of" from the last sentence of the said paragraph; by designating the present paragraphs thereof as subsections (a) and (c), respectively; and by inserting between such subsections a new subsection (b) to read as follows:

"(b) The right to withdraw any merchandise entered in accordance with subsection (a) of this section for the purposes specified in such subsection may be transferred upon compliance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. So long as any such transfer remains unrevoked the transferee shall have, with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, all rights to file protests, and to the privileges provided for in this section and in sections 562 and 563 of this act which would otherwise be possessed by the transferor. The transferee shall also have the right to receive all lawful refunds of moneys paid by him to the United States with respect to the merchandise and no revocation of any transfer shall deprive him of this right. Any such transfer may be made irrevocable by the filing of a bond of the transferee in such amount and with such conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, including an obligation to pay all unpaid regular, increased, and additional duties, charges, and exactions on the merchandise the subject of the transfer. Upon the filing of such bond the transferor shall be relieved from liability for the payment of duties, charges, and exactions on the merchandise the subject of the transfer, but shall remain bound by all other unsatisfied conditions of his bond."

(b) On and after the effective date of this act, this section shall be effective with respect to merchandise entered for warehouse prior to, as well as after, such date.

SEC. 23. (a) Section 557 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1557) is hereby further amended and sections 559 and 563 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, secs. 1559 and 1563) are hereby amended by deleting "(or ten months in the case of grain)" wherever appearing in such sections.

(b) The amendments made by subsection (a) of this section shall apply in the case of grain imported prior to the effective date of this act which, on such date, has not become abandoned to the Government under section 491 or 559 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1491 or 1559), and which has remained in the custody of customs officers.

SEC. 24. Section 558 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1558) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 558. NO REMISSION OR REFUND AFTER RELEASE OF MERCHANDISE.

"(a) No remission, abatement, refund, or drawback of estimated or liquidated duty shall be allowed because of the exportation or destruction of any merchandise after its release from the custody of the Government, except in the following cases:

"(1) When articles are exported with respect to which a drawback of duties is expressly provided for by law;

"(2) When prohibited articles have been regularly entered in good faith and are subsequently exported or destroyed pursuant to a law of the United States and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; and

"(3) When articles entered under bond, under any provision of law, are destroyed within the bonded period as provided for in section 557 of this act, or are destroyed within the bonded period by death, accidental fire, or other casualty, and proof of such destruction is furnished which shall be satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury, in which case any accrued duties shall be remitted or refunded and any condition in the bond that the articles shall be exported shall be deemed to have been satisfied.

"(b) When articles are exported or destroyed under customs supervision after once having been released from customs custody, as provided for in subsection (c) of section 304 of this act, such exportation or destruction shall not exempt such articles from the payment of duties other than the marking duty provided for in such subsection (c)."

SEC. 25. Section 562 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1562) is amended by adding the following new sentence at the end thereof: "Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, imported merchandise which has been entered and which has remained in continuous customs custody may be manipulated in accordance with the provisions of this section under customs supervision and at the risk and expense of the consignee, but elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse, in cases where neither the protection of the revenue nor the proper conduct of customs business requires that such manipulation be done in a bonded warehouse."

SEC. 26. So much of section 598 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1598) as precedes the first semicolon therein is hereby amended to read as follows: "If any unauthorized person affixes, attaches, or in any way willfully assists or encourages the affixing or attaching of a customs seal, fastening, or mark, or any seal, fastening, or mark purporting to be a customs seal, fastening, or mark to any vessel, vehicle, warehouse, or package."

SEC. 27. Section 603 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1603) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 603. SAME—COLLECTOR'S REPORTS.

"Whenever a seizure of merchandise for violation of the customs laws is made, or a violation of the customs laws is discovered, and legal proceedings by the United States attorney in connection with such seizure or discovery are required, it shall be the duty of the collector or the principal local officer of the Customs Agency Service to report such seizure or violation to the United States attorney for the district in which such violation has occurred, or in which such seizure was made, and to include in such report a statement of all the facts and circumstances of the case within his knowledge, with the names of the witnesses and a citation to the statute or statutes believed to have been violated, and on which reliance may be had for forfeiture or conviction."

SEC. 28. (a) Section 607 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1607) is hereby amended by striking out the words "forfeit and sell the same" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "forfeit and sell or otherwise dispose of the same according to law."

(b) Section 609 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1609) is hereby amended by adding the words "or otherwise dispose of the same according to law" after the words "in the same manner as merchandise abandoned to the United States is sold."

SEC. 29. Section 613 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1613) is hereby amended by inserting the word "and" after the semicolon at the end of subdivision (2) thereof, by deleting subdivision (3) thereof, and by redesignating subdivision (4) thereof as subdivision (3).

SEC. 30. Section 623 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1623) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 623. BONDS AND OTHER SECURITY.

"(a) In any case in which bond or other security is not specifically required by law, the Secretary of the Treasury may by regulation or specific instruction require, or authorize collectors of customs to require, such bonds or other security as he, or they, may deem necessary for the protection of the revenue or to assure compliance with any provision of law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service may be authorized to enforce.

"(b) Whenever a bond is required or authorized by a law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce, the Secretary of the Treasury may—

"(1) Except as otherwise specifically provided by law, prescribe the conditions and form of such bond, and fix the amount of penalty thereof, whether for the payment of liquidated damages or of a penal sum: Provided, That when a consolidated bond authorized by paragraph 4 of this subsection is taken, the Secretary of the Treasury may fix the penalty of such bond without regard to any other provision of law, regulation, or instruction.

"(2) Provide for the approval of the sureties on such bond, without regard to any general provision of law.

"(3) Authorize the execution of a term bond the conditions of which shall extend to and cover similar cases of importations over such period of time, not to exceed one year, or such longer period as he may fix when in his opinion special circumstances existing in a particular instance require such longer period.

"(4) Authorize, to the extent that he may deem necessary, the taking of a consolidated bond (single entry or term), in lieu of separate bonds to assure compliance with two or more provisions of law, regulations, or instructions which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce. A consolidated bond taken pursuant to the authority contained in this subsection shall have the same force and effect in respect of every provision of law, regulation, or instruction for the purposes for which it is required as though separate bonds had been taken to assure compliance with each such provision.

"(c) The Secretary of the Treasury may authorize the cancellation of any bond provided for in this section, or of any charge that may have been made against such bond, in the event of a breach of any condition of the bond, upon the payment of such lesser amount or penalty or upon such other terms and conditions as he may deem sufficient.

"(d) No condition in any bond taken to assure compliance with any law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce shall be held invalid on the ground that such condition is not specified in the law, regulation, or instruction authorizing or requiring the taking of such bond.

“(e) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to permit the deposit of money or obligations of the United States, in such amount and upon such conditions as he may by regulation prescribe, in lieu of sureties on any bond required or authorized by a law, regulation, or instruction which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Customs Service is authorized to enforce.”

SEC. 31. Paragraph 741 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1001, par. 741) is hereby amended by deleting the words “in packages weighing with the immediate container” and inserting in lieu thereof the words “packed in units of any description weighing (with the immediate container, if any).”

SEC. 32. Paragraph 813 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1001, par. 813) is hereby amended by deleting the word “five” and inserting in lieu thereof the word “fifteen.”

SEC. 33. (a) Paragraph 1101 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1001, par. 1101) is hereby amended by redesignating subparagraph (b) thereof as subparagraph (c), by changing the colon at the end of the first proviso in subparagraph (a) thereof to a period and deleting all the matter in such subparagraph (a) following such colon, and by inserting in such paragraph a new subparagraph (b), to read as follows:

“(b) Any of the foregoing may be entered or withdrawn from warehouse without the payment of duty by a manufacturer, processor, or dealer upon the filing of a bond to insure that any wool or hair entered or withdrawn thereunder shall be used only in the manufacture of press cloth, camel's hair belting, knit or felt boots, heavy fulled lumbermen's socks, rugs, carpets, or any other floor coverings. A manufacturer, processor, or dealer may be relieved of liability under his bond with respect to any wool or hair so entered or withdrawn which is transferred in its imported or any other form to another manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has filed a bond to insure that the merchandise so transferred shall be used only in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles. If any wool or hair so entered, withdrawn, or transferred under bond is used or transferred for use in its imported or any other form in any manner otherwise than in the manufacture of the articles enumerated above, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on the merchandise so used or transferred in violation of the bond the regular duties which would apply to such merchandise if imported in its condition at the time of such use or transfer. Such duties shall be paid by the manufacturer, processor, or dealer whose bond is charged with the wool or hair at the time of such use or transfer; but such duties shall not be levied or collected on any merchandise (except white soft wastes, white threads and noils, which shall be dutiable at seven-eighths of such regular duties when used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles) resulting in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated manufactured articles which cannot be used (with or without further preparation) in the usual course of the manufacture of such enumerated articles, or which is exported or destroyed. When any wool or hair which has been entered or withdrawn under bond as provided for in this subparagraph is used or transferred for use, in its imported or any other form, otherwise than in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles and prior to such use or transfer there shall have been combined or mixed with such wool or hair any other merchandise, the whole or the combination or mixture shall be presumed to be composed of wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond, as provided for in this subparagraph, unless the manufacturer, processor, or dealer liable for the payment of the duties shall establish the quantity of bonded wool or hair in such combination or mixture. Every manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has given a bond pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph shall report any use or transfer of merchandise in violation of the terms of his bond, within thirty days after such use or transfer, to the collector of customs in whose district the bond is filed; and for failure to so report, such manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise so used or transferred at the time and place of such use or transfer. Such penalty shall be in addition to the duties above provided for. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prescribe such regulations and the form, conditions, and amounts of such bonds as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this subparagraph.”

(b) The provisions of paragraph 1101 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this act, with respect to wool or hair entered under bond for use in the manufacture of articles enumerated in such paragraph, shall apply with respect to wool or hair under bond on the effective date of this act, as well as with respect to wool or hair thereafter imported.

SEC. 34. (a) Paragraph 1111 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1001, par. 1111) is hereby amended by deleting therefrom the phrase “of blanketing.”

(c) Paragraph 1529 (a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1001, par. 1529 (a)) is hereby amended by inserting "1116 (a)," after the figure "1111."

SEC. 35. Section 314 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1314) is hereby repealed, and paragraph 1615 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, sec. 1201, par. 1615) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"PAR. 1615. (a) Articles, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, when returned after having been exported, without having been advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means.

"(b) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of domestic or foreign manufacture, exported empty and returned as usual containers or coverings of merchandise, or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise, including shooks and staves produced in the United States when returned as boxes or barrels in use as the usual containers of merchandise.

"(c) Photographic dry plates and films of the manufacture of the United States (except moving-picture films to be used for commercial purposes), exposed abroad, whether developed or not.

"(d) Photographic films light struck or otherwise damaged, or worn out, so as to be unsuitable for any other purposes than the recovery of the constituent materials, provided the basic films are of the manufacture of the United States.

"(e) The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to—

"(1) Any article upon which an allowance of drawback has been made under section 313 of this act or a corresponding provision of a prior tariff act, unless such article is in use at the time of importation as the usual container or covering of merchandise not subject to an ad-valorem rate of duty;

"(2) Any article of a kind with respect to the importation of which an internal revenue tax is imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, unless such article was subject to an internal revenue tax imposed upon production or importation at the time of its exportation from the United States and it shall be proved that such tax was paid before exportation and not refunded;

"(3) Any article manufactured or produced in a customs bonded warehouse in the United States and exported under any provision of law; or

"(4) Any article made dutiable under the provisions of paragraph 1606 (c) of this act.

"(f) Upon the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of any article previously exported, which is excepted from free entry under this paragraph by the foregoing subparagraph (e) and is not otherwise exempted from the payment of duty, there shall be levied, collected, and paid thereon, in lieu of any other duty or tax, a duty equal to the total duty and internal revenue tax, if any, then imposed with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States, but in no case in excess of the sum of customs drawback, if any, proved to have been allowed upon the exportation of such article from the United States plus the amount of the internal revenue tax, if any, imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption upon the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States. Manufactured tobacco subject to duty hereunder shall be retained in customs custody until internal revenue stamps in payment of any part of the legal duties measured by a rate or amount of internal revenue tax shall have been placed thereon.

"(g) Any article exported from the United States for repairs or alterations may be returned upon the payment of a duty upon the value of the repairs or alterations at the rate or rates which would apply to the article itself in its repaired or altered condition if not within the purview of this subparagraph.

"(h) The allowance of total or partial exemption from duty under any provision of this paragraph shall be subject to such regulations as to proof of identity and compliance with the conditions of this paragraph as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe."

SEC. 36. Paragraph 1798 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 19, sec. 1201, par. 1798), is hereby further amended by striking out the third and fourth provisos thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Provided further, That up to but not exceeding $100 in value of articles (including distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors aggregating not more than one wine gallon and including not more than one hundred cigars) acquired abroad by such residents of the United States as an incident of the foreign journey for personal or household use or as souvenirs or curios, but not bought on commission or intended for sale, shall be free of duty: Provided further, That (a) in the case of articles acquired in any country other than a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port, the exemption authorized by the preceding proviso shall apply only to articles so acquired by a returning resident who has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than forty-eight hours and (b) in the case of articles acquired in a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port, the Secretary of the Treasury shall by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports of entry, provide that the exemption authorized by the preceding proviso shall be applied only to articles acquired abroad by a returning resident who has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for not less than such period (which period shall not exceed twenty-four hours) as the Secretary may deem necessary in the public interest or to facilitate enforcement at the specified port or ports of the requirement that the exemption shall apply only to articles acquired as an incident of the foreign journey: Provided further, That the exemption authorized by the second preceding proviso shall apply only to articles declared in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury by a returning resident who has not taken advantage of the said exemption within the thirty-day period immediately preceding his return to the United States: Provided further, That no such special regulation or instruction shall take effect until the lapse of ninety days after the date of such special regulation or instruction: And provided further, That all articles exempted by this paragraph from the payment of duty shall also be exempt from the payment of any internal revenue taxes."

SEC. 37. Sections 31 and 34 of this act shall take effect on the date of enactment of this act. Except as otherwise specially provided in this act, the remainder of this act shall take effect on the thirtieth day following the date of its enactment.

An act to regulate commerce in firearms

[Public No. 785, 75th Cong., S. 3]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That as used in this act—

(1) The term "person" includes an individual, partnership, association, or corporation.

(2) The term "interstate or foreign commerce" means commerce between any State, Territory, or possession (including the Philippine Islands, but not including the Canal Zone), or the District of Columbia, and any place outside thereof; or between points within the same State, Territory, or possession (including the Philippine Islands but not including the Canal Zone), or the District of Columbia, but through any place outside thereof; or within any Territory or possession or the District of Columbia.

(3) The term "firearm" means any weapon, by whatever name known, which is designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive and a firearm muffler or firearm silencer, or any part or parts of such weapon.

(4) The term "manufacturer" means any person engaged in the manufacture or importation of firearms, or ammunition or cartridge cases, primers, bullets, or propellant powder for purposes of sale or distribution; and the term "licensed manufacturer" means any such person licensed under the provisions of this act.

(5) The term "dealer" means any person engaged in the business of selling firearms or ammunition or cartridge cases, primers, bullets, or propellant powder, at wholesale or retail, or any person engaged in the business of repairing such firearms or of manufacturing or fitting special barrels, stocks, trigger mechanisms, or breach mechanisms to firearms, and the term "licensed dealer" means any such person licensed under the provisions of this act.

(6) The term "crime of violence" means murder, manslaughter, rape, mayhem, kidnaping, burglary, housebreaking; assault with intent to kill, commit rape, or rob; assault with a dangerous weapon, or assault with intent to commit any offense punishable by imprisonment for more than one year.

(7) The term "fugitive from justice" means any person who has fled from any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or possession of the United States to avoid prosecution for a crime of violence or to avoid giving testimony in any criminal proceeding.

(8) The term "ammunition" shall include all pistol or revolver ammunition except .22-caliber rim-fire ammunition.

SEC. 2. (a) It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer or dealer, except a manufacturer or dealer having a license issued under the provisions of this act, to transport, ship, or receive any firearm or ammunition in interstate or foreign commerce.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any person to receive any firearm or ammunition transported or shipped in interstate or foreign commerce in violation of subdivision (a) of this section, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe such firearms or ammunition to have been transported or shipped in violation of subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any licensed manufacturer or dealer to transport or ship any firearm in interstate or foreign commerce to any person other than a licensed manufacturer or dealer in any State the laws of which require that a license be obtained for the purchase of such firearm, unless such license is exhibited to such manufacturer or dealer by the prospective purchaser.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any person to ship, transport, or cause to be shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce, any firearm or ammunition to any person knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that such person is under indictment or has been convicted in any court of the United States, the several States, Territories, possessions (including the Philippine Islands), or the District of Columbia of a crime of violence or is a fugitive from justice.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person who is under indictment or who has been convicted of a crime of violence or who is a fugitive from justice to ship, transport, or cause to be shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce any firearm or ammunition.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any person who has been convicted of a crime of violence or is a fugitive from justice to receive any firearm or ammunition which has been shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce, and the possession of a firearm or ammunition by any such person shall be presumptive evidence that such firearm or ammunition was shipped or transported or received, as the case may be, by such person in violation of this act.

(g) It shall be unlawful for any person to transport or ship or cause to be transported or shipped in interstate or foreign commerce any stolen firearm or ammunition, knowing, or having reasonable cause to believe, same to have been stolen.

(h) It shall be unlawful for any person to receive, conceal, store, barter, sell or dispose of any firearm or ammunition or to pledge or accept as security for a loan any firearm or ammunition moving in or which is a part of interstate or foreign commerce, and which while so moving or constituting such part has been stolen, knowing, or having reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen.

(i) It shall be unlawful for any person to transport, ship, or knowingly receive in interstate or foreign commerce any firearm from which the manufacturer's serial number has been removed, obliterated, or altered, and the possession of any such firearm shall be presumptive evidence that such firearm was transported, shipped, or received, as the case may be, by the possessor in violation of this act.

SEC. 3. (a) Any manufacturer or dealer desiring a license to transport, ship, or receive firearms or ammunition in interstate or foreign commerce shall make application to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall prescribe by rules and regulations the information to be contained in such application. The applicant shall, if a manufacturer, pay a fee of $25 per annum and, if a dealer, shall pay a fee of $1 per annum.

(b) Upon payment of the prescribed fee, the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue to such applicant a license which shall entitle the licensee to transport, ship, and receive firearms and ammunition in interstate and foreign commerce unless and until the license is suspended or revoked in accordance with the provisions of this act: Provided, That no license shall be issued to any applicant within two years after the revocation of a previous license.

(c) Whenever any licensee is convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to notify the Secretary of the Treasury within forty-eight hours after such conviction and said Secretary shall revoke such license: Provided, That in the case of appeal from such conviction the licensee may furnish a bond in the amount of $1,000, and upon receipt of such bond acceptable to the Secretary of the Treasury he may permit the licensee to continue business during the period of the appeal, or should the licensee refuse or neglect to furnish such bond, the Secretary of the Treasury shall suspend such license until he is notified by the clerk of the court of last appeal as to the final disposition of the case.

(d) Licensed dealers shall maintain such permanent records of importation, shipment, and other disposal of firearms and ammunition as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply with respect to the transportation, shipment, receipt, or importation of any firearm, or ammunition, sold or shipped to, or issued for the use of, (1) the United States or any department, independent establishment, or agency thereof; (2) any State, Territory, or possession, or the District of Columbia, or any department, independent establishment, agency, or any political subdivision thereof; (3) any duly commissioned officer or agent of the United States, a State, Territory, or possession, or the District of Columbia, or any political subdivision thereof; (4) or to any bank, public carrier, express, or armored-truck company organized and operating in good faith for the transportation of money and valuables; (5) or to any research laboratory designated by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, That such bank, public carriers, express, and armored-truck companies are granted exemption by the Secretary of the Treasury; nor to the transportation, shipment, or receipt of any antique or unserviceable firearms, or ammunition, possessed and held as curios or museum pieces: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent shipments of firearms and ammunition to institutions, organizations, or persons to whom such firearms and ammunition may be lawfully delivered by the Secretary of War, nor to prevent the transportation of such firearms and ammunition so delivered by their lawful possessors while they are engaged in military training or in competitions.

SEC. 5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act or any rules and regulations promulgated hereunder, or who makes any statement in applying for the license or exemption provided for in this act, knowing such statement to be false, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

SEC. 6. This act shall take effect thirty days after its enactment.

SEC. 7. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe such rules and regulations as he deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 8. Should any section or subsection of this act be declared unconstitutional, the remaining portion of the act shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 9. This act may be cited as the Federal Firearms Act.

Approved, June 30, 1938.

Announcement of change in the daily Treasury statement beginning July 1, 1938, with respect to the financial transactions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, and Export-Import Bank of Washington

Effective July 1, 1938, the financial transactions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, and Export-Import Bank of Washington will be reflected on page 3 of daily Treasury statements. Heretofore, such transactions have been included in the expenditures on page 2 of daily Treasury statements (commonly associated with the Federal Budget) on a net basis; i. e., checks paid by the Treasurer of the United States less receipts deposited by such corporations in their disbursing accounts with the Treasurer. The purpose of this change is to simplify the daily Treasury statement, and to eliminate confusion and misunderstanding concerning the effect of such corporations' transactions on the Federal Budget, particularly in cases where the Treasury acts only in the nature of a depository of funds derived by the corporations from the sale of their own obligations on the market.

Under the act of January 22, 1932, creating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, it was contemplated that the Corporation's funds would be used only for loans and administrative expenses, and it was assumed that the latter would be taken care of through receipts from earnings. An appropriation from the General Fund of the Treasury in the amount of $500,000,000 was made for the purchase of capital stock of the Corporation. Expenditures from funds provided through such appropriation were reflected in the expenditures of the Government, as and when the Corporation's checks were paid by the Treasurer of the United States. It was assumed that the amount so charged in the budget would more than take care of losses, if any, sustained by the Corporation in connection with its lending activities. Pursuant to section 9 of the act, expenditures made by the Corporation from funds derived from the sale of its obligations to the Secretary of the Treasury were treated as public debt transactions and, therefore, were not included as expenditures in the Government's budget. This provision was based upon the assumption that the money loaned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from the proceeds of such obligations, when repaid, would be available for the retirement of the Corporation's obligations held by the Treasury and used by the Treasury to retire an equivalent amount of public debt obligations.

Effective July 1, 1933, this procedure was changed so that all operations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, including expenditures from funds derived through the sale of its obligations to the Treasury, were included in the Federal Budget, in the same manner as if the money had been appropriated by the Congress directly to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in accordance with customary procedure, for specified purposes. Although the change involved a departure from the previous practice of basing expenditures of the Federal Government upon direct appropriations made by the Congress for specified objects of expenditure, the change was justified because of the fact that under several laws enacted by the Congress subsequent to January 22, 1932, large sums of money were paid out by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for grants under relief acts and for other purposes for which no provision had been made for repayment to the Corporation.

Under authority of the act of February 24, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury canceled approximately $2,688,000,000 of the obligations purchased from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation pursuant to the act of January 22, 1932, as amended, with respect to which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had no means of making repayment to the Treasury. It will continue to be the practice of the Treasury to include as budget expenditures moneys expended from funds allocated by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on account of purposes or activities for which no provision has been made for repayment to the Treasury and which will be subject to the act of February 24, 1938.

On March 8, 1938, the President approved an act providing for an annual appraisal of the assets and liabilities of the Commodity Credit Corporation and authorized appropriations to restore the impairment of the Corporation's capital as a result of its operations. The first appropriation provided under this act was contained in the Deficiency Act of June 25, 1938, in the amount of $94,285,-404.73. This appropriation is reflected as an expenditure on page 2 of the daily Treasury statement of June 30, 1938, under the caption "Agricultural Aid: Commodity Credit Corporation, Restoration of Capital Impairment." Under the procedure provided in that act the annual budget will be charged with the amount of the impairment of the Corporation's capital. Except in such respect, the annual budget will not be affected by the operations of the Corporation.

During the fiscal year the Treasury expects to conclude arrangements with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other governmental corporations whereby the books of the Treasury will more adequately reflect the financial operations of such corporations, particularly with respect to their relations to Treasury financing and the Federal Budget. Upon the completion of such arrangements it is hoped that the Treasury will be in a position to publish monthly in daily Treasury statements a statement showing with respect to each corporation, when applicable, substantially the following:

I. Sources of funds:

- a. Appropriations from General Fund.
- b. Sale of obligations to Treasury.
- c. Sale of obligations in the market.
- d. Repayment of loans (principal).
- e. Other receipts.

II. Uses of funds:

- a. Administrative expenses.
- b. Loans.
- c. Investments.
- d. Allocations to other agencies.
- e. Other expenditures.

Exhibit 66

Letter of the Postmaster General to the Secretary of the Treasury, dated November 22, 1938, certifying extraordinary expenditures contributing to the deficiencies of postal revenues for the fiscal year 1938, in pursuance of Public No. 316, Seventy-first Congress, approved June 9, 1930 (46 Stat. 523)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 22, 1938.

The Honorable the SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: In accordance with the provisions of the act of June 9, 1930, embodied in section 260, Postal Laws and Regulations, the amounts set forth below with respect to certain mailings during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1938, are certified to you in order that they may be separately classified on the books of the Treasury Department in stating the expenditures made from the appropriation to supply the deficiency of postal revenues:

(a) The estimated amount which would have been collected at regular rates of postage on matter mailed during the year by officers of the Government (other than those of the Post Office Department) under the penalty privilege, including registry fees:
Postage.....	$34, 166, 571
Registry fees, including surcharges.....	1, 524, 236
	$35, 690, 807. 00
(b) The estimated amount which would have been collected at regular rates of postage on matter mailed during the year by:
1. Members of Congress under the franking privilege.....	$779, 254
2. By others under the franking privilege.....	115
	779, 369. 00
(c) The estimated amount which would have been collected during the year at regular rates of postage on publications going free in the country.....	637, 150. 00
(d) The estimated amount which would have been collected at regular rates of postage on matter mailed free to the blind during the year.....	188, 091. 00
(e) The estimated difference between the postage revenue collected during the year on mailings of newspapers and periodicals published by and in the interests of religious, educational, scientific, philanthropic, agricultural, labor, and fraternal organizations, and that which would have been collected at zone rates of postage.....	271, 473. 89
(f) The estimated excess during the year of the cost of aircraft service over the postage revenues derived from air mail.....	5, 232, 796. 42
Total.....	42, 759, 687. 31

Jurisdiction over the ocean mail contract service was transferred to the United States Maritime Commission under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, such transfer being effective June 30, 1937. Consequently, there is no expense credit for the item heretofore reported as "differentials favoring vessels for American registry."

Very truly yours,

JAMES A. FARLEY,
Postmaster General.

EXPLANATION OF BASES USED IN TABLES

Figures in the following tables are shown on various bases, namely: (1) Daily Treasury statements, unrevised (current cash); (2) daily Treasury statements, revised (actual); (3) warrants issued; (4) checks issued; and (5) collections reported by collecting officers.

Daily Treasury statements (unrevised) (receipts and expenditures).—The figures shown in the daily statement of the United States Treasury are compiled from the latest daily reports received by the Treasurer of the United States from Treasury officers and public depositaries holding Government funds. The daily Treasury statement, therefore, is a current report compiled from latest available information, and, by reason of the promptness with which the information is obtained and made public, it has come into general use as reflecting the financial operations of the Government covering a given period, and gives an accurate idea of the actual condition of the Treasury as far as it is ascertainable from day to day. This is known as "current cash basis", according to daily Treasury statements (unrevised). Table 3 (p. 379) shows receipts and expenditures on this basis. The current assets and liabilities of the Treasury and the outstanding public debt are also available on this basis.

Daily Treasury statements (revised) (receipts and expenditures).—On account of the distance of some of the Treasury offices and depositaries from the Treasury, it is obvious that the reports from all officers covering a particular day's transactions cannot be received and assembled in the Treasury at one time without delaying for several days the publication of the daily Treasury statement. It is necessary, therefore, in order to exhibit the actual receipts and expenditures for any given month or fiscal year, to take into consideration those reports covering the transactions for the last few days of the month or fiscal year concerned which have not been received in the Treasury until the succeeding month or fiscal year, and to eliminate receipts and expenditures relating to the preceding month. After taking into consideration these reports, the revised figures indicate the condition of the Treasury on the basis of actual transactions occurring during the period under review. This is known as "the basis of daily Treasury statements (revised)."

It is not practical to delay the publication of the daily Treasury statement in order to include the later reports, as the difference between the revised and the unrevised figures is not substantial. The unrevised figures as shown in current daily Treasury statements are the basis for the Budget estimates submitted to Congress by the President. The revised figures are of no practical use except to enable the use of a true General Fund balance on the monthly statement of the public debt of the United States and to bring the daily Treasury statement figures into agreement with the figures based on warrants issued. The table on page 234 shows total receipts and expenditures on this basis. The current assets and liabilities of the Treasury (p. 524) and the outstanding public debt (pp. 472 to 493) are also available on this basis.

Warrants issued (receipts).—Section 305 of the Revised Statutes provides that receipts for all moneys received by the Treasurer of the United States shall be endorsed upon warrants signed by the Secretary of the Treasury, without which warrants, so signed, no acknowledgment for money received into the Public Treasury shall be valid. The issuance of warrants by the Secretary of the Treasury, as provided by law, represents the formal covering of receipts into the Treasury.

Certificates of deposit covering actual deposits in Treasury offices and depositaries, upon which covering warrants are based, cannot reach the Treasury simultaneously, and for that reason all receipts for a fiscal year cannot be covered into the Treasury by warrants of the Secretary immediately upon the close of that fiscal year. It is necessary to have all certificates of deposit before a statement can be issued showing the total receipts for a particular fiscal year on a warrant basis. The figures thus compiled will agree with the figures compiled on the basis of daily Treasury statements (revised). The details in table 1 (p. 354) show receipts on this basis.

Warrants issued (expenditures).—The Constitution of the United States provides that no money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. Section 305 of the Revised Statutes requires that the Treasurer of the United States shall disburse the moneys of the United States upon warrants drawn by the Secretary of the Treasury. As the warrants are issued by the Secretary they are charged against the appropriate appropriations provided by law. Some of these warrants do not represent actual payments to claimants, but are merely advances of funds to be placed to the credit of disbursing officers of the Government with the Treasurer of the United States for the payment of Government obligations. The disbursing officer then issues his check on the Treasurer in payment of such obligations. As far as the appropriation accounts are concerned, the warrants issued and charged thereto constitute expenditures, but it will be observed that such expenditures necessarily include unexpended balances to the credit of the disbursing officers. Statement of the expenditures on a warrant basis from 1789 to 1915 is shown on page 410 of this report.

Checks issued (expenditures).—This basis, more than any other, reflects the real expenditures of the Government. Expenditures for a given fiscal year on the basis of checks issued differ from the corresponding figures on the basis of warrants in that the former include expenditures made by disbursing officers from credits granted during the previous fiscal year, and exclude the amount of unexpended grants remaining to their credit at the end of the fiscal year. The basis of checks issued differs from the basis of the daily Treasury statement (revised) in that the former includes checks outstanding at the end of the fiscal year, and excludes unpaid checks outstanding at the beginning of the fiscal year. A detailed explanation of the basis of checks issued will be found on page 89 of the Secretary's report for 1927. Table 2 (p. 362) shows expenditures on this basis.

Collections reported by collecting officers (receipts).—Statements showing receipts on a collection basis are compiled from reports received by the various administrative offices from collecting officers in the field, such as collectors of internal revenue and collectors of customs. These reports cover the collections actually made by these officers during the period specified. The collections are then deposited in a designated Government depository to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States, which depository renders a report to the Treasurer. The reports of the collecting officers and the depositories do not, of course, coincide, for the reason that the collecting officers make collections during the last few days of the fiscal year which are not deposited until after the close of the fiscal year. On this account the two reports do not agree. The receipts are reported on a collection basis merely for statistical purposes and to furnish information as to detailed sources of revenue. Classification of such items on the basis of deposits has been found to be impracticable and uneconomical. Tables 11 and 18 (pp. 425 and 442) show receipts on a collection basis.

DESCRIPTION OF ACCOUNTS THROUGH WHICH TREASURY OPERATIONS ARE EFFECTED

All receipts of the Government are covered into the General Fund of the Treasury from which all expenditures are made. Receipts and expenditures, however, are classified in the Treasury's records according to the class of accounts through which operations are effected. Transactions are segregated in order to exhibit separately those effected through general accounts, as contrasted with those effected through special and trust accounts representing restricted or specially allocated receipts and expenditures chargeable thereto. This classification was first shown in published records for 1927 for the warrants and checks-issued bases and on the daily Treasury statements beginning with the July 1, 1930, issue, in order to conform to the practice of the Bureau of the Budget. In some tables in this report, however, transactions in the three types of accounts are combined for purposes of historical comparison. A brief general explanation of the three classes of accounts is presented below.

General accounts.—The principal sources of general account receipts are income taxes, miscellaneous internal revenue, taxes under the Social Security Act, and customs duties. In addition, a large number of miscellaneous receipts come under this head, including such items as proceeds of Government-owned securities, (except those which are applicable to public debt retirement), sale of surplus and condemned property, Panama Canal tolls, fees (including consular and passport fees), fines, penalties, forfeitures, rentals, royalties, reimbursements, immigration head tax, sale of public land, tax on national bank circulation, interest on public deposits, seigniorage on coinage of subsidiary silver and minor coins, etc. Moneys represented in the general accounts may be withdrawn from the Treasury only in pursuance of appropriations made by Congress. There are four classes of appropriations payable through the general accounts of the Treasury, namely: (a) Annual, being those made each year in the several departmental supply bills and limited for obligation during the fiscal year for which made; (b) continuing (no year) being available until expended or until the object for which appropriated has been accomplished, such as construction of public works; (c) permanent-specific, being fixed amounts provided for each of a series of years by permanent legislation, without annual action of Congress; and (d) permanent-indefinite, being indefinite amounts (so much as may be necessary) provided by permanent legislation without annual action of Congress, such as the indefinite appropriation to cover interest on the public debt.

A statement of general account receipts and expenditures is, therefore, in the nature of a general operating statement, and gives a picture of the relationship between the general revenues of the Government and the operating expenditures (including capital outlays and fixed charges) chargeable against them.

Special accounts.—Special account receipts may be generally defined as funds received under special authorizations of law which may be expended only for the particular purposes specified therein. Special account receipts may not be used for the general expenditures of the Government. The most important items of receipts included under this heading, from the standpoint of amounts, are those applicable to the retirement of the public debt. Other important special account receipts are the reclamation fund under the Department of the Interior, funds received for river and harbor improvements, and Forest Service cooperative funds. There are many other special account receipts of lesser importance.

Trust accounts.—Trust account receipts represent moneys received by the Government for the benefit of individuals or classes of individuals. Moneys held in trust, being payable to or for the use of beneficiaries only, are not available for general expenditures of the Government. There are several classes of trust account receipts, the beneficiaries under which may be either individuals or groups of individuals. The accounts may represent (a) moneys received directly from or for account of individuals, as in the case of moneys received from foreign governments or other sources in trust for citizens of the United States or others under the act of February 27, 1896; (b) moneys collected as revenues and held in trust, such as the proceeds of sales of Indian lands which are held as interest-bearing funds for the benefit of Indian tribes; and (c) proceeds of grants from the general accounts of the Treasury in pursuance of treaty or other obligations such as the perpetual trust fund created for the Ute Indians under section 5 of the act of June 15, 1880.

<sup>1</sup> Revised to adjust the classification of receipts deposited during the months of November and December amounting to $19,349,371.27 and $4,923,614.07, respectively, classified at that time as taxes under the Social Security Act, which upon later information received from collectors of internal revenue were found to be taxes upon carriers and their employees and adjustments of which were made in the month of January 1938. The reduced amount of taxes shown for the month of November and the increased amount shown for the month of December are attributed to the fact that heavy collections were made during the latter part of November which were not deposited in the Treasury until December.

<sup>2</sup> The Executive order of June 10, 1933, as amended, provides for the transfer of the function of disbursement of all moneys of the United States (except those relating to the Military and Naval Establishments, rivers and harbors, and Panama Canal) to the Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department. The transfer of such functions in Washington, D. C., of the several departments and establishments subject to the Executive order of June 10, 1933, was completed on July 1, 1934. Therefore, effective July 1, 1934, in the interest of economy and efficiency, the disbursements by the Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department, which appear in daily Treasury statements under the caption "Departmental expenditures," are on the basis of checks issued. The totals shown, after making adjustment of outstanding checks of the Division of Disbursement, relating to such "Departmental expenditures," are on the basis of checks paid as published heretofore.

<sup>4</sup> The item "Postal deficiency" represents advances from the General Fund of the Treasury to the Postmaster (general to meet deficiencies in the postal revenues. These figures do not reflect any allowances for offsets on account of extraordinary expenditures or the cost of free mailings contributing to the deficiency of postal revenues certified to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Postmaster General pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 9, 1930. Further, the expenditures shown above on account of postal deficiency for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 are exclusive of $16,245,165.06 and $718,691.88, respectively, on account of transfers of appropriations from the Post Office Department to the U. S. Maritime Commission pursuant to the act of June 29, 1935 (49 Stat. 1988). These transferred funds when expended by the U. S. Maritime Commission are classified as "Departmental—U. S. Maritime Commission."

<sup>5</sup> The figures for the fiscal year 1938 represent payments and repayments of $8,780,085.63 and $7,928,692.85, respectively, on account of adjustments of grants for prior years. The net adjustment is $851,122.78. The figures for the fiscal year 1937 represent repayment of funds by Post Office Department on account of grants for fiscal years 1925 to 1933.

<sup>11</sup> Effective Dec. 31, 1937, transfers from the General Fund are treated as receipts instead of offsets against expenditures. The figures for the months of July to December inclusive and the fiscal year 1937, therefore, include adjustments on this account and in that respect disagree with figures heretofore shown on p. 2 of daily Treasury statements on the last day of the month and on p. 7 on the 15th of the month.

<sup>12</sup> This item of seigniorage represents the difference between the cost value and the monetary value of silver bullion revalued and held to secure the silver certificates issued on account of silver acquired under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 and under the President's proclamation dated Aug. 9, 1934.

<sup>3</sup> The Executive order of June 10, 1933, as amended, provides for the transfer of the function of disbursement of all moneys of the United States (except those relating to the Military and Naval Establishments, rivers and harbors, and Panama Canal) to the Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department. The transfer of such functions in Washington, D. C., of the several departments and establishments subject to the Executive order of June 10, 1933, was completed on July 1, 1934. Therefore, effective July 1, 1934, in the interest of economy and efficiency, the disbursements by the Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department, which appear in daily Treasury statements under the caption "Departmental expenditures" are on the basis of checks issued. The totals shown, after making adjustment of outstanding checks of the Division of Disbursement, relating to such departmental expenditures, are on the basis of checks paid as published heretofore.

<sup>4</sup> The classification of general expenditures for public building construction and sites, Treasury Department, and for War Department (nonmilitary) prior to the fiscal year 1934 is not available, and such expenditures are therefore included in general expenditures under Treasury Department and National defense—Army, respectively.

Increase:
General expenditures: National defense—Army	$65,581,618.38
Decrease:
General expenditures: War Department (nonmilitary)	606,962.63
Recovery and relief expenditures:
Civilian Conservation Corps	50,789,925.21

Public works—other:
War Department (nonmilitary)	639,572.20
National defense—Army	13,071,778.73
Trust accounts—other	473,373.61
	65,581,018.38

• Expenditures under this caption for the fiscal year 1937 include only Boulder Canyon project, other reclamation projects being included in "Departmental—Department of the Interior."

7 The item "Postal Deficiency" represents advances from the General Fund of the Treasury to the Postmaster General to meet deficiencies in the postal revenues. These figures do not reflect any allowances for offsets on account of extraordinary expenditures or the cost of free mailings contributing to the deficiency of postal revenues certified to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Postmaster General pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 9, 1930. Further, the expenditures shown above on account of postal deficiency for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938 are exclusive of $16,245,165.06 and $718,699.88, respectively, on account of transfers of appropriations from the Post Office Department to the U. S. Maritime Commission pursuant to the act of June 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 1988). These transferred funds when expended by the U. S. Maritime Commission are classified as "Departmental—U. S. Maritime Commission."

8 The figures for the fiscal year 1938 represent payments and repayments of $8,780,085.63 and $7,928,662.85, respectively, on account of adjustments of grants for prior years. The net adjustment is $851,422.78. The figures for the fiscal year 1937 represent repayment of funds by Post Office Department on account of grants for fiscal years 1925 to 1933.

9 The total expenditures for the fiscal year 1937 for "National defense, Navy" and for "Tennessee Valley Authority" shown in this statement disagree with the totals for the same classification on p. 2 of the daily Treasury statement for June 30, 1937, in the amount of $1,000 due to compensating differences of that amount between these classifications and the figures shown in the latter statement.

10 Payable from processing taxes on farm products or advances from the Treasury to be deducted from processing taxes.

11 Formerly classified under "Recovery and relief—Agricultural aid."

12 On and after May 27, 1933, repayments of loans made from Agricultural marketing fund—Federal Farm Board, the interest thereon, are reflected as credits in the expenditures of the Farm Credit Administration.

13 Includes $22,597,108.04, representing 1 year's interest at 4½ percent on $500,157,956.40 face amount of bonds issued to the United States Government life insurance fund pursuant to sec. 5 of the Adjusted Compensation Payment Act of Jan. 27, 1936.

14 Includes expenditures made by Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation from funds provided for the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

15 Revised to adjust classification of an item of $119,000 formerly shown as "Unclassified" under Farm Credit Administration—Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds which has been transferred to Federal Emergency Relief Administration—Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

16 Expenditures under this caption for the fiscal years 1934 to 1937 include only Boulder Canyon project, other reclamation projects being included in "Public Works—All other—Department of the Interior."

17 Includes expenditures on account of subsistence homesteads.

18 Includes $500,157,956.40, representing the amount classified by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for payment to the United States Government life insurance fund in 4½ percent bonds in accordance with sec. 5 of the Adjusted Compensation Payment Act of Jan. 27, 1936.

19 Effective Dec. 31, 1937, transfers from the General Fund are treated as receipts instead of offsets against expenditures. The figures for the fiscal year 1937, therefore, include adjustments on this account and in that respect disagree with figures heretofore shown on p. 2 of daily Treasury statements on the last day of the month and on p. 7 on the 15th of the month.

20 This item of seigniorage represents the difference between the cost value and the monetary value of silver bullion received and held to secure the silver certificates issued on account of silver acquired under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, and under the President's proclamation dated Aug. 9, 1934.

21 Represents deposit of proceeds of appropriation for restoration of capital impairment of the Commodity Credit Corporation provided in act of June 25, 1938. The credit to this account is offset by an expenditure in the same amount under the caption "Recovery and relief: Agricultural aid," above.

22 The figures for the fiscal year 1935 include $338,245,377.93, which amount represents transfers on May 31, 1935, of balances in checking accounts of certain special agencies of the Government. The figures since that date represent net transactions of these agencies.

Note.—This statement is revised to provide uniform classification of receipts and expenditures on a comparable basis in accordance with procedure set forth in announcement (see p. 347) accompanying the daily Treasury statement of July 1, 1938. It differs from the comparative statement accompanying the daily Treasury statement of July 15, 1938, in that the former was only arranged to correspond with the new classification, while this statement is revised to show, retroactively for the fiscal years 1932 to 1938, expenditures on the basis of the new procedure.

† On 1789 to 1842 the fiscal year ended Dec. 31; from 1844 to date, on June 30. Figures for 1843 are for a half year, Jan. 1 to June 30.

‡ Postal revenues and expenditures, except surplus postal receipts covered into the Treasury and postal deficiencies paid out of the General Fund of the Treasury, are based upon reports of the Post Office Department. Postal expenditures include adjusted losses, etc.—postal funds, and expenditures from postal balances; but are exclusive of departmental expenditures in Washington, D.C., to the close of fiscal year 1922, and amounts transferred to the civil service retirement and disability fund, fiscal years 1921 to 1926, inclusive.

§ For the years 1927 to 1938, inclusive, the 3½ percent salary deductions are included in "Postal expenditure", the deductions having been paid to and deposited by disbursing clerks for credit of the retirement fund.

† Includes civil expenditures under War and Navy Departments in Washington, to and including fiscal year 1915, and unavailing fiscal year charged off under act of June 3, 1922 (42 Stat. 1529).

‡ Exclusive of civil expenditures under War Department and Navy Department in Washington to and including fiscal year 1915.

§ On basis of warrants issued from 1789 to 1930, inclusive; 1931 to 1938, inclusive, on basis of checks issued. Includes only Army and Navy pensions for service prior to World War, and fees of examining surgeons in Pension Bureau, and is exclusive of payments made by the War Risk Insurance Bureau and Veterans' Bureau to veterans of the World War, and salaries under Bureau of Pensions, which are included in civil and miscellaneous expenditures.

* Prior to 1922 on basis of warrants issued. Exclusive of amounts transferred to the civil service retirement and disability fund under act of May 22, 1920 (41 Stat. 614), and amendments thereto on account of salary deductions of 2½ percent, as follows: 1921, $6,519,633.50; 1922, $7,890,006.28; 1923, $8,284,081; 1924, $8,679,638.60; 1925, $10,266,977; and 1926, $10,472,290.59. See Note 3. The item Postal Deficiency represents advances from the General Fund of the Treasury to the Postmaster General to meet deficiencies in the postal revenues. These figures do not include any allowances for offsets on account of extraordinary expenditures or the cost of free mailings contributing to the deficiency of postal revenues certified to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Postmaster General pursuant to the Act of Congress, approved June 9, 1930. See exhibit 66 on p. 318 for statement of account.

‡ Exclusive of additional compensation Postal Service, under joint resolution of Nov. 8, 1919 (41 Stat. 359), which is included in "Civil and miscellaneous", as follows: 1920, $35,698,400; 1921, $1,374,014.56; 1922, $22,397.37.

§ Ordinary receipts and public debt retirements chargeable against ordinary receipts for 1921 exclude $4,842,060.45 written off the debt Dec. 31, 1920. See page 514, note 1. Beginning with the fiscal year 1932 tonnage tax has been covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

|| Includes $83,048,757 processing tax on farm products in 1934, $821,379.87 in 1935, $76,649,383 in 1936, $2,501 in 1937, and $11.15 in 1938; $252,160,839 taxes under Social Security Act in 1937 and $904,448,046 in 1938; $5,886,339 uniform enrichment tax in 1937, and $5,666,572 in 1938; and $345,088 taxes upon carriers and their employees in 1937 and $150,131,981 in 1938.

Note.—This statement is revised to provide uniform classification of receipts and expenditures on a comparable basis in accordance with procedure set forth in announcement (see p. 347) accompanying the daily Treasury statement of July 1, 1938. It differs from the comparative statement accompanying the daily Treasury statement of July 15, 1938, in that the former was only arranged to correspond with the new classification, while this statement is revised to show, retroactively for the fiscal years 1932 to 1938, expenditures on the basis of the new procedure.

<sup>1</sup> Customs receipts, on the basis of reports of collecting officers, are credited to the districts in which the collections are made. Receipts in the various districts do not indicate the tax burden of the respective districts, since the taxes may be eventually borne by persons in other districts. Customs duties for Puerto Rico ($1,878,212 in 1938) are deposited to the credit of the Government of Puerto Rico.

<sup>2</sup> Revised to adjust the classification of receipts deposited during the months of November and December amounting to $19,349,371.27 and $1,823,614.07, respectively, classified at that time as taxes under the Social Security Act, which upon later information received from collectors of internal revenue were found to be taxes upon carriers and their employees and adjustments of which were made in the month of January 1938. The reduced amount of taxes shown for the month of November and the increased amount shown for the month of December are attributed to the fact that heavy collections were made during the latter part of November which were not deposited in the Treasury until December.

<sup>3</sup> Includes only expenditures from appropriations made specifically for administrative expenses relating to the Social Security and Railroad Retirement Acts. Does not include administrative expenses payable from other appropriations. The principal agencies in the latter group are the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Public Health Service of the Treasury Department, and the Office of Education of the Department of the Interior.

<sup>5</sup> Adjusted to include $845.18 repayment on May 31, 1938, which was inadvertently credited to "Trust accounts, increment on gold, etc.—Expenditures—Old-age reserve account (Benefit payments)." Instead of "General and Special accounts—Expenditures—General—Social Security Act."

<sup>1</sup> Beginning with the fiscal year 1924, the amounts shown in this column have been revised to include the sums received as dividends on capital stock of the Panama Railroad owned by the United States.

<sup>2</sup> The amounts shown in this column have been revised to include the payments to the Government of Panama under the treaty of Nov. 18, 1903, of $250,000 per annum, the first payment being made during the fiscal year 1913, and similar payments continuing each year since that date; but do not include the payments to the Government of Colombia growing out of the construction of the Panama Canal of $5,000,000 per annum during the fiscal years 1923 to 1927, inclusive, an aggregate sum of $25,000,000, as provided for under the treaty of Apr. 6, 1914. Includes expenses of civil government, Panama Canal and Canal Zone.

<sup>3</sup> This amount includes the $40,000,000 paid to the New Panama Canal Co. of France for the acquisition of the property, and the $10,000,000 paid to the Republic of Panama in connection with the Canal Zone as provided for under art. 14 of the treaty of Nov. 18, 1903.

<sup>1</sup> Details of income taxes and miscellaneous internal revenue on collection basis with totals adjusted to basis of the daily Treasury statement (unrevised). Details of payroll taxes on basis of the daily Treasury statement (unrevised). Miscellaneous revenue and nonrevenue receipts detail on basis of warrants issued with totals adjusted to basis of daily Treasury statements (unrevised).

<sup>9</sup> It has been assumed that 10 percent of the total liability for contributions under the act will enter general and special accounts, and that liabilities will be paid on a quarterly basis in the following quarter. It is assumed that liabilities for only three quarters will be collected in the fiscal year 1940.

*Some of the items in this column were affected by the act approved Feb. 24, 1938, pursuant to which certain notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation held by the Treasury were canceled and title to certain securities held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury. For details see p. 19 of this report.

<sup>1</sup> The emergency expenditures included in this statement for the period prior to the fiscal year 1934 include only expenditures on account of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and subscriptions to capital stock of Federal land banks under authority of the act of Jan. 23, 1932. Expenditures by the several departments and establishments for public works under the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932 were made from general disbursing accounts, and therefore are not susceptible to segregation from the general expenditures of such departments and establishments on the basis of the daily Treasury statements.

<sup>4</sup> The appropriation of $950,000,000, provided in the act of Feb. 15, 1934, was allocated by the President as follows: Federal Emergency Relief Administration, $604,995,000, of which $131,542.23 has been transferred to the Emergency Relief appropriation and $1,669.70 carried to the surplus fund of the Treasury; Civil Works Administration, $344,995,000, of which amount $7,570,000 has been transferred to the Emergency Relief appropriation, $5,218,250 transferred to the Employees' Compensation Commission, and $7,519.01 carried to the surplus fund of the Treasury; leaving an unallocated balance of $10,000.

<sup>12</sup> Under the provisions of the Emergency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1935, and the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to purchase marketable securities acquired by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works. The purchase of such securities by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is reflected as expenditures of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and as credits against expenditures of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

<sup>13</sup> Exclusive of the $90,972,316.04 transfer referred to in note 15, and $184,275.51 carried to the surplus fund of the Treasury.

<sup>14</sup> Exclusive of the $40,364,759.65 and $50,334,412.27 transfers referred to in note 15, and $5,500,000 transferred to salaries and expenses, Farm Credit Administration; and $25,735,783.34 carried to the surplus fund of the Treasury.

<sup>15</sup> Includes $1,000,000,000 specific appropriation under the act of Apr. 8, 1935, $1,425,000,000 specific appropriation under the act of June 22, 1936, $789,000,000 specific appropriation under the act of Feb. 9, 1937, $1,500,000,000 specific appropriation under the act of June 29, 1937, $250,000,000 specific appropriation under the act of Mar. 2, 1938, and transfers of unexpended balances as follows: From the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, $500,000,000; from the appropriation of $3,300,000,000 for National Industrial Recovery, $90,972,316.04; from the appropriation of $525,000,000 for relief in stricken agricultural areas provided in the Emergency Appropriation Act of 1935, approved June 19, 1934, $40,364,759.65; from the appropriation of $899,675,000 for emergency relief and public works provided in the Emergency Appropriation Act of 1935, approved June 19, 1934, $50,334,412.27; from the appropriation of $950,000,000 for emergency relief and civil works provided in the act of Feb. 15, 1931, $7,701,542.23; from unobligated moneys referred to in sec. 4 of the act of Mar. 31, 1933, $21,527,113.76; and moneys transferred pursuant to sec. 15 (f) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, $12,921,502.64, less transfer of $31,500,000 to War Department under the act of July 19, 1937.

TAX EXEMPTIONS:

<sup>6</sup> Exempt from the payment of all taxes or duties of the United States, as well as from all taxation in any form by or under State, municipal, or local authority. (The Supreme Court has held that this exemption does not extend to estate or inheritance taxes imposed by Federal or State authority.)

<sup>7</sup> Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess-profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds authorized by the act approved Sept. 24, 1917, as amended, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000 owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above.

<sup>8</sup> Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess-profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds authorized by the act approved Sept. 24, 1917, as amended, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000 owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above. For the purposes of determining taxes and tax exemptions, the increment in value of savings bonds represented by the difference between the price paid and the redemption value received (whether at or before maturity) shall be considered as interest.

Attention is invited to Treasury Decision 4550 ruling that bonds, notes, bills, and certificates of indebtedness of the Federal Government or its agencies, and the interest thereon, are not exempt from the gift tax.

<sup>9</sup> Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

<sup>10</sup> Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority; and the amount of discount at which Treasury bills are originally sold by the United States shall be considered to be interest within the meaning referred to herein.

Any gain from the sale or other disposition of Treasury bills shall be exempt from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority; and no loss from the sale or other disposition of such Treasury bills shall be allowed as a deduction, or otherwise recognized, for the purposes of any tax now or hereafter imposed by the United States or any of its possessions.

In hands of foreign holders.—Bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness of the United States, shall while beneficially owned by a nonresident alien individual, or a foreign corporation, partnership, or association, not engaged in business in the United States, be exempt both as to principal and interest from any and all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

RECEIVABILITY IN PAYMENT OF CERTAIN TAXES:

Federal estate or inheritance taxes.—Treasury bonds and Treasury notes, bearing interest at a higher rate than 4 per centum per annum, which have been owned by any person continually for at least 6 months prior to the date of his death and which upon such date constitute part of his estate are receivable by the United States at par and accrued interest in payment of Federal estate taxes.

Federal income and profits taxes.—Treasury notes, Treasury certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills, maturing on tax payment dates, are receivable at par in payment of income and profits taxes payable at the maturity of the notes, certificates, or bills.

<sup>1</sup> Figures for 1853 to 1885, inclusive, are taken from "Statement of receipts and expenditures of the Government from 1855 to 1885 and principal of public debt from 1791 to 1885," compiled from the official records of the Register's office. Later figures are taken from the monthly debt statements and revised figures published in the annual reports of the Secretary of the Treasury.

<sup>2</sup> Exclusive of the bonds issued to the Pacific railways (provision having been made by law to secure the Treasury against both principal and interest) and the Navy pension fund (which was in no sense a debt, the principal being the property of the United States).

<sup>3</sup> Includes old demand notes; United States notes (gold reserve deducted since 1900); postal currency and fractional currency less the amounts officially estimated to have been destroyed; and also the deposits held by the Treasury for the retirement of Federal Reserve bank notes, and for national bank notes of national banks failed, in liquidation, and reducing circulation, which prior to 1890 was not included in the published debt statements. Does not include gold, silver, or currency certificates, or Treasury notes of 1890 for redemption of which an exact equivalent of the respective kinds of money or bullion was held in the Treasury.

<sup>1</sup> From Jan. 1, 1919, through Oct. 14, 1925, yields are based on all outstanding partially tax-exempt Government bonds with 8 or more years to earliest call date; from July 17, 1928, yields are based on all outstanding partially tax-exempt Government bonds with 12 or more years to earliest call date; for the period from Oct. 15, 1925, through July 16, 1928, the yields of bonds with 8 or more years to earliest call date were identical with the yields of bonds with 12 or more years to earliest call date. During the period Jan. 1, 1919, through Oct. 14, 1925, these bonds included certain Liberty loan issues, whereas after Oct. 14, 1925, they included only Treasury bonds. For bonds selling above par and callable at par before maturity, the yields are those computed on the basis of redemption at first call date; while for bonds selling below par, yields to maturity are used. Monthly averages are averages of daily figures. Each daily figure is an unweighted average of the yields of the issues used based on the day's closing price, except that in some instances the mean of closing bid and asked prices was used. The table below shows the issues of Government bonds which were included in the above averages.

MEMORANDUM

Amount due the United States from the Central Branch Union Pacific Railroad on account of bonds issued (Pacific Railroad aid bonds, acts approved July 1, 1862, July 2, 1864, and May 7, 1878):

Principal.....	$1, 600, 000. 00
Interest.....	1, 652, 884. 05
Total.....	3, 252, 884. 05

<sup>1</sup> This statement is made on the basis of the face value of the securities therein described as received by the United States, with due allowance for repayments. To the extent that the securities are not held in the custody of the Treasury, the statement is made up from reports received from other Government departments and establishments.

<sup>2</sup> Indebtedness of Czechoslovakia has been funded under the agreement of Oct. 13, 1925, but the original obligations have not been exchanged for the new bonds of that Government.

<sup>3</sup> Differences between principal here stated and face amount of obligations provided for in funding agreements represent deferred payments for which, under the funding agreements, gold bonds of the respective debtor governments have been or will be delivered to the Treasury.

<sup>4</sup> The German Government has been notified that the Government of the United States will look to the German Government for the discharge of this indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the Government of the United States.

<sup>5</sup> Original amount ($96,560,560.43) included bonds aggregating $21,970,560.43 representing interest accruing and remaining unpaid during first 14 years, payment of which under the funding agreement is extended over the last 48 years.

<sup>6</sup> The United States holds obligations in the principal amount of $289,898.78, which, together with accrued interest thereon, are to be canceled pursuant to agreement of Apr. 14, 1938, between the United States and the Republic of Nicaragua, ratified by the United States Senate on June 13, 1938.

<sup>7</sup> Division of German bonds between private awards and Government awards is an estimate based upon best information available at this time. When Mixed Claims Commission has completed its duties, a more accurate division may be made. Awards generally bear interest at 5 percent per annum. Bonds do not bear interest, but the aggregate face amount thereof will be sufficient to cover payment of the principal and interest due on the total awards finally entered by the Mixed Claims Commission. Bonds for private awards are held in trust, the proceeds thereof when received at maturity to be distributed by the Treasury to the claimants. Bonds mature on Mar. 31 and Sept. 30 of each year in the principal amount of RM20,400,000 each. No payments are to be made on Government awards until all private awards are paid in full.

<sup>8</sup> Cash on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States to the credit of all war emergency corporations having such deposits amounted to $584,150.80.

<sup>1</sup> The figures in this table differ from the monthly circulation statements for the following reasons: (a) Beginning June 30, 1922, the form of circulation statement was revised so as to include in the holdings of the Federal Reserve banks and agents, and hence in the stock of money, gold, bullion, and foreign gold coin held by the Federal Reserve banks and agents, and to include in the holdings of the Federal Reserve banks and agents, and hence exclude from money in circulation, all forms of money held by the Federal Reserve banks and agents, whether as reserve against Federal Reserve notes or otherwise. For the sake of comparableness the figures in this table for earlier years have been revised to include these changes. For full explanation of this revision, see annual report for 1922, p. 433. (b) The form of the circulation statement was revised again beginning Dec. 31, 1927, so as to exclude earmarked gold coin from the stock of money, and hence from money in circulation; to include in the holdings of the Federal Reserve banks and agents, and hence in the stock of money, gold held abroad for the account of the Federal Reserve banks; and to include in all categories, minor coin (the bronze 1-cent piece and the nickel 5-cent piece). Beginning on Dec. 31, 1927, the circulation statement is dated for the end of the month instead of the beginning of the succeeding month, as was the practice theretofore, and figures on the revised daily Treasury statement basis for "money held in the Treasury" instead of the unrevised basis are used. For the sake of comparableness the figures in this table for earlier years have been revised to include these changes. For full explanation of this revision, see annual report for 1928, pp. 70-71, and for figures for years prior to 1913, pp. 550-551. Final revisions, minor in amount, are made in some figures of the June 30 circulation statements for use in these annual report tables.

‡ A part of the gold and silver included in the stock of money is held as a reserve against other kinds of money, as follows: (1) As a reserve for United States notes and Treasury notes of 1890—gold bullion varying in amount from $150,000,000 to $159,039,431 during the years included in the table; (2) as security for Treasury notes of 1890—an equal dollar amount in standard silver dollars (these notes are being canceled and retired on receipt); (3) as security for outstanding silver certificates—silver in bullion and standard silver dollars of a monetary value equal to the face amount of such silver certificates; and (4) as security for gold certificates—gold bullion of a value at the legal standard equal to the face amount of such gold certificates. Federal Reserve notes are obligations of the United States and a first lien on all the assets of the issuing Federal Reserve bank. Federal Reserve notes are secured by the deposit with Federal Reserve agents of a like amount of gold certificates or of gold certificates and such discounted or purchased paper as is eligible under the terms of the Federal Reserve Act, or, until June 30, 1939, of direct obligations of the United States if so authorized by a majority vote of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. Federal Reserve banks must maintain a reserve in gold certificates of at least 40 percent, including the redemption fund which must be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States, against Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation. "Gold certificates" as herein used includes credits with the Treasurer of the United States payable in gold certificates. Federal Reserve bank notes and national bank notes are in process of retirement.

§ The totals involve a duplication to the extent that United States notes, Federal Reserve notes, Federal Reserve bank notes, and national bank notes, all included in full, are in part secured by gold, also included in full. Gold certificates, silver certificates, and Treasury notes of 1890 have been excluded, however, since they are complete duplications of the equal amounts of gold or silver held as security therefor and included in the totals.

<sup>1</sup> Includes money held by the Cuban agency of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.<sup>2</sup> The money in circulation includes any paper currency held outside the continental limits of the United States.<sup>3</sup> Does not include gold other than that held by the Treasury.<sup>4</sup> Includes $1,859,000,000 exchange stabilization fund.<sup>5</sup> These amounts are not included in the total since the gold or silver held as security against gold and silver certificates and Treasury notes of 1890 is included under gold, standard silver dollars, and silver bullion, respectively.<sup>6</sup> This total includes credits with the Treasurer of the United States, payable in gold certificates in (1) the gold certificate fund, Board of Governors, Federal Reserve System, in the amount of $7,820,450,860, and (2) the redemption fund for Federal Reserve notes in the amount of $9,387,520.<sup>7</sup> Includes $59,300,000 lawful money deposited as a reserve for postal savings deposits.<sup>8</sup> The amount of gold and silver certificates and Treasury notes of 1890 should be deducted from this amount before combining with total money held in the Treasury to arrive at the total amount of money in the United States.

NOTE.—For description of security held, see note 2, p. 540.

<sup>1</sup> "Total outstanding issues" of tax-exempt securities of the several borrowers differs from the gross indebtedness of these borrowers in that it excludes noninterest-bearing and taxable interest-bearing debt. "Net outstanding issues" differs from net indebtedness in that it excludes from "total outstanding issues" tax-exempt securities held by governments, governmental agencies, Federal Reserve banks, and public sinking, trust and investment funds, while net debt excludes from gross debt the total volume of sinking fund assets, regardless of their character, but ignores all other public assets.

Tax-exempt securities are segregated into 2 categories, those partially exempt and those wholly exempt. The former are exempt from the normal rates and the latter from both the normal and the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. United States savings bonds and Treasury bonds are here classified as partially tax-exempt securities. However, it is to be noted that by statutory provision, interest derived from the first $5,000 of principal amount of these securities owned by any single holder is exempt from the surtax as well as the normal tax.

The estimate of the volume of tax-exempt securities outstanding on June 30, 1938, is based in part on a questionnaire survey of State, local, territorial, and insular debt and specified funds, conducted by the Treasury Department in cooperation with the Department of the Interior Division of Territories and Island Possessions, and the War Department Bureau of Insular Affairs, and in part on the record of new security issues published by the Commercial and Financial Chronicle.

The estimate of the volume of tax-exempt securities outstanding in earlier years, shown in table 56, was based on a questionnaire survey conducted by the Treasury Department and upon the Bureau of the Census decennial Financial Statistics of State and Local Governments and annual Financial Statistics of States and Financial Statistics of Cities, as well as the statistics of new security issues and security retirements published in the Bond Buyer and the State and Municipal Compendium of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle.

<sup>3</sup> In the absence of Nation-wide trust and investment fund data for 1938, it was assumed that the tax-exempt security holdings of these funds increased 5 percent during the last fiscal year. This assumption was based on pre-1937 trends for States and cities and on available fragmentary data for 1938.

<sup>1</sup> Payments of governments which have funded were made prior to the date of the funding agreements.<sup>2</sup> Differences between principal of funded indebtedness and amounts here stated represent deferred payments provided for in the funding agreements, for which bonds of the respective debtor governments have been or will be delivered to the Treasury.<sup>3</sup> Increase over amount funded due to exercise of options with respect to the payment of interest due on original issue of bonds of debtor governments.<sup>4</sup> The German Government has been notified that the Government of the United States will look to the German Government for the discharge of this indebtedness of the Government of Austria to the Government of the United States.<sup>5</sup> Includes additional bonds aggregating $3,489,482.75 received July 23, 1937, in exchange for bonds aggregating $1,207,742 and annuities aggregating $9,534.46, payable on Jan. 1, 1933, 1934, and 1935, but postponed as provided by agreement of May 8, 1930, and Sept. 14, 1932.<sup>6</sup> The United States holds obligations in the principal amount of $29,598.78, which, together with accrued interest thereon, are to be canceled pursuant to agreement of Apr. 14, 1938, between the United States and the Republic of Nicaragua, ratified by the United States Senate on June 13, 1938.<sup>7</sup> Represents proceeds of liquidation of financial affairs of the Russian Government in this country. (Copies of letter dated May 23, 1922, from the Secretary of State and of reply of the Secretary of the Treasury dated June 2, 1922, in regard to loans to the Russian Government and liquidation of affairs of the latter in this country appear in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1922, as exhibit 79, p. 283, and in the combined annual reports of the World War Foreign Debt Commission, as exhibit 2, p. 84.)<sup>8</sup> Includes balances of amounts postponed under provisions of joint resolution of Dec. 23, 1931. (For amounts postponed, see p. 35 of Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1932.)

III. EMERGENCY APPROPRIATIONS FROM WHICH GRANTS ARE MADE TO STATES
Expenditures by States under allotments from emergency appropriations are included or shown under columns 9, 18, 19, 21, 24, 25, and 26 of the following table, with accompanying explanatory footnotes.

<sup>4</sup> This activity transferred from War Department to Veterans' Administration by Executive order of July 21, 1931. Included in appropriation "Salaries and Expenses, Veterans' Administration", beginning with the fiscal year 1934. The Veterans' Administration reports expenditures of $649,883.46 during the fiscal year 1938, and an allocation of $700,000 to cover estimated expenditures during the fiscal year 1939.

<sup>9</sup> Additional item not included in table 53, annual report for 1937.

NOTE.—The expenditures shown in this table include in some cases administrative expenses. Data for the fiscal years 1921 to 1930 are shown in the annual report for 1930, pp. 617 to 622; and for the fiscal years 1931 to 1936, in corresponding tables in the annual reports for those years.

TABLE 59.—Expenditures made by the Government as direct payments to States, etc., under cooperative arrangements and expenditures within States which provided relief and other aid during the fiscal year 1938 <sup>1</sup>

[The records of the Treasury Department, except in the cases mentioned in notes at end of this statement, do not show the amounts disbursed or allotted to the several States and Territories under the respective appropriations shown in this statement, such matters being under the control of the department or establishment of the Government that administers the activities covered by the appropriations. The Department, however, for general information has compiled from its records so far as available, and in other cases from figures furnished by the departments and establishments concerned, the following statement, exhibiting by States and Territories the amounts paid to each under the appropriations for Federal aid to States shown under classes I and II in the preceding statement (table 58). Any discrepancies between this and the preceding table are due to unavoidable differences in the bases upon which these figures have been compiled. The amounts in this table, derived from the accounts of various departments and establishments, are not on the same accounting bases, and are consequently not strictly comparable.]
